LOCAL NEWS.

FROM TUESDAY'S DAILY, MAY 5.

Board of Directors—Yesterday afternoon, at the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Utah Central Railway, the following directors were elected: Sidney Dillon, Frank G. Brown, New York; Charles F. Adams, Jr., Fredrick L. Ames, Henry McFarland, Boston; Wm. Jennings, John Sharp, Feramor Little, Jas. S. Tibbitts, Salt Lake.

Arrested—This afternoon Charles Gilmore was arrested on complaint of Geo. E. Lufkin, charged with drawing a deadly weapon. The quarrel arose over some damage done by some stock belonging to the accused, and the latter drew a revolver, which he flourished rather freely. Gilmore is the deputy registrar of North Point precinct. The case will be heard in the Justice's Court to-morrow morning.

Employment Wanted—Brother Samuel Eastman, late of Davenport, England, who arrived with the last company of immigrants, is in want of employment by which to support himself and send for his wife and two children who are yet in the old country. He has had considerable experience in the wholesale grocery line, but is not particular as to what he works at. He is young and strong and willing to engage in any kind of labor which is honorable, and will do his best to give satisfaction. A communication addressed in care of this office will reach him.

Funeral Services—The funeral service over the remains of Brother Andrew S. Gray's daughter, Nellie, was held in the Fifteenth Ward Assembly Rooms yesterday morning, remarks being made upon the occasion by Elders F. Armstrong and George Swan and Bishop Pollard. Brother Gray desires to express his gratitude to the many friends who manifested sympathy and friendship, to his fellow employees and others who furnished carriages, and also to the choir and organist who supplied the music at the service, in fact to all who attended.

Work on the Temple—Extensive changes are being made with a view to renewing the work of rock-laying upon the walls of the Temple in this city. The walls having reached the square and the old scaffolding and hoisting apparatus having been removed, new derricks are being erected on the towers of the building and arrangements are being made for extending the guy ropes a greater distance. For the purpose of supporting the guy ropes which extend eastward two poles, each ninety feet in height have just been erected in the street near the east gate of the Temple Block, and the large wire ropes will doubtless soon be in position.

Destroying Tent Caterpillars—A Massachusetts correspondent of the New England Homestead gives this way of wiping out tent caterpillars, which he has practiced over 40 years. Probably the addition of a little kerosene to the soap suds would increase the effectiveness of the liquid: "Make a solution of soft soap and water, as strong as will be taken up by a sponge. Affixing a strong piece of sponge (not too large) to the end of a pole, saturate it with the suds and pass it through the tent, wetting its inmates thoroughly, and the work is done and the tree benefited. See that the enemy is in his tent, which will be at early morning, at noon and late in the afternoon; at the other parts of the day they are usually feeding, and consequently not at home. An active man will, in a short time, destroy in this manner these pests of the orchard, over a large area."—The Prairie Farmer.

In the Sneak Business—We have learned of a young stoutly-built woman visiting from house to house in this city lately for the ostensible purpose of selling a cosmetic and at the same time asking for money to assist polygamists to avoid prosecutions. She is quite bold and persevering in working her way into houses, and plies those who will listen to her with all manner of questions, with a view to learning all she can about their domestic relations or those of their neighbors. We are not aware that she has succeeded in finding anyone so credulous as to give her money, though it is possible that she may have done so, and if she has failed in this it is certainly not for want of cheek. She claims that she is recommended by Hon. James Sharp, Mayor of the city, which, without having seen the Mayor to consult him about it, we feel warranted in denouncing as false. And we would advise our citizens to whom she applies to telephone to or otherwise inform the police and have her arrested for trying to obtain money under false pretences. She is evidently a sneak.

The Caterpillars—Now is the time for effective work in ridding our fruit trees of the caterpillars. The prospect for fruit this year, and probably next also, will depend upon the efforts made at exterminating this pest during the next ten days. We notice that many are adopting the plan of clipping off the limbs upon which the caterpillars are found in clusters and burning them, and this probably is as effectual a way of getting rid of them as can be resorted to. Others, however, who object to mutilating their trees try various other methods of getting rid of the vermin. One gentleman recommends to use the plan of saturating a rag with kerosene and wiping them off, the liquid having the effect of killing the caterpillars without injuring the tree in the least. He followed this method last year and found it very effectual. It would be difficult to do this, of course, where the trees are very large, but in that case the suggestion contained in the item which we to-day copy from the Prairie Farmer might be acted upon—the using of a sponge attached to a long stick. Whatever the plan adopted, let the watchword be "War upon the caterpillars," and if we act upon it with energy and perseverance we may yet hope to rid our orchards of the pest.

