AMUSEMENTS.

Theater—There was a fair sized audience at the theater last night, mostly made up of those who remembered the sweet tones of Mr. Jose in his minstrel company long ago. There was some surprise to find that the play of the evening did not include Mr. Jose at all, but that he appeared between the acts and sang his solos. The play does not deserve serious notice. It is absurd, impossible and in some parts the dialogue is disgusting. The players are generally capable people and deserve to have been given better opportunities. There is a comedy, "Don't Tell My Wife," which, as Mr. Jose himself, he only showed his old gifts in one song—that of "Dolly Grey." In justice to him, some apology should have been made from the stage if he was suffering from a cold; if not, he surely ought to realize that he is no longer in the singing class. His constant flitting last night was painful to listen to. His songs were such old timers as "Silver Threads Among Gold," "Well, Well, Well," "When You and I Were Young," and "Dolly Grey." The same bill runs tonight, tomorrow night and tomorrow afternoon.

Orpheum—Big business continues to mark this week's bill. Without doubt it will keep up to the finish. The customary matinee will be given tomorrow.

Grand—"The Three Musketeers" had its opening performance last evening for a half week's engagement at the Grand. The play was arranged by Mr. Sanford Dodge from Dumas' novel of the same name, and the leading role, that of D'Artagnan, is assumed by Mr. Sanford. It has been some time since the place has been so full in this city, and the popularity of the play was attested by frequent applause from an audience that filled the house. Queen Anne of France was impersonated by Miss Louise Marshall in a very creditable manner, and the support given by the various members of the cast was satisfactory to all. The play is a well-told story of a thrilling character, with sufficient intermingling of the humorous and lighter vein to suit an average audience. The play is well worth seeing, and the opening was under very favorable auspices.

Lyle—Tonight sees the last presentation of "The Chimes of Normandy" bill. A complete change goes on tomorrow afternoon.

The Chansman—Manager Pyper's next big attraction will be the "Chansman," described as the marvelous story of the triumph of white supremacy in the south. It runs next week and is relied on to cram the house every night.

Snow in Millard County—T. H. Callister, secretary of the state land board, has returned from Millard, where he was summoned as a witness on a damage case. Mr. Callister says the recent snowfall did a great deal of damage to the crops which had not yet been taken in the southern part of the state.

Ab Howell Treated Contractor—Ab Howell, the colored football player formerly on the Salt Lake High school and Michigan university football teams, is reported to have turned contractor, back in Ohio. Ab's leaving Ann Arbor was due to depressed spirits caused by discrimination against him on account of his cutaneous pigmentation.

Says Soldiers Beat Him—Two soldiers are said to have beaten a man giving the name of Peterson last night. He was found by Patrolman Hinton lying on the sidewalk between State street and Second East on Second South street. The face was cut and bruised. Peterson, though, was locked up on a charge of drunkenness and an effort is being made to learn the truth of Peterson's story.

Family Disturbance—The Salvation Army is caring for a domestic family of a mother and four small children, at 246 West First South street. The house was empty of any of the necessities of life when the Salvationists went there. For the moment the mother was working, and the father has apparently not done anything for his family for some time. Notwithstanding their destitute circumstances, these people kept their premises scrupulously clean.

Smart Detective Work—H. E. DeJes, a young man, was taken into custody by Patrolman Officer Alma C. Clayton yesterday, charged with entering the Summer school building and passing counterfeit money. Mr. Clayton in looking the matter up, discovered ink-stains on the windows, and Sherlock Holmes-like followed this clue. Finding shortly afterward a young fellow, DeJes, who was in the building, he was taken into custody. It is said he has been guilty of other offenses, and a charge of felony may be lodged against him.

Lafayette School Dance—A new idea of sport for youngsters in the grammar schools will be undertaken this evening when the Lafayette Athletic association will give a dance in the school hall, with music for the dancing furnished by the Lafayette school orchestra. The youngsters comprising the athletic association are working hard to make the dance a success. Under the leadership of Richard Wells Burton, who is manager and treasurer of the organization, elaborate decorations and an entertaining program of dances have been arranged.

Supervisor Clark in Charge—The three forest reserves in the vicinity of this city have been consolidated into one administrative unit. They are the Utah National Forest, Washatch, 6,440 acres, and Grantsville, 68,980 acres; a total of 75,420 acres. Supervisor Clark will be in charge until he removes to Ogden for station with the central office. He left for a week's absence at Gunnison, Colo., yesterday, on business connected with the department. The forest rangers report hard times and tribulation, owing to the snow which is two feet deep at the Washatch planting station.

DEATH OF MRS. MARSH. Probably the Oldest Woman in Salt Lake Passes Away at 96.

Mrs. Ann Marsh, who was probably the oldest woman in Salt Lake, died shortly after 7 o'clock last evening at the residence of her son, George Marsh, 226 G street, Nov. 4. Mrs. Marsh would have been the 97th anniversary of her birth, had she lived. She was born in England, in 1811, and joined the Church in her native country in 1845. It was not until 1878, that Mrs. Marsh emigrated to America, and for a time she made her home in California. In 1887, she visited England, remaining there for some time, and after her return went again to California, where she lived until 10 years ago, when she came to this city.

Mrs. Marsh was the mother of 11 children, four sons surviving, also 20 grandchildren and a great-grandchild. The funeral will be held from the residence, Saturday, commencing at 12 o'clock.

Frank Emery by a jury in Judge Lewis' division of the Third district court, for the seizure of certain hogs belonging to plaintiff for the satisfaction of $34.12 against her. The jury found in favor of the plaintiff and against the sheriff for the amount named.

YOUNG FORGER CAUGHT.

Youth is Said to Have Signed His Father's Name to Check.

Tired of getting his son out of jail, which in the past is said to have cost him over $200.00, C. C. Baldwin, Denver, will probably not interfere with the law in the case of his son, Cyril Baldwin, who was arrested last night charged with forging his father's name to a check for $20, which was passed by young Baldwin at Gray Brothers. From young Baldwin's mother, it would appear that he is no novice. For some time he was working on the Newhouse buildings and he cultivated the acquaintance of Gray Brothers, having his pay check cashed there every week. Then when he appeared with a check signed with his father's name, there was little trouble about when he tendered it in payment for some clothes.

When the bank returned the check not honored, the police were notified and the check was turned over to work. house buildings, where he said he was waiting for a chance to go to work for a local messenger company. Young Baldwin is said to have taken a suit case from his landlady, Mrs. Cowan, of 132 South Seventh West street.

MERGER TURNED DOWN. Consolidation of the M. & M. and the Commercial Club Presents Numerous Obstacles.

The proposition to merge the Manufacturers and Merchants' association into the Commercial club was turned down yesterday afternoon, by the board of governors of the Commercial club, which settled the matter once and for all. The board found that it would be necessary to change the constitution of the Commercial club, and then the M. & M. is possessed of a large array of exhibits for which the club has no space. Moreover, the merger would admit the entire membership of the M. & M. to the Commercial club without entrance dues, and then there were other reasons of a minor character, which altogether it thought advisable to refer back to the association the application for the consolidation with the customary regrets.
