PRIMITIVE GOSPEL AGAIN RESTORED

Elder George F. Richards and Prest. Francis M. Lyman Speak At Tabernacle Service.

ONLY ONE PLAN OF SALVATION

The Faith of Olden Days Once Delivered to the Saints is Now Upon The Earth Once More.

The speakers at the tabernacle yesterday afternoon were Elder George F. Richards and President Francis M. Lyman, of the quorum of the apostles. The former dwelt upon the apostasy from the primitive Christian church and the restoration of the gospel in latter times, quoting extensively from the Scriptures and from eminent ecclesiastical writers in support of his argument. President Lyman read the thirty-first chapter of Second Nephi. as showing the harmony that exists between the Book of Mormon and the

The services were presided over by President John R. Winder. "Author of Faith Eternal Word," "Glory To God On High," "With Sheathed Sword," and "Let The Mountains Shout For Joy," were the selections rendered by the choir, the Doxology being sung by the entire congregation after the last named anthem, Elder Joseph S. Wells offered the invocation, and President Anthon H. Land oreand President Anthon H. Lund pro-nounced the benediction.

ELDER RICHARDS.

Upon a mere handful of people rests the responsibility of carrying the message of redemption to the ends of the earth, said Elder Richards. The gospel is a free gift to the entire human race, all men having their agency to accept the boon of eternal life or to reject the same to their condemnation. The glad tidings must be preached to all, for each soul must be judged by the law, and it would be unjust to call men to account for something they men to account for something they knew not of. The Gospel is divine, not man-made. One mortal can not re-deem another, nor can he do more than to add to his own salvation by rendering obedience to the commandments of

Through the indifference and lack of appreciation of mankind, the gospel has sometimes been taken from the earth, said the speaker, and during such periods millions have lived and died without hearing it. In the eternal justice of God provisions have been made for such, as well as for those who have had the privilege of hearing the glad word. The Latter-day Saints claim that there was a departure from the gospel of the Son of God soon after his crucifixion and the martyrdom of His immediate successors at the head of the Church established by Him. Upon the theory that such an apostasy did take place, the restoration of the gospel is predicted, and if there was no such departure from the teachings of the Master, all claims to a restoration are spurious.

Elder Richards quoted extensively Through the indifference and lack of Elder Richards quoted extensively Elder Richards quoted extensively from the sayings of Christ and of his disciples as well as from the predictions of prophets who lived before the coming of the Son of Man, to prove that the faith once delivered to the Saints should for a season be lost to the world after the apostles fell asleep. Paganism was substituted for Christically, it as a great measure retaining the Paganism was substituted for Christianity in a great measure, retaining the name of the latter but having little of its doctrines and arganization. The laws were transgressed, the ordinances laws were transgressed, the ordinances changed and the everlasting covenant broken. By and by the Reformers came and did much to correct evils that they found existing. They made no claim to having been divinely called, but set about to better the condition of the world as best they could.

Such was the situation when Joseph Smith came upon the scene. He was called and ordained of God to usher in the last dispensation. Through the revelations imparted to him from on high the Gospel was restored in all its orimitive purity and perfection, and the Church of Christ was organized as in former times, with all the keys, powers and authorities thereof.

PRESIDENT F. M. LYMAN.

PRESIDENT F. M. LYMAN.

This Church is remarkable, said Elder Lyman, from the fact that it has three volumes of Scripture—the Jewish Scriptures, the Nephite Scriptures, and the American Scriptures, and the three the American Scriptures, and the three are in harmony one with the other. However much truth men may write, whether religious, philosophical or scientific, it is not in reality the word of God, unless it has been dictated by the Holy Ghost. It may be presumption for the Latter-day Saints to make the claim of having the one true Church, but the declaration had been made by the Savior Himself to the boy Prophet Joseph Smith. The latter was true to the commission given bim, even unto death, and he sealed his testimony with his blood, as did the martyrs of old.

from the earth, but the Scriptures were perpetuated.

Men cannot be saved here nor hereafter, without having received the baptism of water and of the Spirit, as did Christ the Lord, declared President Lyman, and to substantiate the statement he tend the entire thirty-first chapter of second Nephi, showing that if it were necessary for the Son of God to render obedience to those ordinances, surely it is essential that those who lay claim to being His followers should do likewise.

In conclusion, President Lyman said he thanked God for the generous and blessed American government. He declared it to be the best on earth and the only one that would have tolerated the Latter-day Saints, and he predicted that it would become the first and foremost in all the world. rpetuated.

AN OLD OFFENDER.

Matthew Sickfield is Arrested for Peddling Fake Jewelry.

Matthew Sickfield, a vag, "moocher and seller of fake jewelry, was arrested by Officer Harris this morning and locked in the city jail. This is the third time Sickfield has been arrested within two weeks. The last time he appeared before Judge Diehl he made such an earnest plea for mercy that he was re-leased with the understanding that he leased with the understanding that he leave town at once. This morning he was at his old tricks again but was soon in the toils.

At the station when being searched he declared he had no "phony" stuff on him, and none was found until, as Harris was taking the fellow to jail, the officer concluded to make the search a little more thorough. In the prisoner's sock was found a locket and chain worth probably 25 cents, but which the fellow had been trying to sell for $10 or $15, representing that the piece of glass on the locket was a genuine diamond.

The latter was true to the commission given him, even unto death, and he sealed his testimony with his blood, as did the martyrs of old.

