

DIVORCE SUITS PILE UP

Three Mismatched Women Ask Court to Relieve Them of Galling Matrimonial Bonds Today.

In addition to the eight decrees of divorce granted by Judge Morse in the Third district court yesterday, three suits for dissolution of marital ties have been filed with the clerk of the court today. The first applicant on the list is Carrie M. Tatovsky, who complains that her husband, Henry Tatovsky, has treated her in a cruel and inhuman manner, in that he accused her of infidelity. Mrs. Tatovsky also alleges that her husband has failed to provide for her the necessities of life. She asks for the custody of a 16-month old son in addition to the decree.

Clara H. Watrous wants a divorce from her husband, Henry E. Watrous, alleging desertion. The couple were married in Salt Lake City, June 15, 1893, and Mrs. Watrous claims the desertion took place May 4, 1896.

Martha A. Jordan is the third mismatched woman who asks the court to dissolve her marriage bonds. She alleges that Arthur B. Morris, her husband, has failed to provide for her since Sept. 2, 1905. Mrs. Morris also asks for the restoration of her maiden name, Martha A. Selman, in addition to the decree of divorce.

STILL ANOTHER.

A decree of divorce was this morning granted by Judge Armstrong to Mary E. Foster from her husband, Joseph W. Foster, on the grounds of failure to provide. The Fosters were married at Farmington, Dec. 12, 1907, and the complaint alleges that Foster deserted his wife in May, 1908. The decree also restores the maiden name of Mrs. Foster to her, that of Mary E. Haddock.

SEEKS TO OUST SON.

Christopher Cramer has filed suit in the Third district court against his son, C. Ernest Cramer, for the recovery of a one-story brick house situated in the Big Field, which plaintiff says his son is wrongfully occupying. The action is the outgrowth of business partnership difficulties. Plaintiff also asks for $100 damages.

SMELTER SMOKE SUIT.

Oscar J. Reese and Abraham A. Reese, doing a dairying business under the firm name of Reese Bros., have filed a suit against the Utah Smelting and Refining Co. in the federal court. The sum of $5,500 is asked to cover damages to animals and farm, alleged to have been caused by smoke from the defendant company's smelter.

JOHN P. MEAKIN HOME.

Lecturer Given a Rousing Reception at F. O. E. Hall Last Night.

"The falsehoods and anti-Mormon inventions which flow out from this city are beginning to receive less credence and attention in the eastern part of the United States than was formerly the case and the stories that could be imposed upon intelligent audiences some years ago are becoming more impossible every day," says John P. Meakin, who has been absent eight months in the east lecturing upon the principles of Eagleism.

Mr. Meakin left Salt Lake Jan. 21 of this year and returned the fore part of the present week. He says he has held upward of 100 meetings.

The meeting last evening of the Fraternal Order of Eagles at the club building was a most interesting affair. The return of Mr. Meakin. The house was well filled and Mr. Meakin addressed the assembly upon his experiences while in the east. He said that the press and the public had been lavishing in their appreciation of his efforts to do some good, and that more than 100 letters had been written from people in all walks of life saying that his lectures had helped them in a measure to live a better and more profitable life.

In narrating of the Boys' Industrial school at Lancaster, Ohio, Mr. Meakin said that there were 1,150 boys in that institution in the audience, and that including visitors from the town, 1,400 were present, at his lecture.

C. W. DANISIE APPOINTED.

Named as New Assistant Secretary of Salt Lake Auto Club.

C. W. Danisie is the new assistant secretary and manager of the Salt Lake Automobile club, replacing W. E. Macarion who resigned several weeks ago. Danisie will have a car at his disposal in which to carry on the propaganda of the club for good roads, and to point out to responsible officials bad places in the highways.

A consignment of 10,000 "good roads" buttons has been ordered to supply the local people with a text for their campaign. They will be liberally distributed and it is thought will help to impress upon county and town officials the necessity of keeping the highway in repair in the vicinity of their towns.

THE GOODRICH-McMILLAN MATCH IS CANCELLED.

Once more is Miss Edna Goodrich, the widely advertised leading lady of Nat Goodwin, standing in the line of matrimony. A dispatch received here yesterday briefly announces the fact that the engagement between herself and the Nevada mining magnate, J. H. McMILLAN, has been cancelled—the reason, "no man knoweth."

It will be remembered that Miss Goodrich received a vast amount of advertising not many months ago through the allegation that her former manager, and the star whom she supported, Nat Goodwin, was raising objections to her proposed marriage to Mr. McMILLAN, on the ground that she was under contract to remain on the stage with Goodwin for a number of years. To this Miss Goodrich and her mother, who were in Paris buying a trousseau that was expected to make western natives gasp with astonishment, merely

ATTY. SMITH REBUKED

For Improper Conduct in Court Judge Diehl "Calls Lawyer Down"—Thief Gets Seventy-Five Days.

