CANNON QUITS THE "SCIMITAR"

New Editor of Dubois Weekly Is a South Dakota Man.

BOLD BURGLAR GETS AWAY.

Traveling Man Breaks on the Day Before He Was to Have Been Married.

Special Correspondence.

BOISE, Nov. 14.—Material benefit is promised this section of the state in the movement now on foot to ship coal from Kentucky to this state and load the returning coal cars with grain and hay. H. M. Wright says arrangements have already been made to secure the entire output of the Northeast Coal company's mine at Painesville, Ky., which can ship into this state at least 50 carloads of coal a month, at a cost of $8 per ton, laid down in Boise. A company will be formed with a capital of $100,000. One of the first moves of the new company will be to erect large grain elevators, one at Boise, one at Nampa and one at Caldwell, where hay and grain will be stored for shipping to the Kentucky mines for feed for the horses in use there. The mines to be supplied in this way are about six in number, working about 200 horses. The grain thus supplied will all contribute coal in exchange for distribution along the Oregon Short Line in northern Utah and southern Idaho.

AGAINST DISCRIMINATION.

The Boise Commercial club and the League of Southern Idaho Commercial clubs are manifesting considerable interest in the forthcoming convention of the inland communities, to be held at Wichita, Kan., Nov. 18. They have written letters to a great many of the clubs of the state urging them to send representatives to the convention. The absorbing point of interest with the Idaho clubs is the railroad rate question; they want an amendment to the interstate commerce law, which will regulate the rate discrimination.

ESCAPES FROM JAIL.

G. N. Bassett, the man who for many weeks carried on a wholesale theft of bicycles in Idaho, and who was sentenced about two weeks ago to six months' imprisonment in the Ada county jail, succeeded in making good his escape early Sunday morning. J. H. Emerson, a close friend of Bassett's, appeared at a local livery stable late Saturday night and hired a team for a few minutes. However, the team was not returned until the next day, and that, too, after the proprietors of the stable had telephoned the sheriff's office, suspecting the matter. As soon as Emerson drove in with the team, he was taken into custody by the sheriff.

DROWNS IN NATATORIUM.

H. H. Glickman, a traveling man from Chicago, came to his death here Sunday evening while swimming in the big plunge at the Natatorium. Whether death was due to drowning or heart failure is not known. The strange nature of the case is, that no one saw him go down, nor was he missed until about an hour afterwards; not understanding the fact that a number of friends were with him in the plunge, besides numerous other swimmers. Entering the swimming pool with Glickman and his friends, was Miss Mabel Spoonmaker, of Baker City, Oregon, whom he was to marry. She was swimming alone, and after dressing, sat on the edge of the plunge, watching the swimmers, and her eye was constantly on Glickman. Presently missing him, she asked, "where is he?" "Where is my husband?" "Oh, I guess he is hiding from me," answered some one.

After about an hour, the Glickman party came out of the water and went to their dressing room, and then it was that they became alarmed. Finding that he was no longer in the plunge, they rushed to the manager's office and reported. An expert diver immediately plunged into the pool and located the body at once. It was drawn ashore and everything was done to resuscitate it, but life was not ready long extinct. The body was sent to the undertaking parlor. The high-tide was from five and a half to six feet, and the water was very cold.

