Special Correspondence,

Byron, Big Horn Co., Wyo., Jan. 19 .-A pleasant surprise was tendered Bro-ther Byron Session, president of the Big Horn stake, before his departure to Cheyenne, where he is helping to frame laws for the state, as he was elected a member of the house of representatives. The weather is exceedingly good here for this time of the year, no snow to amount to anything: which allows work to go on. The town is rapidly grow-ing in spite of the arid country. We have already a store and butcher shop in good running order. A new co-operative store is near and will, with Bishop Kohler at the head, be doing business in a short time.

A new rock schoolhouse is being erected which when completed will cost about $3,000. Ir will be ready for school purposes next Semptember. Canal work will be resumed in short time so as to allow the water to be turned in when the weather admits, this gives the people a chance to put in their crops early so they will mature. There is no room for idlers here, as there is plenty of work for all. The people are busy in preparing for canal and spring work. Those who are look-ing for homes will do well to give the Big Horn basin their first consideration, as there are ranches, improved and unimproved, that can be bought at a reasonable figure.

Iver Lawson, Salt Lake's famous biycle rider, left the city last evening for San Jose, Cal., to join his partner, Floyd McFarland. The two will spend a couple of months in the mountains in order to put themselves in good condition for the championship of the Na ional circuit.

In the spring they will go to Vailsourg, but will stop off in Salt Lake for few days during their eastern trip During the coming summer they will ride every Saturday at that truck. account of their superior ability as rid-ers, the management of the track jumped at the chance of signing wo speedy riders for the season. Every Tuesday night they expect to ride on the New Haven, Conn., track and put the agricultural book, the agricultural college, the agricultural speaker and teacher—all fail to reach the common farmer and his son. Why? Because he cannot understand the language and terms they use. It is, as you say, 'all Greek to him.' Why is it all Greek? Because the only school he ever had a chance to attend (the common school) made no effort to teach him the meaning and appliestion in a simple way, of in the balance of their time on the cult. Both riders have received many flattering offers for the coming but as yet the two mentioned are all they have accepted.

WAS HE A LOCAL "COP." What Young Corbett Said to a Hot Springs Policeman.

Young Corbett again demonstrated at Hot Springs what a clever wit he really is. Some admirer of the champion presented him with a splendid dog, and wherever you see the kid you see the dog. While walking down the street the other day he was stopped by a good, big-natured Irish policeman, who said the champion:

"That's a foine dog yez have there."
"Yes, he's pretty good," replied Cor-Well," said the policeman, "yez want t' watch him. This is a great place for thavin' dogs. I had a foine one like

Our friend and fellow-writer Bill Shakespeare, who was a great followe f the game back when Queen Liz was holding down the throne job in Eng-land, remarks about a certain occasion when "churchyards yawned and graves gave up their dead." This condition only happens in pugilism. It is announced that Ya'e and Har vard will probably send a team of track and field athletes to England next June if an athletic agreement can be reached between the two American universities Trainer McMurphy of the Yale team said he had not heard that the plans were perfected for such a meeting, but that arrangements will be made, if necessary, by Yale.
