

Gas on the Stomach

The Experience of a Minneapolis Woman in Finding a Remedy for Indigestion.

It is Not Necessary to Accept it as Hopeless Since There Are Many Well Authenticated Cures.

The symptoms of stomach trouble vary. Some victims have a ravenous appetite, some loathe the sight of food. Often there is a burning sensation in the stomach and a feeling as if weight on the chest. Sometimes the gas presses on the heart and leads the sufferer to think he has heart disease. Sick headache is a frequent and distressing symptom. The tonic treatment for stomach trouble is a comparatively new idea but it is sound in principle and shows satisfactory results in cases where other treatment had failed. Mrs. J. S. Wilder, a lady of No. 328 Ninth street, S. E., Minneapolis, Minn., found no relief from stomach trouble until she tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Speaking of her case, Mrs. Wilder says:

"About four years ago I was suffering with stomach trouble, which was brought on by irregular and hurried eating. I was confined to my bed for three days at the time with headaches due to indigestion. My stomach felt as though there was a lump in it and I was unable to eat. I was very nervous and irritable. It made me short of breath to go up stairs. In the morning I would find a brown coating on my tongue.

"The doctor gave me only temporary relief and after I had been sick for a long time I tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills upon the advice of a friend. The pills worked wonders for me. They helped me after a fair trial and then made a rapid cure. I can eat a hearty meal now without distress and can work every day. I always praise Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and shall never be without them."

Sufferers from indigestion in any form, who have found their condition unrelieved or actually growing worse while using ordinary remedies, would do well to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They are sold by all druggists or direct by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50c per box; six boxes, $2.50. A diet book will be sent free, on application to Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

LORIN FARR ENDS NOTABLE CAREER

Death Comes to Him Suddenly At Ogden Hot Springs.

HEART FAILURE THE CAUSE

Was in Apparent Good Health a Short Time Before the Final Summons Called Him Beyond.

The news that reached this city yesterday of the death of Hon. Lorin Farr, who placed him in charge of the Weber branch of the Church, which he held until after Weber stake was organized, when he became its president, a position he filled for twenty years.

Mr. Farr, who was born in 1820, died at Ogden, where he had gone for a bath. Half an hour before he was apparently in usual good health, in fact expressed himself to this effect in a conversation with friends. It is supposed that he was stricken with heart failure, and expired in the water without being able to cry for help.

Mr. Farr was perhaps as well known throughout the state as any man in Utah and he was loved and respected to a degree enjoyed by few. His figure was almost as familiar on the streets of this city as in his home city, Ogden, and his personality and genial manner would attract the attention of even the casual passerby. Only three or four days ago he was seen here, and walked with elastic step and erect form, despite his nearly 80 years.

In public affairs, civil, commercial, social and religious, few men had been more active than Mr. Farr, and it was only of very recent years that he was not found actively engaged in the first two. His participation in Church work continued to the day of his death. He was Ogden's first mayor, elected in 1851, and re-elected for 10 successive terms of two years each, and after a brief interval, he was again in the mayor's chair, making 25 years in all that he served in that capacity. He was also a member of the first Utah legislature, and served many terms in that body. The last important office held by him in civil affairs was as a member of the constitutional convention of 1895.

Mr. Farr was born July 27, 1820, in Waterford, Caledonia Co., Vermont. His parents were Winslow and Olive Hovey Farr. The family received the teachings of the Latter-day Saints in 1832, and Lorin was baptized when he was 11 years of age. From that time on he was with the Church in all its wanderings and shared in all that came to the body as a whole, whether of joy or sorrow. His residence in Utah dates from Sept. 20, 1847, and after living in Salt Lake City for three years he removed to Ogden, and that place was his home until death. In the building of city, county and commonwealth honor, he labored with more zeal, energy and intelligence than did Lorin Farr and his memory will live long in the hearts of the people.

Mr. Farr left a numerous posterity, the number of his children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren reaching into the hundreds. He was honored and respected by kith and kin, and every man, woman or child that knew him or knew of him shared in the love and reverence that he commanded.

EARLY ASSOCIATIONS.

Elder Farr was an intimate associate of the Prophet Joseph Smith. At Far West in 1838, he slept in the same room with the prophet, with arms at his side, while the horrors of Haun's mill and the expulsion from Missouri were being enacted. From this beginning a high regard for the prophet grew, and which through all the intervening years has remained as the brightest memory in Lorin Farr's life. To tell of the grand personality and characteristics of the prophet has always been his delight.

Brigham Young performed the marriage ceremony which united him to Nancy B. Chase at Nauvoo in 1845. With the pioneers of 1847 he made his way with his people to the west. When the "move" of a decade later became necessary, he led the people of Ogden on the southern exodus, and was first of all those who went south to break camp and return to his deserted home. In 1858 a serious accident came near terminating the life of Elder Farr. He fell from a railroad platform while on a trip through southern Utah, and for several days remained unconscious while his life was in peril. Before this fall he was known as one of the most powerful and muscular men among the pioneers. His fame as a victorious participant in athletic sports was as wide as the pioneer camp and settlements. Since that time his life has been one of quiet retirement, in which temple work has been his chief pleasure and occupation.

In his death the people of the whole Church will mourn the passing of a sturdy worker for a cause whose advancement has always been his chief concern, and in whose life there has ever been present the qualities of devotion, integrity, and unblemished character.

PERRY ARRIVES TODAY

Is in Charge Joint Strikers Committee—Meeting This Afternoon at D. & R. G. Shop Matter.

Denote action on the termination of the strike of machinists, tool grinders and blacksmiths on the Denver & R. G. Grande railroad, as far as the local organizations are concerned, will be had this afternoon, when B. F. Perry, the official in charge of the joint strikers' executive committee at Denver is expected to arrive. Immediately after reaching this city Mr. Perry will call a meeting of the local strikers and all details and arrangements for the strike will be discussed. There is no question but the strikers will return to work, and the agreement adopted between the strikers and men and the railroad single point will be acceded to here, it is possible a little premature to state that the strikers will return to work tomorrow.

No representative from the Salt Lake strikers was present at the meeting between the strikers' committee and the railroad officials held at Denver when the strike was dropped off, and for that reason it was wise to commission the head of the executive committee to sound sentiment at this end of the line, where a greater number of men are interested, perhaps, than at any other single point on the road outside of Denver. The meeting this afternoon will be held at

BARLOW MAY MOVE OFFICE

Chief of Police Barlow is planning further changes about police headquarters. It has been practically decided to change the chief's office from the rear to the front of the building on the west side, and to move the lieutenants and the detectives to that side and fix up quarters for the men on the east side of the building. The desk sergeant now has a small office to himself and no one can enter the place until the sergeant presses a button which unlocks the gate. The reporters' room will also be changed and will probably be located on the west side of the hall near the rear of the building.

After a heavy meal, take a couple of Dr. Jones' Regula, and give your stomach a liver and bowels the help they need. Regula brings easy, regular passages of the bowels.
