

IMPROMPTU LINES

SUGGESTED ON VISITING THE PENITENTIARY YESTERDAY, MAY 24, 1885.

The prison—yes, within the prison
I have seen those noble men—
Home and freedom taken from them
'Mured within the hateful "pen"'

Wives and children severed from them,
Not because they were untrue,
Not because they failed to render
To each one their portion due;
Not because their love had wandered
Into bad, forbidden ways,
Not because their wealth they squandered
In licentious nights and days.

Such a mode is fashion's law—
 "Be like us, and we'll reward you,"
 Tho' with cart ropes sin you draw!
 Tears rose up, and well-nigh chok'd me,
 But I forced them to their cell,
 Glad I am I shut the flood gates
 Down upon my heart's deep well.
 Not in robes of regal splendor
 Could I view you, as I do,
 Homage of my soul I render
 Without effort unto you.

Such a love as God inspires,
Love that lives thro' woe or weal!
Tho' my heart and brain strain and steal,
Still my pride is mixed with grief,
Silent joy, and silent sorrow,
Only bring my soul relief.

Glad am I that I have seen you,
Glad am I you all feel well;
Prayers for you will be ascending
While in durance you must dwell.

In the arms of God I leave you,
Knowing He will hold you up;

of Clifton. Old man Brenton cannot be found. Dod, who followed up the Indians, believes he has been killed. Five miles further on, at a German place, one of the men was murdered and mutilated. At Montgony, where Wilche's the Indians had been there and destroyed everything. As it was dark, Dod did not look for bodies, but hastened on to Alma. His horse shied at the jangling of the trail, on which he saw a number of dead horses, and he believes, men also. The Indians crossed the San Francisco river five miles north of Alma, Friday. The settlers had not been notified of the outbreak, and many have undoubtedly been killed. The trail which leads to McIntire started back Wednesday.

Mr. Lyda: "Alma, May 22.

(Signed) JULIA MILLER, "The courier confirms the news of the killing of Luce and his companion, Calvin Orwig. The bodies were brought to Alma. Captain Overton writes: "The Indians are now at Devil's Park, 20 miles from Alma. The Indians were heading for Warm Springs and will probably go by Cook's Cañon trail."

Washington, 23.—A dispatch was received at the War Department to-day, saying that the Apaches who escaped from the San Carlos reservation have gone in the direction of Fort Tulerosa

More Dynamite.

DENVER, 23.—Late to-night, as the regular Rio Grande train from Salt Lake was approaching the city limits, a terrific explosion took place directly under the engine, extinguishing the lights and breaking the windows of the locomotive and forward coaches and violently wrenching loose the rails. Dynamite or giant powder had evidently been placed under the slopes of the tracks. The passengers to the number of 100 were severely shaken up and stantly killed. John Kramer, aged 7 years, had a leg fractured and received a severe scalp wound. Two laborers were perhaps fatally injured. It is believed some children playing in front of the garage were under the walls, but it has not been ascertained positively yet. Property loss, $13,000.

The "Dolphin" to Have Another Trial.

WASHINGTON, 23.—Secretary Whitney is determined that the dispatch boat Dolphin shall be thoroughly tested before he comes to any decision regarding her.

Following is a copy of a letter which he had sent to Mr. Roach, her builder: "You will, I think, recognize that the be imposed upon me the duty of exercising an unusual degree of caution in dealing with her. What would have been reasonable prudence in most works, would not be so now. It is quite possible that the difficulties encountered in making her go through the trip may have been due to accident and temporary causes, but I do not expect her to be accepted without your having an opportunity to demonstrate beyond all question the high character of her work. I understand you to assent to this proposition in our conversation yesterday, and while I do not understand you now to claim for Brother James Low said his acquaintance with Brother Fotheringham had lasted 45 years ago. In their teens, they had both been members of the same church, and were persecuted then, as now. He knew that Brother Fotheringham was a good and educated man, with a right to be regarded and respected man, and that he now has the sympathy of every just man who knows him. He also predicted that this mission, with all others, would be successful, and would do honor to himself, to his family, and to humanity.

"Up Awake, Ye Defenders of Zion," was sung by Brother R. Stoney, the chorists joined with great enthusiasm in the chorus.

An address expressive of the respect and sympathy of the Y. L. M. I. Association was given by Brother J. H. ...

Music by the band.

A very appropriate essay was then read by Mrs. Lu S. Daitou.

"Do They Miss Me at Home" was sung by Mrs. Amelia Smith and Miss Lucinda Robinson.

Barlow Ferguson represented the sympathy and good feeling of the Y. M. M. I. A., in a spirited manner. It is a pity that the confinement within prison walls that brings the shame and disgrace. Brother Fortnuthingham has no remorse of conscience, nor do his friends look upon him as other than a worthy and good man.

Singing, "Do what is right."
Benediction by Daniel Tyler.
The meeting was enthusiastic throughout, and all seemed full of sympathy and good wishes for Brother Fotheringham.

MAY DAY AT DESERT

DESKRET, Millard County,
Utah, May 12, 1885.
Editor, Desert News:

A very enjoyable time was witnessed here on the 12th inst., under the auspices of the Desert Sunday School.

At 9:30 a.m., the procession formed in front of the school house, headed by the Queen of May (Miss Amanda Henry) and 24 maids of honor, who were followed by the superintendent, Sunday School pupils and the public. After marching around two blocks, the procession returned to the school house, where the Queen was crowned, and a

Some very appropriate remarks were made in the closing address, by Bishop J. S. Black.

In the afternoon the children of the ward were entertained in a pleasant party, and the adults also joined in a social ball in the evening.

Yours respectfully,
JOSEPH DAMRON, JR.,
Secretary.
