terfield was personally in favor of the scheme, but said he had no authority to speak for the city. He said, however, he would report to the Mayor and City Council, whom he thought would be willing that the city should assist in the construction of the canal. In regard to the Duchesne river, Mr. Page stated that the committee had not made a full investigation and was not prepared to report. The committee was directed to continue its investigations of the Duchesne, and to file appropriation on surplus water and report to a meting as soon as possible. AFTER WATER JUMPERS.

charging him with bigamy and alleging that he has wives in that city, in Kan-sas City, New Orleans, Louisville and other hamlets throughout the country. They say that it cannot be true at all, and that if there is a glimmer of truth in it, that the story is an exaggerated one. Leake himself debonairily denies the whole matter, and until it is aired in court, there is very little likelihood of arriving at the truth. The story which came from St. Louis was to the effect that Mrs. Leake of that city applied for a warrant of ar-rest against her husband before Prosecuting Attorney Johnson, charging Leake with bigamy. She says that sh and Leake were married in St. Louis on February 5, 1900, by Justice Zimmer man, exhibiting a marriage license which set forth that fact. She also exhibited another certificate which averred that Leake was married to Miss Harriet Webster of Kelthburg, Ill., on December 19, 1899. It was this woman who is alleged to have revealed the fact that Leake had committed bigamy, but she refused to prosecute The Mrs. Leake who has living with the handsome advertising man in this city, however, was not averse to filing the charges, which she as very evidently done. Leake, who is handsome and attracive, could not be seen today, but it is the understanding that he enters a de nial to the charges, saying that he Was married once before, but that his for-mer wife is dead. His friends also discredit the story. No requisition for Leake has yet been received by the local police.

appears in another part of this paper. Mr. Taylor expresesed chagrin over what was said in one of the morning apers about Mr. Rogers not having a home and applying for admission into the infirmary because he did not want to die on the street. "Nothing could be further from the truth," said Mr. Taylor. "My father-in-law has always had a welcome at my home as long as he wanted to stay there. He was with us last spring during a long spell of illness, but as soon as he got well and strong he wanted to go back to Salt Lake. He has a daughter here in the city, Mrs. Phelps, who was anxious to have him live with her, but he had his peculiar ideas of independence and is seemed that he preferred to cast about for himself. Judge Miner of the Supreme Court is just back from San Francisco. Being acquainted with Claus Spreckles, the sugar magnate, who handles both beet sugar from his California factories, and refines the cane product from the Hawaiian Islands, the judge had an exended conversation with him on the sugar outlook. He says that Mr. Spreestates that the recent reduction in the price of sugar was due to the action of the eastern syndicate and that the western priceshad simply been cut to meet them at the Missouri river points. In answer to the judge's in-quiries, he thought that the beet facsies which had paid in the past wo continue to do so in the future, and the intermoundain factories were especially protected by the freight rate between elr localities and water points, Judge Miner says that Mr. Spreckles, speak ing from the standpoint of a beet sugar producer, thought the industry had little to fear from the attigude of the eastern sugar syndicate, or as it is better known, the Sugar Trust.

SOME SUGAR FIGURES.

What this year's sugar crop will mean to Utah is well shown by the following figures: Thirty million pounds of sugar at only 5 cents a pound will bring the factories at least $1,500,000; Utah con sumes 20,000,000 pounds, which means that a million dollars that used to be sent out of the state is now kept at home: the remaining 10,000,000 pounds are shipped to Montana. Idaho and eastern points, bringing in at least half a million dollars of outside money. On a basis of 135,000 tons of beets, at $4.75 a basis of 135,000 tons of beets, at $4.75 per ton, the farmers will receive about $640,000-spot cash. Many of the best farms will yield twenty tons to the acre: some may fall as low as ten, but at an average of twelve, the farmer would receive $57 per acre for his crop. In addition, the three factories in Utah will pay for labor during the fall and winter operations at least $225,000 cash.

BUSINESS AND REALTY.

