DESERET EVENING NEWS WEDNESDAY DECEMBER 16 1908

Supreme Court Should Construe It So as to Carry Out Reforms Needed as Nation Advances.

DEFENDS THE SHERMAN LAW.

Not Ready to Part With it but Agrees That it Probably Needs Amendment.

New York, Dec. 15 .- The annual session of the National Civic federation in this city was brought to a close tonight with a brilliant banquet which grouped together at one of the five score of individual tables Presidentelect Taft and Mrs. Taft, Samuel Gompers, August Belmont, A. B. Garretson, chief of the Brotherhood of Railson, chief of the Brotherhood of Rall-way Conductors; Melville E. Ingalls, former president of the Big Four rali-road; President Seth Low of the fed-eration and Mrs. Low; Former Judge Alton B. Parker, and Mrs. Andrew Car-negie. At other tables at the banquet hall of the Hotel Astor sat employers and many employes of corporations. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and Frank B. Kellogg, who had been prosecuting the government's inquiry into the Standard Oll company, were near neighbors, though not at the same table. Andrew Carnegie and John Mitchell sat side by Carnegie and John Mitchell sat side by side.

A NOTABLE THRONG.

The notable throng of men and wo-men brought together by the federation led Mr. Taft, who was the principal speaker of the evening, to remark that he had been sitting with company with which it hardly would have been well for him to associate prior to election. He then declared that all that had hap-pened before the election was a closed book to him, and he would be the pres-ident of all the neonle Mr. Taft was the ident of all the people. Mr. Taft was the last of eight speakers. Those who pre-ceded him were Mr. Low, who acted as toastmaster, and Messrs. Mitchell, Gompers, Carnegie, Belmont, Ingalls and Garretson. Mr. Taft spoke en-tirely extemporaneously and briefly.

tirely extemporaneously and briefly. Much had been said during the even-ing concerning the problem of the "twi-light zone," where state jurisdiction ends and federal authority begins. The Sherman anti-trust law also had been attacked by Mr. Ingalls, who as-salled it as an antiquated measure which should be entirely driven from the statute books. Mr. Taft came to the rescue of the Sherman law, and said that while he believed with others that certain amendments were accessary, he that while he believed with others that certain amendments were necessary, he would be opposed to any atempt at its repeal. As to the "twilight zone," Mr. Taft declared the country had gotten along very well under the Constitution, and he believed that it would continue to find that instrument all-wise and in-disconsible. Sneaking of labor Mr. dispensable. Speaking of labor, Mr. Taft said:

"Time was when everybody who em-"Time was when everybody who em-ployed was opposed to labor unions. Time was when these organizations were regarded as a menace. That time now has largely passed away, and the man who today objects to the organiza-tion of labor should be relegated to the last century. Labor organizations have done marvels for labor, and in the fu-ture will do more. The y will avoid the ture will do more. The y will avoid the reduction to a level of all workingmen, whether earliest or energetic, or since less in their work. "Labor unions will encourage work-ingmen, not to a level down, but to a level up, and will exemplify that those who lead in energy will have the lead-ership and reward." Mr. Taff declared that he believed laborers on the one hand and capitallaborers on the one hand and capitalists on the other have equal rights of opportunity for the protection of their own interests.

DISCUSSES CONSTITUTION.

"I feel a delicacy," said Mr. Taft, "in discussing some subjects that have been touched on here tonight, for I shall soon be sworn to uphold the Constitution of the United States. But I feel that I must rally to the support of the battered old instrument which has been so widely discussed. It is true that it is ancient of origin, but we have gotten along pretty well under it. There have been problems in the past which seemed as difficult as that of the 'twiseemed as difficult as that of the 'twi-light zone' and proper apportionment of state and federal power, but they have been settled. And I think now we can depend upon the acumen, the patriotism and the ability of the mem-bers of the supreme court of the United States to recognize that in our progress they must so construe the Constitution as to enable us to carry out out the reforms that are needed as out out the reforms that are needed as the nation advances, giving to the government the power of dealing broadly with the greater problems and the state power of dealing with the lesser ones. "Having thus acknowldeged fealty to the Constitution, I want to say that I am not quite ready either to part with the anti-trust or Sherman law. I will agree that it probably needs amend-ment, but I do not think the amend-ments should be too extensive. It is ments should be too extensive. It is more important to enforce the law than to repeal lt.

"I thank Mr. Gompers for saying that I am to be his president as much as anybody's. In the next Congress and the one that succeeds it many ques-tions will arise with reference to leg-islation in assistance of labor. To me one of the most important questions is as to an employer's liability act. In my judgment one of our greatest dan-gers lies in the delays in the adminis-tration of justice, civil and criminal. By a reasonable employer's liability act in both federal and state covernments we both federal and state governments we could remove from the courts nine-tenths of the suits for damages growing out of personal injuries and have just awards rendered by quasi-judicial tribunals.'

