

MURDERED MAN FOUND IN CANAL

Irving Helet, Retired Non-Commissioned Officer of This City, Fouly Dealt With.

BODY WEIGHTED WITH ROCKS.

Autopsy and Inquest Suggest Possibility of Poison—Meager Clues Are Being Followed.

At 2 p. m. today, the body was identified by Mr. F. A. Vincent of 349 east Fourth South street, as that of Irving Helet, formerly a non-commissioned officer in the United States army and retired. He had been stopping at the house for six months and was a quiet and unassuming man of 56. He said he had been promised work and left the house Monday morning last as it was supposed to begin work in the position thought to have been given him. So no particular attention was paid to the fact that he failed to return. Helet leaves a son in California but where he came from and what his family connections were are not known. Mr. Vincent recognized the man from his clothing and by the peculiarities of his teeth.

The finding of the decomposed body of an unknown man in the city canal near Crescent last evening between 6 and 7 o'clock brought to light what still in all probability is a very mysterious murder case. The body was swollen and colored beyond recognition, and there was not a scrap of paper or anything else in the clothing by which it could be identified, hence it will be some time perhaps before the authorities will find out who it is. The hands and feet of the man were tightly bound and there was a large sized rock in each of his coat pockets, put there evidently for the purpose of keeping the body in the bottom of the canal so that it would not be found very soon after the crime.

FOUND BY CHILDREN.

Some children playing near the canal in front of a residence of Mrs. Mary Wynn discovered the body floating in the canal and at once notified W. W. Miller, a patrolman on the canal, and others, who took the body out of the water. Mr. Miller notified Land & Water Commissioner Matthews in this city and also notified Sheriff Emery. The sheriff sent Deputy Sheriff Sharp to the scene accompanied by Undertaker S. D. Evans, and the body was brought to this city, arriving at about 1:30 o'clock this morning.

WOUNDS ON HEAD.

Several wounds were found on the head, but it is hard to tell whether they are the result of blows or from the head coming in contact with rocks in the canal, while floating from the point the body was thrown in to where it was discovered. There is a wound in the forehead, another on the nose and another over the left eye.

MURDER SIGNS.

The strongest evidence that the man must have been murdered is the way his hands and feet were tied. A strap was wrapped around his ankles several times, and although it had a buckle it was tied in a hard knot at the man's heels and was not tied in front. The wrists of the man were tied with a rope, which passed around back of his hips, leaving the hands tied about a foot apart so that he could not get them together in front at all.

The only mark about the clothing at all was the tag inside the collar of the coat, showing that it had been purchased at the A. H. Crabbe company in this city. An attempt will be made to have the clothing identified at that store, but the probability of any identification being made in that manner is very remote.

AS TO MAN'S AGE.

The man appears to be about 50 years of age, and his clothing consisted of a dark gray coat, blue flannel shirt, striped trousers and a pair of shoes but no hose. It is believed by Undertaker Evans and others that the body must have been in the water for a week or more.

MAY BE POISON.

This morning an autopsy was commenced on the body under the direction of County Physician Whitney, assisted by Assistant County Physician Caldwell and Dr. J. C. Kamp. At 1 o'clock the physicians had been unable to find any marks of violence on the body, which would indicate that he had been struck with an instrument or shot, but they decided that he was dead before being put into the water and are analyzing his stomach upon the theory that he was probably poisoned and then thrown into the canal.

INQUEST ORDERED.

Assistant County Attorney Hanson ordered an inquest before Justice of the Peace Dana T. Smith, and a jury was at once summoned. The jury is composed of Bishop O. P. Miller, Oscar Bourne and Thomas Whitcomb. The remains at the undertaking parlors just before noon, and the consideration of the case will be commenced probably this afternoon, although Sheriff Emery stated that it may have to be continued in order to get witnesses in from Crescent.

DEPUTIES AT WORK.

Deputy Sheriffs Steele and Sharp are working on the case in the neighborhood of Crescent, and are making close inquiries as to any person who has been missing for the past week in the hopes of finding out who the man is. During the morning several persons called at the undertaking parlors to view the remains, but none were able to identify them. It is feared that the mystery surrounding the death of the man will never be cleared up, as his identity may not be established.

The inquest which was set for 2 o'clock this afternoon before Justice Dana T. Smith was postponed until Monday at 10 a. m. in order that all the necessary witnesses could be summoned from Crescent.

