MODER CALLED AS A WITNESS

Joined Western Federation of Miners in 1897 and Became President in 1902.

WAS ORGANIZER OF UNIONS.

Policy of Federation is to Defend Its Members When They Are in Trouble.

HE CONTRADICTION ORCHARD.

Didn't Meet Him Till After Vindicator Outrage—Never Gave Him Money.—Paid His Hotel Bill at Ouray.

Boise, Ida., July 10.—Charles H. Moyer, president of the Western Federation of Miners and fellow-defendant of William D. Haywood in the indictment charging them with the murder of Frank Steunenberg, was sworn today as a witness in behalf of his comrades. He was called by the defense at 10:15 this morning and was escorted into court by a deputy sheriff. He seemed quite self-possessed, and as he walked to the stand, looked around the courtroom, apparently seeking a glimpse of his wife, who occupied an inconspicuous chair behind one of the press tables. He displayed some nervousness as his examination began, but within a few minutes was going very steadily in a recital of his connection with the Western Federation of Miners. During the review of the Cour d'Alenes strike of 1899, the witness said he was in sympathy with the strikers in their struggle, he never had any personal hostility for Frank Steunenberg. In describing his duties, Moyer declared that he required that he be absent from Denver—plotting ground for the conspiracy against the state—more than half the time. Shortly before noon the witness entered upon a lengthy examination as to the Cripple Creek strike of 1903. Moyer, with the utmost deliberation, denied that he had ever discussed the explosion at the Vindicator mine as detailed by Orchard in his evidence. He admitted having been at first in Denver during a labor convention in January, 1904. He had also seen him at Cripple Creek in February, 1904, when he became acquainted with Moyer. "Did you ever know Gov. Steunenberg?" "No, sir." "Ever see him?" "No, sir."

COLORED 1904 AND 1905. John L. Tierney, a newspaper man of Denver, was called to the stand as soon as the reading of the depositions was concluded. He was introduced to testify as to the state of Colorado in 1904 and 1905, when it is alleged that attempts were made on the life of Gov. Peabody and Supreme Judge Gabbert. Tierney said he was a candidate for the legislature in 1904. Asked if he was elected on the face of the returns but not allowed to take his seat, there was an objection from the state and the witness was not allowed to reply.

WHOSE AGENT WAS ORCHARD. "No, your honor," replied Darrow. "We do not know who Orchard did these things, but we propose to show that he was acting as agent for those who must have had a stronger feeling against the Western Federation of Miners. We propose to show that these defendants had absolutely nothing to do with Orchard in connection with these incidents. We want to show motive, pure and simple. We want to show that a great class of people in the city of Denver had a feeling infinitely stronger than has been charged against the Western Federation of Miners as a result of the eight-hour day."

TESTIMONY NOT ADMISSIBLE. "The court is satisfied," he said "that this testimony on the statement of counsel, is not admissible." Mr. Darrow here said he desired to go into the matter in detail and state the facts expected to be proved by the witness. The jury was sent out of the room while the argument proceeded. Mr. Darrow then went at length into the matter of the Peabody-Adams gubernatorial contest and the attempt to unseat Democratic Judge Adams by the legislature. Judges of the supreme court elected as Populists and Democrats sided with the Republicans, he declared, and the feeling grew so strong that flags were displayed at half-mast and nooses hung in windows for the supreme court.

MOYER IS CALLED. Charles H. Moyer was then called to the stand.

Mrs. Moyer was in the courtroom when her husband took the stand. She occupied a seat inside the railing and immediately behind counsel for the state. She was dressed in white. Her sister sat beside her. "After being escorted to the witness chair by a bailiff and sworn, Moyer was questioned by ATTORNEY Darrow as to the details of his early life. He said he had been a miner ever since 1880. He joined the Western Federation of Miners in 1897 and was first elected president in June, 1902, having been re-elected annually since that time.

HIS FIRST PROMINENCE

Moyer said he had worked in a smelter for three years before he joined the union. He first came into prominence in the national organization of the federation in 1899 when at the Salt Lake convention he was elected a member of the executive board under President Ed Boyce. For nine months prior to his election as president Moyer acted as organizer for the union. His first met William D. Haywood at the 1900 convention in Denver. Haywood was chosen secretary-treasurer in 1901.

NOT BOUND AS PRESIDENT. Mr. Moyer said that as president he was bound as required of him, but that Haywood as secretary-treasurer was under a bond of $30,000.

PROTECTING MEMBERS. "Now, Mr. Moyer, during your term as president, what has been the custom of the organization as to defending members of the union who have been charged with crime growing out of their connection with the union or with the federation?" "It has been the rule of the organization always to protect its members with the utmost deliberation," Moyer spoke with absolute self-possession. He seemed to weigh every word of his answers.
