

MUCH INTEREST IN ADAMS CASE

Alleged Miners' Federation Has Employed Counsel for the Defendant.

VERY HARD TO SECURE A JURY

Panel Exhausted—Defense Opposes
Drawing of Names by Any One Connected With Sheriff's Office.

Spokane, Feb. 12.—When Judge W. W. Woods opened court at Wallace, Idaho, at 10 o'clock this morning, prospects appeared bright for rapid progress in securing the 12 men who are to try Steve Adams for the murder of Fred Tyler. With only 27 jurors examined, both sides had passed 12 for cause and only the peremptory challenges remained—three for the state and seven for the defense. Before the week ends it is hoped the hearing of evidence will begin.

The interest in the trial attracts is shown by the crowds which are the courtroom. But it is an orderly crowd, and while it is known some detectives are placed there, there is little fear of any demonstration. The first jury was scheduled for today was the evidence which Atty. Harry Knight had promised to produce this morning to support his charge that counsel for the Western Federation of Miners for the purpose of defeating the ends of justice and that the federation was spending a large sum for that purpose. Atty. F. Richardson denied this charge and, while acknowledging that the federation had engaged counsel, asked that Atty. Knight be reprimanded for this morning. When court opened this morning, Atty. Knight placed President Hendrickson of the Mullan, Idaho, miners' union, upon the stand to furnish proof that the miners' federation had raised large sums of money to defend the prisoner. Hendrickson stated that the different miners' unions had raised money, both by per capita tax and by subscription, to send to the headquarters of the Western Federation of Miners at Denver, and that he had an idea for what the money was to be used.

A special from Wallace, Idaho, to the Spokane-Review says: The second day of the trial of Steve Adams, charged with the murder of a settler in the St. Joe country, and implicated in the killing of ex-Gov. Steunenberg by the confession of Harry Orchard, ended without a jury being secured. When the first panel was exhausted, the defense denied that the names of a new panel be drawn from the box and opposed the drawing by any one connected with the sheriff's office. A new affidavit was presented signed by Adams. It states that Adams is a member of the Western Federation of Miners; that Angus Sutherland, sheriff of Blaine, was sheriff when Adams was taken from Boise to Wallace; that Sutherland is bitterly opposed to the Western Federation; that while he is nominally a deputy sheriff, he is in reality directing the sheriff's office under an agreement with Sheriff Blaine. Adams alleges that while he was being taken overland to Wallace, Sutherland repeatedly spoke of the Western Federation of Miners as outlaws, thugs and dynamiters, and on their arrival at Wallace arranged a secret meeting with James McFarland, expressly employed to secure conviction against the Western Federation officers, which meeting was held against the will of the defendant and in violation of the rights. After extended argument it was proposed by the state that Coroner Keys be appointed to draw the panel, but the defense objected on the ground that he, too, was disqualified as he is a witness for the prosecution. Court adjourned until 7:30 this evening with the matter undecided.

GOVERNMENT APPEALS IN CRIMINAL CASES.

Washington, Feb. 12.—The senate today considered the bill allowing the government the right to appeal to the supreme court of the United States on points of law in criminal cases. Mr. Rayner took the floor in opposition to the measure. He said it would change the whole system of criminal procedure. Mr. Rayner's plan called for a bill to the senate that because there were many differences between the state and federal authorities as to what constitutes "jeopardy." He said that when a defendant had been once acquitted he should not be tried again, but even then, he would not vote for the bill.

Advising that the senate "go slow" in enactment of such a law, Mr. Rayner remarked: "Of course, we can be rushed here by because some packer out in Chicago was acquitted, and that is all this bill means."

He also remarked that much action was being brought forward in the interest of centralization of power, and that this bill extended the jurisdiction of the supreme court.

Senator Knox supported the bill, contending that under the present law a convicted man could be retried again and again in placing a defendant twice in jeopardy.

In defending the bill, Senator Patterson said the senate public committee eliminated from the house bill each point which had been the basis of complaint by Mr. Rayner.

Senator Heyburn offered amendments to prevent a defendant being placed more than once in jeopardy by making it necessary for the government to take its appeal on questions of law before the trial should begin.

