DEAL CLOSED FOR NEW PARK

Forty Acres on Fifteenth South To be Exploited by Amusement Syndicate.

BIG HANDSOME CLUB HOUSE.

Property Sold to The Alhambra Park Ice and Power Company Today for $65,000.

The Hill property below Fifteenth South, and lying between Fifth and Seventh East streets, was sold today to the Alhambra Park, Ice and Power company for the sum of $65,000. The deed was made out this morning and it will probably be filed this afternoon.

The property contains a little more than 40 acres, and of this amount there are about 22 acres of lagoons. An extensive plan of improvement has been formulated by the Alhambra company, of which S. S. Sears, a Nevada mining man, is president. It includes the building of a $15,000 clubhouse containing about 14 rooms, also a fine dancing pavilion and a general beautifying of the grounds. The whole scheme is estimated to cost $70,000 in addition to the $65,000 which has been paid for the grounds.

In addition to the above facts as given out this morning at the office of the Sears Investment company in the Judge building, it was stated that work was started on the property today and will continue until the plans of the new owners are perfected. This it was said, will not be completely done before next season, though the clubhouse and dance hall will be built this year.

The club house will be built in Moorish style, being constructed of concrete with hardwood shingles, and finished inside with hardwood. A dining room will be part of the structure, and there will be wide verandas and lounging chairs, etc., for visitors who may go from the city in automobiles. If the plans indicated today are followed the place will be approached by several beautiful drives, which will wind around lagoons.

It is the intention to build a dance hall, as it is expected to be open all the year. It is said that good support will be given to such a hall from the districts contiguous to it.

CITY MUST PAY FOR DAMAGE TO PROPERTY

Supreme Court Denies Rehearing in Case of Thomas Morris, Whose House Was Smashed.

In behalf of Salt Lake City, H. J. Diminny, city attorney, filed an application in the supreme court for a rehearing of the case of Thomas Morris against Salt Lake City and S. Birch which was denied this morning. Mr. Diminny wanted a number of questions considered. The supreme court held that they were not material to the case. The only course left for the city now is to pay the $500 damages which was done by Birch, a contractor, who laid a sidewalk in front of Morris' residence damaging his trees to such an extent that the wind blew them over onto his house. The city, however, can compel Birch under the opinion to pay half of the damages.

HUBBIE WAS WORKED.

Such is the Allegation Set Forth by Victim Eugene Barton.

In answer to his wife's complaint charging him with desertion, Eugene Barton declares in his document filed today in the Third district court that he has been imposed upon by his wife, and asks that her complaint be dismissed. In October, 1908, Mrs. Ella Barton went to California on account of her health. He transferred all his real estate to her, valued at $3,000 and all the personal property. She sold the personal property for $150 to beat the expense of transportation. While she was in California he sent her $75. She returned home last February restored in health and since that time has refused to live with him. He is now working in Bingham canyon.

Mrs. Barton asks for a divorce in her complaint alleging desertion for more than a year. She also wants to secure all the property which she has in her name.

WIFE KEEPS HER HOME.

Mrs. Justesen is Awarded Property With Her Divorce Decree.

After giving his wife, Mrs. Monetta D. Gibbs Justesen, a house and lot while on their honeymoon, Alexander Justesen attempted to acquire title to it yesterday in Judge Morse's court when his wife's suit for divorce was heard. The court granted a decree in favor of Mrs. Justesen after a bitter contest and the property, together with her former name. The property, which is located in Salt Lake City, is valued at $4,000.

Mrs. Justesen was a widow with two children, Grover, aged 7 years, and Aline, 5 years old, when she married Justesen at Blackfoot, Ida., on Nov. 30, 1907. As soon as they moved to Salt Lake Justesen gave her the house and lot which they made their home. Within a year after their marriage, Justesen began to desert her and finally failed to provide her with the necessaries of life. It was on these allegations that the decree was granted and her name restored to Mrs. Monetta D. Gibbs.

IN THE FEDERAL COURT.

The case of J. E. Lennberg vs The Utah Con. Mining company came up before Judge Marshall today in the United States district court, and was ordered continued on the motion of the plaintiff's attorney.

The case of Charles J. Shoup et al vs The Utah Con. Mining company was ordered dismissed on the motion of the Attorney for the plaintiff.

In the case of Charles J. Shoupe vs The United States Smelting company, the dismissal of the case was ordered by the court on the motion of plaintiff's attorneys.

