Proclamation by the President.

WASHINGTON, 7.—The President has issued the following proclamation:

PROCLAMATION.

It has long been the pious custom with our people with the closing of the year to look back upon the blessings brought to them in the changing course of the seasons and to return solemn thanks to the All Giving source from whom they flow; and although at this period, when the falling leaf admonishes us that the time of our sacred duty is at hand our nation still lies in the shadow of that great bereavement and mourning which has filled our hearts, finds us in sorrowful supplication toward the God before whom we all lately bowed in grief. Yet, the countless benefits which have showered upon us during the past 12 months call for our fervent gratitude and make it fitting that we should rejoice with thankfulness that the Lord, in His infinite mercy has most signally favored this country and people. Peace without and prosperity within, have been vouchsafed to us. No hostilities has visited our shores. The abundant privileges which our fathers left us in their wisdom, are still our increasing heritage, and if in parts of our vast domain some affliction has visited our brethren, in their forest homes, yet even this calamity has been tempered and in a manner sanctified by generous compasion for the sufferers, which has been called forth throughout our land. For all these things it is meet that the voice of the nation should go up to God in devout homage;

Wherefore, I, Chester A. Arthur, President of the United States do recommend that all people observe Thursday, the 24th day of November, as a day of national thanksgiving and prayer, by ceasing, so far as may be, from their secular labors and meeting in their several places of worship, there to join in ascribing honor and praise to Almighty God, whose goodness has been so manifest in our history and in our lives, and offering earnest prayers that His bounties may continue to us and to our children.

CHESTER A. ARTHUR, President.

JAMES G. BLAINE, Secretary of State.

More Military.

The report of Gen. Sherman, with the reports of Gens. Drum and Sackett, were submitted to the Secretary of War. They set forth that our companies are too small for economy and efficiency, and now that the Treasury is not loaded with debt, our army should not be compelled to do over work, and they appeal for relief. He recommends the repeal of the law limiting the army to 25,000. He holds that no soldier should be compelled to do labor without compensation and recommends the repeal of the existing law to this end. He speaks highly of West Point; he says the academy fulfills its purpose, and can safely be trusted to make soldiers.

Corkhill.

Corkhill made a personal explanation in the Circuit Court this morning, that he had not been consulted by the Attorney General in the preparation of the Star route cases, and was not responsible for them. On September 6th he called on Mac Veagh and asked if he had any business for the Grand Jury in the Star route cases. The Attorney General said since the President's assassination he had not considered the cases and knew nothing of them, and that Corkhill needn't bother himself about them. He would be sent for by the proper person when wanted. Corkhill therefore dismissed the jury; for which he has been so much blamed, and by which action the filing of information was made necessary. On the 25th of September he called with Cook to see Mac Veagh to sign criminal information, and then protested against the insinuations made against him, and said if Mac Veagh would state facts it would silence them.

Cook, of counsel for the Government then made his argument against the motion to quash criminal information, prefacing his argument by saying: It might be supposed he would reply to the vituperation which the defense had through hired scribblers and through the press bestowed upon the Attorney General, Postmaster General and himself, but it could not be done. This was not the proper place to do it. A lawyer, in addition to his other duties, should invariably possess those of a gentleman, and this consideration would restrain him from any reply which might otherwise be justified in regard to these personal assaults. In these cases Cook said the statute of limitation required filing of information. How that happened it was not for him to say. It would live in the annals of the court. The grand jury did take a recess for ten days, and that it was therefore impossible to bring the Star route cases before it within these ten days. He had no notice directly or indirectly of the recess of the grand jury. He had been called by telegraph to Long Branch to consult with the Attorney General, Postmaster General and Mr. Bliss, and when he reached the city on his return, he learned the grand jury had adjourned. There was but one pathway left open, and with great effort and constant work the information was prepared and filed. He had no secure pass on any one. He had a living, breathing man present. There was, therefore, necessity for filing information; otherwise the statute of limitation would have been an effectual bar to prosecution. Cook then proceeded to argue that conviction in these cases would not make the accused infamous, and therefore the position of the defense on that ground could not be maintained. In this connection he quoted from the decision of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia that crime is infamous, that the penalty must prosecute against the offender deprivation of his civil rights, such as sitting upon a jury, and in the absence of such forfeiture crime was not infamous unless expressly pronounced such.