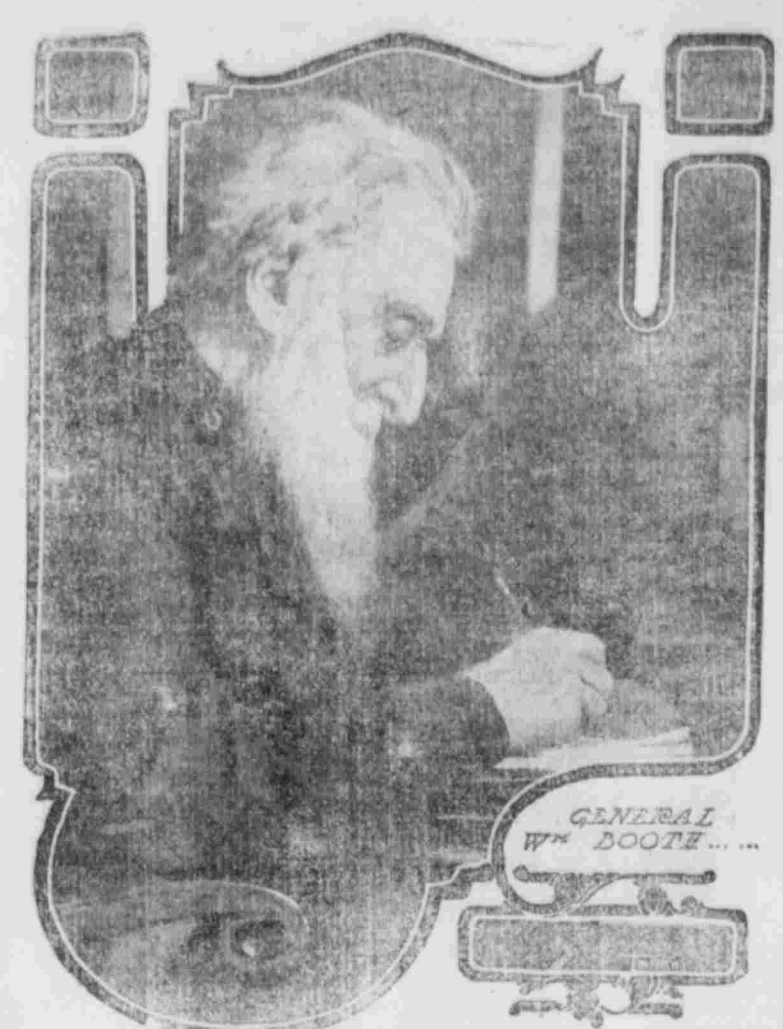

HOTEL ON TABLE ROCK.

Plans are laid for the speedy erection of a big hotel and summer resort on Table Rock, the high mountain overlooking the Boise valley. The plans were brought about by the sale of the land and great good stone quarries there to John S. Johnson. Mr. Johnson's brothers were formerly interested in him in this property, and the purchase was the procuring of the shares owned by them. The consideration was $10,000.

Mr. Johnson said that arrangements have already been made to extend the line of the Boise railway to the top of Table Rock, construction work of which will begin in due time. The road will form a loop on the top of the mountain and a switch will run to the quarry, on which rock will be quarried both to the grounds for the new hotel and to the city, where an enormous amount of rock from that quarry is already being used.

CANNON IS OUT.

The remainder of the weekly anti-Mormon drive at the request of one D. H. Mendenhall, who no longer contains religious prejudices from the pen of Mr. Frank J. Cannon. Mr. D. H. Mendenhall and Mr. Cannon could not dig out the stipend part of the arrangement satisfactorily. D. H. Mendenhall, of Boise, is a prominent member of the anti-Mormon drive.

"TWO HIGHWAYS TO HELL."

General William Booth, founder and head of the Salvation Army, this week, addressed a great audience that filled Longacre Square, New York. It was an informal open air service. Gen. Booth said, in part:

"God values us because we are His property. We are His by right; He made us; we are products of His skill and He prizes us accordingly. I think there are two highways to hell—one of presumption and one of despair. I wonder sometimes that God does not sweep away these men and women for their presumption and their persistent clinging to evil. But God loves them for the very pain and anxieties they cause Him."

The address of the veteran leader was mainly a recapitulation of Salvation Army work, and it abounded in anecdotes and incidents. General Booth gave statistics showing the organization's growth from its inception, 42 years ago, when, he said, "all the officers and soldiers were under one hat and I wore that hat," up to the present time, when the army has 7,500 branches in 32 countries, commanded by 15,000 officers or ministers, with 50,000 local officers, or deacons, and having a membership reaching into the hundreds of thousands.

At no time in his present tour has General Booth shown greater vigor than he did during portions of this narration of his struggles to build up his organization. Many converts have been made on this faraway tour of the general.

At the conclusion of his address, the general bade farewell to those dear to him and boarded the St. Louis, which weighed anchor and sailed for England.

MANY NEW HOMES BEING BUILT IN BUSY CAREY.

Special Correspondence.

CAREY, Ida., Nov. 14.—The weather continues open and spring-like, giving the farmers time to get potato crop gathered in; threshing of grain out of the way; building and improvements about home done and the roads put into repairs before winter sets in.

The road supervisor just completed on Saturday the putting in of a 35-foot span bridge over a foot high abutments over the wash at the southeast corner of the titling lot. Heretofore this crossing has been impassable during high waters of the spring time. The next move will be to put in a new bridge over the canal near the schoolhouse.

The Haine Co-op has completed a new store room, 18x20, adjoining the large store as a new home for the Co-op postoffice.

