

SECOND DAY OF CUBAN LIBERTY

Control of Island's Affairs Formally Transferred to Newly Elected Executives.

GOVERNOR MAGOON RETIRES.

Raising of Cuban Flag on Palace Flagstaff Marked End of American Intervention.

Pres. Gomez Receives Final Decree Turning Over Government of Island—United States Officials Depart.

Havana, Jan. 28.—Jose Miguel Gomez was inaugurated president of the Cuban republic a few minutes past noon today, amid the firing of salutes from the forts on shore and from the warships assembled in the harbor.

Havana, Jan. 28.—A new era of Cuban independence dawned today when the affairs of the island, which have been administered by American officials for more than two years as a result of the revolution against former President Palma in 1906, were formally transferred to the newly elected native executives. Jan. 28 will hereafter take rank with May 20 as a national holiday in Cuba, for it was on the latter day in 1902 that the island was first transferred to the Cuban people by the United States after a period of rehabilitation following the Spanish war.

The coming of this new day of Cuban liberty was signalled by a general display of fireworks, the screaming of rockets and bombs sending down showers of golden rain and colored lights. The streets of the city which were brilliantly illuminated and garlanded with chains of incandescent bulbs, were thronged until an early hour this morning and a carnival spirit everywhere prevailed. Thousands of people gathered around the Chief Clerk's club throughout the night where the inaugural and farewell balls were held jointly in honor of President Gomez and Vice President Zayas and Gov. Magoon, all three of whom were quickly recognized on entering the ballroom and leaving it with one spin.

The ballroom was the scene of the most brilliant functions held here since the days of the Spanish occupation.

CEREMONIES.

The ceremonies of the day began almost with the dawn, and they did not end until long after midnight. The inaugural parade, in which only native troops, civil organizations and the rural guards participated, passed under the magnificent triumphal arch erected by President Gomez.

One of the first ceremonies of the morning was the placing of a wreath on the tablet marking the house in which Jose Marti, the Cuban patriot, was born.

Next came the presentation of the new Cuban flag which was raised on the flagstaff of the palace, marking the end of the American intervention. The Cuban flag has flown throughout this period the American civil governor and the American army officer detailed to supervise the various governmental departments having really reigned throughout the day. The old flag will be sent to Washington and placed in the national museum.

Mr. Gomez, who plotted against former President Palma and who was imprisoned by him for one month and released only when Secy. of War Taft came to the island to settle the revolution of 1906, took the oath of office in the presence of the republic's president and within an hour thereafter Gov. Magoon and all the army officers who have served in an executive capacity were bound out of the harbor by the fleet.

Mr. Gomez was conveyed by the battleship Maine and Mississippi while the army officers travelled on board the transport, the McClellan. Mr. Gomez is to be knighted by King George V. He will take a train direct to Washington. The McClellan will proceed to New York.

PRESIDENT GOMEZ.

Jose Miguel Gomez goes into power as leader of the Liberal coalition party and as a result of the overwhelming vote of the Cuban people in the elections last fall. The Cuban people had against former President Palma that he was the choice of the American government. No such complaints can be made in the case of President Gomez, for the Americans studiously avoided anything savouring of advice or suggestion to the candidates or the platform. The call for the election of President Gomez was recorded this morning from his home directly to the palace by detachments of troops and rural guards. He rode in the same carriage with Gov. Magoon who called for him with a native military guard of honor.

The ceremonies of inauguration at the palace were brief. Precisely at noon President Gomez stepped out upon the balcony overlooking the Plaza de Armas and took the oath faithfully to enforce the laws of the republic and defend the constitution. The oath was administered by the chief justice of the supreme court. Afterwards President Gomez, who is more of a soldier than a speaker, made a short address from the balcony.

Returning to the reception room of the palace Gomez received from the hands of Mr. Magoon the final decree turning over all the affairs of the island together with an order from Washington terminating Mr. Magoon's commission as provisional governor.

A special session of the senate this morning. The house of representatives was also in session.

IS AMERICAN GIRL HELD IN BOGAGE

Miss Dora Sauvageot of Tacoma Said to be a Prisoner in an Alpine Mountain Village.

MOTHER'S STARTLING STORY.