J. B. Armstrong, general secretary and treasurer of the General Associa-tion of Hotel and Restaurant Employes, is in the city with a view to organizing a local branch of the organization. He said yesterday that over 50 men had already signified their willingness to join in the movement, and a preliminary meeting has been arranged for tomor-row night. The sity once had a cook's and waiter's union, but for some time it has not been an active organization.

Unless all indications are wrong, the Utah farmers will get good prices for their wheat crop this year. There is already a strong demand from Texas and Colorado, and the price for the new wheat has gone up from 52 to 54 cents per bushel in this city. Although the wheat coming in from Cache coun-ty is not as good this year as it has been, that from Tooele and Davis coun-ties is far above the average. Sanpete the is is far above the average. Sample county's crop is nearer to a fallure than it has ever been. The oat crop through-out the state is good, and the price has been forced up to $1.40 per hundred. Barley is a fair crop this year.

According to President James H. Brittain, of the Federated Trades, there is no more work here in the building line than can be attended to by Salt Lake workmen. There are a number of men, he says, who are being attract-ed here by reports that buildings are here by reports that buildings are delayed because of lack of men to the work, which, he claims, is not so, There is plenty of work, but there are plenty of Salt Lake workmen to also plenty attend to it.

Today's hank cearings were $561.523.08 compared to $376,323.72 for the same day last year.

LATE LOCALS.

Deputy Sheriff Cummings is reported to be very fil of what is feared to be typhoid fever.

It was reported in the meeting that a number of new settlers along the Provo river were diverting the water unlawfully, and reducing the volum flowing into Utah lake. After some dis cussion the board of capal president was instructed to begin injunction proeedings without delay against all parties taking water from the river who are not clearly entitled to it.

PUMPING APPARATUS.

The board was also instructed to install an electric pumping apparatus in the Utah lake in order to pump water into the Jordan river when the lake falls so low that the river can draw little water from it. but The will be put in as soon as possible at a cost of about $15,000.

TO RAISE WATER LEVEL.

The last subject handled by the meet ng was the problem of increasing the apacity of the lake in order to make hold the additional water which it is proposed to pour into it. It was generally thought the lake level should be raised eighteen inches above com-promise point or about thirty five inches above its present level. Miller thought the object could be accomplished by dredging while others recommended dyking around the low shores as the best means. There was another suggestion that it would be cheaper to buy the land on the very low shores and let the lake spread over it. A committee was therefor appointed, composed of O. P. Miller, W E. Ennis and Jesse W. Fox, Jr., to look into the matter and report as te preferable way. dreging, dyking or buying the low lands. The meeting decided to enlist the services of Utah's delegates in Congress in securing an appropriation of to assist in storing water Utah lake.

GREEN'S FIRST OFFENCE.

Jaller Sol Kimball of the City Bastile, tells a good story on Shadrach Green, the young burglar now in jail It deals with his attempt to escape from jail. He was but fourteen years of age at the time and was serving in the woman's department for petit larceny. One day he concealed fork about his clothing at supper time and early in the evening proceeded to dig out the bricks under the window He laid a quilt on the floor under the window so he would make no noise out was detected by Marcena Cannot who noticed plaster falling from the window on the outside. When asked he remembered it this afternoon "Yes. I remember it well Green said: and indulged in an amused grin. He learned the trick, he said, while at the State industrial school.

WANTED BY POLICE.

Dashing Young George Littell Said to be a Grafter.

The police are quite anxious to loate a very handsome man who sports gold badge of the Elks order, and answers to the cognomen of George Littell. He is wanted in Denver for embezzling a large amount from the Elks lodge at Denver.

Last night Chief Hilton received a relegram from H. Armstrong, chief of olice of Denver, asking him to arrest Littell. The chief placed the telegram Littell. in the hands of Detective Sheets and requested him to make the arrest. Sheets thought this would be easy. but to his surprise the man could not be found. He was seen here last Sunday and it is thought he has gone north.

It is clamed that Littell is one of the most successful grafters in the country and on the strength of his membership in the Elks lodge secures money from his brothers and then skips out. This is what he is said to have done in Den-er and other places. Word has been sent to Ogden asking the authorities there to look out for him. It was rumored this morning that he was under arrest at Brigham City, but the report proved to be untrue
