Miss Armstrong, assistant guard. Trustors-Mary Watrous, Bessle Boyce, Nellie Robinson.

Color bearers-First, Bessie Smith; second, Manie Sleater; third, Roberta Sleater; fourth, Edith Cassiday.

WOMEN ALL HOBSONIZED.

The evening ceremonies were partic The evening ceremonles were partic-ularly interesting. They included the installation of the newly elected offi-cers, and a banquet. A feature en-tirely unprovided for, but sprung as a surprise for the ladles immediately in-terested, was an osculatory feat on the part of Comander-in-chief Nevius who was present, the objects of this style of sally being the newly chosen lady officers. The latter did not ap-pear averse to the "trying ordeal;" in fact as the command was given for them to "fall into line" for the kissing stunt, they did so amilingly.

stunt, they did so smillingly. The commander-in-chief gave a sketch of the struggles between the sketch of the struggies between the blue and the gray in the time of the great unpleasantness, remarking his gratification that the angry feeling he-tween the north and south was fast dis-appearing. In hastening this, the or-genization of the women is proving a valuable factor.

gardization of the women is proving a valuable factor. In the last year, the deaths in the ranks of the G. A. R. numbered 10,000, an increase of 4,000 over the record of the previous year. The speaker held that now there is no north, south, east or west, but all one common country. The old soldiers of the confederate army had forgotten the bitterness of the past, except in sections where it is kept allye by the Daughters of the Con-federacy. Gen. Nevius praised the wo-federacy. Gen. Nevius praised the wo 's organizations in the G.