Has Distinguished Appearing German Arrested for Assault With Intent To Commit Murder.

Tacoma, Wash., Jan. 28.—A startling story, revealing the allegation that Miss Dora Sauvageot, a young Tacoma society girl and a talented musician, is held in practical bondage in a small village in the Alps, is brought to light through the arrest of Joshua Klein, a distinguished appearing German, on a warrant charging assault with intent to commit murder.

Mrs. Sauvageot and Miss Culbertson spent several hours with Prosecuting Attorney McMurray yesterday giving details of the trouble which ended in the dramatic incident Tuesday.

Early last year Mrs. Sauvageot and Mrs. Anna Karasak, both widows, decided to send their daughters, Dora Sauvageot, aged 20, and Rose Karasak, aged 23, to Europe to study music.

Before their departure in March, according to the women's story, the girls met Joshua Klein, a highly educated German, again meeting him in Vienna. It is believed that some influence the girls were induced to leave the places where they were studying and go to an institution in the mountains near Zurich.

Several months later, it is said, Mrs. Sauvageot received a letter from her daughter which induced her to go to Vienna and then to the mountain resort, finally securing possession of her daughter. When the mother and daughter had returned to New York the mother decided to visit relatives in Kentucky and after the mother's departure the girls were induced to return to Vienna instead of coming to Tacoma.

Tuesday Klein came to Tacoma and visited the Sauvageot home. Mrs. Sauvageot employed a detective to follow him and he was seen to call in any veterinary surgeon he wished and he pays for the test himself. If the cow proves to have tuberculosis, it is a dead loss to the farmer.

"We have found in some cases the farmer chases the cow around a field several times to raise the temperature just before the veterinarian arrives."

MEASUREMENTS OF GREEK THEATER AT TAOMINA

Chicago, Jan. 28.—Measurements of the Greek theater at Taomina, Italy, the auditorium referred to in ancient history, and famous the world over because of its perfect acoustic properties, have been brought to Chicago by Architect J. E. O. Priddmore, the ruins of the theater, which has been completely demolished by the earthquake of Dec. 28, Mr. Priddmore probably has the only measurements in existence. He believes he will find the key to the wonderful acoustic properties of the theater and is confident that when he has made his diagrams he will discover the secret of construction that will be invaluable in the future building of American auditoriums.

Mr. Priddmore left Messina four days before the quake.

Already she has done much to improve the lot of working girls, but believing that the conditions in the clear factories are especially unhealthy, she has been reported to have been working in the mines of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Co. and expressed a desire to go on a personal tour of inspection among the factories.

LEGISLATIVE PLEADED GUILTY

Charges Made Against Land Board, "Graft" and "Payment of Political Debts."

LEASE OF MINERAL LANDS

Motion to Appoint Committee to Investigate, Lost—Wrangle Over Capitol Building Fund.

(Special to the "News.")

Boise, Jan. 28.—Sensational charges in which the words "graft" and "payment of political debts" occurred, were made from the mouths of a number of senators and representatives at this morning's session of the legislature, at the state land board. The session arose over the disclosure of a 50 year lease of 8,000 acres of mineral land in New Porce county to George W. Thompson, banker-politician of Lewiston, for the sole purpose of extracting iron ore therefrom. Three of the four members of the state land board signed and the governor signed will not be until conditions are thoroughly investigated. The proposition is on royalty basis in which 15 cents per ton for all ore extracted must be paid to the state. The lease is for 50 years, 5,000 tons a year for the first five years and 5,000 tons per year thereafter, until the 50 years have expired.

THOMPSON'S STATEMENT.

When interviewed on the matter Thompson said: "I have proved lease in a fair square, open and above board business proposition. Secrecy was maintained for good and sufficient reasons. I had to be protected as against interference. I am signing an affidavit to determine the scope and character of the deposits. I am willing to admit for argument's sake that iron ore exists in paying quantities. The only question is as to the royalty. Whether or not it is so small."

Both the house and senate were scenes of sensational charges this morning and determined efforts were made in each to get through a motion demanding the appointment of a committee charged with the duty of investigating the matter of the proposed lease, but the motions were lost by small margins.

CAPITOL BUILDING FUND.

