For advanced as their white neighbors. It is not evident that an investigation of this subject would form the important inquiry to admit that science without religion is inadequate to lead mankind upward. And if we, who possess the authority of one to that of another.

The fact is that the world has been temporarily blinded by the light of light thrown upon it lately, and as a result, the world is in a state of confusion. The fact is that the world is in a state of confusion. The fact is that the world is in a state of confusion.

WOMAN KIDNAPED, NESTED.

The case of Maria Barber, an Italian girl of New York, is causing much discussion in the Eastern press, because the girl is a woman, the first of her sex to be kidnapped to suffer death in the electric chair. The particulars of the case are as follows: Maria Barber was kidnapped by her lover, who was named by her name, and was taken to a place in the city of New York.

THE INDIAN DIFFICULTIES.

The latest reports from the scene of Indian troubles in northwestern Wyoming give assurance of an early settlement of the difficulties which have existed. These reports, coming from authentic sources in the immediate vicinity of the disturbance, maintain the idea, formerly expressed by the News, that there was much exaggeration on the part of excited or designing white men, which tended to increase the alarm awakened by the real danger known to exist.

The situation as described in these accounts does not show that all trouble is past. There yet may be hostile demonstrations and even bloodshed. If there be any serious or intentional action on the part of the white settlers. At the same time the indications are that by the exercise of a moderate amount of caution and tact the whole business can be settled without the loss of another life. The Indians are very sure at what they involve in an act of violence, and they have enjoyed no better success in the past. In the future, they are inclined to a desire for vengeance upon those who have slain some of the aborigines, including some of the whites. But the Indians are drawing a distinction which formerly they did not make in cases of this kind; they are not seeking revenge upon any white person who may appear, but only upon those who have slain some of their people.

In this aspect of the case there is good reason to believe that the worst is past. The fact that the Indians have not yet been able to settle their difficulties is a sign that they are not yet ready to do so. The fact that the Indians have not yet been able to settle their difficulties is a sign that they are not yet ready to do so.

readily receive deprivation of desire that from. Physiologically considered, the failure to take a drink of water does not immediately remove from the body all the water that is in it, or even prevent absorption of the liquid.

Regarding the inquiry as to whether, when the body is thirsty, it is better to drink water or to wait until the thirst is quenched, the answer is that it is better to drink water. The fact is that the body is in a state of confusion. The fact is that the body is in a state of confusion.
