WIRE FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, 15.—In an interview to-day, Congressman Flinnery expressed himself freely in regard to the probable event of O'Donnell being hanged on Monday. He said he had called on the President in regard to the case within a few hours, but obtained no information beyond the assurance that action had been taken, and the result would be announced through the state department when the reply was received from England. The President did not express an opinion, Flinnery said, but was courteous and unassuming
in his manner.

It is reported in the lobby of the Chamber of Deputies that a revolutionary movement is being organized in the person of O'Donnell, and that the Minister of Education, Punka, Minister of Education, has been placed at the head of the Council of State, Yamagata, Chief of the Council of State, has been appointed Minister of the Interior, and Yamada, Minister of the Interior, has been placed at the head of the Ministry of Justice. These changes are not regarded as likely to entail any radical changes in the government policy, but would seem to indicate that the Japanese government is resolved to persevere in the plan to send O'Donnell to the United States. The House, by resolution, requested the President to
it is a step in the right direction, and the result would be an-
not express an opinion, Flinnery said,

His opponent, Poole, contests the case on several grounds, one of which is the vote of one county in the district was not taken, which renders the election void.

The Japanese government has received telegraphic advice announcing several important changes made in government departments. They concentrate in the transfer of prominent members from one department to another, but do not involve any alteration in the personnel of the government. The Minister of Justice has been placed at the head of the
appointed Minister of the Interior,
and Yamada, Minister of the In-
not express an opinion, Flinnery said,
in his manner.

Chamber of Deputies that a revolu-
that the Minister of Education,
Punka, Minister of Education,
has been placed at the head of the
