

O. S. L. OPERATORS GET WAGES RAISED

Brass Pounders Notified That Increase Will Date From October 1 Last.

FROM $2.50 TO FIVE DOLLARS.

Union Pacific Men Also Come in on The Good Thing Announced Today.

General Superintendent E. Buckingham of the Oregon Short Line today announced that the company had voluntarily increased the pay of telegraph operators over the entire system from $2.50 to $5 a month. This step has been taken without any committee waiting on the officials.

This advance in wages has been made effective since October 1 and was regulated according to conditions. In making the increase each case was looked into, the amount of work taken into consideration, together with the competency of the operator.

The telegraph operators on the Union Pacific between Green River and Omaha also are receiving over the good news received that they will be able to make better wages in the future. Heretofore the railroad company has been receiving all the commissions paid by the Western Union Telegraph company for all messages sent over its wires, but the railroad officials have notified all operators that in the future they will receive 10 per cent of the commission paid, but in no month they receive more than $15 on commissions, but that makes a neat increase for the men each month.

Some time ago the telegraphers order sent a committee to Omaha to confer with the railroad officials asking for an increase in wages. The railroad company agreed to give an increase to the operators east from Cheyenne, Wyoming to Omaha, but did nothing for those on the western division to Green River, but they have now of their own volition notified all operators of an increase of $5 per month effective at once.

SPIKE AND RAIL

Supt. Van Housen of the Utah division of the Clark road, has gone down the line on an inspection trip.

No. 2 on the Salt Lake Route is marked up eight hours late today owing to the derangement of two freight cars near Caliente.

The Salt Lake Route No. 1, last night rolled out for the east in two sections. Tonight's train also will be a duplication owing to the heavy collector travel.

Frank Groesbeck, traveling passenger agent of the Denver & Rio Grande, returned this morning from a trip to Pocatello, Logan and other points north.

The Sand Ridge cut-off into Ogden has been turned over to the Short Line operating department, but trains will not be run over it for a few days yet.

TAYLOR FAMILY REUNION.

Descendants and Friends of Late President Celebrated Last Night.

The descendants and friends of the late President John Taylor, about 350 in number, met last night, in the Granite state tabernacle to celebrate the ninety-eighth anniversary of his birth. The auditorium was handsomely decorated with flags and bunting, and a large portrait of President Taylor occupied a prominent place. The evening was inaugurated with a banquet, followed by a literary and musical program. A biographical sketch was read by Mrs. A. E. Hyde, one of President Taylor's daughters, and remarks in reminiscence were made by President Joseph F. Smith, John R. Winder, and Frank Y. Taylor, and others. President Smith related the scene in Carthage jail, where Joseph and Hyrum Smith were murdered, and John Taylor was wounded, the latter's life being saved by a watch which turned the bullet aside. The program part of the evening was followed by dancing. The committee on program and entertainment consisted of Frank Y. Taylor, Joseph William Taylor, Mrs. A. E. Hyde, Mrs. Daniel Harrington, Mrs. Sophia Nuttall, Mrs. Julia Clark Taylor and Mrs. Maggie Gibbs. The reunion has been an annual affair since the death of President Taylor in 1887.

DOUBTFUL IF UTES WILL RETURN TO UTAH.

Sheridan, Wyo., Nov. 2.—The Ute Indians, now almost 400 strong, are still camped on Little Powder river in Montana, 35 miles north-east of Moorhead. A messenger who arrived today at Arvada, talked with Chief Unkaskia, who said: "Show comes to go to see Sioux pretty soon. Cheyennes come not now." A courier is momentarily expected at Arvada announcing the result of a conference between the Utes and Col. Ross and Maj. Johnson. The general belief is that the Utes will refuse to accept any terms looking to their return to Utah.

LATE LOCALS.

Bank Clearings.—Today's local bank clearings amounted to $942,599.31 as against $881,119.33 for the same day last year.

Ill With Pneumonia.—Orwell Williams, United States civil service examiner in this city, is very ill with pneumonia.

Job in Prison.—There will be a civil service examination in this city, Nov. 30, for the position of telephone operator (man), at $150 per annum, in the government penitentiary, Atlanta, Georgia.

Military Concert Band.—The state university military concert band of 43 musicians will furnish the inspiration of martial music for the students and spectators generally at Saturday's football match.

Realty Transfers.—Henry Burnett, Jr., has sold to Anna J. Scott 383x79 rods in 10 acre plat A, for $2,500. Kaura W. Addison has sold to W. J. Wimmer, part of a lot on Second street, between S and T streets for $1,400.

Mrs. Heath Discharged.—When the case of Mrs. Frances Heath, charged with battery and who had been pronounced guilty by Judge C. B. Diehl on Tuesday, was called in the criminal division of the city court yesterday, no penalty was imposed and the defendant was discharged.

Residence Purchased.—John T. Hodson, the mining man, has bought the J. G. Anderson residence on the southwest corner of Ninth East and South Temple streets, with 5x7 rods of land, for $25,000, and takes possession the first of the month. This is one of the most attractive residences in town and is finished inside in hardwoods.