John Emerson, George Evans and others of Fish Creek, have purchased a 25-ton steam plow—10 plows attached—at a cost of $2,000, and will operate same in this valley the present fall, expecting to break up several hundred acres of land if the weather will only hold out long enough.

Walter Pyrah has his new house nearly completed and will move into it this week. Mr. Bosch Watkins is located, with his family, from Oregon a week ago, and his residence on 400th avenue to A. H. Hingsley, bought a lot opposite the L. D. S. meetinghouse, and is erecting a new home upon it.

Joseph Aldenworth has sold his fine home on Main street to D. D. Hume and has taken his family to La Grange, Or.

Walter Pyrah has taken the mail contract of Mr. Aldenworth's hands, for the rest of the year.

The bishopric of the Idaho ward is having the meetinghouse covered outside with paint, and lined inside with patent boards. At the same time, the appearance and comfort of the place is being improved.

Mr. Parker Richards will start the erection of a new home building 22x30, on Simpson this week.

Mr. James Aldenworth and the Hume family, of Forest H. Eldredge, who have been in the city for some time, are leaving for their home in La Grange, Or., early in the morning.

Wm. F. Harper of the presidency of Clark county, came to Carey, and with Mr. W. D. Crumley of Las Vegas, took with the points here Sunday, Wednesday they held meetings with the ward of Saddle Branch, Camp Pendleton.

The stores visited the homes of the following ladies and deposited a rich reward with each: Albert and Rina Stanford, a son James H. and Anna Pearce, a girl, John D. and Anna Pearce, a girl, Vernon Medgar, a boy.

Of the six schools in this valley four are in session and doing good work. Two have been unable to secure teachers up to this date, Fish Creek and District 28.

Very little hay is being sold this fall. Nearly all the sheepsmen are turning out to sheep heads, in this valley. A large number of cattle has been sold and either shipped or driven out to other parts.

Grain is selling: Oats, 15c; wheat, 10c; barley, 8c; per cent. It is expected a few carloads will be shipped out. Care & Parke shipped a car of wheat Tuesday. The Haine Co-op will send a car of oats today.

The old machine has threshed out some 25,000 bushels and the new one close to 25,000 bushels, in this valley. The latter machine is in the hands of the Haine Co-op. They are for Bellevue to thresh in that valley.

ACREAGE DEAL CLOSED NEAR TOWN OF SHELLEY.

Special to the "News."

BLACKFOOT, Ida., Nov. 15.—An acreage deal was closed a few days ago which means another ideal ranch for the Blackfoot country. O. P. Smith, the pioneer surveyor of this end of the Snake river valley, sold to Thornton and Green of Ogden, Utah, 70 acres of land close to Shelley. The consideration involved was $1,100 and the acreage adjoins some 320 acres owned by the same people. This means that very soon fully 900 acres will be brought under perfect ranch cultivation and one of the largest apple growing orchards in this end of the state will be the final outcome.

In connection with the transaction Mr. Smith announces that he intends shortly to attempt the organization of a co-operative fruit growing and produce company. It is the intention of Mr. Smith to form a company having the fruitgrowers of Idaho in the Snake valley as stockholders. The announced capitalization is $100,000 and the proposition seems to meet with favor in all sections of the valley.

BREEZY BRIEFS FROM BUSTLING BLACKFOOT.

Special Correspondence.

BLACKFOOT, Idaho, Nov. 14.—A missionary farewell was given Friday evening in the ward home in honor of Elder Bert Hipp who departed Sunday morning to take up missionary work in England.

A farewell will be given tomorrow evening in honor of Elder Leslie Clegg who departs for England in a day or two. A musical and literary program has been prepared which will be rendered in the chapel.

The first snow of the season fell today, and while very light, warns the farmer that the winter time is fast approaching. The harvesting of beets is being pushed as rapidly as possible. The early frosts have not injured the beets so far. It has been necessary to pile beets at some of the leading stores and these may be damaged slightly.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. John DeHoggs Wednesday morning. The New York exchange issued in small amounts by the Sugar company has greatly relieved the money stringency. There has been no marked depression in the banking and mercantile business here. The merchants and customers are united in adding the banks during these days.

Backer hall is now occupying the house of some of the athletes and a team has been organized of the town's young men.

WHAT OAKLEY FOLKS ARE DOING, IN BRIEF.

Special Correspondence.

OAKLEY, Ida., Nov. 15.—T. Bailey Lee, attorney from Burley, is an Oakley visitor today, accompanied by his young wife—Mrs. Lee.

