

quantity of goods was stored in the upper part, there was plenty of dry food for the flames. Dr. McIntyre's residence being of adobies some resistance was offered to the fire. The next building north was a frame structure occupied by Drs. Condon and Ogden. The firemen climbed on to the house north of this, and a passage way running between these two buildings they directed their main efforts towards cutting off the fire at this point, and kept up a steady stream, in spite of the scorching heat, while another good stream was directed to Mrs. Wright's adobie house next to the main fire on the south.

A bucket brigade was organized at the rear of these buildings, where barns, sheds and outhouses were being consumed, and the water from the canal running along the bench was turned loose upon the site of the conflagration.

The value of the water tanks built by the city in the business part of town received another practical demonstration. If it had not been for them it is quite likely that all the stores on Main Street would have been destroyed. After three tanks were exhausted, water from the canal was admitted into one of them, but carrying much dirt in its course it choked up the engine, and this with the sediment in the tanks broke one of the valves and rendered the engine useless.

But fortunately the conflagration by this time was under control. The wind had subsided, and persistent efforts at both ends of the fire had stopped its course, the falling in of the remains of the furniture stores had brought the main flames to the ground, and by hard work with buckets, obtained at W. H. Pideck's store, water conquered and the town was saved.

On the west side of the street the fronts of the stores were kept wet while the fire lasted.

The damages will reach from $10,000 to $12,000. The principal losers are J. Boyle & Co., who owned the building in which they carried on business, and had unpacked furniture stowed away in the rear and upper story and in a granary behind the Wright house; James Gale, who lost all the goods in the upper story; Douglass and Robbins who owned the building, and Dr. McIntyre whose house is perfectly gutted. Mrs. Wilson Wright's house is damaged to the value of about $200. It was saved by heroic exertions, in which several citizens besides firemen took an active part. Mr. Israel Canfield owned the frame building occupied by Drs. Condon and Ogden, the former of whom lost his books and notes against persons owing him for medical services to the amount of about $1,700. There is no insurance on anything except in favor of Boyle & Co., who are insured for $3,500.

Cinders and burning embers were carried by the breeze to a considerable distance northward, firing one of Prest. D. H. Peery's houses and a house belonging to Mr. James Horrocks, but prompt action prevented any damage.

Mr. Ed. Davis, conductor of the U. C. freight train, was overcome by the heat and exertion while working with "the boys," and is very sick to-day from the effects. Nothing but praise can be accorded to the fire department, who worked nobly and with excellent effect, under the direction of their chief, Robt. Snadden, and their ex-chief, Joshua Williams, a most efficient fireman.

This morning the smoldering remnants of the burnt buildings made a black and ugly ruin in the centre of Ogden City. It is supposed the fire originated through some person smoking near the ice-house referred to, and the straw around it catching fire communicated with the buildings, which flared up in an instant. It is a matter of congratulation that the conflagration spread no farther.

FROM FRIDAY'S DAILY, JULY 6.

Lost Herself.—This afternoon a ten-year old girl was found wandering upon the streets. She said she had been living at the house of Mr. George B. Bailey, Mill Creek, and that she had walked from there to the city to find her aunt, whose name, she asserted, is Sarah Young. She was unable to find this lady, however, and was anxious to get back to Mill Creek. Mr. Jesse W. Fox took her to his residence until he could find some one to take her back to Mr. Bailey's.

She seems somewhat eccentric, and has a peculiarly emphatic way of expressing herself.

Resigned.—District Attorney Howard has declined to act as a delegate to visit Washington in October, in behalf of the anti-"Mormon ring," to present its resolutions and memorial asking for special legislation to disfranchise the "Mormons." He has tendered his resignation to the "ring" committee.

Shot His Hand.—On Wednesday, Alma Riser, son of Brother George C. Riser, went to Lake Point, with the excursion, and stopped over night at Bishop Kesler's place, Point of the Mountain. While there, at five o'clock yesterday morning, he accidentally shot himself, with a pistol, in the left hand, the bullet passing clear through it. He came to the city last night.

In Old Ireland.—Elder John Mc Carthy writes from Belfast, Ireland, June 20. He says that he went to Ireland on private business, but has since received a mission to preach the Gospel. He has passed through Westmeath, Meath, Wicklow, Dublin, Armagh and County Down. No person without money or friends can stay two nights in one town, nor can any one preach in the streets without rendering himself liable to spend three months in prison.

Genealogical.—E. S. Whittaker, of Cincinnati, Ohio, is engaged in compiling a historical, genealogical chart of the Whitacre, Whitecar, Whittaker and Whitaker families, from a remote period until the present time, and when completed he intends to publish it. He would be pleased to receive all the information he can from persons of any of the names in this part of the country. Those communicating with him should enclose a stamped envelope addressed to themselves.

