Subscribers understanding this will be able to renew their subscriptions prior to the time of expiration, so that their papers may continue without interruption.

Local and Other Matters

FROM WEDNESDAY'S DAILY, JAN. 20.

Rainstorm.—The rain poured down steadily last night for five or six hours, and the wind was boisterous.

The Moral Situation.—Business in the police court continues very dull. Justice Pyper hadn't a single case this morning, which is good news.

Departed.—The merry jingle of the sleigh bell has departed for a season from the public thoroughfares. This comes in large part from the heavy wind and rain storm of last night.

That's Right.—The dog which bit a little girl in the 20th Ward yesterday morning, has been killed, by order of its owner, Mr. Williams. Those dogs and other creatures which will not behave themselves must take the consequences.

A Change.—We understand a change is being made in the clothing department of Z. C. M. I., of which Mr. H. W. Naisbitt will, we believe, have charge, until it closes out, which will be done as soon as practicable, the Institution becoming wholesale, in all its departments, as rapidly as convenient.

Relief Society Party.—The Relief Society of the Seventh Ward will give a party to-morrow (Thursday) evening, at the school house of that Ward, Mesdames H. S. Beattie, Jos. Hardman and A. H. Kelly being the committee of arrangements. We have received a complimentary invitation.

Will be Heard at the Bay.—The writ of habeas corpus issued by the Sacramento County Court in favor of J. W. Haskin, arrested at San Francisco a few days since on two charges of perjury, alleged to have been committed at Salt Lake, will probably not come up for hearing in this city, as a similar writ was obtained for him from the Fourth District Court, San Francisco, returnable at 2 p. m. to-morrow. Sacramento Union, Jan. 17.

A Bad Recommendation.—It will be seen by the dispatches that the committee on elections of the House of Representatives have recommended, in their report on the subject, that Delegate Cannon, the able representative from this Territory, be expelled from the House on the ground of his being a polygamist, which is a very senseless and inconsistent recommendation indeed, and one it is presumed not likely to be acted upon.

Escaping.—At the instance of the burly butcher, Phil. Kohlihyer, Constable Hampton brought down from Ogden, this morning, a woman who was going off without settling a little meat bill of $181. The friends of the woman had gone on to Ogden ahead of her by train, while she followed afterwards from here by carriage, but it happened that the first person she accosted at the Junction City was Sheriff Brown, who has a peculiar knack of stumbling upon parties with whom he desires to transact official business.

A Bad Accident.—Yesterday a five year old boy named Christopher Galbraith, who resides at Kaysville, met with a very bad accident at that place. He was feeding a hay-cutting machine, which was being turned by another boy, when his right hand was caught by the knives, which severed all of the fingers excepting the little one, and a portion of the palm from the hand. He was brought to town by his father yesterday afternoon, when he received surgical treatment from Dr. Benedict.

More Thermometers.—Some of the settlements are very badly off for the means of determining the condition of the atmosphere, there being some of them where such a thing as a thermometer cannot be found. These very useful instruments are not by any means expensive and it is always interesting to keep a record of the weather. Besides, it would make the weather reports from the various parts of the Territory so much more complete if the standing of the mercury were given.

City Council.—The regular weekly meeting of the City Council was held last night, Mayor Wells presiding, when the following business was disposed of:

Petition of Thomas Jenkins and others asking for the gravelling of some of the street crossings in the Fourth Ward, was referred to the committee on improvements.

Mr. Leventhal was granted an auctioneer's license for one year.

The committee on fire department reported favorably on the Chief Engineer's annual report for 1874, and recommended that his resignation be not accepted; also that $750 be appropriated for the use of the department; report adopted.

Bill of Joshua Midgley, $361.42, for painting Bath House, was allowed and amount appropriated.

Bill of W. Hyde, for boarding city prisoners during December, $259.20, was allowed.

After the transaction of some other business the Council adjourned till next Tuesday evening.

Prospering.—On Monday afternoon there was a meeting of the stockholders of the United Order of Tailors, when the various reports of the business of the concern for the past six months were submitted and accepted. They showed that the association was in a most prosperous and satisfactory condition, having continued to steadily and rapidly gain ground from the date of its organization to the present, as will be at once seen when it is stated that it started with an insignificant capital of forty dollars cash, and now the cash on hand, clear of liabilities, amounts to over $1,000, besides machinery and fixtures amounting to about $300. The result of the last half year's business will enable the association to do work at even cheaper rates than heretofore, which they announce their intention of doing.