In advocating the bill, Senator Nelson said: "There is a double veto on our legislation. First, the president can veto a bill. We can get over that by passing it over his veto. Then the courts can veto it, and we have no way of getting over that."

"This question simply is whether we will allow our citizens to curb trusts to

TO BREAK UP A COLD IN 24 HOURS.

Or Cure any Cough that is Curable.

Mix one half ounce of Concentrated oil of pine, with two ounces of glycerine and a half pint of root extract. Shake thoroughly and use in tablespoon doses every four hours.

The renowned throat and lung specialist of Philadelphia Clinics who established a camp for consumptives in the pine woods of Maine, and whose remarkable cures there attracted international attention, declares that the above formula is one of the very best remedies obtainable for a acute cold and that it will strengthen the lungs, relieve coughs and heal the bronchial tubes. Also, that it will cure any lung trouble not too far advanced if the patient will insist by plenty of outdoor exercises, inhaling deep, long breaths every few minutes.

These ingredients are procurable of any good prescription druggist and easily mixed at home and it should take its place as one of the most valued remedies in the family medicine chest.

Inquiry at one of the leading druggists elicited the information that Concentrated oil of pine is put up for dispensing only in half ounce vials securely sealed in screw-top glass bottles to protect it from heat and light. The oil sold in bulk and some patent medicines labeled "Oil of Pine" should be avoided because owing to their impurities they only produce nausea and are useless as a medicine.

Senator Spooner said he could discover no constitutional question in the bill.

This last act hastened his death by precipitating symptoms which otherwise might have been forestalled.

SENATOR BAILEY VERY INDIGNANT

Brings Investigation to a Climax
By Declaring "All This Prattle is a Lie."

WANTED INSULTS STOPPED.

All Was in Reply to Rep. Cooke's Request That Additional Witnesses Be Summoned.

Austin, Tex., Feb. 12.—Declaring "all this prattle is a lie" and urging that the committee interpose and "stop these insults offered," United States Senator Joseph W. Bailey brought to a climax this afternoon an exciting session of the legislative committee investigating charges against Bailey.

This was in reply to Representative Cooke's request that additional witnesses be summoned by which he hoped to prove that Senator Bailey had borrowed $7,000 of J. D. Suggs of Iron county.

When it was suggested that the committee leave at once for St. Louis, where additional testimony is to be taken, Senator Bailey protested that he should not be compelled to go over the country as a principal in an investigation of this nature.

Representative Cooke said he was anxious to have J. D. Suggs testify. Cooke says he expects to prove that Suggs has or has destroyed a note for $7,000 given to him, or his dead brother, by Senator Bailey.

Senator Bailey indignantly replied: "Mr. Cooke, that is a lie. It is infamy to allow any man to stand here and make a statement that is a downright, malicious lie, and a lie made out of whole cloth."

Chairman O'Neill said he thought the statement was uncalled for.

The question of the hour to which the committee should adjourn coming up, Mr. Bailey said:

"Mr. Chairman, I have received three telegrams from senators in the last three days insisting on my return to Washington. I understand the Dominikan treaty is coming up, when every vote is needed."

"I have not cared to inflict my worries on the committee, but my wife has been ill in Washington for some time, and it looks like an infamous delay to keep me here from day to day while the investigation is permitted to drag along."

"I do not wish to appear discourteous, but unless more haste is made I shall take my hat and leave. Four witnesses only have been called since Wednesday and the committee is making no haste, as far as is apparent."

A motion was adopted that Chairman O'Neill should wire J. D. Suggs at St. Louis to appear in person on Friday, or when he could meet it. Pending a reply no action was taken.

Mr. Cooke served notice on Senator Bailey and his attorneys to produce the "Plato" letter, which has been previously referred to by Senator Bailey as an attempt to blackmail him.

Senator Bailey stated that he had made an unsuccessful search for the letter, which he had last in his possession when addressing the house of the Texas legislature recently, and had left it on the desk with other papers which disappeared.