Brewster on the same side will make argument to-morrow.

Supreme Court Decision.

A decision of some importance to banks, insurance companies and all corporations which employ agents was rendered in the Supreme Court to-day in the case of the Chemical National Bank against the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company. The litigation grew out of a deposit of about $11,000, made in the bank named by A. H. Dillon, general agent of the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company standing on the books of said bank in the name of said Dillon as such agent. It appears from the evidence Dillon was in the habit of depositing in the bank to the credit of his agency account money belonging to him personally, as well as money collected for and belonging to the insurance company, and he drew checks against his agency account for his own personal use as well as remittances which he made, to whose agent he was. In 1874 the bank discounted for Dillon and his wife a personal note for $10,000, the proceeds of which Dillon used in certain business speculations. When this note fell due it was not paid, and the bank, on June 1st, 1874, charged it to the Dillon agency account. The insurance company maintained that the undrawn balance of the agency account, about $11,000, belonged to them, and that the bank had no right to pay out of their funds, the note having been given by Dillon to raise money for his own personal use. The company, therefore, brought suit to recover from the bank the amount of its undrawn balance of the Dillon agency account on the 10th of June, 1878. The Court below decided a decree directing the bank to pay to the complainant, the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company, the amount of funds claimed with interest. The bank thereupon appealed this. The court holds that when agents of the bank account designated as one, kept by depositors in fiduciary capacity the bank seeks to assert its lien as banker for personal obligation. If the deposit known has been contracted for his private benefit, the bank must be held as having notice that the fund represented by the account is not individual property of the depositor if it is shown to consist in whole or in part of funds held by him in trust relation. The court further holds, quoting a recent decision of the Court of Appeals in England, in the case of Knatchbull vs. Hall, that if money held by a person in a fiduciary capacity, though not as trustee, has been paid by him to his account at his bank, the person for whom he holds money can follow it and his charge on the balance in the banker's hands, even though it is mixed with his depositors own money. Also that the bank cannot be permitted to assert its own claim to the balance of the agency account as against the equity of the beneficial owner when the bank has notice either actual or consecutive of such equity. The decree of the court below is therefore affirmed.

The opinion was by Justice Matthews.

A decision was also rendered to-day in the Insurance case of Caroline Kline against the New York Life Insurance Company, in which is presented the question of whether the penalty for failure or non-payment of premiums expressed in the policy of an insurance, can be enforced in all cases regardless of excuses or reasons which may be assigned for default. The court holds it can.

Exonerated.

The Massachusetts committee investigating the charges of misconduct of members of the Ninth Regiment on their recent visit to Yorktown, visited the police headquarters to-day and closely questioned the lieutenants of police, and thoroughly searched the police records, but did not find a single charge of misconduct against any member of the regiment during the stay in Washington. The committee has gone home.

Postmaster Pro. Tem.

First Assistant Postmaster Gene Hatton returned from Iowa and resumed charge of his office. He will act as Postmaster General during James' absence.

Tammany.

NEW YORK, 7.—The Herald and Telegram profess to have discovered evidence of extensive and corrupt bargaining between Tammany Hall and local republicans. The former says: The Boss is trading off all his other former candidates to the republicans in hope to obtain control of the board of aldermen and blackmail Mayor Grace for the division of the city patronage with Tammany. Even Surrogate Calvin is offered as a victim for this purpose.

