PATTI IN DANGER.

A Crank Makes an Attempt Upon Her Life.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 9.—A crank attempted to kill Adelina Patti during the concert to-night at the Grand Opera House by a bomb. The would-be assassin was only injured, though not seriously, by the premature explosion of the engine of destruction.

A later dispatch says: A dramatic and sensational episode occurred to-night at the Grand Opera House, where Adelina Patti was giving her last concert of the season, and which was also announced as her last appearance in the city. The incident will tend to make her farewell performance memorable. At 10:20 o'clock, after Patti had twice appeared in front of the curtain in response to recalls at the conclusion of an aria from "Traviata," and just as she had retired again to the wings, a was clearly heard above the vociferous applause, and a cloud of smoke was seen to rise over the railing of the top gallery. Instantly every lorgnette in the house was focussed on that portion of the house where the exciting scene was transpiring, and a panic was imminent. The people in the gallery were rushing about, seeking the quickest means of exit, and it was only by the self-possession of the newspaper men present in the box, coupled with that of the diva, that the stampede of the entire house for outdoors was prevented. The newspaper men were in the stage box, and quickly perceived that no serious result had occurred and that the danger was over. They communicated by nods and motions with Patti, who was still in sight in the flies, to come

BEFORE THE CURTAIN.

She comprehended the situation, came forward quickly and giving the cue to Arditi began to sing "Home, Sweet Home." This had a calming effect on the audience, and though many left to ascertain the cause and effect of the unexpected punctuation to the performance, the concert was carried on to a conclusion. As soon as the location of the trouble could be learned the policemen rushed to the scene and found a man with a badly burned face and hands, moaning with agony, and the remains of an infernal machine about him. He was placed under arrest and conveyed to the receiving hospital where he stated he had stooped to pick up his hat and cane and under the seat which he picked up and that as he raised it to see what it was it exploded. Though he was badly burned about the face and hands, it is believed he received no serious injuries. No other person is known to be hurt. He gave his name as Dr. James Dodges, a dyspepsia specialist, his residence as No. 4 Central Place and his age 71.

Others, however, give a different and undoubtedly correct version of the affair. A lady who sat next to him and narrowly escaped injury, states that during the evening he made a number of significant remarks which pointed clearly to the purpose which he later attempted to carry out. Among the observations which the lady distinctly remembered was: "Patti is singing excellently to night, but she will never sing any more." He also was heard to make uncomplimentary and to J. C. Flood and family, who were present in a box. At the receiving hospital, after the wounds were dressed, the chief of police attempted to make him commit himself, but he was completely unsuccessful. He stoutly maintained his innocence. The chief of police pronounces him a crank. The bomb was made of a can filled with powder, in the centre of which was a bottle. The can was wrapped in pieces of cloth, soaked in inflammable oil, and it is believed that the intention was not only to kill Patti and those near the stage, but also to set fire to the building. It was arranged to explode by a number of friction matches, which connected with the fuse inserted in the powder. The theory is the fuse burned too quickly for the crank and the explosion was premature.

Though Patti performed her part in the evening's programme, it was noticed that the occurrence had a considerable effect upon her, and somewhat subdued her usual vivacity.

CONGRESSIONAL.

Senate.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—Every seat in the Senate gallery except those reserved for the diplomatic corps, the family of the President and ladies and the Press association was filled this morning when the Senate was called to order. Mrs. Logan and her son, daughter and friends to the number of twenty occupied seats in the private gallery. The chaplain in his prayer alluded to Senator Logan. After the reading of the journal, the chaplain delivered an eloquent eulogy on the career of General Logan and was followed by Morgan and Edmunds.

House.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—The Speaker laid before the House to-day bills to encourage the manufacture of steel, modern naval ordnance and for other naval purposes, and to provide heavy ordnance adapted to modern naval warfare, and for the manufacture of army ordnance.

Reed, of Maine, desired unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of the bill.

Holman, of Indiana, objected.

Reed then asked that it be made a special order for Monday next, but Eden, of Illinois, objected.

A discussion then sprang up as to the committee to which the matter should be referred.

Reed said he simply desired to fix the responsibility of the failure to fortify the country upon the persons it ought to rest on.

The chair declared that the report should go to the committee on appropriations, and that it had a right to report at any time. The bill was referred.

On motion of Throckmorton of Texas, the bill was passed, authorizing the Fort Worth & Denver City Railroad Company to construct a railroad through the Indian Territory.

In the morning hour the House resumed the consideration of the bill changing the mode of compensation to United States District Attorneys, Marshals and Commissioners, and pending action the morning hour expired.

