DESERET EVENING NEWS: SATURDAL, SEPTEMBER 24, 1904.

Opera House Bookings. A temporary injunction has been is-and by Judge Rolapp against Mayor William Glasmann, City Recorder W. J. Critchlow and the city council of Ogien enjoining them from leasing the northwest corner of the city hall square to J. H. Young for the erection of a vaudeville theater.

The complaint against the city offcials is brought by Patrick Healy and Adam Patterson through their attorneys, C. C. Richards and Heywood & McCornick. It alleges that the city offeials are about to lease a portion of the square to Mr. Young, that the square was dedicated by the city council many years ago to the citizens of Ogden for public use only, and that the city offetals have no right to lease or sell any part of it, or to use it for anything but public use. Wherefore minimum for a temporary restraining order pending the hearing of the case and a pertent restraining order when the case is decided

The public will remember that at the meeting of the city council Monday night it received an application from I. H. Young to lease the northwest cor-ter of the city hall or Union square for the purpose of erecting a $25,000 thater on the site, agreeing to pay as a monthly rental for the property $100 pr month for the first 10 years, and 20 per month for the remaining 10 ent of a 20 year lease, and at the ex-

dering his wife Wednesday morning His preliminary hearing was set for next Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock,

Mrs. May Rosell was granted a decree of divorce by Judge Rolapp from Isaac Rosell. The testimony heard went to show that the defendant de-serted his wife and has failed to provide her with the common necessaries of life. She was also given $50 attor-ney's fees, and costs of sult. The couwere married in Ogden Sept. 8

The case of Boyle Furniture company against A. C. Fouk, suit brought to recover on a promissory note on a bill of goods long past due, was decided in fa-vor of the plaintiff, the defendant permitting the case to go by default.

In the divorce suit brought by Mrs. Alta Costello against Frank Costello the busband has flied an answer to the time of marriage and place, but denies that plaintiff should have the custody of their minor child, Virginia, alleging that she is neglectful of the child, and that are to properly care for it. Where-fore he asks that the action be dis-missed, that he be awarded custody of the little girl and costs of suit.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE BOOKINGS. The bookings for the Grand Opera House for next week will be: Thursday night, "A Convict's Daughter," Friday night, Hoyt's "A Texas Steer," and Saturday night, "Homespun Hearts." These plays will no doubt draw large audiences.

A LOST BOY.

James H. Brett called at the police station this morning and reported the disappearance of his 13-year-old son David R., who has not been seen from since last Sunday night. At that time he went to Utahna park with a number of his companions, and on returning he complained of feeling ill and was left by them at Lester park. en route home. The boy is short of stauture and light complexioned, and his disappearance is a source of con-siderable worry to his parents. Admire and Harry Hill. Thomas

PEOA. IRWIN L. WILLIAMS DEAD.

Death Due to Nose Bleeding-Crops Partial Failure-Road Improvement. Special Correspondence.

Peoa, Summit Co., Sept. 23.-During the last four years, Irwin Leslie Wit-liams, son of H. B. Williams of L. has suffered with bleeding from the nose; the young man has had every attention but without a sail, and died at 9 o'clock p. m., Sept. 22, 1904, from loss of vitality, owing to the loss of blood. Irwin was 14 years of age on Aug. last; was a bright, intelligent boy, and a great favorite with his companions. What makes the sympathy more pronounced for the family is that, during the past few years the mother, two sons and two daughters have died, and now comes the third son.

CROPS A PARTIAL FAILURE.

The grain in this part of the state has been nurt with the frost, and the hay to a large extent, has been damaged by the frequent rain sforms: the potato crop will only be about half the average.

ROAD IMPROVEMENT.

The county surveyor and one of the county commissioners were in Peoa the first of the week looking over the road between here and Marion, and it has decided to put in two bridges over the Weber river and repair the road. This will be of great benefit to the residents of Marion, Kamas, Francis and Woodland, as it is the best road for them to travel while hauling coal, hay and the like.

ORANGEVILLE.

DEATH OF HAZEL SNOW.

Taken Off by Heart Trouble Without Warning-Other News Notes.

Special Correspondence.

Orangeville, Emery Co., Sept. 22 .-The people here are in mourning again, through the sudden and unexpected death of Hazel Snow, the 18-year-old daughter of Samuel P. Snow, one of our leading farmers, and partner in the firm of Cox & Snew, merchants.