Representative Cooke stated that he desired to have the subcommittee on the subject of the Pacific coast railroad, to take the deposition of Dodd Lacy, and Oklahoma City, to secure the deposition of Mrs. J. W. Phillips.

SLAYDEN POOH-POOHS IDEA OF WAR WITH JAPAN.

Washington, Feb. 12.—Representative Slayden of Texas during the consideration of the naval appropriation bill in the house today addressed that body on the subject of the recent war talk between the United States and Japan, and laughed the rumor of war out of the chamber.

Representative Slayden in part said: "Although we are at peace with the world and the rest of mankind, as the president of the United States is reported to have said, the air is thick with rumors of war. Senators and members of the States saw storm clouds in the east and pedantic preachers of unlimited naval construction are declaring in public address that a conflict with Japan is inevitable. Our friends who represent the Pacific coast on the floor of the house are frightened almost into a state of collapse over the clouds of the brown banner marching under the banner of 'Rising Sun.' The fact that 6,000 miles of salt water lie between them and the islands of Japan does not appear to allay their fears."

Mr. Slayden said the Pacific coast members are not reassured by the recollection of the fact that President Roosevelt has recently been elected with the Nobel prize as the world's chief champion of peace. He referred to the financial condition of Japan and declared that "the one who cannot appreciate the imminence of this danger."

It was his duty to contribute his mite toward restoring their mind.

Mr. Slayden then reviewed the war between Russia and Japan, which he said was one of the most remarkable in the history of the world, but he declared that he was not concerned with the history of the world, but with the present situation of the Pacific coast.

He declared that although the Japanese could march across Manchuria, their legs are entirely too short to reach the Pacific. "On this side of the Pacific the Japanese have no coaling stations," he said, "and ships of war which cross the ocean under their own steam would be comparatively useless before they could reach the coast of California."

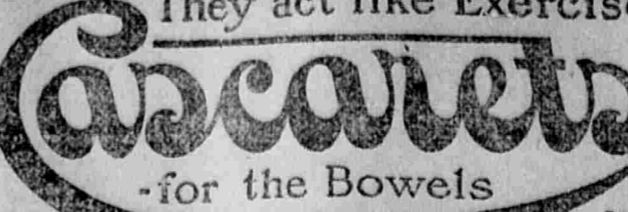

Mr. Slayden called attention to the treaty of peace which closed the Russo-Japanese war to an end and declared it also should be remembered that after winning brilliant victories in the greatest battle of all history, the Japanese made a treaty of peace at Portsmouth, which, if not humiliating, was at least a confession of weakness.

It is certain, he said, that the empire has neither paid its debts nor joined Japan to break vengeance on the United States for an enemy which no man can fathom. He characterized this suggestion as ridiculous.

"It is an honorable and an expensive way of maintaining peace. It is more consistent with modern civilization than the big stick or the big navy plan which promises to keep the peace by developing a power so great that it may crush the life out of opposition. Although it seems to be a long time coming, I still indulge the hope that the Christian and peace-loving people of this country will compel their own government to write treaties of arbitration with all the governments of the world that are willing to enter into them."

Mr. Slayden took the position that but for the duty of concealing the Philippine Islands the government's war expenses could be cut in two and the military budget greatly reduced. The annexation of these islands he termed a "monumental blunder in our history," and declared that the United States has repudiated the principles by compelling the Philippines to accept a government which they did not want.

In opposing the proposed modifications for the Philippines, Mr. Slayden declared that he believed when the American voter once has his conscience and judgment aroused he will command the abandonment of this policy and an American policy of meddling with the affairs of Asia.

President Slaughter Arrested for Issuing Offensive Advertising Matter.

Chicago, Feb. 12.—A number of complaints received by Mayor Dunne of offensive advertising matter issued by the Rex Bitters company resulted last night in the arrest of W. L. Slaughter, president of the company, who was released later on a $1,000 bond.

Electives noted the company's office early yesterday, and pamphlets and pictures used to advertise the concern were confiscated. The most weapons were called to the scene. About $500 worth of books and cards were taken.

The arrest was due largely to the complaints of women and men who notified Mayor Dunne of the class of advertising matter issued by the company.
