Counsel for Thomas Vance Attacks Testimony of Clara Wunderlich.

RELY ON THE TRANSCRIPT

Stories Told in Court Today and in Preliminary Hearing Do not Confiorm is Contention.

The taking of testimony in the Vance murder trial began todap before a Jury in Judge Armstrong's division of the district court. Up to the hour of noon three witnesses had been examined, and the only feature of the session was the attempt of Judge Maginnis, of counsel for defense, to impeach the testimony of Mrs. Clara Wunderlich, the second witness called by the state.

Today Mrs. Wunderlich testified that Today Mrs. Wunderlich testified that on Nov. 26 last when she was attracted to her back door by the screams of children in the Vance home next door, that Mrs. Vance came out of the house and asked Mrs. Wunderlich to telephone for the police. "What for?" asked Mrs. Wunderlich, to which Mrs. Vance replied, "Tom Vance, the brute that I call husband, is killing me."

Picking up a transcript of the case and advancing in front of the witness, Judge Maginnis read to Mrs. Wunderlich her testimony given at the prolimmary hearing, which was to the effect that the witness had not used the words "is killing me," when testifying for the first time. Mrs. Wunderlich started to explain by saying that she had made a subsequent statement to that made a subsequent statement to the county attorney, and Mr. Hanson arose and offered Judge Maghnis a paper, but the latter brushed the docu-ment aside and said that he was dealing only with the evidence as it had been originally given.

ANOTHER DISCREPANCY.

Again an apparent discrepency was discovered by counsel in the testimony of Mrs. Wunderlich, She stated today that when she first called upon Mrs. Vance the day after the assault complained of, Mrs. Vance was very nervous and complained of a headache, Counsel read from the transcript that witness had formerly testified that Mrs. Vance seemed all right at that time.

Mrs. Wunderlich detailed today the events of Nov. 26, when the trouble occured in the Vance household. The rest of the day and the forenoon of the day following Mrs. Vance complained of being ill, On the 27th witness had been asked to have a cup of Again an apparent discrepency wa plained of being ill, On the 27th witness had been asked to have a cup of coffee with Mrs. Vance, This was early in the forenoon. About 2 o'clock the Vance children called to Mrs. Wunderlich to come to their mother. She found Mrs. Vance very ill and vomiting blood. She gave her a drink of brandy and a headache remedy. Seeing a glass upon the machine near the bed she asked if it was clear water. Mrs. Vance queried, "Why do you ask?" Witness noticed that there were bubbles on the water and she emptied it and got a clean glass and fresh water and gave Mrs. Vance a drink. The woman grew worse during the afternoon and night. Next morndrink. The woman grew worse during the afternoon and night, Next morning her gums were swollen and black. That was Thanksgiving day, Nov. 28, and that day Mrs. Vance was taken to the hospital, Witness saw her but once afterwards, Dec. 2, when the patient was greatly changed, her face being puffed and swollen.

SAW WOMAN KICKED.

Mrs. Helen Abraham, an aged Syrian peddler, took the stand shortly before the noon recess. An interpreter was employed, as the woman cannot under-stand nor speak the English language. She told of going to the Vance home about noon on Nov. 28. She went to the back door of the house, and through an open door saw a woman lying on the floor and sa a man kick ne woman. The first witness of the day was County Surveyor Joseph B. Swenson, who identified a map he had made of who identified a map he had made of the premises. As many of the wit-aesses as were present, for both sides, were sworn together, and excluded from the court room, except when wanted to testify. Among the wit-nesses were three of Vance's children, who will be called upon to testify for the state.

OPENING STATEMENT.

In his opening statement on behalf of the state Mr. Loofbourow detailed the difficulty that occurred at the Vance home on Nov. 26, 1907. It was to the effect that at the mid-day meal to the effect that at the mid-day meal on that day. Mrs. Mary Vance, wife of Thomas Vance, poured for her husband a cup of coffee. He complained to her that she had filled the cup too full, that he had told her he only wanted a part cup full. Upon her replying that she had not heard him to that effect, he became angry and told her that she had better say that she fild not heed, rather than that she did not hear. Upon her protest to make the correction, he threw the contents of the cup at her, the liquid striking her in the face and chest. The cup of the cup at her, the liquid striking her in the face and chest. The cup flew out of his hand and hit the wall back of him. He then struck her and knocked her down. She arose went to the back door and calling a neighbor asked her to telephone for the police. In reply to a question as to who she wanted arrested Mrs. Vance said, "Tom Vance the hynte Leall bushand." Mrs. wanted arrested Mrs. Vance said, "Tom Vance, the brute I call husband." Mrs Vance re-entered the house, and the attack was renewed, according to the statement, and Vance kicked his wife in the abdomen. During the remainder of that day and night Mrs. Vance felt the ill effects of the alleged mistreatment. the alleged mistreatment. Next day while she was lying down

ACTION MUST BE IN EQUITY.

