The Grand Jury come into court and present five indictments, all found under the laws of Utah Territory.

See Meetings.—An interesting letter, dated the 5th inst., at Gunnison, from Elder Edward Stevenson, now traveling through the southern counties in the interests of the bee industry.

He then entered into an argument, showing that the murder was committed 11 years ago, that the indictment was found three years since, and that the case had been deferred from time to time on the same old plea of an insufficiency of proof.

Judge Van Zile replied that the anxiety of the defense for an immediate trial, and the resistance to his motion to dismiss the suit, seemed to imply a more thorough understanding of the details of the matter on the part of the defendant's attorneys than the prosecution possessed, and also a fear that evidence might appear eventually that would insure the conviction of the parties accused of the crime.

Both sides were repeatedly represented, but the matter was finally decided by Chief Justice Hunter, who coincided with the District Attorney and granted the motion to dismiss.

The Robinson Murder Case.—Yesterday afternoon, the case of the People, etc., against Adam Paul and others indicted for the murder of Dr. J. King Robinson in this city, eleven years ago, came up in the District Court.

The defense objected to such a motion, as the dismissal of the case would subject the defendants to a liability of future prosecution on a similar charge. They had appeared for trial, and an immediate trial was what they desired and prayed for.

Judge Telford then read the following affidavit: In the District Court of the Third Judicial District of the Territory of Utah, Salt Lake County.

The People of the United States, in the Territory of Utah. Indictment for murder in the first degree.

That the indictment in said action, as appears by the records of said Court, was found by the grand jury of said court on the 31 day of August, 1917.

That in the month of September next thereafter I surrendered myself into the custody of the United States Marshal at Salt Lake, and was committed to bail on said charge on the 27th of that month.

That the amount of said bail was fixed at $10,000, which was fortunately able to obtain. That I then applied to Messrs. Telford and Hagan, attorneys-at-law, to undertake my defense, and secured their services.

That through said attorneys I applied to the Third District Court for trial, and frequently urged upon said Court to grant me the privilege and benefit of a trial at every term of the said District Court, from the date of my bail up to this time, and have asked for a trial at every term.

That I have made frequent application to Sumner Howard, late United States District Attorney for Utah, and was assured and promised by him that I should be arranged and tried just as soon as the co-defendants jointly indicted with me had been arrested.

That the United States Marshal, as I was informed by said Howard, desired and intended to try the defendants jointly. That two of the defendants in this case, to wit, Harry Spencer and Daniel Seegmiller, were, when said indictment was found, in Europe. That I caused word to be sent to said Spencer and Seegmiller, and urged upon them to return at the earliest practicable moment and surrender themselves for trial.

That at the last September term of this court I requested my said counsel, Messrs. Telford & Hagan, to have my case brought in for trial, as all the defendants had then voluntarily surrendered themselves, and were ready for trial. That I had prepared for trial at said September term, and had my witnesses on hand.

That in anticipation of a trial at that time of the present month, on which day the case has been set for trial by order of the court, I have caused a subpoena to be issued and served the same on a number of witnesses resident in Salt Lake County, that I have telegraphed and written to four other witnesses, who reside, some in Weber County and others in the southern part of this Territory, and to secure their attendance have paid and advanced to them money necessary to defray their traveling expenses.

That said witnesses are now in attendance, and were after their arrival in Salt Lake City, duly subpoenaed. That I have incurred heavy costs in preparing for this trial.

I have a complete defense to said indictment, and an wholly innocent of any participation, directly or indirectly, personally or otherwise, in the murder of the person mentioned in said indictment.

That in consequence of the fact of said indictment having been found, and remaining untried, I have suffered injury to my character and incurred reproach and suspicion among many worthy persons living in this community; that I am most anxious to have the opportunity through the medium of a trial to vindicate my character and establish my innocence.

That I humbly and respectfully petition this honorable court to afford me such opportunity.

That I am informed by my counsel and verily believe, that the Constitution of the United States guarantees to the accused the right to a speedy and public trial by an impartial jury, and that I earnestly appeal to the court not to withhold from me this right.

That to permit the district attorney to dismiss, without trial, the indictment now pending, would inflict on me and my children a deep and irreparable injury, and on their behalf, as well as my own, I urge and entreat this court to have said indictment tried.

ADAM M. PAUL, of Subscribed and sworn to before me this 6th day of February, 1930.

S. H. LEWIS, Notary Public. He then entered into an argument, showing that the murder was committed 11 years ago, that the indictment was found three years since, and that the case had been deferred from time to time on the same old plea of an insufficiency of proof.

Judge Van Zile replied that the anxiety of the defense for an immediate trial, and the resistance to his motion to dismiss the suit, seemed to imply a more thorough understanding of the details of the matter on the part of the defendant's attorneys than the prosecution possessed, and also a fear that evidence might appear eventually that would insure the conviction of the parties accused of the crime.

Both sides were repeatedly represented, but the matter was finally decided by Chief Justice Hunter, who coincided with the District Attorney and granted the motion to dismiss.
