SHOCKING DEATH OF ELIJAH FARR.

Caught Between Elevator and First Floor of Nat'l Bank Building.

LIFE INSTANTLY CRUSHED OUT

Had Just Begun a Most Promising Career in the Law—Graduate of An Arbor.

Ogden, May 28.—Elijah Farr, the well known attorney, met his death about 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon by being crushed in the elevator of the First National Bank building, where he had his law office.

The circumstances of his untimely death, as told by Dr. W. McPherson, the only person present when the accident took place, are most distressing.

Mr. Farr, it seems, was desirous of going to his law office on some business, and asked Mr. McPherson to accompany him, which he did. The two men walked over to the bank building, but as the elevator only runs until noon on Sunday, it was stopped. Mr. Farr had his office key in the elevator Saturday evening, so he and McPherson went into the basement, where the elevator was stationed. It was stopped about half way between the first floor and the basement floor, leaving a space of about two and a half feet in which to get into the cage. Mr. McPherson helped Mr. Farr into the elevator. He got his key and was in the act of getting out first. He called to McPherson to catch him as he jumped out, and it is supposed in letting himself out of the cage he pulled the cable and started the elevator, which caught him by the neck and shoulders between the elevator and the first floor. His notes and it was dark, did not see it go up. He caught Mr. Farr by the legs and tried to help him out, but found he was wedged in. Realizing what had happened, he rushed up to the top of the basement and gave the alarm. Then, in the excitement, ran out to the home of George H. Beech, janitor, near Twelfth street on Washington avenue, over a mile distant, and brought him into the building to get the elevator back. As Mr. Beech started the elevator down, the lifeless form of Mr. Farr fell into his arms. Sheriff Sebring, Deputy Wilson, Captain Brown, Sergeant Pincock, Officer Herrick and others had learned of the accident and were on the scene. His body was taken to the second floor to the office of E. L. Hoch, who examined him and found his neck broken. His brother, John Farr, and brothers-in-law, Bishop James Witherspoon and George Driver, were notified and were soon at the doctor's office. Sheriff Sebring impounded a coroner's jury composed of John Mather, J. C. Williams and L. H. Taylor, who viewed the body and then had him removed to Larkin & Sons' undertaking parlor to be prepared for burial.

Elijah Farr was the youngest son of Hon. Lorin and Nicheline Farr. He was born in Ogden, Dec. 23, 1867, and has lived here the greater part of his life. After obtaining a good education in the schools of Ogden, he went east to Ann Arbor, Mich., and took a thorough course in the law, receiving the degree of a bachelor of laws from the University of Michigan in 1894, and has since followed the law business in Ogden. He was an exceptionally bright young man, and had perhaps the best command of the English language of any attorney in the city, and had a bright future before him. His sad demise is a great shock to his aged and honored parents and host of relatives. His father was in Salt Lake City when the sad accident occurred. Besides his aged parents, he is survived by three sisters and two brothers. They are Mrs. James Witherspoon, Mrs. Winthrop Harris, Mrs. George W. Driver, John and Lorenzo Farr; also 15 half-brothers and nine half-sisters. Mr. Farr was unmarried and lived with his mother at 2655 Washington street. The arrangements for the funeral have not been made but will be announced later.

How Good Food may Turn to Poison

DECAY is not digestion, you know, even when it takes place in the stomach. Food decayed in the body after being eaten is as dangerous to health as food decayed before being eaten. Food nourishes or poisons, just according to how long it remains in the bowels undigested.

Cascarets are the simplest and surest safeguard against Delayed Digestion yet discovered.

Sold in a thin Enamel Box, half as thick as your watch, which fits into the vest pocket or lady's purse as if it grew there.

In this round-edged Enamel Box are found six small Candy Tablets. One of these toothsome tablets works wonders for digestion.

Soon as placed in the mouth it starts the Saliva flowing, which at once gets to work dissolving it.

The Saliva becomes blended with the Candy Cascaret tablet, and from the moment they start going down your throat together they start working together.

Now, what do they work at? Bowel-work, of course—Digestion.

Most of the Digestion occurs in the thirty feet of intestines that connect with the Stomach.

They are lined with a set of little mouths, that squeeze Digestive Juices into the Food eaten.

The Digestive Juices thus mix with the food, just as Saliva mixes with Cascaret tablets, dissolving and changing that food into nourishment, as it passes along the channel.

ROMANCE OF TWO CONTINENTS.

Educated Chinaman and White Girl Come to Utah to Marry.

Ogden, May 28.—A Chinaman and a white girl, travelling overland over the Southern Pacific from California, stopped over long enough to make an attempt to get married, called upon the Rev. E. E. Carver, Saturday, to perform the ceremony. As the law of the state forbids such a marriage, the ceremony was not performed. A special to the Herald gives the following interesting and romantic incidents of the love affair which so far has been baffled.

Los Angeles, May 28.—A dispatch to the Examiner from Berkeley, Cal., says: A romance which will extend to two continents was made public here today, with the departure of Lieou Shen Yu, a Chinese real estate man and editor, and Miss Dorothy Tresscott, the daughter of a wealthy mining man of Los Angeles, who left the city last night for Ogden, Utah, where they are to be married. The wedding will be the culmination of a romance which has been growing in San Francisco during the last year.

Miss Tresscott is a graduate of the Los Angeles High school and of a girl's finishing school in San Francisco. Since her graduation she has been living in San Francisco with her parents on Stockton street. There she became a student of the Chinese language and acted as tutor for a number of the better class of Chinese.

Lieou Shen Yu was the editor of the Chinese paper in San Francisco and was sent to this country by the Chinese government to study American customs and language that he might return to take a prominent part in the Chinese diplomatic service.

Lieou Shen Yu is a highly educated Chinese holding the highest degree issued from the Imperial university at Peking, and having served in the diplomatic service in Japan for several years. His work on the Chinese paper in San Francisco was merely done in competition with his study of American customs and methods. He is a personal friend of the Chinese consul in San Francisco, and is also his fiancé. The couple went to Utah to get married, as the law in this state forbids the issuance of a marriage license to unite a Chinese and Caucasian.