The following officers were elected at the meeting:—President, John Ekman; 1st Vice President, Julius Selander; 2nd Vice President, Nicholas Krause; Secretary, John Hogman; Treasurer, John P. Dam; Directors, F. Goss, John Berger and E. Lundell.

F. Goss was also re-elected superintendent.

More Snowslides—Six Persons Killed at Alta.

Considerable excitement was caused in this City this morning by the reception of dispatches from Alta, stating that six persons were killed at that place last night by snowslides. The slides were two in number, and came down one on each side of the Emma mine, carrying away the ore houses and trestle work. In the descent the two slides came together at Alta, burying and killing Mr. Carey, and his wife and two children, "Old Mickey" (Michael Kelly) and another man, named Vanderlee.

The affair caused quite a consternation at Alta, and many of the residents were either leaving or preparing to leave there this morning.

FROM THURSDAY'S DAILY, JAN. 21.

Destitute.—Last night a man, representing that he was in destitute circumstances, applied at the city police quarters for a night's lodging and something to eat, both of which were supplied him.

Not the Writer.—Our esteemed correspondent, "Rustic," of Tooele City, wishes to inform the public that he was not the writer of an article, dated from the above city, and recently published, with the above-mentioned nom de plume appended, in a city contemporary.

Will Remove.—In a day or two the office of the Deseret Telegraph Company will be removed from its present location to the same building as that occupied by Zion's Savings Bank and Trust Company, immediately north of Liddell & Brown's store.

Woman's Exponent for Jan. 15 contains "For the Young Ladies;" "Woman's Record;" "Poetry;" "R. S. Reports;" "Woman's Rights;" "Self Improvement;" "Love is the Fulfilling of the Law;" "Is it Fair?" "Home Affairs;" "Republican Court Etiquette;" "Perfect Resignation;" "Choosing a School;" "The Childless Home;" "Hints" and "Notes," etc.

A Freshet.—We learn that there was a freshet this morning on the line of the Utah Northern Railroad, near Hampton's, which damaged and tore out a portion of the road. It is expected that the break can be repaired within a couple or three days. In the meantime mails and passengers can still travel to and from Cache Valley by walking over the ground where the break occurs and changing cars.

A Rough Pair.—A somewhat notorious couple, James and Mary Clegg, who make a living by begging, in the operations of which vocation they adopt numerous devices and subterfuges, being lame or otherwise, as occasion requires, were arrested yesterday and fined $25 each for being intoxicated, fighting and using profane and obscene language. They both recline in the city jail. Notwithstanding the character of their vocation, the woman is said to have an excellent wardrobe, and is supposed to be otherwise well provided with worldly effects.

Seduction Case.—Yesterday John Cummings, well known in mining circles in the West, was arrested on a charge of seducing a daughter of Mr. Charles Davey, of this City. He was taken before Justice Pyper, who placed him under $4,000 bonds, to appear before him, for examination, next Saturday. The accused was hunting for bondsmen this morning, and has probably found the necessary security ere this. It is the same Cummings who alleged that he was twice shot at, while in bed, through a window of his house, in the 7th Ward, about two years ago, by unknown parties on the outside.

The Perfection of Impudence.—If there is such a thing as the perfection of impudence it has been reached by one Abram Levi, with an indefinite number of aliases; the same who has instituted the proceedings against Mr. William Fotheringham, of Beaver, for adultery, for having married his wife. This person deserted his wife and infant son, remaining absent eighteen years without giving his wife the slightest intimation of his whereabouts, she believing him to be dead. He comes back after an absence of so many years and finds his son grown into a young man, and now we are reliably informed that he has presented a bill of $2,000 against Mr. Fotheringham for not having given his (Levi's) son what he considers a proper scholastic education. A man deserts his own child for eighteen years, leaving his training, support and education to chance and comes back and brings a bill of $2,000 against somebody for not educating the child he deserted. Well, well, what next?

Shocking Accident.—This morning the body of a man, horribly mutilated, was picked up from under a U. C. railroad bridge, a short distance from the Kaysville Tithing Office. One of the legs and the trunk of the body were terribly crushed and one arm was almost totally severed from the shoulder. It is supposed that he either fell in attempting to get on the train from this City last evening, due at Kaysville at 7:10, and was run over, or that he was riding upon the brakes under the cars and, losing his balance, fell under the wheels.

