

made in this establishment have the soles riveted to the uppers by the patent brass clinching screws, strongly hammered on solid iron lasts, a process which produces an almost imperishable fastening. This style of soles has proven well suited to the wants of the people in this Territory, for the reason that the dryness of the climate, and other causes, has a tendency to make pegged or machine sewn soles lose their hold in a very short time.

Z. C. M. I. and other co-operative stores and merchants are now purchasing largely of Mr. Rowe, as he has proven to their satisfaction that his home-made goods are as cheap as the imported, and the quality is preferable to most of the latter. It would be well if his make of boots and shoes was sold in all the stores throughout the Territory, as the demand thus created would have the beneficial effect of providing employment for many more than the forty or fifty persons now under his management. The financial prosperity of the community depends greatly on the development of home manufactures, and men of industry and business ability like Mr. R., who will create remunerative employment for the people, deserve encouragement. His success should prove a decided incentive to others to invest money, brains, and energy in similar home enterprises.

FROM THURSDAY'S DAILY, SEPT. 20.

Seriously Ill.—We regret to learn that Elder David M. Stuart, President of the St. Louis Missionary District, has been seriously ill for some time, in his field of labor. He is expected to arrive home within a few days.

Returned.—Mr. W. F. Neslen, of the Eagle House, returned last evening from the east, whither he has been to purchase goods for S. P. Teasdel, one of Salt Lake's live merchants. Mr. Neslen looks and feels well after his journey, and has made extensive purchases in New York and Chicago, for the fall trade, part of which—a large stock of fancy notions—has already arrived.

Enough.—We are in receipt of another communication from Bloomington, Bear Lake Co., contradicting the letter of S. Y. D., concerning the want of mechanics in that town. As the matter has already been set right, we do not see the need of publishing anything further on the subject. There is no doubt that the Bloomington folks are a "go ahead" people, and have plenty of talent and enterprise.

S. S. Jubilee.—Ogden had a Sunday School Jubilee yesterday. This is the second for this year. The musical exercises were conducted by Prof. John Fowler. It was a great success, was numerously attended, and the juveniles acquitted themselves admirably. A third jubilee will be held before the year is out, the Sunday scholars in Weber County being so numerous that it requires three jubilees to give them all a show.

A Busy Life.—The following account, approximately full and complete, but not entirely so, of forty years labors, condensed from the diary of an Elder in Israel, residing in this city, will be interesting to our readers, the record running from 1834 to 1876 inclusive—

"I have travelled 114,575 miles, in the course of which I have crossed the Atlantic Ocean four times, and journeyed through England, Scotland, and Wales, six islands of the sea, twenty-three of the United States, and three of the Territories, including the Rocky Mountain country, Utah, Nevada, and California. I have held or attended 3,035 public meetings; preached 2,479 discourses, besides thirty-two funeral sermons during the last four years; attended scores of funerals and preached at most of them; attended ninety-six conferences abroad, sixty-one general conferences of the church, several hundred councils with presiding authorities and also many other important councils, numerous high council meetings, 123 meetings of Elders' Quorum, 1,022 prayer meetings, and 193 meetings of the School of the Prophets; established seventy-seven preaching places and organized fifty-one branches of the Church in the vineyard; confirmed 2,092 persons; ordained or assisted in ordaining eighty-three patriarchs, three presidents of stakes, sixty-seven high councillors, eleven bishops, sixty-one high priests, forty-eight seventies, 443 elders, 444 priests, sixty-four teachers, and thirteen deacons; administered by laying on of hands to more than 1,000 sick persons, many of whom have been healed by the power of God; blessed hundreds of children; set apart and blessed 898 missionaries of different kinds; assisted in setting apart and blessing many thousands of others; spent several years in total administration in the ordinances of the House of the Lord to thousands of persons, and in witnessing administrations to many thousands of others; married twenty couples; been baptized and confirmed for many of my dead friends; have baptized and confirmed, or have assisted at the baptism and confirmation of the living for many thousands of their dead friends; have witnessed similar ceremonies for many thousands more; attended to or witnessed administrations in other ordinances of the Lord's House; reported and recorded thirty of Joseph Smith's sermons, and eighty-one of Brigham Young's and of the Twelve Apostles; written 2,593 letters and received 1,588; dedicated or attended at the dedication of two baptismal fonts, twelve meeting-houses, one city-hall, one court-house, one co-operative store, and two relief society houses or stores. I collected for building the Temple in Nauvoo $1,674. I was associated two years in printing and publishing two newspapers or public journals in the States, and attended to the stereotyping of the Doctrine and Covenants. I published in England 2,500 copies of the Millennial Star, also 3,000 copies of the Doctrine and Covenants and 20,000 copies of a Proclamation of the Twelve. I have been ordained a teacher, priest, elder, seventy, and apostle. I was elected a member of the City Council of Nauvoo; have been a member of the regency of the University of Deseret, and attended the meetings of the same; was appointed chaplain of the Nauvoo Legion. I attended the dedication of the site and the laying of the corner stone of the Temple of Salt Lake City and spent 111 days overseeing the digging of the foundation of the same. I have paid $3,200 tithing in Salt Lake City. In 1858 I moved to Provo, with my family, flocks, herds, and thirty tons of freight, and prepared for burning my property at Salt Lake City; returned to the city when the difficulty was over, and met with the local authorities and the peace commissioners two days in discussing the situation and arranging peace measures. I have served as member of the Utah Legislature twenty-five years, two years in the House and the rest in the Council; was a member of the Senate of the State of Deseret; have assisted the church historian many years and compiled or assisted in compiling the history of eight apostles besides other church history; have been president of a scientific society and attended the meetings; president of an agricultural and manufacturing society many years and spent much time in the interest of the same; president of a horticultural society; president and subsequently treasurer of an irrigation company and attended the meetings of the same; member of a medical board of examination; foreman of a grand jury; member of a gardener's club and attended the meetings; member of Provo City Council, and president of a co-operative stock company. I have organized sixteen branches of the United Order, and attended many meetings of officers of the same.