The case of Mike Panovich vs The American Smelting and Refining company is set for tomorrow morning before Judge Marshall. The plaintiff is suing for $10,000 damages received through an overhanging mass of frozen ore falling on him while he was working at the smelters.

SUIT TO FORECLOSE.

Louis D. Marks of Cincinnati filed suit to foreclose a mortgage today against J. H. Willard Goff, Naomia Goff and I. Frank Goff which was given as security on a promissory note for $1,000. The note was executed on May 7, 1898, and became due on May 7, 1903.

THEN SHE NEVER CAME BACK.

After fitting out his wife, Mrs. Addie C. Reberger, with new clothes so that she could visit her folks in Denver, O. C. Reberger testified in Judge Armstrong's court this morning that she has failed to return. He was given a decree of divorce on the ground of desertion. They were married in Aspen, Colorado, on Jan. 20, 1894, and came here to live about four years ago. In September 1907, Mrs. Reberger went to Denver.

FOUND DEAD IN BED.

James Carr, aged 52, a bartender, who has been working at the Kennedy saloon on State street, was found dead in bed at his residence, 129 east Fourth South, at 6 a. m., today, death having evidently occurred at 2 o'clock. The cause was quick consumption from which the deceased had been suffering for some time. The remains were taken to O'Donnell's undertaking rooms preparatory to burial by the Bartenders' union. Carr was a single man, having been divorced from his wife.

WOOL CIRCULAR OF INTEREST TO GROWERS

Shareholders in National Wool Warehouse Entitled to Ship 6,000 for Each Share of Stock.

The National Wool Warehouse & Storage company has just issued its second circular, which will prove interesting reading to all of the wool growers in this intermountain country:

Salt Lake City, Utah, April 20, 1909.

To the Shareholders of the National Wool Warehouse & Storage Company, and Other Wool Growers:

Sir—Shareholders of the company are entitled, under their contract, to ship not more than 6,000 pounds for each share of stock owned, at a storage charge of 1c per pound. A shareholder who desires to ship a larger amount of wool than the number of his shares entitles him to, may do so, but the charge on the excess amount will be 1½c per pound.

The company will receive wool of good quality, and in good condition from wool growers who are not shareholders in the company, at a storage charge (which service shall include handling, insurance and selling) of 1½c per pound. Wool received from non-shareholders, as well as the excess received from shareholders, will be handled under the same terms and conditions as that received from shareholders, except that the storage charge will be 1½c per pound.

A wool grower who is not a shareholder desiring to ship his wool to the company must notify one of the directors, or loading assistants, who will communicate immediately with the proper authorities. The company will then notify the grower as to whether or not it will handle his clip.

The names and addresses of the directors are as follows:

W. Scott Anderson, Boise, Idaho; F. W. Gooding, Shoshone, Idaho; L. L. Ormsby, Boise, Idaho; E. A. Van Sicklen, Weiser, Idaho; Lewis Peuwell, Helena, Montana; Thomas Austin, Salt Lake City, Utah; T. W. Hoyer, Rock Springs, Wyoming; J. E. Cosgrin, Rawlins, Wyoming; J. A. Delfelder, Wolton, Wyoming.

The names of the loading assistants are as follows:

Sam Ballantyne, Boise, Idaho; P. G. Johnston, Blackfoot, Idaho; F. S. King, Laramie, Wyoming; G. W. Perry, Sheridan, Wyoming; W. H. Sleeper, Mercetze, Wyoming; W. W. Daley, Rawlins, Wyoming; A. E. Kimball, 21 east Second South, Salt Lake City.

This company will not speculate in, or purchase wool under any circumstances. It will, therefore, have no wool of its own to receive a preference over that stored by its shareholders or other wool growers.

Wool may be shipped at any time, as the company has ample storage facilities ready to receive it. If your wool has been wet before you were able to load it upon the cars, notify the company at once, so that it may be unloaded in Chicago at the earliest possible moment. Wool that is wet will become discolored and damaged in transit. Try to load it upon the cars as fast as sheared. Mark brands and numbers on the sides of the sacks, and not upon the bottom. Do not use a steel twine or rough twine that mixes with the wool. Use no little twine as possible.

The company will in all cases pay any freight charges when the wool is received in Chicago. Should a shareholder or other shipper during the warehouse receipt issued to himself, he must refund to the company the amount of freight paid by it.