A HORRIFYING VISIT.

Midnight Intruder Stealthily Enters and Quickly Leaves the James Home.

The residence of D. W. James, 129 Third street, was entered about 1:30 o'clock this morning by a man whose purpose and actions were most reprehensible. Opening a rear window screen, the fellow crawled into a room, the sleeping apartment of the boys in the family. Tying the window curtain into a knot, so it would not impede access, the intruder went into another room occupied by two girls, and entered their bed. The younger, aged about ten years, was awakened, and asked who the person was. He tried to answer in a reassuring way, telling her to make no outcry. By this time the older girl, about 17 years old, awoke, and raising her head on her elbow, was likewise warned to keep quiet but instead of obeying, she screamed so loudly as to arouse the household. The man struck her a blow in the face, sprang from the bed and escaped through the window he had entered. He evidently carried a pocket electric lamp as a light was seen as his hurrying form disappeared through the room.

An alarm was sent to police headquarters, and an officer went to the scene. No trace, however, could be found of the midnight prowler, but the opened window and knotted curtain gave evidence of his visit. The girls were not able to furnish any description of the man, and he will probably not be apprehended. The experience will probably serve as a warning to people who value fresh air more than they do their own safety.

CASHIER ARRESTED.

F. H. Bortol Accused of Robbing the Crabtree Produce Company.

The police this afternoon placed under arrest F. H. Bortol, bookkeeper and cashier of the Crabtree Produce company, on a complaint charging him with embezzlement. When questioned at the station the young man admitted having changed figures in the books, to cover up shortages and to have appropriated some of his employer's money. The cash was taken, he said, with the full intention of making the amount good, but adverse circumstances and the detection of his wrongdoing had prevented his making the needed repayment. Bortol is about 34 years of age, and is comparatively a newcomer here. He now occupies a cell at the city jail.

HELD'S BAND HOME.

Local Musicians Return From Trip to R. P. O. E. Convention in Denver.

Held's band that went with the Elks to Denver returned last evening, greatly pleased with their excursion. The Salt Lake musicians were treated everywhere with the greatest consideration, and they gave four concerts in the retinue of the Brown Palace hotel, and also played at the Savoy and the Albany hotels. Mr. Held regrets that there was no second class band contest—only the first class band contest for at least 32 musicians in each contesting band. The Denver bands were barred, and this included the Banda Rossa, which was localized by having an engagement at the City Park. So the only band to enter was the Butte band, which captured the prize as a matter of course. The Salt Lake men did so well that one enthusiastic Elks, Robert Marsh, said he would contribute $1,000 towards taking the band with the Salt Lake Elks to Philadelphia in 1907.

Manager Zimmerman of Held's band says that he never saw such a procession in all his life as that Elks' parade.

produced copies of the telegrams above noted in self-defense.

"I have no contact with Mr. MacLean," he declared emphatically. "I had one which terminated with the close of the engagement at the Salt Lake theater. I admit that there was a verbal understanding between Mr. MacLean and myself that I would remain with the company and play the Oakland engagement. We were all willing to do that because Oakland would have been a good thing, but with Oakland, I was not in the picture. There is nothing in Nevada for us, and after playing there a week we would have been worse off than we are here right in Salt Lake. It was only fair to those Bingham men to tell them what they were up against. If telling men who are putting up their good money the truth is undermining Mr. MacLean—well, I don't care to discuss the matter."

ABOUT BACK SALARY.

When asked whether it was true that some of the members of the company had not received their salaries in full during the last week at the Salt Lake theater, Mr. Mayall said: "I had nothing to do whatever with the financing of the company. When we went to the Salt Lake theater Mr. George D. Pryor guaranteed a certain sum of money, which was sufficient to cover the salaries, royalties and other expenses, and I am informed that the salary money was placed in the hands of Mr. MacLean for distribution. Some of the members of the company came to me later and stated that they had not received their salaries in full. While my name was used, Mr. MacLean was the business manager of the company, and it was under his direction."

HAS SEVERAL OFFERS.

In answer to questions regarding his plans for the future Mr. Mayall showed some telegrams he had received from various booking agencies in the east. They offered him a part in a New York production, opening in October. There was another for a winter's stock engagement at Robinson's Opera House, Cincinnati, and still one more from Keating & Fries offering Mr. Mayall and company of 10 the new theater in Tacoma, Wash., on and after Sept. 1. Just what his plans will be is not as yet decided, although he admits that the New York offer is the most tempting. Anyhow he says "I would like to see the chance of bringing a real company back to Salt Lake next summer."