O'Neil, of Missouri, made an attempt to call up the letter carriers eight-hour bill, but was unsuccessful, and the House went into committee of the whole (Blount of Georgia in the chair) on the diplomatic and consular bill. After a short debate and without action the committee arose.

Public business was then suspended and the House proceeded to the consideration of resolutions relative to the death of W. T. Price, the late Representative from Wisconsin.

Eulogistic addresses were made by Coswell and others.

The House then as a mark of respect to the memory of deceased, adjourned.

A Real Bull Fight.

CITY OF MEXICO, Feb. 9.—Several wild bulls broke loose to-day while being driven through the city, and killed a number of persons. The bulls were of the famous Alenco breed, and were destined to be used in the coming bull fight. Two of them entered the court yard of the National Palace and were shot down by the soldiers. The affair created much excitement.

Ordered Held.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 9.—In the extradition case of Benjamin Hagaman, charged with fraudulently raising amounts drawn by his employers, W. B. Bowland, Jones & Co., at Thorald, Canada, the United States Commissioner to-day ordered the prisoner held to await the decision of Secretary of State Bayard.

Royal Reception.

BERLIN, Feb. 9.—The Empress to-day received Albani, the singer. During the interview the Emperor conversed generously with Albani.

Germany's Trade.

LONDON, Feb. 9.—The German steamers for Australia will hereafter call at Colombo instead of Chagos, thus forming a direct connection between Germany and India. It is anticipated that Germany's trade will be greatly benefited.

The Cabinet.

LONDON, Feb. 9.—The Cabinet held a session of three hours' duration to-day. Rumors are current that a dissension has taken place among the ministers.

The Annual Gorge.

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—The Republican Club, at a meeting to-night, received a committee report in regard to its annual dinner Saturday night, indicating that it will be a notable gathering of Republican leaders. The club proposes to take in prominent leaders, and hereafter Lincoln's birthday of each year is to be celebrated by such a dinner.

Incendiary Fire.

TOULON, Feb. 9.—During the trial of the master and matron of the Reformatory Institution in Parquerolis, one of the Hyeress Islands, where the boys mutinied against the cruelty and lack of food, a terrible fire occurred in the plantations and vineyards, doing great damage. It is rumored that it was incendiary, being started by the inhabitants as an act of revenge on the reformatory authorities.

Indian Fight.

DENVER, Feb. 9.—Albuquerque, N. M., special to the News: George Lockhart, Deputy Sheriff at Navajo Springs, accompanied by Ed. Palmer and Tom King, started on Monday morning for the Navajo reservation to arrest an Indian for horse stealing. They found him on the reservation, surrounded by a large part of the tribe. The Indian resisted arrest and Lockhart shot and killed him instantly. The other Indians opened fire on the three men and Lockhart, Palmer and King were killed and are lying where they fell. The sheriff's posse killed two Indians and wounded two others. The Indians then rode off to Bennett's store, near Manuias station on the Atlantic and Pacific Railroad, and stole all the provisions they could carry off. Excitement is high and the people living around the reservation are afraid the entire tribe will go on the warpath, and that another Indian war is imminent.

A Light Contest.

TROY, N. Y., Feb. 9.—Sporting men from New York, Albany and Troy left the latter city about midnight on a special train to see what was announced to be a fight to a finish between Tommy Warren, featherweight champion, and Robby Haight, local featherweight. Eight rounds were fought, Haight standing up remarkably well and giving Warren a black eye, but refusing to respond after the eighth round, in which Warren manifestly had the advantage. Haight insisted that he had agreed to stand up only for this many rounds, but the referee did not so understand it, and the fight was given to Warren.

The Strike.

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—Except for the number of longshoremen standing idle on the corners, the streets along the river fronts have assumed almost their normal appearance, though it requires a larger number of men to do the work than formerly. The steamboat and railroad pier managers all claim that business is as good as before the strike and that freight is moved with the utmost facility. Steamers now leave on their advertised time and the jam of freight on the railroad piers no longer exists.

Settled.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 9.—The strike of the six thousand Monongahela River coal miners is practically settled and work will be resumed in nearly all the mines in the first, second and third pools to-morrow at the rate decided upon by the Miners' National Executive Board. Meetings were held by the miners in the various pits last night and it was resolved to accept the compromise suggested by the National Board. It is expected that all the mines will be in operation next Monday.

A Good Deal Missing.

BOSTON, Mass., Feb. 9.—John C. Leighton, for nineteen years clerk of the Municipal Court in this city, was charged with being short in his accounts according to a statement attributed to City Auditor Dodge. Dodge this morning emphatically denied making the statement attributed to him by a morning paper, that Leighton's accounts were $200,000 short. Dodge said he had no authority to see the books of the clerk of the court and therefore could not make such a statement as he was credited with.