In Judge Diehl's court yesterday afternoon, Frank Howery, a foreigner, was tried on the charge of petit larceny. On Thursday evening the fellow entered J. Burrows & Co.'s store on Main street, slipped two pairs of trousers under his coat and ran out. He was caught by a policeman. In court he was represented by Atty. James F. Smith and the latter made Judge Diehl decidedly indignant by his improper conduct in cross-examining a witness. Judge Diehl informed Smith that he could not go on with the case. Smith demanded to know the reason and was promptly told that when he could come into court and conduct the trial of the case decently he would be permitted to try the matter. Smith started to argue but was ordered to take his seat and keep still. The hearing was continued until this morning.

When the matter was called for further examination Atty. Smith in a more quiet manner questioned Mr. Burrows at some length but was unable to shake his testimony. Smith argued the case strenuously and at great length, but Judge Diehl found the defendant guilty and sentenced him to 75 days in jail.

Charles Thomas, a man about 65 years of age, charged with drunkenness, made a rather peculiar plea. He said:

"I didn't do any misdemeanor but I guess I was drunk O. K." He was fined $5. The same sentence was imposed in the case of G. W. Hall, William Cooper, Henry Rice, A. A. Allen, T. W. Titcomb and Joseph Buckenack, all charged with drunkenness, were discharged. T. Garbey, a logger, was sentenced to 30 days for vagrancy.

The state case against W. A. Loeche and Earl Mitchell, charged with grand larceny, were continued until Monday when a new complaint will be filed against the pair.

JUST A BOYISH PRANK.

The two boys, Collins Gillette and Fillmore Malin, whose appearance frightened five girls, the other night, at Fourth South and Third East streets, stated that they had been attending a rehearsal with these same girls; and that they had been in the shadow of a gateway thinking to playfully frighten their friends, but expecting to be immediately recognized. The boys were on seeing how badly frightened the girls were they immediately did what they could to straighten things out, procured candles and assisted the girls to find their missing combs, etc., expressed great regret, after which they escorted them home. The young men say exaggerated reports of the occurrence were made to the police by the mother of one of the girls, which resulted in a lecture the youths are likely to remember.

PRAISE MOAPA MELONS.

Moapa melon growers report that in face of heavy competition, they have been getting $2.75 to $3.00 per crate in Chicago for standard cantaloupes, thus netting a handsome profit. Some 30 carloads have been shipped out this season, and the output will be doubled by another season. Chicago commission men write the Moapa people relative to the cantaloupes: "We do not believe there is anything that can beat them, and they seem to arrive on the market at the proper season; that is, just as Rocky Ford starts."

POLITICAL POINTERS

Sugar ward now has a Bryan club. It was formed by about 100 men and women, who attended an opening session in the Sugar ward school house last night. Will Ray and Will Leary of the Salt Lake Bryan club attended and made speeches congratulating the club on its organization. G. C. Isahab was elected president; William P. Nesbet, vice president; C. Ashton, secretary; Miss Ethel Garms, treasurer. In addition to these officers Nichol Hood, John Jones, and J. R. Harris form the executive committee.

Republican State Chairman Wesley K. Walton lives at present on a country establishment east of Murray. Recently, when he seeks the homeward road at night, he finds the Murray car packed to the guards, with strap hangers clinging to every available place. Therefore, he has discovered a way of getting home in a car seat all the way that makes some friction with conductors, but which works. It is to ride through the city on a car marked "Twenty South" and then to demand a transfer. Often a conductor is startled to be asked for a slip on an outgoing trip, but Walton stays with his car until he gets it. Then, when he boards the Murray car at Twelfth South, he has another argument ahead, to convince the conductor that this none of his business, why he didn't board the Murray car up town, and that his transfer from the State street car shows exactly what he has done, and that it is perfectly valid under the law.

Once when a conductor argued with him that he was not sure a transfer should be allowed from Twelfth South, he said, "Well, I'll try it, and see if it won't work." You won't get a chance to try it on me," was the sudden answer, and tearing up the transfer he had started to make the conductor rushed away. He was a new man on the line.

The Benner X. Smith candidacy for Congress is exciting a great deal of comment in Salt Lake, and has considerable force back of it in this county, at least. Congressman Howell has never been elected in this county, and county votes to aid him in his campaign.

In Rich county, which divides its senatorial pie with Morgan, Wesley K. Walton, the veteran member of the state senate, and candidate prospective for the presidency this session, has never been elected in this county, and county votes to aid him in his campaign.