The Telegram says it is no exaggeration to state that not a single one of the 678 election districts in the city will be exempted from the slashing process to-morrow. In more than half of the Assembly districts, the bunching of tickets has been completed. The Tammany boys have laid the foundation of the trading scheme, with scientific adroitness. Commencing with the State, he has selected Purcell and Eversted, who are the only adherents of Tammany on the list, for support. The remainder of the ticket is to go by the board. Husted and Davenport are concerned deeply in this deal and the former, in return for the Tammany Republican Board of Aldermen, to thwart the combination of Mayor Graces' nominees, and thus continue to hold men like Commissioner Nicholson in power.

Making a Clean Sweep.

Mercantile firms between Union and Madison Squares, on Broadway, have come together and subscribed liberally for a fund for restoring that part of the great thoroughfare to something like decent condition The so-called street commissioner having utterly failed in keeping it clean, this course was absolutely necessary to preserve their places of business and their goods from the ruinous effect of dust and dirt.

One More Unfortunate.

Dr. Ambrose Goetz, the Russian political fugitive, practicing medicine here, was found dead in bed. It is supposed he committed suicide. The Doctor was well to do in St. Petersburg, but becoming an advocate of advanced liberal opinions, was forced to fly, and his property was confiscated. His wife and child in Russia survive him.

A Deal of Grain.

CHICAGO, Nov. 7. — The Inter-Ocean has this interesting history: During October J. R. Hobbs, of this city, bought and sold 6,000,000 bushels of corn, the largest grain deal ever made or conceived by one man or firm. He signed checks for $10,000,000 while making this deal. The chief point in this connection is that during October he had some 2,000,000 bushels of corn ready for shipment East. He told the vessel men he would give them all they could do the rest of the fall, offering them three cents a bushel to carry the corn to Buffalo. The vessel men held off for three and half cents, and after consulting together peremptorily declined his offer. The decision was terrible. Within one hour the railways learned of it and offered to carry the corn to New York for seven cents, which sum was to include the three cents terminal charges. It was an unprecedented offer, which no man could refuse, and Mr. Hobbs' principals telegraphed in haste for him to accept. The offer was accepted and in a twinkling the vessel men found the most gigantic game on which the eyes of an old salt ever laid. They have since come down from three to one cent and even offered vessels free, so as to have ballast. They are now stripping for winter, having refused work enough to occupy every vessel on the lake till winter.

Hogs and Horses.

The fourth annual meeting of the Illinois Fat Stock Show opened at the Exposition Building at 10 o'clock this morning and will continue during the entire week. President R. J. Scott was present and introduced Mayor Harrison, who delivered an address of welcome, and John B. Sherman, of the United Stock Yards, responded for the stockholders. The meeting has heretofore been remarkably successful, and this year opens with better prospects than ever. It grows yearly more and more like its prototype, the renowned Smithfield Cattle Show in England. The display is remarkably fine of cattle sheep, hogs and horses.

Modest Modocs.

PHILADELPHIA, 7.—The papers say it is a curious and interesting fact that the remnant of the band of Modoc Indians now established in the Indian Territory, have taken very kindly to the teaching and assistance offered them by the Friends. Some of the agencies and missionary laborers of this religious body have been laboring among them with great success and established a meeting for worship after the Friends' order, which the Modocs regularly take part in. Last week six of the lads of the tribe arrived in Philadelphia, having left Fort Laramie on Monday, to be placed at the Emlen School, an institution in Montgomery County, conducted by the Friends.

Political Prognostications.

MILWAUKEE, 7.—There is considerable activity at the headquarters of the Republican State Central Committee to-night. The republicans are confident of from 10,000 to 12,000 plurality, while the democrats claim that the prohibition vote will be large and may possibly let in their ticket. The greenbackers expect to poll 10,000 votes.

Mexican Railways.

MEXICO, 7.—The Senate approved the railroad concession granted Frisbie and De Gress, for Huntington and Gould respectively, and, at the request of the President, abrogated the authority of the executive to grant railway concessions, but authorizing him to alter existing ones and transfer those forfeited.

Baldwin's Bail.