The senate was the scene of another wrangle over McCall's motion to start an investigation into the capitol building fund in which charges of carelessness, extravagance and corruption were made in connection with its expenditures. The question carried, as presented a few days ago and in the discussion this morning a motion prevailed which will compel the Custer county senator to appear before the state affairs committee within five days and substantiate his charges of "extravagance and corruption."

WHERE IS HOLZHEIMER?

Still another sensation was sprung at the capitol when the sheriff of Hancock county authorized the arrest of this county's police chief, Edward L. Holzheim, member of the house of representatives from Bank county. The charge against him is forgery, but the member cannot be found. He is reported to have fled to the night, but up to this hour his whereabouts is unknown to his colleagues in the legislature. It is reported that he left yesterday for Pocatello. The motion to appoint a committee to investigate the matter of the alleged forgery of Junius Brannan to a deed conveying property to another, Mr. Holzheim is a real estate man, and his friends say that he will be able to clear himself perfectly, that the matter was by power of attorney with which the party concerned has since become dissatisfied.

ENGINEER WARD DENIES REP. RAINEY'S CHARGE

New York, Jan. 28.—Following a statement yesterday issued in behalf of William S. Harvey, who was mentioned in the recent speech by Congressman Henry C. Rainey of Illinois, as being connected with the "infamous railroad deal," on the isthmus of Panama, denying that Mr. Harvey was in any way interested in the matter.

Edward S. Ward, a prominent civil engineer identified with work on the isthmus, comes forward with a letter in which he refutes that part of Mr. Rainey's speech referring to William S. Harvey and others. The letter says in part:

"As I am the individual who alone and unassociated with any other person or persons submitted to the government of the republic of Panama, the railroad proposition thus characterized, but which I am confident will stand the test of competent and conscientious criticism. I am confident of the opportunity of examining Mr. Cromwell and each and all the other gentlemen named by any connection whatever with such proposition and I unhesitatingly assume the entire responsibility for having submitted it and I challenge Representative Rainey to submit a fair proposition of one better calculated to promote the welfare of the people of the republic of Panama."

LEWIS RE-ELECTED.

Indianapolis, Jan. 28.—It is authoritatively announced by friends of Thomas L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, that the count of the ballots has proceeded far enough to show that he has been re-elected by a majority of between 15,000 and 20,000 over his opponent, John Walker of Illinois.

CHICAGO CRIB ACCIDENT.

Investigation Tends to Show It Was a Regular Fire Trap.

Chicago, Jan. 28.—At the resumption today of the inquest on the victims of the crib fire, Coroner Hoffman and State's Attorney Wayman, renewed their investigation into the dangerous condition of the crib prior to the fire in which almost 20 lives were lost. The testimony of many witnesses indicated that the crib was a fire trap and that frequently it had been found with out even the manager protection of the tug which rescued many of the victims. The fire broke out in the crib of the crib had become oil-soaked through careless handling of large oil receptacles.

The spread of the fire was declared so rapid that it would have been impossible to save all the employees of the crib, even if the tug had been moored at the crib when the fire broke out.

THROWN FROM HORSE, KILLED.

Wadsworth, Nev., Jan. 28.—While riding along his big estate of the Wadsworth Light & Power company this morning, Robert Eaden, aged 12, and son of the president of the company, was thrown from his horse and his head dashed out against the trunk of a tree. It was the last he saw, according to ride along the ditch to look for possible breaks. When he failed to return at the usual time, his father made search and found the lifeless body which was lying on the ground. The accident, standing watch over it.

PLEADED GUILTY

With Bravado Air They Answer To Charge Filed by the County Attorney.

WILL TO BE SENTENCED

Say They Will Admit Crime in District Court and Take Twenty Years in Prison.

Blarney, unkempt, filthy in appearance, but with an air of bravado, Frank Leland and Ike Goldberg, two of the six men rounded up by the police near Beck's hot springs Tuesday morning, appeared in the criminal division of the city court before Judge J. M. Bowman this morning to answer to the charge of highway robbery. There was only one complaint filed against the two men and none against the other four taken into custody during the raid. Leland and Goldberg are charged with holding up and robbing Cliff Flint on Tuesday evening.