Seen to Be Anxious.—Mayor Thompson today received a letter of inquiry concerning the whereabouts of Louise Gamage, who came to Utah in 1888. The writer of the letter is Lilian Neal, an Idaho girl, who said that if Mrs. Gamage will return to her home she will be received with love and kisses.

Ogden Book Store.—A copy of the articles of incorporation of Spargo's Book store of Ogden was filed with the secretary of state today. The capital stock of the corporation is $20,000, divided into shares of the par value of $1 each. Margaret Spargo is president; J. N. Spargo, secretary and treasurer. The company will succeed to the business of J. N. Spargo & Co.

Ideal Citizenship.—In his address this morning before the state university students, Philip Maycock spoke on the "Duties of Ideal Citizenship." He said some people judge of a political party by its ability to serve them as individuals; but no party has a right to exist unless it presents as its purpose an ideal government. Parties cater too often to prejudice rather than to public spirit.

Electric Line Extension.—In the franchise granted by the county commissioners to the Utah Light and Railway company for an interurban line to Sandy, Bingham Junction, Garfield and Hilday, a provision is made for the completion of the line to Sandy and Bingham Junction by the first of July next year. This information will be received with much pleasure by the citizens of those two towns as it means that they will be connected with this city by an electric line by next July.

M. K. Parsons House.—M. K. Parsons has returned from a business trip to Denver. He reports the local live stock situation as encouraging, with profitable prices ruling. He says that while the action of the president in investigating the pack-houses at Chicago, may have thrown the trade into confusion for the time being, still in the end he does not know but that it will prove a good thing in readjusting the packing situation on a new and more satisfactory basis. Mr. Parsons is much interested in the proposition from English investors to effect a merger or some form of combination with the American packing interests in the control of the trade of both countries.

Arguments Continued.—The arguments in the two juvenile court cases which were set for today have been continued by the supreme court until Dec. 1. The cases are those of Albert E. Mill and Emma Sahlgren and both are brought for the purpose of determining the constitutionality of the juvenile court law. The first one makes a test as to the jurisdiction of the court over juvenile delinquents and the other makes a test as to the jurisdiction of the court over adults who contribute to the delinquency of juveniles. The cases have been pending for several months and they will probably be continued until after the next legislature so that the juvenile court may be bolstered up and strengthened.

THE ELECTION OF REPRESENTATIVES

Citizens of Forty-two States Will Be Called Upon Tuesday.

TO EXPRESS THEIR CHOICE.

Three States Have Already Decided Who Shall Go to the Sixtieth Congress.

Special Correspondence:

Washington, Oct. 29.—The electors in forty-two states will be called upon on Tuesday after the first Monday in November this year which comes on Nov. 5 to express their choice for members of the national house of representatives. Three states have already chosen their representatives for the Sixtieth Congress—Oregon, Vermont and Maine, and in these states the Republican candidates have been elected. With these states out of the running there are still 378 congressional districts in which the accredited citizenship in these districts will have a right to express their preference for the congressional members.

Washington is the seat of the Democratic congressional committee, the Republicans having elected to put their headquarters in New York with a branch house quarters in Chicago. From a Democratic viewpoint, as outlined by Judge Griggs, chairman of the congressional committee, the fight is almost won for the Democrats, the Democratic majority in the lower house is in the Sixtieth Congress. Chairman Sherman, Vice Chairman Tawney and the wheelhorse of the Republican party, Charles H. Grosvenor, do not concede the claims of Mr. Griggs, but on the contrary are conservatively looking to 30 Republican majority in the Sixtieth Congress. The Republicans have in the present Fifty-ninth Congress 114 majority. They are prepared to lose approximately 20 districts, which would mean a change of 40. The Democrats to carry the house must gain 58 districts, and this gain they expect to make in Missouri, Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey and Connecticut.

RESULT IS IN DOUBT.

There is no denying the fact that in New York and Pennsylvania local conditions are of such a character that it is impossible to forecast the result. Party lines are completely broken in those two states, and the leaders of both parties have found it impossible to make a fair and honest survey of the situation. The farmers of Pennsylvania are learning what it cost to erect the new state capitol building in the building cost $4,000,000, and in consequence the yeomanry of the Keystone state are up in arms ready to vote to turn down any one who has the brand of "regular Republican" on his back. In New York state, William Randolph Hearst, the independence league candidate, and endorsed by the Democrats, is creating new conditions and attracting to him a voting strength which heretofore has been aligned with one or the other of the political parties.

To such an extent is Hearst breaking into the old parties that the number of his votes cannot be approximately forecasted. One thing is certain, Hearst has got the Republicans scared in New York state, and between now and election day you may expect to see a campaign rivaling the days when Tilden and Hayes were the candidates of their respective parties for president in the Empire state.