Judge Marshall Rules on Action Brought to Cancel Naturalization. Judge John A. Marshall of the United States court this morning handed down a decision in the case of the United States against David R. Brown, in which it was sought to cancel the cer-tificate of citizenship procured by Brown in 1891. The decision was to the Brown in 1891. The decision was to the effect that equity proceedings must be brought in the case before the certificate can be cancelled, and that it cannot be done by a proceeding at law.

The complaint was filed by Dist. Atty.

H. E. Booth on July 23, 1908. The facts of the case only then came to light through the application of the defendant for a civil service examination, and when it was learned that he was a naturalized citizen the date of his paners. uralized citizen the date of his papers was brought into question, and the cntire proceedings were investigated.

It seems that Brown, who is a native of Great Britain, came to the United States in the year 1886, at which time he was 21 years of age. He left Eng-land on the 26th of June, 1886, and on April 27, 1891, he applied to the Third district court in the Territory of Utah and secured papers declaring him a citizen. H. G. McMillan was then clerk of the court, and he transacted the of the court, and he transacted the business and issued the papers to Brown, upon the latter's affidavit that he had been in the United States the required length of time, or five years.

It was afterwards learned that he had made his affidavit three months too early and had be wated until too early, and had he waited until July he would have been entitled to

These facts are acknowledged by Mr. Brown; unintentionally he made the affidavit before he should have done, and was willing to have a default declared as to the papers and begin all over again. The proceeding was therefore brought in law, but Judge Mar-shall's decision dismissed the action without prejudice as to the law pro-ceeding and ordered it brought in equi-

TANGLE IN SNITH FAMILY.

Wife Seeks Police Aid to Assure Her Peace of Mind.

Domestic infelicity; a suit for divorce; threats to kill; a rush to police headquarters for protection; an attempt to escape, and capture by the police, are a few incidents associated with the family troubles of James Snith. The latter now occupies a cell in the city jail while Mrs. Snith is pursuing the even tenor of her ways, secure in the belief that she will not be murdered and that she will soon be freed from a matrimonial yoke that has, so she declares, been a grevious burden.

The dramatic incidents referred to occurred Saturday evening when Mrs. sabella Snith, who conducts the F. A. fraternity house for the students of the university at 79 Twelfth East street, rushed into the desk sergeant's office at the page station and declared she was in fear of her life; that her hus-band, James, had threatened to kill her within three days because she had filed a suit for diverce, and that she want-ed protection and was even willing to e locked up in jall to preserve her life While she was pouring out her tale to the desk sergeant her husband, James Snith, stood in the doorway behind her. Patrolman McCornneck, who was stanu-ing near, was instructed to escort the couple into Lieut. Hempel's office and lay the case before that official. As McCormack started out with Mr. and Mrs. Smith, the former made a bolt for the door and ran to First South street and thence toward South Temple. McCormack gave chase and fired three shots in the air to frickles Smith. three shots in the air to frighten Snith, but the latter only ran the faster. Mc-Cormack cut across the street and headed the man off. Snith then doubled in his tracks and ran back to First South, where he was gathered in by Patrolman Gillespie. The couple were then taken to Lieut. Hempel's office, where Mrs. Snith told her sad story. She declared that her husband had treated her cruelly and that she had filed a suit for divorce, the hearing of which is set for Tuesday. She said she was about to board a car to come down town to do some shopping when her husband came up to her and de-clared she would not be alive in three days. She said the man followed her down town and she decided to appeal to the police for protection. Snith followed her to the station and then tried to get away rather than face the lieu-Mrs. Snith stated that she separated from her husband about three years ago and that he had falled to provide for her in any way. She also alleged that Snith repeatedly called upon her, demanded money, wanted to "make up" and finally began threatening her life. She declared she was afraid the man would kill her and she started a suit for divorce. Snith was locked up and is being held pending further investigation and the probabilities are he will be placed under bonds to keep the peace. Snith departed witht a sigh of relief when assured she would be safe from any attempts on the part of the man to

GOLTRA TALKS ABOUT POSTAL CONDITIONS

President of National Federation Postal Clerks Discusses Matters Needing Remedy.