When the complaint, which was sworn to by Patrolman H. D. Lyon, was read to them, Goldberg looked at Leland as if waiting for a cue to answer to the charge. The pair exchanged glances and then pleaded guilty in a sullen and defiant manner. They also waived preliminary examination and were held to answer to the district court. Judge Bowman fixed bail bonds at $2,000 each, and the prisoners were immediately handcuffed together, and Leland's left wrist was attached to the right wrist of M. P. Young, charged with grand larceny, and the three marched to the county jail in custody of Deputy Sheriffs Corlies and Ed Emery. The two men said they would plead guilty in the district court and take twenty years for their crimes. This will probably be done at

The man Goldberg has been in the custody of the police before. Last week he was arrested for vagrancy but was released. Leland looks the part of a hardened criminal, and his features somewhat resemble those of the notorious Joe Sullivan, doing a life term for the murder of Patrolman Egan.

The other four men, Charles Weekland, J. M. Caulfield, T. J. Stone and Frank Rogers, are charged with vagrancy, and the police were unable to get any further incriminating evidence against them. This afternoon they were given "floaters" and were ordered to leave the city at once.

M. P. Young, the man arrested Monday on the charge of stealing a watch from W. M. Muller of Pocatello, Utah, is still in the city, waiting to be charged with grand larceny.

STRANGE STORY OF KIDNAPING OF A BOY

Chicago, Jan. 27.—Mrs. Richard Gibson has asked the police to explain the kidnaping and mysterious disappearance of her five-year-old son Archie. The boy was snatched from his mother in a crowded street of theater-goers Sunday night and 48 hours later was found back in his home by a strange woman who hid her identity in flight. In the interim Mrs. Gibson had the civil police department aroused and circulated $500 handbills offering $50 reward for trace of the missing boy.

The police believe some woman with a consuming affection for children, stole the boy and was frightened into returning him when Mrs. Gibson made plans for his recovery.

"The woman who grabbed me took me on a street car," the boy told his mother. "We went into a fine house. A man opened the door for us, and we went home, but she sent the man out and he came back with candy and ice-cream. Next day she got me some toys and some more candy. She kissed me and asked me if I loved her. She stayed with her. She stayed in the house and read to me all day and then got my coat and hat and said she had to take me home. We got on the car and rode home. My house. Then she stayed in the house."

BURGLAR EMERGES FROM HOLE AND IS CAUGHT

San Francisco, Jan. 28.—After 19 days' imprisonment in a cramped and damp cell, a burglar emerged from a hole in the wall of a cigar store which he is charged with having twice robbed, Edward F. Rand, a civil engineer who claims to be a graduate of the Kentucky state university, was arrested yesterday while endeavoring to escape from the burrow. Rand crawled into the tunnel nearly three weeks ago and before he could get out again the police discovered his hiding place. The man who had twice robbed Gunt's cigar store had made his entry through the cellar. They at once posted a watch and Rand's retreat was cut off though his presence in the existence of the tunnel was unknown. Rand burrowed about until he made his way into a saloon which adjoined the cigar store. There he obtained blankets, food, and an electric light which he connected up to illuminate his underground prison. For 19 nights the policeman on the beat sat in the dark in the cellar where Rand's hole had been found.

Unable to escape by daylight because of his suspicious appearance and afraid to attempt it at night because of the presence of the police, Rand finally crawled out of his hole and surrendered. He claims that he did not rob the safe of the cigar store as he is charged, but that this was done by a companion who disappeared. The question of the strongbox by watching through a hole in the floor as it was opened each morning.

LOOKS LIKE CLEAR CASE AGAINST COUNTERFEITERS

San Francisco, Jan. 28.—Robert Bradley and John Livingston, arrested by secret service agents on a charge of counterfeiting, will appear today for formal arraignment. Harry M. Moffatt and Joseph N. Nye, the government officers who made the arrests, submitted the prisoners only after prolonged resistance and use of a revolver. The secret service men gained possession of three complete molds for the manufacture of half and quarter dollars and a number of the spurious coins were found in the Mason street apartment where the men and women were taken to earth.

Bradley and his companion had been under surveillance for several weeks.

RESOLUTIONS OF LIVESTOCK MEN

Want Congress to Prohibit Railroads from Advancing Rates Without Approval.

FOR CULBERSON-SMITH BILL

Road Asked to Adopt Reasonable Rules and Regulations on Return Transportation.