HAY BADLY DAMAGED.

Timothy Crops in Utah and Idaho Injured by Rain Storms.

That the timothy crops in Utah and Idaho have been badly damaged by recent rains is the conclusion reached by Paul E. Banker, vice president of Bailey & Sons company, who has made an investigation into the reports concerning the injury of the hay crop; he says that the recent rains have worked havoc with the timothy, while the alfalfa crop has not been seriously injured.

Alfalfa was selling at $11 and Mr. Banker was of the opinion that this price would hold, although alfalfa brought $12 and $13 last winter. The Idaho farmers, says he, have a better market and yet better prices for their products than do the Utah farmers, and that this was due to the fact that the railroads give the Idaho farmers better rates which condition was partially due to the fact that the Idaho farmers made a specialty of raising farmers while the Utah farmers raise a great variety of products and pay less attention to grains.

Concerning the size of the Idaho crops he said: "While in Idaho I saw a number of persons who were there in search of homes. Salt Lake profits by the development of the agricultural districts of Idaho, as needed supplies of various kinds are purchased here."

He said that the crops in the vicinity of Idaho Falls, St. Anthony, Ashton and Marysville were remarkably heavy. "I saw many fields," he said, "in which the yield of oats will reach 100 bushels to the acre."

"Around Twin Falls the crops were not as good this year as last, but owing to the increased acreage, the aggregate farm products of that region will be as large as last year."

"Owing to the number of irrigation companies now engaged in carrying out enterprises in Idaho, almost the entire hay crop of that state will be used there, and little will be shipped out."

CHRISTENSEN RETURNS.

Popular Boy Band Leader Is Back After a Summer at Chautauqua.

Mr. L. P. Christensen has returned home after a few weeks visit in the east. While away Mr. Christensen has been in charge of the musical department of Bay City, which, for the past two summers, has held forth at the Chautauqua at Winona Lake, Ind.

Mr. Christensen was made a very flattering offer to locate in Detroit, Mich., by Rev. Galpin, who was twice at Bay City, in charge of the Madison, Wis., camp, and observed the work of Mr. Christensen.

Rev. Galpin is to become the pastor of one of the big churches in Detroit, and wanted Mr. Christensen to accept the position of choir, church orchestra, and boy band leader, and also to be the supervisor of the boy work connected with the church.

Had it not been for an incident which happened last spring, the people of Salt Lake might have lost and earned, hard working and capable musician, as he narrates the incident which fixed his determination to remain the Salt Lake it was due to a tour he made of the city, as host of a visitor. During the visit to our city, Mr. Wyckoff, national president of the musicians' union, Mr. Christensen was appointed one of the entertainment committee. Fredrick Frier was shown the city, in an auto. The improvements going on were not only a surprise to President Wyckoff, but also to the committee as well as when Mr. Christensen compared the opportunities of the present and future of Salt Lake with the opportunities of eastern cities, even larger than Salt Lake, he decided to remain a westerner and grow up with the town that is now his home.

GENEALOGY DISCUSSED.

Meeting of Committee of Women Outlines Work for the Coming Year.

The genealogical committee of women recently appointed by the board of the Genealogical society of Utah to assist in genealogical work, met yesterday and outlined their work for the year, deciding among other details to have lectures given once a month for all those interested in the subject of genealogy. A Bible class will be held in connection with the society three weeks in the month, these to be under the charge of Mrs. Susa Y. Gates. Other details will be added as the work progresses.

Next Friday afternoon a meeting will be held by the Genealogical Society of Utah at the relic room in the Lion House, and the year's program will be discussed. All interested in the subject of genealogy are invited, and it is expected that President Anthony H. Lund will give an address.

Following is a list of topics to be treated under the head of genealogy: Genealogy; genealogy among the Hebrews; genealogy among the Egyptians; genealogy among the Pagans; modern

AMUSEMENTS.

The Lyric—Beginning this afternoon, the New Lyric will interest the patrons of a week with a big reproduction of two scenes from that celebrated drama, "Quo Vadis." The cameraphone reproduces the play in perfect style, containing sound and action in synchrony. One of the scenes is that of the prison where so many hardships were worked upon the Christians incarcerated there. The most dramatic scene, however, is that of the arena in which the heroine is lashed to the horns of the wild bull. She is saved, of course, by Urrus, the hunt guard, but not until after a most intensely exciting experience. Another cameraphone feature of the week will be a new song from Broadway, called "Aren't You the Girl I Met at Sherry's?" This song is accompanied by a dance of several persons, and is an instantaneous hit. Taylor and Hand contribute a novelty and there are other features of the cameraphone which are supplemented by a number of very fine straight moving picture films.