The Gospel of Christ, restored in the nineteenth century, hos been obeyed by comparatively few people, said the speaker. Less than haff a million are now its adherents, though many have died since, rendering obedience to its precepts. A mere belief that the gospel is true is not sufficient for salvation, neither is the fact that a person is registered in the Church. There is no salvation in sin, and men and women must cease to be sinners if they would enter the kingdom of God. A man cannot be a liar at his will and pleasure, and then expect to mitogle with the righteous and pure. Christ is

The following announcement has been issued by E. A. Wall, president, and Prof. Byron Cummings, secretary, to persons interested:

"The Utah Society of the Archaeological Institute of America is undertaking a study of the works of prehistoric men in the state. One thing to be accomplished is the recording of the location and character of all pre-historic remains. To this end the institute invites the co-operation of the educational institutions, students and citizens of Utah. All persons who know of such remains are asked to furnish information concerning them. Blank cards for reports will be furnished to all who will assist in compling this record. WATCHING MACADAM PAVING.

Second Avenue People Distrustful of Sixth East Results.

Is macadamized paving a failure? This is the question which many property owners in Salt Lake are anxiously asking themselves and others at the present time. It can be answered positively

It can be answered positively enough that properly macadamized paving is not a failure, but that as adopted thus far by Salt Lake City, it seems to be very close to it. Those best posted say that it is all a question of proper ingredients and proper handling. The first street to be paved with macadam is Sixth East street, and the results here have been watched very closely by other portions of and the results here have been watched very closely by other portions of the city whose streets are to receive next attention with macadam paving. Particularly interested are the residents along Second avenue, a long strip of streetwork reaching from Canyon road east to practically the city limits, now being in the hands of the contractors. Members of the Second avenue club state that they will the contractors. Members of the Second avenue club state that they will agitate the calling of a meeting of the club and all residents along the avenue who are not members for the purpose of investigating what ought to be done in view of the condition of Sixth East street today. The first distrust over the macadam work was excited when it became evident that the street sweeping machines would the street sweeping machines would have to be operated very tenderly or the macadam work would disappear. Then came the big storms of the past Then came the big storms of the past few days, when it was seen that the pavement would not stand any con-siderable rush of water without heavy repairs. If this is the case on a street like Sixth East, where the gradstreet like Sixth East, where the grading is so gradual, people along Second avenue ask what might be expected on that thoroughfare where there are several very sharp inclines, especially on the hill between Canyon road and A street.

It is understood that Councilmen
Wells and Tuddenham whose constituents are greatly interested and both of whom live on Second avenue, will agitate the subject in tonight's session of the city council. At the office of the board of public works it is claimed the board of public works it is claimed that the drainage on Sixth East is confined to the lower end of the paving which has not yet been accepted by the city. Others claim, however, that the condition of the street between South Temple and First South is not at all what it should be after a vigorous cleaning and after a storm.

SUNDAY BASEBALL.

Citizen Belleves it Should be Restrained

Where it Becomes Boisterous Editor of the "News:"

I am sure the "News" would be performing a public service, if it sounded a note of protest against the constantly increasing tendency on the part of boys, young men and hoodlums to congregate on public squares and anywhere else where there is a large area of open ground for the purpose of ball playing on the Sabbath. Such congregations are becoming a decided nuisance in many parts of the city, especially at Walker's field and on the sance in many parts of the city, especially at Walker's field and on the northeast bench, above the Anderson tower. People living near by who try to spend a quiet Sabbath have their day absolutely ruined by the yelling that proceeds from these fields.

In this connection let me express respect that a team of base ballists, giving themselves the name of "The Lehi Nine," would be among the Sabbth offenders. It has been a pleasure to those who believe in the observance of the Sabbath to note that it was impossible to gain any support for of the Sabbath to note that it was impossible to gain any support for Sunday baseball playing in Provo, Logan, and other of the larger cities, where the bulk of the population was composed of Latter-day Saints. I do not for a moment believe that the team which took the name of "Lehi" in a Sunday game represents the sentiments of the people of that city, and the young men from that place who play baseball, if they must play on the Sabbath, ought certainly, out of respect to their city, to adopt some other name.

MERCHANTS' PROTECTIVE ASSOCIATION IS SUED.

Suit has been entered against the Merchant's Photective association, alleging the failure to pay over moneys collected. The action which was filed in the distdict court Saturday is brought by James Earls, who claims that the defendant brought suit for him in the justice's court for Salt Lake City against Frank Hoffman, and that the latter, on Dec. 20, 1906, paid the amount of $136.50 into court. It was collected by the Metchants' Protective association, acting as agents for Earls, and kept by them. The association, he declares, has since failed and refused to pay the amount to him, and he is suing for the amount, with interest and costs. The Merchants' Protective association is the agency conducted by Francis G. Luke, whose methods have frequently been aired before the public—Salt Lake Tribune, May 26, 1907.

Mrs. Earls is superintendent of a mine. Mr. Frank Hoffman is a lawyer. Mr. Hoffman lived in Earls house, and Mr. Earls wanted him out. The M. P. A. sued him for rent and restitution of the premises, and won in the justice's court, and Hoffman appealed to the district court and later to the supreme court, losing in each instance. When a writ of restitution was placed in the sheriff's hands Hoffman sued out a writ of prohibition in the district court against the sheriff, and Luke won again: Hoffman then appealed to the supreme court a second time, and his appeal was dismissed, making another victory for Luke and Earls. This series of legal battles lasted a year, and during that time Luke collected from Hoffman $495.50, of which amount $136.50 was paid to the M. P. A. by the court and $259 to Mr. Earls by Hoffman.

Mr. Earls had previously paid the M. P. A. he sum of $21.50 for all this vert. Mr. Earls had previously paid the M. P. A. the sum of $21.50 for all this work, and it now seems by his complaint evidently thinks $21.50 for one year's work.