Wm. F. Harner of the state president, and Marcus O. Funk, state clerk, have just returned from a ten days' trip to Haine and Manard wards, in the northern part of the state.

Wm. T. Jack and John L. Smith made a trip to Elgin last Saturday, where they held ward conference, returning Monday. Cyrus Stanford, Joe Cooper and others from Carey were in Oakley last week, buying cattle.

REXBURG SCHOOL CELEBRATION

M. Thomas of Salt Lake Met At the Train by Students.

Special Correspondence.

REXBURG, Ida., Nov. 11.—The auditorium at the Idaho academy was filled Thursday evening with an expectant audience to see the production of "Belshazzar," by local talent. The production was elaborately costumed. Dr. George E. Hyde and James H. Wallis have every reason to be proud of the success achieved by the company. The electrical effects were splendid. When it is considered that the entire production was the work of local talent, one can only congratulate Rexburg. John M. Wilson as Belshazzar, James H. Wallis as Zerubbabel, Joseph Adams as Daniel, Mrs. Mary Halstrom Winter as the queen regent and Miss Cora Hansen as Shelomith, are deserving of special mention. In order to accommodate the many who could not gain admittance, it will be reproduced on Monday evening in Flamm's hall. The company plays in Idaho Falls on Saturday night.

The thirteenth anniversary of the founding of the academy was celebrated by a large number of students and friends Tuesday last, it being Founder's day. At 10:30 the students formed in line at the academy in order of class standing. With banners flying and marching to lively music, they went to the depot to greet the orator of the day, Mathias Thomas of Salt Lake. At 2 o'clock the auditorium was jammed with students, faculty, state officials and others. Mathias Thomas delivered an excellent oration. In addition to the oration by President M. L. Thomas and Elder Joseph M. Murrin, who were on their way from Teton basin, where they had been attending conference, spoke for a short time, and gave good advice to the boys and girls. The remainder of the program consisted of a greeting by President Bassett and some miscellaneous exercises.

Commencement Chris Jensen and John Squires went to Idaho Falls Wednesday night as a special committee to investigate the power plant of the I. P. company at Idaho Falls and report to the council. They returned this morning.

Henry J. Flamm, James W. Webster, Chas. W. Woodmansey presented a card of wood to the bishops of each of the three wards in Rexburg to be distributed to the poor of the ward.

W. J. Poulton, assistant organist of the Salt Lake Tabernacle choir, with his wife, is here visiting relatives.

Representative John D. Kilpatrick of Teton basin is a Rexburg visitor. He reports that recent developments in his section of country has satisfied everybody beyond a doubt that there is coal in great abundance there.

President W. T. Jack spent last Sunday night in Idaho Falls Wednesday night as a special committee to investigate the power plant of the I. P. company at Idaho Falls and report to the council. They returned this morning.

Malad's bishopric has been reorganized. Sheriff Harbo was called to Idaho Falls Sunday night to help locate a gang of horse thieves who have been operating in Montana and in this state. Deputy County Auditor Rose D. Miller, has been invited to deliver an address at Boise next week, at the convention of county auditors.

WEATHER TAKES ON CHILLY TONE.

Special Correspondence.

SUGAR CITY, Ida., Nov. 15.—The weather here has turned quite cold and the nights are cold. The fall weather has been all that could be desired for the harvesting of crops. The farmers were only required to lose about three days' work on account of rain. The beet crop is all harvested and a very good crop was realized, considering the short season and the wet, damp spring.

About 100,000 tons of beets were raised this year and every beet will be worked at this factory, as none will be sent to Idaho Falls to be worked. Saturday will be the largest pay day the sugar company will have ever had here, as most of the beets were harvested during October and the farmers will be paid for the work done in October Saturday.

Sugar City has certainly put on a busy appearance the past few weeks, all the stores are crowded and the merchants say that there is more business here than there was the same time last year.

Yesterday three vagrants were arrested for disturbing the peace and were each fined $5 or five days in the city jail; they chose the latter punishment.

PROMINENT WOMAN DIES AFTER FAITHFUL LIFE.

Special Correspondence.

WESTON, Ida., Nov. 15.—Mrs. Elizabeth M. Clarke died Sunday evening at 10:30 o'clock, Nov. 13, at her home in Weston, surrounded by her immediate relatives. She was born in England and had just reached her eightieth year. She forsake the Church of England for the Mormon faith and passed away in full faith and devotion.