CARNEGIE CREATES ENTHUSI-ASM.

Mr. Carnegie created a storm of ap-proval when he declared that he be-lieved the problem of capital and labor would be solved through a profil-shar-ing plan which would make all men laborers and all men capitalists. Mr. Gompers declared that every man associated with organized labor hoped that Mr. Taft's administration would be pre-eminently successful and would bend every energy to the attainment bend every energy to the attaining of that purpose. The following officers were uanimous-ly-chosen: President, Seth Low; vice presidents, Sanuel Gonpers, Nathan J. Bachelder, Ellison A. Smyth and Benjamin Wheeler; treasurer, Isnac N. Seligman; statistician, Ralph H. Faulk-

Common Sense And a Tablet

Do Away With Dyspepsia, Stomach Trouble and Make Meals a Pleasure.

When your stomach goes on a strike and mass meetings of indignation are and mass meetings of indignation are held all over your body, then it is that you should sit up and take notice. It is clearly and only a question of common sense—is this thing called Dyspepsia. Take away, by abuse, over eating, excesses and high living, the things which the stomach mack and you have dyspepsia and indigestion; then other maladies follow these-this

s common sense. The stomach is willing enough but you won't let it do its work. You take away the materials which are so neces-sary for it to use. Give back these materials and dyswhole machinery of man begins slowly to move and do its work.

What the stomach needs is nerve force, fluids for its digestive glands, nourishment and power. All these ne-cessities it takes from the blood. If dyspepsia gives nothing to the blood, the blood gives nothing to the stomach. This is common sense also, pure, simple and unalloyed.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are com-mon sense pressed by high power in-to tablets. In these tablets are powerto tablets. In these tablets are power-ful essènces which go into the stomach, digest food, stop gas making, prevent decaying of food, enrich the gastric juices, are absorbed by the blood and thus give it strength to furinsh a bet-ter fluid for digesting the next meal. Every physician knows what comprises these tablets; every druggist has the same knowledge also. They are nat-ural common sense digesters, which do the work for the stomach quickly and well. Lucien Teter, chairman of the commit-tee on postal savings banks of the American Bankers' association, calling on the bankers to oppose the bill pending in the senate for the establishment of savings banks.

"I acquit the American Bankers' association of the statements made in this circular," said Mr. Carter. He then read from the circular, which asked members of the American Bank-ers' association to present the enclosed arguments against postal savings banks to the local newspapers, requesting that they be used as editorial or "write-ups," This circular, the senator said, exhibiting the printed slips, has the following clause:

"Please remove this slip before hand-

"The purpose of this said before hand-ing to newspapers." "The purpose of this cautionary no-tice," said Mr. Carter, "was to have the local banker slip up on the blind side of the paper and to relieve this committee from responsibility for loose statements used." He added that he would publish all of these circulars in the Congressional Record, so that they could be seen by the public.

Senator Carter later moved the consideration of the postal savings bank bill and, his motion being carried, the measure became the unfinished busi-ness of the senate, displacing the joint resolution suspending the commodity clause of the interstate commerce law The objections urged against the es-tablishment of postal savings banks in this country, Mr. Carter said, had been urged also against their establishment in Great Britain, but now there was no sentiment against them there. All political parties, he said, were com-mitted to the principle of the postal savings bank, and he urged the pas-sage of the bill as an aid to the class of clitzens most deserving of assistance to Congress. Senator Depew spoke in support of the bill.

The bill has been in conference since the last session of Congress. An attempt to have both houses agree to the report before holiday adjourn-ment will be made, before the original section becomes effective Jan. 1.

HOUSE INSURGENTS' HOPES ARE BLASTED

Washington, Dec. 15 .- The hopes of Washington, Dec. 15.—The hopes of the so-called insurgents in the house of representatives for a revision of the rules of that body were dissipated, for the time being at least, when Mr. Gard-ner of Massachusetts today failed to obtain the adoption of an amended resolution calling for the appointment of a committee of eight to consider the subject and report to Congress what they deem necessary. A substantial majority of the house voted to take away from the committee on foreign away from the committee on foreign nffairs consideration of the resolution which in its original form simply called for information from the secretary of state regarding what the Brit-ish house of commons had done in that regard. A ruling by the speaker that the amendment of Mr. Gardner changed the character of the resolution in such a way as to not make it privileged was sustained and the resolution then was laid on the table.