We understand that the deceased was a German, recently from Colorado, who lately came to this City with another man in search of employment, failing to obtain which his companion had gone on to Ogden, and he was on his way to that place to join him.

He was seen passing through Kaysville yesterday afternoon on foot.

A coroner's inquest was held over the remains this morning, at Kaysville, when the jury returned a verdict in accordance with the facts. A coffin in which to place the body was sent on from this City this morning, by Superintendent Sharp.

Full Details of the Alta Snowslide.

We are now enabled to publish fuller details of the disastrous snowslide of Tuesday evening at Alta, a brief account of which was given in yesterday's NEWS. It commenced to roll from a distance north and east of the Emma mine and continued its course until it ended in Alta. The avalanche divided into two at a little clump of timber, north of the works, one part going to the west of them, carrying away part of the trestle work and the ore house, but no farther. The other division went east and south of the Emma boarding house on Main Street, between East and First West sts., near the upper part of Alta, where the slide seems to have done its work of havoc. The alarm was raised, and hundreds of men rushed to the house occupied by Mr. James W. Carey and family, and seeing it demolished, shoved off the snow and in the debris discovered the dead bodies of Mr. J. R. Carey, his wife, and their baby, and of a little girl, whom they had in their charge, a child of Clander Wilson. Near the door of the building, at the outside, was found the body of John Wandeline, who evidently was caught in running to escape the slide. All were dead.

In a cabin quite close the sound of the voice of a human being was heard calling for help, and the people on digging through the hard packed snow, found George Tomlins and Michael Kelly. Tomlins was much hurt, but not fatally, and is able to be up; Kelly was dead, his back being broken.

J. R. Carey and wife were natives of the United States; their child was born in Alta; Annie L. Wilson was a child about four years old, interesting and attractive; John Wandeline, aged about thirty years, was a native of Sweden, and had served as a soldier in the Union army; "Mickey" Kelly, aged fifty years, was a native of County Down, Ireland. The sympathies of the people of Alta were aroused, and every respect was paid to the deceased.

An inquest was held before Justice Wm. Gill Mills, on Wednesday morning, and a verdict rendered in accordance with the facts; and the bodies were taken in charge by him to be interred in Salt Lake City cemetery.

This sad occurrence has cast a gloom over the community, and life to all seems to be uncertain; but we trust that no further accidents will occur this season.

A Fearful Catastrophe—Six Men Killed by a Snow Slide.

Shortly after one o'clock yesterday a huge body of snow near the top of the mountain above the Richmond mine, Big Cottonwood, descended with great rapidity and force. In the gulch below, just emerging into the Canyon, were a number of men and teams engaged in hauling ore on rawhides for the Richmond Company, and so quick was the descent of the avalanche that all were caught in the snow and buried, most of them to the depth of probably 30 feet. The names of the men thus caught were Charles Drabble, W. Ritter, Thomas Broaderick, Joseph Ferguson, Henry Atkins, R. R. Moore, George McConnell, and T. R. White. The last named person was uninjured and was dug out after being in the snow about 30 minutes. McConnell was caught by the slide and carried about one hundred feet. He was also dug out alive, but received very severe injuries. We learn, however, that his recovery is probable. His wife went out this morning to take charge of him.

A large number of men from the Richmond, Wellington, Prince of Wales, Stella and other mines went to work with a will at digging out the bodies, but up to three o'clock yesterday afternoon none of the remaining six, who of course have all perished, had been exhumed, and at seven o'clock last evening, when Mr. Sol. Kimball left Silver Creek, with his stage, none had been reported as having been recovered up to that time.

When the slide, which was about 200 feet wide, reached the bottom of the gulch, a large portion of the body of snow flew up the side of the opposite mountain, embedding the blacksmith shop of the Wellington mine, a couple of men who were in it at the time barely escaping with their lives.

We learn the foregoing particulars from a couple of private letters from the scene of the catastrophe, received last night and since they were written we have been called upon to-day by Mr. Sol Kimball, who runs the Big Cottonwood stage, from whom we learn, in addition, that the slide ran about half a mile, and that both the men who escaped from the Wellington blacksmith shop were much bruised, one of them having his hand badly smashed.

White, who escaped without injury, after being under the snow thirty minutes, helped to dig McConnell out, being engaged in that way for a couple of hours.

DIED.