Returned Home—Elder Robert Braby of the First Ward, who returned from a mission to England last Tuesday, called this morning and gave us an interesting account of his labors in that country. He left here April 10th, 1883, and arrived at Brighton, his native place, twenty days later. Here he visited with his relatives for about two weeks, and had a pleasant time, though he failed to get them interested in the gospel.

He was first appointed to labor in Sussex district and often had the pleasure of addressing the people on the Level at Brighton, where his father had frequently preached many years ago.

During his absence Brother Brab labored three months in Sussex, three months in Berkshire, six months in Kent, four months in the North London Conference, and the remainder on the time in the Whitechapel Branch. He has had for traveling companions Elders C. C. Harris, Charles Denney, George J. Dent and C. E. Angell. When laboring in Kent he baptized a captain of the Salvation Army and blessed a great number of children, many of whose parents were not members of the Church. He did not meet with the success, however, which he desired, and at one time became very much discouraged with the result of his labors and thought he could do more good at home. While so despondent, he one night dreamed that he had returned home, and, in meeting his friends, they invariably asked him why he had come back so soon. Being unable to give them a satisfactory reply he soon began to feel much distressed, and to wish that he had remained in his field of labor. On awaking he felt thankful indeed that it was only a dream, and he pursued his labors much more cheerfully during the rest of his mission.

He was released and left for home on the 10th ult., exactly two years from the time of his departure from this city. While away he added quite a number to the Church, and gained a valuable experience which he appreciates very much; and he regards his two years' absence as the happiest period of his life.

FROM WEDNESDAY'S DAILY, MAY 6

Injured His Ankle—On Monday, Mr. Robert Laurish, of the Tenth Ward, was standing on a ladder, engaged in some work, when the ladder slipped and he fell a distance of twelve or fifteen feet, to the ground, severely spraining his ankle and otherwise bruising him.

Prospects in the South—George T. Odell, of the firm of Grant, Odell & Co., just returned from an extended trip in Millard, Sevier and Sanpete Counties, reports trade in a fair condition, with prospects of an abundant crop. He says that the Mitchell wagons and machinery represented by his company are in great demand, and the only serious difficulty is lack of funds to purchase.

District Court Proceedings—The setting of the civil trial calendar was made.

The cases of George B. Davis vs. U. S. R. R. Company, and Charles S. Cunningham vs. U. S. R. R. Company were dismissed by consent.

The case of Julius Hammerslaugh et al. vs. Max Goldstein was also dismissed.

The trial of Charles Nielson for manslaughter occupied most of the remaining time.

Progressing Slowly—A brief note from Brother E. A. Hammond, now on his way to San Juan, dated "Camp Brown," Granite Wash, 22 miles from the Colorado river, April 27th, states that he and his company are all well, but only moving slowly, owing to their wagons being too heavily loaded for the road, as it is now for forty miles on this side and about the same distance on the other side of the Colorado. They have also been detained somewhat by storms.

The Manslaughter Case—The trial of Charles Nielson, formerly bartender in J. S. Pitts' saloon on the State Road, who was indicted for manslaughter, began in the District Court to-day. A jury was impaneled, and several witnesses for the prosecution were examined.

On the 18th of December last, a row occurred in Pitts' saloon between John Hill and Henry Gardner, both being the worse for liquor. Blows were exchanged between the two, and somebody pushed them out of the room and off the porch, young Gardner falling on his back on the ground. While there Nielsen is said to have kicked the prostrate man on the head a couple of times, and when he got up and stood against the porch, kicked him just below the abdomen, injuring him so severely that he died on the 24th, six days' later.

First District Court—A grand jury was empaneled for the First District Court in Ogden on Monday in the usual style, by the exclusion of all who answered affirmatively to the question: "Do you believe it right for a man to have two or more wives living and undivorced at the same time?" Two persons only who claimed to be "Mormons"—J. W. Chambers and Haskell V. Shurtliff—answered the question to the satisfaction of Judge J. S. Boreman and Assistant Prosecuting Attorney C. S. Varian, by disclaiming all belief in plural marriage and asserting their willingness to do all in their power to enforce the law against those who practice it. The panel being completed, with Nathan Kimball as foreman, Judge Boreman proceeded to deliver his charge to them which we shall publish in full as copied from the Ogden Herald, and which, it will be noticed, is far more moderate in its tone than his former charges have been. The jury retired for a few moments, elected a clerk and then adjourned until the 20th inst., by which time it is expected that Judge Powers will be here.

Aside from this no business of importance was transacted by the court.

Hooked by a Cow—This morning, about 10 o'clock, a little two-year-old daughter of Brother George Romney, of the Twentieth Ward, while playing on the premises, crawled, unobserved, under the bars into the cow-yard. She was immediately attacked by the two cows which occupy the yard, and hooked in a frightful manner. Her screams soon brought several persons to the rescue, and the little one was quickly taken from the perilous situation.

