CONGRESSIONAL.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, S.—Mitchell presented a petition, signed by 300 miners, merchants, traders and others of Alaska, setting forth grievances from the Government of Alaska, during the last four or five years, which had been one of oppression, and was not in accordance with the genius of American institutions. He introduced a bill early in the session providing for a civil government in that Territory, but it has not yet been reported to the Senate by the committee on Territories to which committee it was referred. He again called the attention of that committee to the subject and hoped some action would soon be taken to provide for a civil government in that Territory.

Windom reported favorably on the bill introduced by him yesterday, extending and continuing, for ten days more, the act recently passed to provide for the expenditures of the Government temporarily; passed.

Anthony reported a bill to extend for a period of ten days more, the act recently passed to authorize the congressional printer to continue the public printing; passed.

Logan moved to take up the House bill to equalize the bounties of soldiers who served in the late war for the Union; lost, 20 to 25.

Logan gave notice that he would move to take up the bill every morning, and call for the yeas and nays on his motion.

Kelly, of Oregon, called up the House bill to adjust the claims of owners of land within the limits of the Klamath reservation in Oregon. Pending the discussion the hour of twelve o'clock arrived, and the Senate resumed consideration of the articles of impeachment against Belknap.

HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, S.—Banning asked leave to present a resolution calling on the Secretary of War to report the object of the military expeditions under General Crook and Gen. Terry, now operating against the northwestern Indians, with all correspondence bearing on the origin of the expedition and all military orders issued by the War Department, &c.

Young, of Tennessee, objected, as he desired to offer a resolution himself on the same subject.

Boone, from the committee on Indian affairs, called up the bill for the appointment of commissioners to treat with the Sioux Indians for the cession of the Black Hills.

Conger having raised the question of consideration, the House decided—33 to 85—not to consider it at this time.

The House then took up the bill reported by the committee on Indian affairs declaring the country north of the North Platte River and east of the summit of the Big Horn Mountains, in Wyoming Territory, open to exploration and settlement.

Fort inquired if the late disastrous battle with the Indians had taken in the country affected by the bill.

EASTERN.

Oil Tanks on Fire.

PITTSBURG, S.—About 11 o'clock this morning fire broke out at the American Oil Works of Holdship & Irwin, located on the Alleghany river, 18th Ward. The fire spread with frightful rapidity, and at 2:30 p. m. five small tanks were all burning fiercely. It is thought the fire can be confined to the tanks now burning. A large force of men are engaged digging trenches to protect the adjoining property in case the tanks explode.

A Disastrous Riot.

AUGUSTA, Ga., S.—The riot at Hamburg has terminated disastrously. This morning, between 2 and 3 o'clock, six negroes were killed and three wounded; one white man was killed and another wounded. After the whites fired four rounds from the piece of artillery, the negroes retreated from the brick building into the cellars and outhouses of the adjoining buildings. Fifteen were captured, and others, including Capt. Doc. Adams, escaped into the country. It is reported that some of the prisoners were shot after being captured. The unfortunate affair is deplored by all good citizens of both races. There were no threats, but deep regret that blood had been shed and lives lost. No further trouble is anticipated.

Gov. Hayes' Letter of Acceptance—His Views of the Platform, Etc.

COLUMBUS, O., S.—The following is the letter of Governor Hayes, accepting the republican nomination for the presidency—

"Columbus, O., July 8, 1876.

"Hon. Edward McPherson, Hon. Wm. A. Howard, Hon. Joseph H. Rainey, and others, committee of the republican national convention:

"Gentlemen—In reply to your official communication of June 17, by which I am informed of my nomination for the office of President of the United States by the Republican National Convention at Cincinnati, I accept the nomination with gratitude, and under providence I shall be anxious, if elected, to execute the duties of the high office as a trust for the benefit of the people. I do not deem it necessary to enter upon an extended examination of the declaration of principles made by the Convention. The resolutions are in accord with my views and I heartily concur in the principles they announce. In several of the resolutions, however, questions are considered which are of such importance that I deem it proper briefly to express my convictions in regard to them. The fifth resolution adopted by the convention is of paramount interest. More than forty years ago a system of making appointments to office grew up, based upon the maxim, "To the victors belong the spoils." The old rule, the true rule, that honesty, capacity and fidelity constitute the only real qualifications for office, and that there is no other claim, gave place to the idea that party services were to be chiefly considered. All parties in practice have adopted this system. It has been essentially modified since its first introduction; it has not, however, been improved. At first the President, either directly through the heads of departments, made all the appointments, but gradually the appointing power, in many cases, passed into the control of members of Congress. The offices in these cases have become not merely rewards for party services, but rewards for services to party leaders. This system destroys the independence of the separate departments of the government. It tends directly to extravagance and official incapacity. It is a temptation to dishonesty; it hinders and impairs that careful supervision and strict accountability by which alone faithful and efficient public service can be secured. It obstructs the prompt removal and sure punishment of the unworthy. In every way it degrades the civil service and the character of the Government. It is felt, I am confident, by a large majority of the members of Congress to be an intolerable burden and an unwarrantable hindrance to the proper discharge of their legitimate duties. It ought to be abolished. The reform should be thorough, radical and complete. We should return to the principles and practice of the founders of the Government, supplying by legislation, when needed, that which was formerly established by custom. They neither expected nor desired from the public officer any partisan service. They meant that public officers should use their whole service to the government and to the people. They meant that the officer should be secure in his tenure as long as his personal character remained untarnished and the performance of his duties was satisfactory. If elected I shall conduct the administration of the government upon these principles, and all constitutional powers vested in the executive will be employed to establish this reform.

"The declaration of principles by the Cincinati convention makes no announcement in favor of a single presidential term. I do not assume to add to that declaration, but believing that the restoration of the civil service to the system established by Washington and followed by the early presidents can be best accomplished by an executive who is under no temptation to use the patronage of his office to promote his own re-election, I desire to perform what I regard as a duty in stating now my inflexible purpose, if elected, not to be a candidate for election to a second term. On the currency question I have frequently expressed my views in public, and I stand by my record on this subject. I regard all the laws of the United States relating to the payment of the public indebtedness, the legal tender included, as constituting a pledge and moral obligation of the government which must in good faith be kept. It is my conviction that the feeling of uncertainty inseparable from an irredeemable paper currency, with its fluctuations of values, is one of the great obstacles to a revival of confidence and business and to a return of prosperity. That uncertainty can be ended in but one way, the resumption of specie payment. But the longer the instability connected with our present money system is permitted to continue, the greater will be the injury inflicted upon our enonomical interests, and all classes of society. If elected I shall approve every appropriate measure to accomplish the desired end, and shall oppose any step backward.

"The resolution with respect to the public school system is one which should receive the hearty support of the American people. Agitation upon this subject is to be apprehended until by constitutional amendment the schools are placed beyond all danger of sectarian control or interference. The republican party is pledged to secure such an amendment.

"The resolution of the convention on the subject of the permanent pacification of the country and the complete protection of all its citizens in the free enjoyment of all their constitutional rights is of timely and of great importance. The condition of the southern States attracts the attention and commands the sympathy of the whole Union. In their progressive recovery from the effects of the war their first necessity is an intelligent and honest administration of the government, which will protect all classes of citizens in all their political and private rights. What the south most needs is peace, and peace depends upon the supremacy of law. There can be no enduring peace if the constitutional rights of any portion of the people are habitually disregarded. A division of political parties, resting merely upon distinctions of race, or upon sectional lines, is always unfortunate and may be disastrous. The welfare of the south, alike with that of every other part of the country, depends upon the attractions it can offer to labor, to immigration, and to capital. But laborers will not go and capital will not be ventured where the constitution and the laws are set at defiance and distraction, apprehension and alarm take the place of peace-loving and law abiding social life. All parts of the constitution are sacred and must be sacredly observed; the parts that are new no less than those that are old. The moral and national prosperity of the southern States can be most effectually advanced by a hearty and generous recognition of the rights of all by all; a recognition without reserve or exception. With such a recognition fully accorded it will be practicable to promote by the influence of all legitimate agencies of the general government, the efforts of the people of these States to obtain for themselves the blessings of honest and capable local government. If elected, I shall consider it not only my duty, but it will be my ardent desire, to labor for the attainment of this end. Let me assure my countrymen of the Southern States that if I shall be charged with the duty of organizing an administration it will be one which will regard and cherish their truest interests, the interests of the white and of the colored people, both and equally, and which will put forth its best efforts in behalf of a civil policy which will wipe out forever the distinction between the north and south in our common country. With a civil service organized upon a system which will secure purity, experience, efficiency and economy, a strict regard for the public welfare solely in appointments, and the speedy, thorough and unsparing prosecution and punishment of all public officers who betray official trusts, with a sound currency, with education unsectarian and free to all, with simplicity and frugality in public and private affairs, and with a fraternal spirit of harmony pervading the people of all sections and classes, we may reasonably hope that the second century of an existence as a nation will by the blessing of God be preeminent as our era of good feeling and a period of progress, prosperity and happiness.