She was the first president of the Relief society of the ward, which was organized about 1870, and remained staunch and true to that trust until four years ago, when she was forced to retire on account of ill health.

Three daughters survive her, Mrs. Elizabeth Adams of Weston, Mrs. C. W. Knudsen of Brigham City, and Mrs. Wm. Preston of Weston, and a host of grandchildren. Her husband, two sons and three daughters have preceded her into the great beyond.

Funeral services were held in the L. D. S. meetinghouse Wednesday, at 10 o'clock.

CHIEF WITNESS IN BRADLEY MURDER TRIAL.

"I did as any other woman would do under the circumstances and I have no regrets. Neither have I anything to fear, for deep down in my aching heart I believe if justice was ever meted out to anyone I will be cleared. My honor gone, the hopes of years of silent suffering shattered and cast aside by the man for whom I gave up everything dear to womanhood, there was no other course open to me but to shoot him dead."—Mrs. Annie M. Bradley.

Washington, Nov. 11.—On the eve of what promises to be one of the most remarkable as well as sensational trials of its kind ever called in America, Mrs. Annie M. Bradley made the following statement. She is now before the criminal court here to answer for the murder of Senator Arthur Brown in his apartment at the Rudek hotel a year ago next December. The shooting down of the eminent lawyer brought to light a story of double life on the part of the man and a sad romance in the career of the young woman, who, it is believed, has become weak in mind since her long incarceration.

Among the witnesses who will be called on behalf of the commonwealth is Mrs. Annie Adams, who declared after the tragedy that Mrs. Bradley had been prompted to the act through the fact that she (Mrs. Adams) had written to the senator to whom she (Mrs. Adams) was engaged. The sympathies of the woman, who is an actress, were with Mrs. Bradley and she hurried to Washington, where she asked the senator on his deathbed to wed Mrs. Bradley.

In all probability the defense will be emotional insanity brought on by suffering of the heart and brain.

"I was in love," she said, "therefore I was insane when I shot Senator Brown."

MALAD'S BISHOPRIC HAS BEEN REORGANIZED.

Special Correspondence.

MORELAND, Idaho, Nov. 13.—Ward conference was held here Sunday at which President Jas. Duckworth and counselors were present for the purpose of reorganizing the ward bishopric. Bishop Warren P. Liney who has served for nearly nine years, was honorably released as were also his counselors, Oliver Behnap and C. J. Christiansen. William T. England was sustained as bishop with C. J. Christiansen and John Wray as counselors. The reorganizing of the ward bishopric was the wish of the people, as also the ones enjoining them to their duties. This action will make necessary the reorganization of the stake Sunday school superintendency, as Brother John Wray has been appointed president of the Hudson-Pulton ward, and C. J. England as one of his assistants.

The south side of the Minidoka project is now under water. Engineer Ross met with the land owners last Monday afternoon and laid before them a plan whereby they will be able to use the water on their land within the next two years if possible. His plan was to let the people dig the canals themselves and apply their work on their water right. If they are not able to work out their allotment they can pay cash, and take certificates which will be issued at all engaged on the system. This plan of Mr. Ross was received with great favor and before evening several thousand dollars in both work and cash were subscribed. Mr. Ross expects to go to Washington and lay the matter before the authorities and when he returns preparations for the work will commence.

And late in the afternoon one of the men decided to pay his fine. It was suggested to him that he should pay the other men's fine, but he refused to do so, and said they could get out the best way they could. He had different plans, however, as he procured tools and got them to the men and the two broke through the jail and escaped.

Last Thursday night the Mutual improvement association gave a social in the Commercial club rooms. A very pleasant evening was spent in playing games, songs, recitations, etc., and a dainty lunch was prepared by the young ladies.

Business is good.

Sugar City has certainly put on a busy appearance the past few weeks, all the stores are crowded and the merchants say that there is more business here than there was the same time last year.

Yesterday three vagrants were arrested for disturbing the peace and were each fined $5 or five days in the city jail; they chose the latter punishment.

The Most Useful Flower.

The florist was still pale from the Easter rush, but he had earned a great deal of money, and that made him look active.

"Flowers and illness yield," he said, "and the most useful of all flowers is the poppy."

THE FUTURE OF MOTORING.

The picture shows a fairly horsepower motor constructed recently for M. de Fabre, a resident of Paris, which marks a decided advance in the art of locomotion. This car, which is intended to be used on the public highways, contains a saloon, a sleeping compartment with four beds, a kitchen and a toilet room. M. de Fabre intends to make the tour of Europe in his car.