On Tuesday evening, after eating her supper, Miss Snow joined with others in singing, presiding at the plano her-self, but she complained of feeling numb and too ill to study her lessons, she being a student in the eighth grade, talked with Miss Leah Tuttle, who staying at the Snow residence, and who went later up to bed with her. About 12 o'clock, Miss Tuttle as well as Mrs. Snow were awakened by the hard breathing of Hazel. The mother hastened to her bed side, the family was aroused, the doctor sent for and everything done for her that loving hands could do, or loving hearts suggest, but she remained in a stupor, and seemingiy, unconscious until about 3 o'clock a. m., when she breathed her last. Heart trouble had been afflicting her for some time, but her many friends and neighbors were not aware of the fact, and her death was a great surprise and a shock to all. Her relatives at Man-ti have been notified by 'phone, and the their arrival.

This has been a most excellent season for the farmer and fruit grower We have had no frost yet. The tith-ing hay barn is full, and a long rick of hay is stacked outside of it, and the farmer is overcrowded with his work of harvest and threshing. The contract for the bridge over the Cottonwood creek here has been awarded to A. L. Fullmer of this place, for a little less than $2,000.

was given to the citizens of Murray speaking out in flaming tones the necessity of a water system and fire protection. Early in the morning at 2 o'clock, the residence of Mr. Burnstein, on Atfamily was away from home at the time and the flames had gained good headway before they were discovered by the neighbors. Three blasts from the ocal smelter sounded the alarm of fire. The people hurried forth to assist it extinguishing the flames but they were too late for the flames had gained such rapid headway that nothing could be done but save the ajoining buildings. The fire was allowed to burn itself out. The building was owned by W. H. Atwood and was covered by insurance. Mr. Burnstein carried no insurance of his furniture and suffered the loss of about $700. It is a mystery how the flames originated and some hold the theory that the house was robbed and set on fire to hide suspicion as Mr. Burnstein had articles of considerable value in the house.

MILL CREEK FIRE.

The home of Frank Carlisle of West Mill Creek was partly burned Thurs-day afternoon about 5 o'clock. The fire started in the kitchen from an over heated stove. The family were calling supper when they heard the roaring of flames, and rushing into the kitchen they found the room enveloped in flames. The alarm was carried to th men who were working for the count, The alarm was carried to the near by, who hurried to the scene and formed a bucket prigade, by which they succeeded in saving a part of the house. Mrs. Carlisle has been unable to perform manual labor for some time on account of ill health. Considering this, the fire falls as a heavy blow to the family. Friends have started a subscription for their benefit, and it is to be hoped they will collect enough to rebuild the damaged home.

POLICE NOTES.

Frank Kenzie, who entered the Mid-way saloon last Sunday morning and stole several bottles of liquor, plead guilty to petit larceny and was sen-tenced to pay a fine of $30, and serve thirty days at hard labor. Two Finns, Matti Saari and Thure Larson, plead guilty to drunkenness and disturbing the peace. They were fined $5 each and ordered to leave town. It was a sight to watch Officers Mauss and Graham trying to land the willy Finns in jail. They showed that they were made of muscle and tossed the two officers around like two feathers. It finally took three other men beside the officers to put them behind the bars.

CITY COUNCIL SESSION.

Most of the time of the city council session was taken up in discussing the plan for the proposed new court house. Councilman McCleary proposed a bicy-cle path on state street to protect wheel riders, but this was defeated by Councilman Berger.

BASEBALL.

The last game of the season was played on the Murray grounds Thura-day afternoon between the soldiers from Fort Douglas and the Murray team. E. Fort Douglas and the Murray team. E. Heusser was pitch for the Murray team and Hunter for the solidiers. It was one of the prettiest games played this sea-son. In the eight finnings the score stood one to four in favor of the sol-diers, in the ninth Murray got in good work, winning the game by a score of five to four. At the last meeting of the club they decided to disband for

Monday morning another warning the season after the game with the ceived a challenge from Eureka which could not be accepted this season. The suits and property of the team have been turned over to the manager to be reserved for another season's work. During the whole season the Murray boys played good ball, losing but one game out of 12. E. Heusser has done exceptionally good work as a tosser for the local team, and it is feared Murray will loose him to some of the league teams for another season, as he has plainly displayed his ability to hold such a position.