WEATHER REPORT

The cold stress of weather is moderating with the passage of low barometric areas to the east, and the advent of a high area from the California coast. Tonight is likely to see a rather heavy frost and tomorrow will be fair with the mercury on the rise. The thermometer scored a minimum of 3 last night, just 1 degree above the freezing point. This meant 28 degrees back in the hills, which will tie up until the water supply sources and allow the swollen streams from the mountains to shrink considerably before the next melting spell comes.

The barometric pressure has increased during the past 24 hours over the middle plateau and middle slope of the Rockies, where fair weather now prevails. A low pressure area is exalted over the upper lake region, and has caused rainy and cloudy weather from the upper lakes eastward to the Atlantic coast. Low pressure still continues over the south plateau, and has caused rain or snow over portions of Utah, New Mexico, Colorado, Wyoming and Kansas.

Rumors That Northwestern Will Get Outlet to Coast Via Western Pacific.

WOULD BE HARRIMAN ASSET.

Flotation of Missouri Pacific Bond Issue Seems to be Key to Situation—New Move.

That some big moves on the railroad checkerboard are pending is the opinion of many of the well informed in railroad circles. And the latest report in regard to the manipulation of transportation lines comes in the way of a rumor that the Chicago & Northwestern, a traffic ally of E. H. Harriman, is to get control of the Denver & Rio Grande, and through that means obtain an outlet to the Pacific coast via the Western Pacific. As respectable an authority as the Boston Financial News states that this rumor is assuming definite shape in the financial world.

"It is now stated that if this deal is satisfactorily arranged, says the Financial News, Harriman banking interests will pave the way for the floating of the proposed Missouri Pacific bond issue. At first thought it may appear puzzling that the Harriman interests should wish to divert traffic which the Union Pacific now receives from the Northwestern to the Denver & Rio Grande and Western Pacific, especially when Western Pacific will be a direct competitor of the Southern Pacific. But it must be remembered that the Western Pacific will be a competitor of the Harriman roads at any rate, and it is only natural that Harriman should wish to get control of it through this deal with the Northwestern. It must also be remembered that the Harriman and Gould interests have not been for some time so thoroughly estranged as when it was first proposed to build the Western Pacific. As strong evidence of a better working agreement between the two parties note the action of the Harriman banking interests who took up the Wheeling & Lake Erie notes which had been guaranteed by the Wabash, and which would otherwise probably have been defaulted.

"The main point, however, is that the Northwestern in order to maintain its position must have an outlet to the Pacific. Harriman through the Union Pacific is a large stockholder in the Northwestern and therefore vitally interested in the future of its road. By combining the interests of the Western Pacific with the Northwestern therefore, Harriman turns the competitive Western Pacific into a valuable asset of a road in which he has large holdings and these holdings will no doubt be greatly increased by purchases of stock of the Western Pacific in the consummation of this deal."

Utah Construction Company Secures Contract for M. & S.

(Special to the "News.")

Ogden, April 22.—The main office of the Utah Construction company was advised Wednesday evening that the Oregon Short Line company had awarded that company a contract for the building of a 28-mile extension of the Minidoka & Southwestern from Twin Falls southwest. Work upon the Line will begin at once and will give employment to about 400 men.

The beginning of the work on this extension of the line is a verification of the story that a railroad would be built joining the Oregon Short Line in Idaho with the Southern Pacific in Nevada at Wells. For many years the residents of Idaho have wanted a direct outlet to California, thereby saving time and money instead of being compelled to go to California by way of Ogden or Portland.

The new line will open up one of the richest countries of two states which have never been developed on account of the absence of railroads and irrigation projects which are now being planned and carried out.

SPIKE AND RAIL.

J. G. Doolittle, general agent of the Rock Island-Frisco lines in this city has gone to Wyoming on a business trip.

Edwin Tears, Colorado passenger agent for the New York Central lines with headquarters at Denver, is in Salt Lake, accompanied by W. B. Jerome special agent of the continental business of the same road. George Kerwin of Denver and H. B. Hathaway of St. Louis, of the Chicago Dispatch, are also in the party.

J. M. Davis, general superintendent of the Oregon Short Line, has returned from an inspection tour over the lines of the Idaho division.

FLOOD SITUATION IMPROVED.

Flood conditions in all portions of the city affected are reported much improved today. This is to be accounted for in part by the advent of colder nights and also by the fact that the precautions taken by the street department are proving effective. The banks of all streams and canals have been raised to a height which it is believed will withstand the worst torrents that may be expected. The department has also cleared out all drainage ditches and the flooded sections generally are being cleared of water by this means.

HEALTH LEAGUE MEETING.