"Very respectfully,
Your fellow citizen,
"R. B. HAYES."

TURKEY.

Completely Beaten by the Turks.

BELGRADE, S.—The Servian army of the Drina has been completely beaten by 12,000 Turks at Belgina. Ranco, the Servian commander, was entrenched, and the Turks captured two entrenchments and six guns. The Servian loss was seven hundred men. The Servians crossed the river Drina, and was attacked on the flank by the Turks, who were repulsed with a loss of 80 killed and 240 wounded.

Belgrade is almost deserted, and there is nobody at the cafes except the old and decrepid authorities. It is confidently asserted that General Tchernagoff holds the road between Nisch and Sophia.

Our Country Contemporaries,

Ogden Junction, July 8—

We are happy to learn that Mr. Thomas Lutey is still improving. He can see with both eyes, and the injured limb is healing up just as fast as possible after amputation. Dr. P. L. Anderson is much pleased to-day with his patient's progress.

Yesterday, while Mr. C. F. Middleton was at work clearing out some brush on his farm, a young man who was using a mattock accidentally struck the pick into Mr. Middleton's elbow, penetrating into the bone. The arm is in great pain to-day.

To-day James Evans, of the Star Saloon, was arrested for shooting at Moses Clark. The difficulty between the two men originated in some ugly rumors, set in motion by the latter. Evans is married to a niece of Clarke's. A younger sister, unmarried, resides with Mr. Evans. Mr. Clark had made some accusations concerning the young lady and Evans, which so exasperated the latter, that he procured a pistol, and going to Clark's house late last night, fired at him through the window. The shot struck a bed, on which a child was asleep, but did no damage except breaking the glass. Mr. Evans is, ordinarily, a quiet, peaceable and courteous man, and we should think that it was only under great provocation that he acted in this lawless manner.

Yesterday a company of men from Lynne, who were engaged in repairing the Ogden Cañon road, sat down together at noon for dinner near the mouth of Coldwater Cañon, a defile of Ogden Cañon. Suddenly a log, which was sent down the mountain by some unknown person from above, struck a young man named Gustave Anderson, an adopted son of Uncle Daniel Thomas. He was severely injured. The log struck him first above the left ear, inflicting a scalp wound, next on the hip joint, cutting a gash two and a half inches long, finally breaking his left thigh. He was immediately conveyed to his home, and Dr. P. L. Anderson sent for, who attended to his injuries. The doctor gives a favorable account of his condition. Enquiries should be instituted as to the perpetrators of the outrage. There was no timber slide in the vicinity of the occurrence, and it really looks as though the log was purposely sent down the mountain out of pure mischief or with a murderous design.

Beaver Enterprise, July 6—

Messrs. Chas. M. Howard, Register of the Beaver Land District, and J. W. Barnes, Receiver, arrived in Beaver on Tuesday evening's stage. Mr. Howard is accompanied by Mrs. Howard, the latter have resided heretofore at Detroit, Mich. Mr. H. informs us that ten years ago he passed through Utah with a surveying party from the Arizona line north to Salt Lake city. Mr. Barnes is from Plattsmouth, Nebraska, where his family still reside. Both gentlemen appear to be very well pleased with the appearance of our town, and will make their homes here for the next year at least. We bid them welcome and hope they will find their sojourn amongst us pleasant.