NEWARK, 7.—Cashier Baldwin's bail was raised to $100,000, and bondsmen are sought for that amount. The defaulting clerk Marchbanks' bail is fixed at $10,000. He cannot get bondsmen.

Hiding $75,000.

KANSAS CITY, 7.—Joseph N. Duboise, a prominent hide and wool dealer, left the city a week ago and his whereabouts are unknown. It is alleged he defaulted $75,000. The principal victims are in Milwaukee and Boston. He is supposed to be in Canada or New Mexico.

Big Fires.

PLYMOUTH, Mass., 7.—The Court House, the finest in the State, burned to-day. It will probably be a total loss; value $150,000.

Princeton, N. J., 7.—An incendiary destroyed the Pennsylvania Central round house and its contents.

FOREIGN.

Comparative Statement.

LONDON, 7.—The Times, replying to the arguments of free traders, drawn from the progress of America, prints a long comparative statement, tending to show the trade of Great Britain has increased even more wonderfully, that the increase of American imports, especially in articles such as grain, for which America has natural advantages, and to which she gives no protection. The Times estimates the money and trade loss to America, through the decline of her shipping of £16,000,000.

Guy Fawkes.

The usual Guy Fawkes celebration was held last evening. The effigies of Gladstone, Parnell, Bigger and others, were burned in the poorer districts of London, according as the Irish or English element predominated. No disturbance occurred. Among the effigies burned at Lewes, where the anniversary was as usual celebrated with great eclat, was one of Guiteau.

Gondoliers Going.

A correspondent deprecates impending changes at Venice. He says he is assured that the syndicate and prefect having control of municipal affairs have determined to fill up the smaller canals and convert them into streets. Gondolas are threatened with absolute extinction, owing to recent concession to a steamer company on the Grand Canal. Though competition for gondoliers has been reduced to a state of great poverty, it is openly stated that their masters received 30,000 francs as the price of their acquiescence in changes.

Wrecked.

The New Era, from Hong Kong for San Francisco, went ashore at Cape Bajeador, and is a total loss. The crew were saved.

Italians.

Samuel Falkner, cotton agent at Crumsell, has failed. Liabilities, £8,000.

Annexation.

VIENNA, 7.—Liberal organs condemn the introduction of military law in Bosnia and Herzegovina without consulting Parliament. They consider it equivalent to the final annexation of the provinces, and extinction of the last remnants of the Sultan's authority.

Pilgrims.

CONSTANTINOPLE, 7.—Advices from Mecca to the end of October, say the number of cases of cholera average 15 daily. Number of pilgrims in the city, 100,000.

The three styles: Some girls are born fat, some achieve fatness and some fix themselves up fat with old newspapers and things.

SIDEWALKS.

Editor Deseret News:

Now that our city fathers have made such great advance in the grading and leveling of our streets, making our city "a thing of beauty," if not "a joy forever," would it not be as well for our Inspector of Sidewalks to take a turn now and then around, and see their condition, and look up some of our citizens who allow water from their lawn sprinklers to saturate them, to the annoyance of pedestrians. This trouble has of late gone on increasing.

The substitution of concrete pipe to replace the old wooden flume is an excellent idea, and would certainly be as useful to replace the bridges on the sidewalks, which at best are only miserable makeshifts, and are constantly being taken up and thrown aside by hoodlums, to the danger of breaking the limbs of well-deposed citizens.

These are a few improvements needed in our city, as seen in his peregrinations by

Yours truly, VIATOR.

WHY SHE COULDN'T GO ANY FASTER.—In the bustle attending the departure of a boat from the iron pier at Coney Island on Monday evening, while the strong voiced young men were calling out, "All aboard," a very fat woman approached, her reddened face bedewed with perspiration. Although it was evident she was making the best speed she could, the young men shouted to her to hurry up, or she would miss the boat. She suddenly stopped and said: "I am hurrying up all I can; I guess if you weighed 325 pounds and was laced as tight as I am, you couldn't get along any faster, either." Then she resumed her progress and missed the boat.—N. Y. Sun.