Normal Students.—In accordance with a provision of the School law, that forty pupils annually shall be instructed free of charge for tuition, &c., in the Normal Department of the University of Deseret, the County Superintendents will please send in the names of persons nominated for students at an early date. The number of students, to which each of the several counties is entitled for the ensuing University School year, is as follows—

Beaver 1, Box Elder 2, Cache 4, Davis 2, Iron 1, Juab 1, Kane 1, Millard 1, Morgan 1, Rich 1, Salt Lake 8, Sanpete 3, Sevier 1, Summit 1, Tooele 1, Utah 5, Wasatch 1, Washington 1, Weber 4.

O. H. RIGGS,
Ter. Supt. Dist. Schools.

Make It a Success.—That the approaching Jubilee, celebrating Pioneer Day, at the Tabernacle, may be a complete success, it should necessarily be upon a large scale, commensurate with the extent of the huge building. It is not only desirable that the Sunday Schools of Salt Lake City should take part, but also those of the settlements throughout this county and Davis County. Those who purpose participating should lose no time in training. The cards with the eight songs forming the children's portion of the programme can be had on application from Brother George Goddard.

We have been requested, by the management of the jubilee, to offer the foregoing suggestions.

Advice to Bee-Keepers.—Having been informed that certain parties in Mill Creek have lost all their bees with foul brood, and are selling their hives to other bee men, this is to warn all bee men not to buy second-hand hives. If any man will sell a diseased hive to another he is not honest. If those having diseased bees would destroy them when found they would save more bees in the end, and a great deal of trouble. It is very easy to get a few tools and a little lumber and make your own hives, and then you don't run any risk of the disease. Be careful of your bees, and not take too much honey from them this season. If the grasshoppers should come and destroy the flowers it would leave them short of honey for winter. There is no cure for foul brood but to destroy it when found.

SAMUEL MCKAY.

Missionary.—This morning we received a call from Elder John H. Freeman, of the 10th Ward of this city, who returned last night from a mission to the States. He left this city on the 28th of October, and labored, during the whole of the time he was absent, in Wisconsin, travelling in fourteen counties of that State.

He did a great amount of preaching, in churches and school-houses, which, with one exception, were freely opened to him.

He met with a number of families in Wisconsin who had belonged to the Church for some time, some of whom expect to come to Utah this season.

Elder Freeman requests us to say that if persons having relatives, or acquaintances, in the east will send them the NEWS, they will do a great deal of good. Many other Elders have made the same remark relative to this journal as a missionary aid.

FROM SATURDAY'S DAILY, JULY 7.

On the Way.—Elder John Rowberry, having been released to return home, is traveling with the company which left Liverpool on June 27th.

Hot, Hotter.—These are the days when the mercury rushes up to ninety and such like figures. Well, it takes about 122 more to bring us up to the boiling point.

Missionaries Going.—Elders O. H. Riggs, Samuel H. Hill, Alma B. Dunford, Nelson Empey and Walter Beatie purpose leaving for Europe, on Monday morning, on missions.

Home From the South.—We understand that Elder Brigham Young, Jr., had to return to the city, from the south, a few days ago, on account of sickness, but we are pleased to be able to state that he has greatly improved, being now able to be around as usual.

Dividing Lines.—The south boundary line of the 18th, 20th and 21st Bishop's Wards is South Temple Street and the north one as far as the City extends in that direction. The 18th extends from East Temple Street to Pine Street, the 20th from the last named street to Maple Street, and the 21st from the last mentioned street eastward as far as the city extends in that direction.

In England.—Elder Alma L. Smith writes from Sheffield, with-out-date. He speaks of his pleasant trip across this continent to New York, visit there, trip across the ocean, reception in Liverpool, all enjoyable, also the appointment of himself and Brother Warren to labor in the Sheffield Conference, under the presidency of Elder Wm. C. A. Smoot, where they were, at time of writing, in fulfilment of their appointment.

Don't Like It.—Judge Boreman complains to the proprietor of this paper of our articles upon him. No one kows better than His Honor that in our references to him, we have not transcended the bounds of the strictest propriety. If our articles were abusive and low-flung, like those of a certain paper which he helps to support, he might complain with good cause. The habit of straining at a gnat on the one hand and swallowing camels and elephants on the other, is characteristic of some men at this day as well as formerly.—Beaver Square-Dealer, July 3.

Gone to the Asylum.—Joseph Sherman, who has been confined in the city jail for a long time, has been removed to the Insane Asylum. The mind of this lunatic appears to have been solely engrossed with the spirit of murder. On examining the cell he has just vacated, a number of murderous weapons were found by the jailor. Among them was a knife fastened to the end of a broom-handle, another fixed to the end of a short walkingstick, and still another inserted in the end of a short banister, and several other knives. He also had a couple of steel manacles hung by a piece of rope to a huge club, and another implement was a slung shot, sewed up in buckskin. It is supposed that those articles were supplied him, at different times, by the prisoners.