Colorado Delegates Strongly Opposed To Policy of Federal Control of The Public Lands.

Los Angeles, Jan. 28.—The American National Livestock Association convened this morning for its final session or the present convention. It was apparent before the assembling of the delegates today that the minority representing the Colorado Cattle and Horse Raisers' Association would make a strong fight in opposition to the report of the committee on resolutions in reference to the policy of federal administration of the public domain.

Former United States Senator J. M. Carey, of Wyoming, chairman of the committee on resolutions announced that the committee was ready to report. The resolutions as adopted by the unanimous vote of the committee follow:

THE RESOLUTIONS.

A summary of the report of the committee on resolutions reads as follows: Congress is memorialized to enact a law which shall prohibit any railroad company from advancing interstate rates, fares and charges, except upon approval of the interstate commerce commission after notice thereof to the interested parties in such cases as the commission shall deem necessary; that parties shall have the right to complain of any proposed advance in rates whereupon it shall be the duty of the interstate commerce commission to suspend the taking effect of such proposed advance until such time as the rates shall be heard; and that the interstate commerce commission shall be authorized to suspend and to determine whether the same are just and reasonable.

Heartily endorsing the bill pending in Congress known as the Culbertson-Smith car and transportation bill, Congress is memorialized to enact a law to provide for a minimum speed limit for the transportation of livestock and other perishable freight of not less than 20 miles an hour.

The railroad is respectfully requested to adopt reasonable rules and regulations with respect to granting return transportation for the attendants of livestock shipments.

Favoring adequate and needed protection to all livestock and its products and approving such modification and adjustment of our tariff relations with foreign countries, especially with Europe that will increase American export trade in livestock and meat, and meat products, by authorizing the executive to make commercial agreements under maximum duties to be fixed by congress and that the executive should have the aid and advice of an expert tariff commission in negotiating and negotiating such agreements.

Recognizing that James Wilson, secretary of agriculture, has served his country faithfully and with efficiency and that the policies which he has pursued are of lasting benefit to the farmers and stock raisers of the entire country, that the executive of the livestock interests in convention assembled tender him their sincere thanks.

Trusting Congress to make appropriate commendation with the magnitude and importance of the work of conducting the livestock industry.

Tendering the thanks of the organization to President Roosevelt for his efforts in behalf of the livestock industry.

Commending the administration of the forestry service under Mr. Gifford Pinchot as having been conducted along practical and business-like lines with a view to obtaining the greatest use of the forest consistent with their preservation.

Heartily endorsing the bill endorsed in Congress by Senator Curtis and Congressman Scott as a "reasonable, just and equitable measure, that under business-like administration would result in the conservation of the forest and agriculture interests of the west."

Extending thanks to the officers of the association and citizens of Los Angeles.

COLORADO OBJECTS.

The Colorado representatives vigorously objected to the policy, formulated with reference to federal land control. The delegates of the Colorado association, five in number, led by former state Senator E. M. Emmons at once opened a fight in opposition to the policy of Mr. Pinchot and the United States forest service.

Resolutions were offered by former Senator E. M. Emmons of Littleton, Colo., delegate from the Cattle and Horse Raisers' Association as a substitute for those portions of the report of the resolutions committee referring to federal control of public domain as follows:

"Favoring the passage of laws for the adequate protection of timber on all the public lands, and the establishment of a national policy, which will encourage the growth of timber on private lands, the conservation of the public lands to the states in which they lie; the putting of timber on the free list; to the end that it may replenish our diminishing supply and lower the price of building material to the people; and the restriction of the forest service to the growth and protection of timber."

CLEVELAND FOREST RESERVE.

Washington, Jan. 28.—The president today signed a proclamation adding more than 600,000 acres to the Cleveland national forest in southern California and eliminating 1,662 acres of land not considered suitable for national forest purposes. After these changes the forest has a present area of more than 1,575,000 acres. This forest, originally called the San Jacinto, was named by President Roosevelt in July last in honor of the late President Cleveland, who created that and 13 other reserves.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY IN 1907.

DISCOUNT RATE UNCHANGED.

London, Jan. 28.—The rate of discount of the Bank of England remains unchanged today at 5 per cent.