One of the animal's horns had entered the child's mouth and torn out five teeth, besides ripping open the upper lip in a frightful manner. A large gash was also made just below the left eye. Drs. Richards and Bowers were immediately summoned, who after a careful examination, said the little one had received no internal injuries. They placed the child under the influence of chloroform and skilfully sewed up the gashes and dressed the wounds, which, although serious and painful, are not dangerous.

The cows have always been regarded as perfectly gentle and harmless, and Brother Romney is inclined to think that they were at play. Fortunately when attacked the child was near a corner into which it was closely crouched and trembling with terror when found. In this position it was difficult for the animals to get at the child with their horns, and had it not been for this circumstance the little one would doubtless have been gored to death before assistance could have arrived.

Drawing a Deadly Weapon—Charles Gilmore was before the Justice's Court to-day to answer to the charge of drawing a deadly weapon on George E. Lufkin. The affair occurred on the west side of Jordan River, where the parties reside. Early yesterday morning Mr. Lufkin discovered in his field of rye twenty-one head of horses belonging to Gilmore, and drove them into the yard. Several hours afterwards the latter rode up and made a demand for the animals, which was refused, except on the payment of $5 damages. At this he drew his revolver, and endeavored to take them out by force, but was prevented by Lufkin and several others. Yesterday afternoon complaint was made, and he was placed under arrest, and this morning he appeared at Lufkin's place with another man, and the horses were released upon the payment of $4 damages by their owner, no charge being made for the feeding of the animals, in consideration of Gilmore's promise to take care of them in future.

According to statements of residents of North Point, this man Gilmore has a very unsavory reputation in the neighborhood, being regarded as a quarrelsome and disagreeable individual, and his connection with the "spotting" business has not raised him in the estimation of others. He was once a member of the Church, but is now an apostate and is exceedingly malicious toward the Latter-day Saints. As deputy registrar of North Point Precinct he made himself generally offensive to the citizens, and his re-appointment to that office brings no comfort to the electors of that precinct. If the charges against him have any foundation in fact, it would be well for the Utah Commission to select a less contemptible person as their official representative.

GRATUITOUS ADVICE REJECTED.

BRIGHTON, May 6, 1885.

Editors Deseret News:

My attention has been drawn to an article in the Salt Lake Democrat, wherein the editor throws out a pin hook which he wishes the ecclesiastical authorities of Brighton Ward to bite at. He asserts that the trial in the Ole Hansen case developed some very unsavory facts, which he wishes the Bishop to go for. I have to say in this connection that, if there were any "unlawful cohabitation" in the case, why did not the courts go after it, as they had taken up the case under that charge? If the government wants the Territorial stable cleaned out, why don't its stablemen do it?

We surely are not obliged to do their work for them, while they draw the pay. Moreover, if the Essence of 55,000,000 of people, representing the federal power of a great nation, renders a verdict of not guilty in a certain case, would it not look like open rebellion, or Church interference in State matters, for an ecclesiastical officer of the "Mormon" Church to take up the matter afterwards and make out that the parties were guilty?

If judges get entangled by their own decisions, rendered in former cases, we can not help that; neither will we do anything in the matter, pro or con.

The Democrat writer, instead of recommending what officers of the "Mormon" Church should do, had better mind his own business, or direct his counsels to his own creed and kind. We understand our own business and need no counsel from that direction.

A WARD OFFICIAL.

"What's the Matter With You?"

"Well, not much in particular. But I'm a little ailing all over. I don't sleep well, and my kidneys are out of order, and I can't enjoy my meals, and I've a touch of rheumatism, and once in a while a twinge of neuralgia." Now, neighbor, you seem to want a general fixing up, and the thing to do is Brown's Iron Bitters. Mr. A. J. Pickrell, of Ennis, Texas, says, "I was a sickly man. Brown's Iron Bitters made me healthy and strong."

English Trade-Marks.

Mr. Edward Waters, Patent and Trade-marks office, 87 Bourke Street, Melbourne, Australia, writes: "One of my household suffered with tooth-ache and rheumatism, and after trying numerous other remedies without relief, tried Jacobs Oil. It was rubbed on the cheek and plugged in the tooth, and well rubbed in for rheumatism. In both cases the cure was immediate and complete, and in neither case has the pain returned."

I think Ely's Cream Balm is the best remedy for catarrh I ever saw. I never took anything that relieved me so quickly, and I have not felt as well for a long time. I used to be troubled with severe headaches two or three times a week, but since using the Balm have only had one and that was very light compared with former ones. —J. A. Alcorn, Agent U. P. R. R. Co., Eaton, Colo.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitudes of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 130 Wall Street, New York.
