AMERICA ANGRY WITH JOHN BULL

Longboat's Running in Marathon Race, Though, Professional, Widens Breach.

A. A. U. OFFICIALS DISGUSTED

Unless Feelings Undergo Change Relations Between Two National Amateur Bodies Will be Severed.

New York, Sept. 18 .- It has become known that the officials of the Amateur Athletic union of the United States are seriously considering severing all relations with the Amateur Athletic union of England, which was chiefly responsible for Tom Longboat, the Indian runner competing in the Marathon race in London, notwithstanding he had been declared a professional by the former body. It is said that if the present feelings of some of the A. A. U. members do not undergo a change by the time the board of governors has its annual meeting in November, all athletic ties between the two countries will be dis-

The feelings shown toward the American committee at the Olynpic games has nothing to do with this attitude of the A. A. U. officials, the running of Longboat being the sole cause.

FORT FIELD DAY.

FORT FIELD DAY.

Fort Douglas will be the scene of much activity next Tuesday, the soldier boys' annual field day. Eleven events will be contested by the best athletes in each of the seven companies. The prizes range from orders on the post exchange to 48-hour passes, which to the average soldier is of a value not definable in dollars and cents. The Fiftcenth Infantry band will render music during the program which is scheduled to be held during the morning.

State Commissioners Call for Meeting Of All Breeders and Enthusiasts During State Fair Week.

All horsemen and all men interested in the horse industry, particularly breeding, are notified that a meeting has been called for some time during the state fair week. The gathering is being called by the state board of horse commissioners and its purpose will be to effect the organization of a Utah Horse Breeders' association and to discuss all subjects pertaining to the horse industry, generally. The time and place of the meeting will be announced later, but in the meantime, horsemen and lovers of fine animals are asked to remember that all are not only invited, but urged to keep the coming gathering in mind and attend it when held. The aims of the proposed association are laudable, and from the interest evidenced among horsemen, there is no doubt of the organization being effected. State fair week was chosen as the best time for organizing for several reasons, chief among which are that horsemen from all over the state will be in the city, and because the exhibits a..d races to be seen at the fair will create enthusiasm for the meeting has been called for some time the fair will create enthusiasm for the Explosions" During '08 Ring History.

The present year has been an overactive one in pugilistic circles and several unlooked-for ring "explosions" have occurred. Notably among the latter was the dethronement of "King" Joe Gans by Battling Nelson, and Billy Papke's clean-cut victory over Stanley Ketchel, writes M. H. Walker in the New York

Just at present there are four champions, who, on form, figure to retain their crowns for a year to come, but form is an uncertain thing, as shown by the recent reversals and it may be that there will be more important changes in the glove world before the master of all men, Father Time, forces the year 1908 to take the final count.

Tommy Burns, Billy Papke, Battling Nelson and Abe Attell are wearing the championship crowns in the heavyweight, middloweight, lightweight and foatherweight classes. The list of challensers in these four divisions is neither long nor formidable, and I look to see this quartet of topnotch fighters retain their the most dangerous man that Tommy Burns has to fear is the big black Jack Johnson. Any match that Burns and Johnson may engage in, away from this country, will be looked upon with suspicion. For the good of the equitation of both men, it is to be hoped that they will fight in the United States.

A match between Burns and Johnson, francisco or Nevada, would engage the attention of the cutire sporting world. With Coffroth, Long or McCarey handing the heavyweight event, it would be another financial feature of the match.

What the outcome of a clash of fists between the heavyweight champion and challenger would be, is a matter that would keep the speculative pot boiling from the moment that the articles were signed until one or the other of the two heavies had taken the count.

Outside of Johnson it is hard to pick an opponent who would give the present champion a decent argument, unless Al Kaufman's improved fighting form is to be taken into serious consideration. , best performance was his last fight at Naud Junction, when he knocked out Flynn in such a decisive manner. Upon the strength of this battle alone. Al will have to be tagged as a promising heavyweight candidate. His future fights will all bear watching. Two or three more victories over well known men and Burns will have to take some notice of the San Francisco man.

With Battling Nelson it looks like a case of retirement, with the Dane using the lightweight title as a business asset. Packy McFarland. Freddie Welsh and Abe Attell all would like an onportunity to wrest the hemp-haired lad shard earned honors away from him, but I doubt seriously whether Nelson will give either of these ambitious youngsters the opportunity that they crave.

Over a short 20 round route either of the three men named would have a good chance to take the Battler's title nway from him by outboxing the Dane. In a 45-round light it would be a horse of another color. In a long battle, the chances would all be that Nelson would war either of this trio of boxers down and knock them out. After seeing Nelson lifted from the floor time and again by Gans' uppercuts last Wednesday and then seeing the iron-hearted white by come on and win, it is hard to figure where McFarland. Attell or Welsh could hope to hurt the present channion.

Fearless Chauffeur After Car to Drive In Vanderbilt Cup Race, Following Arrest Here.

Old folks and children can breathe a bit easier now. Bert Euller, the reckless, the foolishly fearless chauffeur has shaken the dust of Salt Lake from his heels and ambled eastward. The play was watched by Coach McNeice, Lester button he would push it to nine notches and then swing around corners at a terrific gait. Dashing among wagons, street cars, pedestrians, bicyclists at a 40-mile speed was his special delight. Bert scooted in and out of more dangerous mix-ups than any chauffeur who ever guided a machine around the streets of Salt Lake. But every Napoleon has his Waterloo: Bert flirted with trouble once too much. He drove his auto into a wagon, killing the horse, demolishing the vehicle and inflicting bad injuries upon himself, Henri Mayer, the German bicycle rider, and two women who were riding with him.