The statement that Leighton's defalcation will amount to $200,000, the Journal says, cannot, at this stage at least, be borne out by the facts, as there is not the least evidence upon which a complaint could be maintained that could charge him with even the embezzlement of one thousand dollars.

Judge Forsythe declared this afternoon that Leighton's shortage if any was a very small one.

Pacific Mail.

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—There was a conference between the Pacific Mail and the Panama Railroad officials to-day, but after a short session it was adjourned until to-morrow. It is stated by the principal holders of the Panama stock that the compromise on the basis of the suspended contracts submitted last summer only awaits its acceptance by De Lesseps, which is expected to be received by the Pacific Mail. The compromise considered is for the Pacific Mail to give to the Panama Railroad $160,000 in settlement of the latter's claim of $800,000, and monthly payments hereafter at the rate of $35,000 instead of $70,000.

CATTLEMEN'S CONVENTION.

Everything Going Along Smoothly.

DENVER, Feb. 9.—At the morning session of the International Range Convention, several papers on the cattle industry and the best method to conduct it were read.

A resolution was adopted demanding retrenchment in the expenses of dressing and shipping beef cattle. It provides for the appointment of a committee of three to confer with the commission houses with a view of obtaining a uniform rate of twenty-five cents per head for the sale of range cattle.

A paper from the Retail Butchers' Protective Association of Brooklyn was read, denying that they were responsible for the high price of beef, and declaring their association desired to act in harmony with the Range Association.

Mr. J. J. McGillian, of Cleveland, was called for and read on the monopolies of stock-yard concerns and middlemen, in which he laid the troubles of the cattle growers to their not receiving just prices for their cattle, at the doors of these middlemen. His plan for meeting these monopolies was the organization of an immense corporation with a capital of a hundred million, to be participated in by the stock raisers of the United States, which should market and butcher all the stock raised in the United States, and conduct the selling of all beef direct to the consumers. The explanation of his scheme was listened to with marked attention, and the close of the address was marked by warm applause.

A SHORT ADDRESS

This afternoon was occupied in revising the constitution and by-laws of the association.

Bomb Throwing.

LYONS, Feb. 9.—Two bombs were simultaneously exploded in front of the police headquarters office in this city. The bombs struck against the railing and were thus prevented from exploding their force at the building.

At St. Etienne, thirty-two miles southwest of Lyons, a bomb was thrown at the police station. It exploded inside the office and with such force that three officers within the building were seriously injured. Eight men were arrested.

The Coming Avenger.

BERLIN, Feb. 9.—The Post's Paris correspondent writes: A deceptive calm followed your recent article referring to General Boulanger, and he is now more powerful than ever. His former opponents are turning towards him as the rising sun, finding it impossible to struggle against the growing popularity of a man who is regarded by the masses as the long expected liberator. The whole country is anxious for revenge and are arming, evidently believing the hour is coming.

Ugly Charge.

BERLIN, Feb. 9.—The Post adds an extra from the Paris Figaro article signed by School imputing the grossest immorality to German women. This will raise a storm of indignant protest in Germany.

Dignified Silence.

PARIS, Feb. 9.—The newspapers here congratulate the Chamber of Deputies upon the dignified silence with which it voted the army credits. Such action, they say, shows that France can be prudent and patriotic when necessary. The advice of the press generally to abstain from any comment is likely to provoke Germany.

THE COMING WAR.

French Preparations—The Pope Supports Bismarck.

BERLIN, Feb. 9.—The Berliner Nachrichten says it has authentic information that Gen. Boulanger, French Minister of War, is preparing for a movement of troops to the eastern frontier. Four battalions of infantry are to go to Verdun and Toul, and quarters are being prepared to receive them. A brigade of cavalry also go to Verdun and provision trains to Toul. Four battalions in Algiers have been ordered to France. Boulanger instructed the military railway committee to remain in permanent session. The Nachrichten adds: "A Paris advice states that owing to the urgent representations by his colleagues, Gen. Boulanger has postponed issuing orders for formulating these instructions until the 21st."

The Munich Algemeine Zeitung publishes Cardinal Jacobini's letter to the Nuncio at Munich. It is dated January 30th. The Cardinal says: In view of the of the Church laws, the Pope desires the Centre to support the septennate bill in every possible way, and concludes: It is well known the government attaches the greatest importance to the passage of the bill. If by its adoption there should be found danger of war in the near future, the Centre would render great service to the Fatherland and to the cause of humanity in Europe by supporting the bill. In the contrary case the hostile attitude of the Centre will be considered unpatriotic, and a dissolution of the Reichstag will cause embarrassment and uncertainties to the Centre party.

Cardinal Jacobini instructs the Nuncio to urge the leaders of the Centre to influence their colleagues in favor of the Septennate, and assure them that such a course would greatly satisfy the Holy Father.