Lady Professional.—This afternoon we were much pleased to receive a call from Mrs. Dr. Romania B. Pratt, wife of Brother Parley P. Pratt, who returned yesterday from the east. Before her last visit to the east, from which she has just returned, Dr. Pratt spent sixteen months in the study of medicine, in the New York Medical College, and this time she has been absent about two years, nearly the whole of that period at the Woman's Medical College, Philadelphia, one of the best institutions of the kind on the Continent, where she graduated. Besides she spent some time at other medical institutions, for the purpose of making specialties of the water cure and obstetrics.

The lady has all the necessary apparatus to immediately enter upon the active duties of her profession as physician and surgeon. She is intelligent and capable, and has shown energy and perseverance in prosecuting her studies that alone would render her deserving of success. Her office for the present will be at her residence, in the 12th Ward, where she will be found at the service of any and all requiring her professional aid. A wide field of usefulness lies before her, and doubtless she will labor as indefatigably in it as she has in attaining the qualifications necessary for her present position.

own industrious and persevering exertions. During the present year he has been equally indefatigable in the same way, having been instant in season and out of season, ready for every good word and work, and although he has already enjoyed the standard allotment of threescore years and ten of mortality, yet he still rejoices in much of his normal vigor, mental and physical, and gives promise of many more years of active, useful, and honorable service in the ministry, as well as in the ordinary secular pursuits of life.

Deseret Museum.—Received from G. Ball, Esq., of this city, a specimen of leather tanned by a new process, in which the salted hide was only in the pit sixty-three days, and completely tanned. Also specimens of various tanning materials used; some mimosa bark, from Australia; gambur extract, from Singapore; pods of the divi-divi and valonia. A very fine specimen of crystals of salt, from the Great Salt Lake, contributed by W. W. Riter, Esq., and sample of feather alum from the Spanish Fork Cañon, presented by Thomas Winter, Esq., have been added to the mineral cabinet.—O. N. Adams, Esq., has contributed a fine specimen of ore assaying over one thousand dollars to the ton, from the Silver Cloud, Camp Floyd district. Many discoveries of useful minerals are now being made, and it would be well for these to be made profitable by preparing them for the market. A good manufacturer of the various salts found so abundantly in Utah might conduct a profitable business, and give employment to numbers of "our boys."

A Beautiful Spot.—Probably the most beautiful, pleasant and convenient spot in Utah for picnic parties is Spring Lake Gardens, about four miles south of the City. The pretty little lake, fringed on the larger portion of its border with trees and shrubbery, dotted with pretty little islands and well supplied with stout sailing boats, is of itself a prominent attraction. During the last few years ample improvements have been made, the whole of the receipts as well as a considerable amount of other means, being applied in making additional attractions. The grounds are well supplied with patent and ordinary swings, trapeze apparatus, croquet grounds, conveniences for the modern game of "ring toss," &c.

The Deciding Game.—The concluding game of the base ball series between the Deserets and Red Stockings, for the territorial championship, will be contested tomorrow afternoon, upon Washington Square. The game will be of unusual interest, as each nine will strive to eclipse any proficiency it has hitherto manifested, and many spectators will likely be present. The game will commence at 3.30.

The Trespass Nuisance.—Last evening, at the Bishops' meeting, a motion was adopted in relation to the herds of cows and other animals trespassing upon what is known as the "Big Field." It was resolved that, on and after Monday next, energetic steps should be taken to prevent such trespasses. Those who have been in the habit of driving their animals to the locality indicated should take notice.