Don't miss the Horse Races at Calder's track on the 24th. Six good events.

DESERET NEWS WON.

On Wednesday last at Liberty park, in a seven inning game the Deseret News baseball team won the state newspaper championship from the Tribune. The Tribune team had not been defeated this season and was considered invincible. The score—15-29—does not indicate a fast game, but nevertheless it was not without interesting features. Fletcher for the "News" pitched well for two innings, holding the opposing team to two runs, but went to pieces in the third, allowing 10 runs. He was relieved by Anderson who held the Tribune enough to allow the "News" to win out by two runs. Simpson of the Tribune pitched fairly well for three innings but seemed to lack steam and was replaced by Morgan who allowed many hits and did not have much control over the ball. The support of the "News" team was good throughout and had the opposing pitcher received the same backing perhaps the score would have been different. The "News" team will now rest on its laurels until challenged by other aspirants for honors. Jake Weiler of the State Bank was the umpire. The "News" line-up follows:

Catch—Squire.
Pitch—Fletcher-Anderson.
First Base—Julian.
Second Base—Anderson-Fletcher.
Third Base—Evans, (captain).
Short Stop—Duncan.
Right Field—Carrwell.
Center Field—Field.
Left Field—Benderson.

LUNCHEON AT COMMERCIAL CLUB

Elegant Affair This Afternoon in Honor of Senator W. A. Clark.

DEEP CREEK RAILROAD OP.

Matter Discussed at the Function by Those Interested in the Much-Needed Project.

An elegant luncheon was given this afternoon at the Commercial club in honor of United States Senator W. A. Clark of Montana, who has stopped over in this city, en route to Butte from Los Angeles, the courtesy being on account of the esteem in which the visitor is held in this city for his active and efficient efforts in behalf of railroad development in this state and in the far west, and his interest generally in the growth of the country.

The table was set in the ladies' dining room, decorated with a choice collection of smilax and flowers, and a bountiful laid on each napkin. Covers were laid for the following: United States Senator W. A. Clark of Montana, United States Senators Reed Smoot and G. H. Sutherland of Utah, United States Senator Fred T. Dubois of Idaho, Congressman Joseph Howell, General Manager W. A. Baneroff of the Short Line, Governor J. C. Cutler, President C. A. Quigley of the Commercial club, Judge C. C. Goodwin, Vice President J. Ross Clark of the San Pedro road, ex-U. S. Senator Thomas Kearns, C. N. Strevell, W. H. Binta, Col. E. A. Wall, W. J. Halloran, J. G. McDonald, Leon Sweet, P. J. Quigley, J. W. Houston, C. O. Whittemore, L. H. Farnsworth, and Capt. J. E. Cadore. President Quigley of the club was toastmaster. The menu included: cantaloupe, consommé soup, brook trout, lamb chop and peas, Roman punch, broiled spring chicken, lettuce and tomato salad, ice cream and cake, Roquefort cheese, coffee, Sauterne and champagne wines, and Martineau cocktails.

Mr. Quigley made a neat and brief introductory speech of welcome to the guest of the day, and then called on Judge Goodwin for a talk. Other speakers followed. A feature of the occasion was the urging upon Senator Clark a consideration of the advantages and benefits to be derived from building a railroad between this city and Deep Creek, something that has been dealt upon in public places for the last 20 years or more. The senator listened attentively and will look carefully into the matter.

WATER FOR JAIL.

Was Subject of Discussion Between City and County Officials.

There was a meeting today between Mayor Thompson and City Attorney Hiles, representing the city, and County Commissioners Wilson and Miller and Assistant County Attorney Hanson, representing the county, in regard to the recent trouble over the payment by the county of the water tax for water used at the county jail. The country refused to pay the tax, claiming that the city, as a public utility, should pay for the water. Inasmuch as the county furnished the city with election booths and elevator service at the joint building free of charge. City Treasurer Swenson threatened to turn off the water at the jail unless the tax was paid, but City Attorney Hiles advised him not to take such action until the matter had been considered by the commissioners and the mayor. At the meeting today there was some disagreement as to the meaning of the agreement between the county and city in relation to the matter, so no definite action was taken, but it will be brought up again at a meeting to be held Monday morning.