Edward B. Goltra of Chicago, president of the National Federation of Postoffice clerks, was yesterday the guest of Salt Lake Union No. 6. He delivered an address before the union at Federation hall at 1:30 o'clock in the at Federation hall at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon, making a plea for organized effort in behmalf of the betterment of the condition of the postoffice clerks, and explaining conditions as they exist and the difficulties which have to be fought by the organization. Mr. Goltra spoke at some length, but his talk was interesting and showed by the course are supported in the condition of the condit but his talk was interesting and showed his thorough acquaintance with his subject. He advocated a sentiment of opposition to what is known as the Gilliett bill, a measure introduced into Congress providing for the pensioning the the postal clerks when retired for old age. While the bill in some respects is all right, President, Goltra said there were objectionable features in it which should be éliminated. One provides that the postoffice clerks pay sufficient out of their salaries to provide for the annuity to be given them by the government at retirement. "Why should we pay our own pensions," asked Mr. Goltra, "any more than any other government any more than any other government

The speaker said all postal clerks are underpaid. In Chicago in the month of October, 1905, 2,700 resignations occurred from that office alone on account of the low pay, according to Mr. Goltra. Conditions have been bettered however, now but it is the Mr. Goltra, Conditions have been bettered, however, now, but it is the constant effort of the national organization to work for more pay and better conditions for the postoffice clarks.

After the address, Mr. Goltra was tendered a banquet. While in Salt Lake he is the guest of J. Everett Seely, president of the Salt Lake local union.

Many Friends Assemble to Pay Tribute to "Charlie" Barrell.

In spite of the inclement weather the Eighteenth ward chapel was filled vith friends, associates and fellow-with friends, associates and fellowworkers of the late H. C. Barrell at noon yesterday, when the funeral services were held. In the gathering were many who had obtained their first training in music from him as boys, among them being John Held, who brought a brass quartet and rendered "Nearer My God To Thee" very effectively as a tribute to his old teacher. The speakers of the occasion were C. H. Wilcken, A. M. Musser, Hamilton G. Park and Duncan McAllister, old time friends and associates of the deceased. President Joseph F. Smith was the closing speaker, and his remarks were full of epcouragement and comfort to the bereaved family. The Eighteenth ward choir, of which Mr.

Barrell had been a member, furnished the music, with H. S. Ensign singing "Face to Face," and Spencer Clawson, Jr., rendering, by request of the family a favorite hymn of the departed entitled "The Last Hope."

A long concourse of carriages followed the remains its the final resting place at the city cemetery.

ROBBERS AT LEIGH HOME.

Jewelry Valued at One Thousand Dollars Taken By Visitors.

The arrest of several robbers during he past 10 days does not seem to put a stop to the robbing of houses. Between 7 and 9 o'clock last evening the residence of Mrs. Clint B. Leigh, 123 U street, was broken into while Mrs. Leigh and her two children were away from home, and about $1,000 worth of involving tables. from home, and about $1,000 worth of jewelry stolen. The robbers had evidently been watching the house and when the family left they lost no time in gaining entrance by cutting the wire screen of the back door, breaking the glass and unlocking the door. Bureau drawers, trunks and closets were emptied of their contents and every room in the house was turned topsy turvy. Everying of value in the shape of jewelry was taken except a gold watch which had initials on and some silverware. The thieves secured the follow articles: Two diamond and one parl rings, an old-fashioned pearl parl rings, an old-fashioned pearl brooch, pendant necklace and two old silver half-dollars,

WHITE MAN KILLS INDIAN.

Saloon Brawl Ends in Death at Theodore, Wasatch County.

According to a dispatch received in his city Saturday, an Indian by the name of Alvis was murdered in a saoon brawl at Theodore, Wasatch county, by a white man late Friday afternoon. While details are not complete, the story goes that the Indian and some white men were drinking in a saloon at Theodore when a dispute arose over the refusal of the saloonkeeper to sell whisky to the Indian. A general mix-up followed, and the Indian was attacked by a white man and killed. The murderer is said to be an old man between 65 and 70 years of age.

The Indian who was killed is said to be a member of the Ute tribe, and was from the Ute reservation in the vicinty of Fort Duchesne. Up to a few years ago the fort was occupied by government troops, but it was abandoned when the country was opened ty, by a white man late Friday after-
