tion upon the payment of $1 into the corporation's treasury and receive a certificate of membership. The following gentlemen are the officers of the corporation: William Glusmann, president; John A. Boyle, vice president; Charles P. Jennings, secretary; David Eccles, treasurer, and these gentlemen with the following form the board of trustees: Isaac L. Clark, August Wright, Niels C. Flygare, Thomas G. Burt and H. C. Biglow. A biennial meeting of the association will be held on Jan. 8th, 1900.

GLENWOOD PARK COMPANY.
Incorporated with a Large Capital to Establish Ogden Pleasure Resorts.

Last year the Glenwood Park proprietors made a failure of their endeavor to make for Ogden a suitable pleasure resort, where the public might go and enjoy themselves for a few hours right here at home and spend their money for the benefit of Ogden, but the gentlemen who started the resort at least aroused the interest of some of the leading business men of the city to the fact that if Ogden had a suitable pleasure resort it would be well patronized by the public. Being thus assured of public patronage, the Glenwood Park has been leased by some Ogden gentlemen, who intend making it a thorough success. They have organized into a corporation and yesterday the articles of incorporation of the Glenwood Park company were filed, with capital stock at $10,000. The company is organized with Thomas D. Dee as president, Elsworth Matson, vice president; Chas. H. Kircher, secretary and treasurer; these gentlemen with Geo. H. Matson, Wm. J. Shealy, E. S. Rolapp, W. C. Weaver, B. S. Joyce, J. W. Abbott, form the board of directors. The intent of the company is to construct some nice buildings and lay the grounds out in nice shape for various pastimes and out-door sports. If it is found that the park is a success, several other groves and parks will be opened. There has also been some talk of piping the water from the Hot springs at the mouth of Ogden canyon to the resort and have a bathing pool connected with the park, and if this is done it will make it one of the finest pleasure resorts in the West.

POLICE COURT.

Petty Thieves and Other Offenders Receive Sentence.

Last evening Police Judge E. T. Hulanicki held court at 7:15 o'clock. The first on the docket was Tom Moore and J. H. Lynch for petty larceny, they having stolen two pairs of pants from J. C. Nye Clothing Co. and some silk handkerchiefs from Burt Bros. They pleaded guilty to the charge. Each was fined 20 days. Then M. P. Sorenson faced his honor charged with stealing a quilt from the Central hotel; he tried to squirm out of it, but Mr. McKee, the proprietor of the hotel, testified against him, and the Judge said 15 or 15 days. Frederick Renterger next put in his appearance, a razor and pocket-knife was brought in evidence against him, he was a German and had to have an interpreter. He stole the articles from a lodging house. He pleaded guilty. George Montgomery, another petty larcenist, was brought in, he had stolen a pair of pants from Lamoni Gray's store, also a pair from J. C. Nye's, and sold them to a second hand store. When asked whether guilty or not guilty he said he did not know whether he had stolen the goods or not, for he had been drinking heavily, but the Judge thought he was not so intoxicated as he pretended to have been and gave him 15 days.

The case of Thomas Biele, who was arrested for burglarizing the Peterson Blacksmith shop, did not come up, as the police have not yet got all the evidence in.

Yesterday the sheriff was hunting the same man, Birke, for stealing some shirts, coats, canvas and other things during the week. The sheriff found his roost and the goods stored in the brush at Riverdale, and went out early yesterday morning to get the drop on him, but his man was gone but the goods were recovered. The sheriff came to town and later found out that the man he was after was locked behind the bars in the city jail. His hearing will be had on Monday.

There has been a great deal of petty stealing going on in Ogden the last two weeks and it will be well for the proprietors of stores to have their clerks watch suspicious looking persons more closely, also for the public to see that their chicken coops, coal sheds, barns and other places around their homes are locked up at night. Winter is coming on and hobos and crooks will flock into the cities. The police are doing all they can to catch all such, and will give them something to do for daily bread in breaking up rook in the stockade.

NEW IMPLEMENT FIRM.
E. T. Woolley, manager of the Co-op. Wagon and Machine company, has resigned his position. He, with John D. Fife, are going to start up in the implement and hardware business for themselves here in Ogden, about Feb. 1st, 1900. They are both well known business men of the city and will no doubt be successful.

OGDEN NEWS BRIEFS.
Bishop T. J. Stevens is still confined to his bed.

George W. Larkin, Sr., is confined to his home with illness. The football game yesterday afternoon between the Madison school team and the second High school team resulted in a score of 5 to 0 in favor of the High school.

Hon. Thos. D. Dee has gone to Oregon on a business trip.

PROVO.

District Court Cases—Wants Divorce—Silk Industry—News in Brief.

Special Correspondence.
Provo City, Nov. 24.—The following business has been transacted in the Fourth district court.

In the estate of Russell S. Hines, deceased, Nov. 25 was set to hear return and petition and confirmation of sale of the Palace drug store, sold by the special administrator. The motion to strike out the contest of the will was heard and denied. Further plea to the contest was set for hearing Dec. 4th.

Judge Booth ordered that a petit jury be drawn on Monday, Nov. 27, and on that day the trial calendar will be called and all cases that can be tried before Dec. 11th will be set for hearing.

SEEKS A DIVORCE.
Mrs. Josephine Hall has instituted action for divorce against Nels Hall. The complaint alleges that they were married July 27, 1878, at Sweden, and there are now seven children as issue of said union. Drunkenness, cruelty and non-support are the alleged causes of action. The plaintiff asks for a divorce, custody of minor children, the exclusive use and right to the home and household goods, etc., and that defendant be restrained from entering upon the premises pending this action. A temporary restraining order has been issued.

Some of the ladies of the Garden city have taken up the silk industry and as a result 400 pounds of cocoons were raised this year. The State silk commission has engaged Miss Sophia Packard, of Springfield, to instruct the ladies in the art of reeling the silk, and progress the past week. Miss Packard will give two weeks of instruction.

To encourage the industry the State silk commissioners allowed $1 per pound for the reeled silk and at present some of the young ladies are averaging about a pound per day. The ladies are very much interested in the matter and next year there will be a great many more cocoons raised. Mrs. John E. Booth leads the Provo ladies, having raised 40 pounds. It is estimated that 1,000 pounds were raised in Utah County alone.

SCHOOL ENTERTAINMENT.

The schools of the city will fittingly observe Thanksgiving day by giving an entertainment in the opera house on Wednesday afternoon and evening. The funds raised will be used in the piano fund.

NEWS BRIEFS.

About thirty or forty of our sports will journey to Cedar Fort on Thanksgiving and hunt the festive Jack rabbit. The party will divide up with teams and hunt on a wager for an oyster supper.

Everything possible is being done to prevent the spread of contagious disease through the public schools of the city and chloride of lime is being freely used around the grounds.

Court stenographer John S. Rollo, of the Seventh district, is preparing to remove his family from the Garden city to Richfield, Sevier Co., where the gentleman makes his headquarters.

George E. Ross, 29, and Berthelma Peay, 26, popular young people of this city have taken out a marriage license.

A most interesting musical entertainment was given at the B. Y. Academy this evening under the direction of Prof. A. Lund. Prof. J. A. Anderson, of Salt Lake, was the artist of the evening.

The program was very classic in its nature, embracing selections from Mendelssohn, by the choir from Beethoven, Rubenstein, Chopin, Remicks by Prof. Anderson, and a selection from Handel's aria by Miss Peterson.
