

NEWS OF THE WEST.

Lieutenant Davis Caused by Smoking Cigarettes.

FIRE NINETEEN FEET TO DEATH.

Burned Arm and Foot of Dr. and Drud by the Devil—Harmless but Kill'd.

Reynolds, a miner employed at the Hunt Mine, has been severely injured, receiving the 200th degree burns to his hands and fingers Friday afternoon, being instantly killed. The cause is yet to be known. He leaves a widow.

Possibly, Lieut. Trimble, A. Miller, Captain of 47th Guards of Kentucky, was territory forced last week, after soldiers fought fire from a violent wind which caused a large quantity of gunpowder to explode, killing all but two who were able to be unburdened and now are seriously burned.

Exodus, Wyoming Herald Jan. Woods of Buff, Wyo., Wyoming locomotive driver, got up the engine and was severely injured, but is recovering rapidly. He was severely burned over 100 degrees per cent and is in a employable condition. He has been given a special care on the part of the railroad companies he belongs to.

A report has reached us that the mining town of Harvey, Arizona, population 2,000 inhabitants, has been severely destroyed by fire at about 10 o'clock Saturday morning. The report cannot be verified, but a serious disaster is feared, as the town is located in a narrow valley where there is little chance of escape from the flames.

A daring attempt to steal $100,000 worth of Indian history pieces from the basement of the Bishop's residence in Marionville, Kan., was successfully repelled by the police Saturday evening. The thief, who was wearing a mask, attempted to break into the house through a window, but was discovered by the police who were on duty at the time. The thief fled through a window, but was captured by the police.

The remains of Jack Custer were found at the Modoc caves near Madras, Ore., last day by G. A. Johnson, who was hunting for truffles. Mr. Johnson said the remains were found in a hollow log. Custer was shot during the evening, and at 8:15 o'clock Saturday morning he was buried by G. A. Johnson and his men. He was buried in a shallow grave near the entrance of the cave.

Early morning as Pat McCarty, a Southern boy, was giving an account of his life to a reporter, he said, "I am alone because my wife left me, and I am trying to get along with my wife's relatives." The reporter asked him if he had any money, and he replied, "I have $100 in my pocket, but I have no place to go." He begged for a place to stay, and the reporter said, "We will give you a room for a dollar a night." He left with the reporter, and the reporter said, "We will give you a room for a dollar a night."

THE SALT LAKE RAILROAD.

Discussing the Through Lines to Los Angeles, Cal.

talk of Four Different Enterprises—the Production of Earth-Roads, Oil, Internal Combustion, Home-Made Shoes.

(See also Oregon Dept.)
The Salt Lake railway project is still dead. It is even sleeping. In fact there is but one railway operating, the Denver & Rio Grande, running from the East to the mountains. We are surprised that the intervening space of only 400 miles has not been filled up with railroads. We are certain we feel that it is an enterprise which, in the very nature of things, cannot be much longer delayed.

Let us consider the present situation. The property of the Terminal Railway would be immensely enhanced in value if it had another outlet to the West. The Mechanics' and Manufacturers association the other evening, Vice President, Goldsmith said that if the Denver & Rio Grande would sell their line to the West, they would have connections with 12,000 miles of roads, while southern California has no outlets to the West. It is not just the Denver & Rio Grande that would benefit through the Sierra Madre range, and it has friends in the directors of the Big Granite Western. There is a strong probability that the Denver & Rio Grande will be the terminal point for the Terminal to build the road to Salt Lake, and the beginning of the construction will probably not be delayed a great while.

The Southern California railway company has not been very successful short time past. The Santa Fe system binds the Atlantic & Pacific, and the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe. The Colorado Central, and the Denver & Rio Grande. But this is not the case with the Denver & Rio Grande, and the Denver & Rio Grande, while the others could not compete with the gravity of the situation, the Denver & Rio Grande is in a position of pre-eminence.

But what is the next move? We have already seen the advantages of the short line to the west, the Northern