SCENES AT FUNERAL OF PETROSINO, DETECTIVE WHO WAS SLAIN IN SICILY.

Not since Henry George was buried has there been such a tremendous outpouring of people at a funeral in New York city as that which did honor to the memory of Police Lieut. Petrosino, who was slain by assassins in Palermo, Sicily. Nearly 2,000 policemen and firemen were in the procession, which numbered 7,000 marchers, including many Italian societies. It was estimated that 250,000 persons lined Fifth avenue as the procession passed. Thousands stood with bared heads while the cortege passed, and many knelt in the street near St. Patrick's church when the coffin was borne in and out of the edifice. Mayor McClellan, Police Commissioner Bingham and nearly every official of prominence in New York city was in the procession. Three thousand policemen guarded the route from the church to the Queensboro bridge, where the funeral party crossed to Long Island city.

SEEKING OLD ORE BODY.

Management of Columbus Consolidated Believes it Will Find Old Vein

Manager Tony Jacobson and Secretary Val Snow of the Columbus Consolidated company, returned from the mine at Alta today. Mr. Jacobson declared that there was nothing new in conditions at the camp, and that all work was progressing as smoothly as could be expected. The east drift off the 400 level below the tunnel he declares has now advanced 200 feet in search of the ore body which was cut off by a fault in the level above. From indications that have thus far been encountered Mr. Jacobson feels confident that the drift will again show up the rich vein that was lost.

The big ore shoot that was opened some 1,700 feet to the west of the face of this drift is growing larger each day and thus far nothing definite has been learned as to its size.

ANOTHER BEAVER COMPANY.

The old Crown Consolidated Mining & Milling company of Heber City, Wasatch county, filed its articles of incorporation today with the secretary of state. It has a capital stock of $99,000, divided into shares of 10 cents each. The company owns several claims in the Star mining district in Beaver county. Richard Jones is president; William S. VanWagoner, vice president; Simon Epperson, secretary, and George M. Jorgensen, treasurer.

WILD DOGS IN SOUTH AFRICA.

The wild dogs in Africa are more feared by the natives than any other beasts, for while they are not to be dignified by the term of game, they run in packs and seem to know that the native is afraid of them. Native burden bearers will often take their chances in passing around a buffalo herd and will hardly notice a lion, but when they hear the howl of the wild dogs they drop whatever they may be balancing on their heads and take to the trees. There they are frequently held captive until their cries summon assistance. Crossing the trail of large game, these dogs often interfere with the pursuit. At a distance the hunter is likely to mistake them for leopards or some of the smaller game. Intense disgust follows the wounding of a wild dog, for then, according to the ethics of the chase, the true sportsman must pursue and kill the beast. These dogs are not degenerates, but are natural scoundrels. They have low bodies covered with hair of coarse dog growth, bushy tails, and powerful jaws.—McClure's Magazine.

BUSINESS AND REALTY

Three building permits were issued this morning by the building inspector. They call for the expenditure of $6,000.

Plans for the new Kearns 10-story building at 132 to 138 Main street are said to be progressing satisfactorily, and it is expected that the former senator will have something definite to announce regarding the building on his return from California in a few days.

The Forest Home company of Salt Lake, to carry on a general investment and real estate business, filed its articles of incorporation yesterday with the county clerk. The capital stock amounts to $20,000, divided into shares at $1 each. A. B. Christensen is president; J. Stokes, Jr., vice president; F. W. Cope, secretary and treasurer.

The Holmes-Knox Building company was incorporated late yesterday afternoon when a copy of the articles of incorporation were filed with the county clerk. With a capital stock of $200,000, the company will deal in real estate, loans and stocks. Of the entire amount of capital stock $1,000 shares at $1 each have been set aside as treasury stock. The officers of the company are: Gus S. Holmes, president; Henry C. Goodman, vice president; Frank Knox, treasurer, and P. O. Perkins, secretary. Besides these men, Charles Tyrrell, T. H. Piggott, Jr., Harry R. Cole and W. E. Earls own stock in the company. Mr. Holmes is trustee of 100,000 shares of the stock.

At the rate the old buildings are being torn down at the corner of Second South and State streets, it is thought that the site will be ready to start excavations May 1 for the new hotel which is to be erected there by the Holmes-Knox building company. The company has just been organized with a capital of $280,000. The building will probably be four stories high, containing 150 rooms, and having one of the finest rathskellers in the country, capable of seating, it is said, 300 people. It is expected to have the building completed before Christmas.