The issues are well defined, and the Republicans and thousands of Democrats will make every effort to eliminate the young man who believed he was presidential timber before he had held a public office of any kind. The Hearst influence in New York will necessarily dominate the congressional situation in Greater New York, and in that particular there may be several seats lost in New York City to the Republicans. Scanning the list of nominations made by the two parties for Congress, it is seen that there is likely to be chosen an unusually large proportion of new representatives in the Sixtieth Congress. Even if all the incumbents who have been nominated are re-elected, there will be 60 new members, all of whom have been nominated in the place of present members or of those who have died since the last election.

CAPTAIN HOBSON.

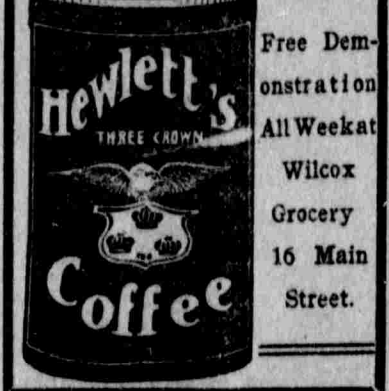

In the case of Alabama, which is first on the alphabetical list of states, Captain Richmond Pearson Hobson, retiring after distinguished service in the navy, will take the place of that very old Democrat, John H. Bankhead. In the Arkansas delegation, John S. Little will be missed because of his nomination for governor and will be succeeded by William B. Cravens of Fort Smith. In Colorado there is considerable friction, but it seems safe to predict the election of the Republican candidates. Georgia will send a solid Democratic delegation. Assuming there will be no change in the delegation from Illinois, there will be but one new member from that state, Frank O. Lowden, having been nominated and succeeded one of the veterans of the house, Robert B. Hitt, who died a few months ago. Nebraska promises but one change, John Boyd, who has been nominated by the Republicans of the third district to succeed J. J. McCarthy.

The most notable change in the entire house membership will be in the retirement of General Charles H. Grosvenor, who has been a member of the house since the election of one term since the beginning of the Forty-ninth Congress. His successor, who in all probability will be Albert C. Douglass, the man who defeated Grosvenor, will have an herculean task to maintain the reputation of his predecessor.

IMPORTANT COMMITTEES.

By reason of the many changes in the personnel of the Sixtieth Congress assuming that the Republicans will control there will be an exceedingly large number of important committee places to be filled. Grosvenor, as one of the mighty committee on rules will be out leaving a vacancy in that body which is really in charge of legislation. He will also leave a vacancy in the committee on ways and means and the chairmanship on the committee of merchant marine and fisheries from which will come legislation looking to the rehabilitation of our merchant marine. Bankhead is the senior Democrat on both river and harbors and public buildings and grounds. Beidler of Ohio, who has been defeated for re-nomination will leave a vacancy in the committee on the District of Columbia; Towns, once a Republican from Minnesota, now a Democrat from New York, who has not been re-nominated by Tammany will leave a vacancy in the committee on the District of Columbia; Towns, once a Republican from Minnesota, now a Democrat from New York, who has not been re-nominated by Tammany will leave a vacancy in the committee on the District of Columbia; Towns, once a Republican from Minnesota, now a Democrat from New York, who has not been re-nominated by Tammany will leave a vacancy in the committee on the District of Columbia.

SUPREME COURT OPINION.

It Affirms Judgment of the Lower Tribunal in Mining Property Case.

The supreme court today handed down an opinion in the case of James Nelson against F. A. Hendricksen, appellant, affirming the judgment of the lower court. The action was brought to recover $375.33 alleged to be the balance due for labor performed and money advanced by plaintiff on mining property owned by defendant. The defendant in the lower court filed a demurrer which was overruled and judgment entered for plaintiff. The defendant held that the lower court was in error in overruling the demurrer, but the court sustained the action of the lower court, and found against the appellant.

The opinion was written by Justice McCarthy and concurred in by Justices Straup and Frick.

TO WRITE UP WEST.

H. S. Hardy, Staff Correspondent of The New York Commercial.

H. S. Hardy, staff correspondent of the New York Commercial, is in the city, and was entertained at the Commercial club today. Mr. Hardy is on a western trip to write up western cities, and has just come from Denver, a description of which occupied a full page of the Commercial. Mr. Hardy says that he has not yet had any sensational ideas of civilization out here, and this has had its effect in keeping many away who would have otherwise come here. He will remain in town a few days, and if he can make satisfactory arrangements will exploit Salt Lake in his paper. Mr. Hardy will then go to Portland on a similar errand. The New York Commercial is 110 years old.

COMPLAINT ISSUED.

Engler, the County Infirmary Employee To Be Arrested.

County Attorney Christensen has issued a complaint against Robert Engler, an employee of the county infirmary, charging him with assault and battery upon an aged inmate of the infirmary named Israel Lieberman. The matter was brought to the attention of the county commissioners, who considered the facts in the case and decided to refer it to Commissioner Mackey for further investigation. Mr. Mackey is looking into the matter, but Lieberman was not satisfied with that and went to the county attorney. The latter investigated the case and decided to issue a complaint against Engler, but it is not clear whether the issue of the Peace Bishop until after Commissioner Mackey is through with his investigation. On another page will be found a statement by Mr. Lieberman.