District Court.—Friday, September 21st.

Alexander Tarbet vs Flagg & S. M. Co.; motion to substitute Helen Tarbet as plaintiff allowed.

Geo. M. Scott vs John Blackburn et al; ordered that an alias execution issue in this cause.

W. S. Mc. Cornick vs A. G. Hunter; defendant allowed till after the hearing of the motion to discharge attachment to file his answer.

Wedding.—Last night, at Camp Douglas, Adjutant W. W. McCammon was united in marriage to Ida, eldest daughter of Lieutenant Quartermaster Charles H. Warrens, Rev. R. M. Kirby performing the ceremony. There was a reception and marriage feast on the occasion, at the house of Lieut. Warren, in which a large number of guests from this city participated.

The newly married pair have our best wishes for their prosperity and happiness.

Grouse Creek.—We acknowledge a call from Brother B. F. Cooke, formerly of Grantsville, who is now residing at Grouse Creek. He reports a good country in that region; plenty of grass and plough land, abundance of water, and wood so close that a load can be obtained in a couple of hours. He raised a good crop of newly-broke land this season, and says the vegetables exceed in size and quality those grown in Tooele County. The range for stock is splendid.

Grouse Creek is thirty-five miles north-west of Terrace, on the C. P. R. R., and by crossing a divide ten miles of the journey can be saved. It is in Utah, and one of the Kimballs is Bishop of the settlement, composed of between thirty and forty families, with plenty of room for more. Brother Cooke is well satisfied with the place, and will make it his permanent abode.

Found Dead.—The following note, came to hand, by mail to-day. It was written upon the back of a letter in the Swedish language—

"Sep. 9th, 1877.

Editors Deseret News:
"We were coming down the east of Tintic mine, on a pathway, when we found the body of a man. He had been dead a day or so. He was badly scratched and his clothes torn. We also found a writing we cannot understand, therefore we send it to you."

BERQUIST AND WATSON."

Although the note was dated the 9th, the envelope bore the Payson postmark of Sep. 20th.

The letter in Swedish, evidently written by the deceased, is not dated. The following is the English translation of it—

"Dear Hannah and Children—

"I left Bingham Cañon on the 7th and have now been two days in company with two young men, and I am tired and have sore feet, so I shall not go with them now, and have made up my mind to stay over the night. The name of the place G—d knows. They told me it was about ten miles from here to Tintic mine. I hope I will be there in the morning, when I will send you these lines as well as some money. I hope you are all in good health and doing well. I think I will get work here. As long as I can get work I shall stop. May God bless you as my wish. It gets dark and I will stop for this time. God bless you all.

"Yours affectionately,

"E. F. FLYGARE."

We learn that Mr. Flygare was a resident of the 16th Ward of this City, where his wife, to whom the letter was addressed, and five children are living. Being out of work and in poor circumstances, he left this city for Bingham two or three weeks since, in search of employment. He formerly lived at Logan, Cache County, where he was engaged for some time as clerk in the co-operative store. Latterly he was in the employment of Mr. S. P. Teasdel, of the Eagle House of this city.

There is but little room for doubt that it was his body that was found, and it seems probable that he died from fatigue and exhaustion.

DIED.

At Hot Springs, Salt Lake County, September 13th, 1877, of teething, ELIZABETH, daughter of Thomas and Mary Ann White, aged 14 months and 11 days.
Millennial Star, please copy.

At 8 p.m. on Saturday, Sept. 15th, 1877, in South Cottonwood Ward, Salt Lake County, of Cholera Morbus, NANCY THAYNE, wife of Ebenezer Thayne and daughter of Henry Cunningham, of Boston, Canada West.

Sister Thayne joined the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints at Florence [Winter Quarters], Nebraska, in the spring of 1861, and moved the same year to this Valley, her husband and herself and family taking up their residence at South Cottonwood, where they have lived ever since. She died firm in the faith of the gospel. Her husband had been called to go to Arizona, and her last labor was packing up and making preparations for this journey. She leaves her husband and six children to mourn her departure. Her funeral was numerous attended; Bishops Rawlings, and Phillips and Elder Edward Stevenson addressed the congregation.—[Com.]

At Brigham City, on the 11th inst., of scarlet fever and black canker, SUSANNAH, aged two years; on the 13th, WILLIAM GEORGE, aged three and a half years; and on the 16th, ELLEN JANE, aged seven years and nine months, of the same disease, all being the children of George and Elizabeth Gidney.

Brother Gidney's family have been visited with very severe sickness and affliction within the last two weeks, and have the deep sympathy of the community.—[Com.]

At Mant, Sept. 12, 1877, of inflammation of the stomach, JAMES C. BROWN, Jr., son of James C. and Catherine Brown, aged 9 years and 15 days.
