The Top-Notch Hall Shows—Bandits of the Sea and the Region—Notes of Interest from Utah Politics.

We are informed that a quartet of wealthy men who put up at the Wright house the other evening, are talking seriously of starting a bank in Highland with a capital of $100,000. They said if it was thought that the citizens would subscribe stock in the venture, the principal banking institution in the city would be established. At present, the principal banking institution in the city is the First National bank, which has a capital of $1,000,000. The new bank would be a branch of the First National bank, and would be located in the city of Highland.