The Official Gazette publishes an imperial order confirming arrangements for military transportation in time of war.

Terrible Affair.

CHICAGO, Feb. 9.—The Inter Ocean's Des Moines, Ia., special says: News was received here to-day of a horrible accident or tragedy that occurred yesterday about six miles northwest of Jefferson. A small farm house occupied by a man named Lucklum was entirely consumed by fire at 8 o'clock in the afternoon, and Lucklum, his aged father, wife and son were burned to death therein. Two neighboring women saw the flames and tried to get in, but the doors were fastened with the occupants inside. This, together with the fact that a gun and revolver were found near the remains of the old man, indicate foul play, possibly murder and suicide.

Russian Notes.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 9.—It is rumored that one the cadets at the military school, a prince, has committed suicide upon the discovery of his complicity in a plot against the Government. A number of students who were leaders in the plot have been arrested, together with several naval officers.

The strikers at the Demidoff Spinning Mills, at Viaznki, set fire to the buildings, which were entirely destroyed. They beat the directors and managers in a horrible manner. The riot lasted a whole night, and was finally quelled by the Governor of Valdimir, who arrived with troops.

Discussing Inter-State Commerce.

NEW YORK, Feb. 9. — About forty representatives of companies embraced in the Southern and Transportation Association met here this afternoon. The inter-state commerce bill was discussed. It was decided to instruct the rate committee of the association to look over the rates, and where they are found conflicting with the provisions of the bill to revise them. The general sentiment of those present was to comply with the requirements of the law, although most of them were ignorant of its details.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 9.—A recent conference of the leading officers of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, who are connected with its freight business, was held to discuss the inter-state commerce bill. It was the unanimous verdict that the measure was exceedingly favorable to that company, and would benefit rather than

INJURE ITS BUSINESS.

The meeting considered the changes in the method of handling freight which will be introduced, and a new plan in the rough was formed, which will be put into practical shape in a short time. The sending of copies of contracts to the commission will require an extra clerical force, as from six to seven hundred will be forwarded daily.

President Roberts notified the officials that it was the intention of the company to live up to the spirit and letter of the law as it now reads, though the construction of some of its clauses by the commission might change later on. To-day general orders were sent out to all the departments of the corporation, notifying them of the intention of the company, and telling them to act promptly in accordance with the bill. Already a force of from two to three hundred clerks have been set at work preparing blanks, new sets of books, forms and other matters to carry out the changes.

Capitalists Coming.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 9.—The Missouri Pacific Railway sent out two very large trains to California to-day, one from St. Louis, composed of nine cars, six of them Pullman sleepers, containing 135 passengers, the other from Kansas City, composed of sixteen cars, thirteen of them Pullmans, containing 325 passengers. Most of the people were prominent citizens of the Eastern and Northwestern States, seeking opportunities to invest capital.

Inundations.

LONDON, Ont., Feb. 9.—The north branch of the river Thames has again overflowed its banks, and nearly all the houses in the southern end of the west village are flooded, some to a depth of three feet. Moving ice has destroyed a portion of the wall of the Sulphur Springs building, and there is also about 50 feet of breakwater between Richmond's and Kensington bridges.

Manning's Bank.

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—The Western National Bank was organized to-day by the election of Secretary Manning as president, United States Treasurer Jordan as vice-president, and F. Blankenhorn as cashier.

FROM THE FOUR WINDS.

Hon. S. S. Cox is suffering from catarrh of the stomach and pleurisy.

Four men were hanged at Fort Smith, Arkansas, for murder in the Indian Territory.

McQuade has been sent to Sing Sing. His motion for a stay of proceedings was denied.

Lord Colin Campbell has abandoned his intention to move for a new trial in his divorce suit.

The pension bills for Mrs. Logan and Mrs. General Blair were defeated in the House committee on pensions. Two reports will be made to the House.

Austria is rushing her war preparations as rapidly as possible and large contracts have been made for provisions in March.

It is estimated that 30,000 women could find husbands inside of a fortnight in Wyoming and Montata Territories, and why the procession doesn't move is a mystery.—Detroit Free Press.

In response to an invitation to attend a meeting of the advocates of federation, John Bright has written a letter declaring that he is not in sympathy with it.

Seven bodies have been exhumed in Boston and traces of poison found in them all. They were all supposed to be the victims of Mrs. Robinson, the Summerville poisoner.

An army of 150 policemen and bailiffs were employed to evict nine families from the Winn estates in County Kerry. The people were turned out and their homes burned.

A large number of people were affected by gas escaping from a leaky main in Troy, New York, and three persons were found dead. The gas was odorless and its presence could not be detected.