Tidal Wave and Earthquake.—Elder Richard G. Lambert writes from the Sandwich Islands, June 13th—

"We had quite a tidal disturbance here on the 10th of last month, resulting in the destruction of much property and loss of life. The sea receded and came up again about every ten minutes, going out past low water mark and coming up past high water mark. In some places the tidal wave went up over the land, sweeping all before it. Part of the town of Halo was swept away, or rather carried inland, and quite a number were drowned. On the 31st of May there was quite a severe shock of earthquake on the Island of Hawaii. It was sufficiently powerful to throw down all the stone walls and houses."

Man Shot.—This morning young Gaines, a horsethief, a prisoner at the County Jail, was engaged in carrying water, under guard of deputy sheriff R. Burton. When near the door of the Court House he dashed a bucket of water in the deputy's face and fled, leaping over a fence into an adjoining lot. Deputy Burton gave chase, and other parties tried to head Gaines off from other directions. He was called upon to stop, but gave no heed to the summons, and therefore, to prevent his escape, Mr. Burton fired a shot at him from a pistol. The bullet entered the left side, near the back, and, passing through to the front, lodged near the surface, whence it was extracted by Dr. Richards, who is attending upon the wounded man. Gaines said he spit blood as soon as he was shot, and if this be so there is a strong probability that the ball hit the lungs, which would render the wound dangerous.

Gaines is the same person who aided in securing some of the prisoners who escaped from the Penitentiary, when he himself was serving out an old term, about a year and a half ago. He is considered a very hard case.

Third Company.—Unless some other arrangements than those now under consideration should be made, it is expected that the third company of this season's emigration will leave Liverpool on or about the 12th of September.

A Big Beauty.—We were shown this morning one of the finest specimens of the fuschia we have ever seen in any country. The large pendant flower with its four brilliant scarlet upturned leaves, has a purple corolla with three distinct rows of petals, delightfully tinted, and with its marked contrasts of bright green, scarlet violet and purple forms a "thing of beauty," which would be "a joy for ever," if heat and time did not soon make it "but a little faded flower." The fuschia was raised by Mr. Wm. Perkes of this office, who is very successful in floricultural experiments. A taste for floral varieties is one of the evidences of the progress of true civilization and should be encouraged in every community.

Incendiary.—From Mr. Henry Bisel we have some particulars regarding the burning of Thayne's Mill, situated three miles up Mill Creek Cañon, early on Thursday morning. Mr. Bisel having rented the mill, himself and wife were stopping there, and, at about 12:15 on the morning named, they were aroused by the crackling of the flames, and soon discovered that the mill was on fire.

It being impossible to arrest the progress of the devouring element, as a matter of course the mill was soon reduced to ashes.

Mr. Bisel has no doubt that the fire was incendiary, and that two men were engaged in it. He succeeded in finding the tracks of a man from the mill to a place where a light wagon and team had turned out of the road, half or three-quarters of a mile below the mill. Another person must have stopped with the team, there being no evidence of its having been tied up.

The mill was valued at fifteen hundred dollars. The proprietor, Mr. J. J. Thayne, resides near Kamas, on the Provo River.

Whoever the parties are who committed this deed, they have been guilty of a most cowardly and dastardly act, for which there can be no justification.

Silk Association.—The following was handed in to-day—

FIREMAN'S HALL,
Salt Lake City,
July 6th, 1877.

The Deseret Silk Association met pursuant to adjournment, Mrs. Zina D. Young presiding.

Mrs. Young gave a brief report of her travels in the south. She had talked considerably on silk raising, and found that a good spirit prevailed and a lively interest was manifested in this branch of home industry. Many were planting out trees and cuttings. She had sent considerable mulberry seed to different parts of the Territory. She advised those raising worms this year to save a little more seed than they would need themselves, as we had run short this year, and the prospects were that we would require more another year, and for those who have good, healthy trees to save some mulberry seed. It was a mission placed on the sisters, at the late Conference at St. George, and she felt like doing her part, and advised those present to use their influence in the same direction.

Mr. Hulbert said our silk was the best in the world; he was silk weaver, and had woven silk from all parts of the world where silk was raised. He had sent a sample of our silk to Patterson, N. J., and received an answer that the parties would purchase all the silk we could raise.

The meeting was further addressed by Mrs. Barney, and several others, after which a motion was made and carried that the Association send a copy of our pamphlet to every President of a Relief Society in the Territory with a request that they make good use of the same, this being done for the sole purpose to further the work along.

Meeting adjourned until the first Friday in August, at 5 p. m.

R. SIMPSON, Sec'y.
