Mrs. Anna Kelsdzick Finds it Too Keen and Kills Her Two Children,

SHE THEN COMMITTED SUICIDE.

She Was Threatened With Starvation And Her Husband Was Hopelessly Insane.

Chicago, June 26.-Threatened with starvation and with her husband hopelessly insane in the asylum at Kanka. kee, Mrs. Anna Kelsdzick gave up the struggle for existence, killing her three small children and then ending her own life. Illuminating gas was the means of destruction she adopted. When the bodes were found early today all four had been dead several hours. The family lived in three small rooms at 965 North Roby street, and today a constable was to eject the mother and her babies from the premises for mon-payment of rent. After Mrs. Keisdzick had been served with a summons to apepear in court she decided to end the lives of herself and little ones. The three children, Bruno, Herman sented a frightful spectacle, and their bellowings could be heard a quarter of a mile distant. The battle last 20 minutes. While The King, ruler of the herd, was lying on the grass enjoying a sl-esta. Black Beauty attacked him, em-bedding his sharp horns in the side. Ever since the Whitney herd and the buffaloes that had previously been one buffaloes that had previously been one of the principal attractions of the gar-dens, were thrown jogether in one cor-ral a month ago, ill-feeling had existed between the two. Upon several occa-sions they met to settle the question of superiority, and each time The King, who was much the larger and finer an-imal, was victorious. The last of these duels was on Memorial day, when The King administered a severe thrashing to the Pranty, and after a time put an end to appirations of that animal for the leadership. "The King was peacefully dozing, evi-end to aspirations of that animal for the leadership. "The King was peacefully dozing, evi-dently fearing no act of treachery on the part of an enemy. Suddenly Black Beauty fell upon his prostrate form, and with a snort of rage, sank his sharp horns in the side of The King. Then followed a fight for the mastery that will go down in the bistory of the park as the most feroclous that was ever witnessed. Staggering to his feet after the first attack The King, with a bellow of fury, closed with his enemy, and the fight was on. "Swaying their shaggy heads from side to side, charging and wheeling, the huge animals gored each other with an abandon that struck terror to the heart of their comrades, who withdrew to view the conflict from a safe distance. All over the range the bisons strug-gled for the supremacy, their loud bel-lowings being heard far away. Keep-ers, armed with poles and plichforks, hurried to the scene, but were unable to interfere. The King put up a splendid fight, but after 20 minutes his oppon-ent backed away, rushed at him, head down, and inflicted a mortal wound through the lungs. The King sank to the sward, and was unable to rise. He ded in a few minutes, and Black Beau-ty was leader of the herd.

EFFECTIVE ATTACK ON PORT ARTHUR.

Togo Gives an Account of His Brilliant Operations Against Russian Stronghold.

RUSSIANS REFUSED BATTLE.

In St. Petersburg the Bad News is Being Withheld by the Authorities.

Tokio, June 26, 6 p. m. (Delayed in transmission.)-Admiral Togo's detailed report of his effective attack on Port Arthur last Thursday night reached Tokio today,

The report confirms the reported destruction of a Russian battleship of the Peresviet type, the disabling of a battleship of the Sevastopol class and a protected cruiser resembling the Diana and the injuring of a torpedo destroyer but throws no light on the Russian plan. The entire Russian fleet steamed out to sea in line of battle. Suddenly when within 14,000 maters from the Japanese fleet the Russian fleet refused to give battle, and steamed back to an anchorage outside the harbor where during the night the Japanese destroyers and tor-pedo boats made eight desperate at-tacks upon it. The Russian vessels reentered the harbor on Friday since which time it has failed to reappear.

pressure against the head of the Rus-sian formation. At 8 p. m. the Rus-slans changed the head of the Russian formation. At 8 p. m. the Russians changed their course and headed northward. Admiral Togo followed in a long single line ordering the destroyers and torpedo boats to prepare for an attack after sundown. At 8:22 p. m. the small flotilla swung around the rear of the Japanese fleet, and headed towards the Russians, at full speed

At 9:30 the fourteenth flotilla deliver ed the first attack on the Russian fleet, now in the rear of a point five miles outside the entrance to Port Arthur. Immediately afterwards the fifth flotli-in delivered a second attack. The Rus-sian fleet was confused, and it was impossible for it to retreat quickly into the harbor on account of the narrowness of low tide. of the channel, and possibly the MOST EFFECTIVE ATTACK.

The most effective attack was that of the sixteenth flotilla, which, at 11:30 p. m., caught the Russians rounding Sherishen. The firstclass torpedoboat Shirataka, Commander Wakabayashi, Shirataka, Commander Wakabayashi, sent two torpedoes into a battleship of the Peresviet class. She was seen to sink in a volume of smoke and fire. Other effects of the attack were not ob-served, on account of the heavy firing, which cast volumes of water over the flotilla, and the heavy cannonading, which rent the air. The searchlights from the ships and forts also blinded the Japanese. At dawn Friday a reconnaissance of the entrance was made by the fourth and fith flotillas, whose report confirm-ed that of the patrol ships as to the Admiral Togo says the moonlight, and line of the enemy prevent narro d his fleet from inflicting greater dam age, The Japanese loss was unexpectedly small. The destroyer Shirakump was struck in the cabin, and three of her cabin men were killed, and three small. The firstclass torpedoboat Chidori was struck in the engineroom; torpedoboats 64, 66 and 53 were damaged. The othrs were uninjured. In concluding his eport, Admiral Togo says: "The effect of the attack and the small loss must be attributed to the il-lustrious virtues of his majesty."

Under date of June 26 Viceroy Alexieff elegraphed the emperor as follows: tainable telegraphed the emperor as follows: "Our Port Arthur squadron, com-manded by Rear Admiral Withoft, consisting of six batileships, five cruis-ers and ten torpedo boats. put to sea at 8 o'clock on the morning of June 23.

"According to reports received from the signal stations on the Liao Tiesh Shan promontory, the ships went out without accident.

"When our vessels reached open water, the enemy's fleet, consisting of nine large ships, of which three were battleships, and 22 torpedo boats, was sighted on the horizon.

"A squadron attacked the enemy. "Up to the present I have received no news of the result of the fighting."

BISZACK REAPPEARS.

Was Believed by Police to Have Been Murdered.

Chicago, June 27 .- Coming as if from the dead after he had been reported as murdered, and after his wife had been held by the police several days on suspicion of knowing something of her husband's disappearance, Stefan Biszak

Salem, Or., June 26 .- The official canvass of the vote cast at the state election held June 6 was completed early his morning. The total vote cast was 99,315.

For congressman, First district, Binger Herman (Rep.) received 6.818 majority over R. M. Veatch (Dem.); majority over R. M. Veatch (Dem.); Second district, J. M. Williamson (Rep.) 14,553 over J. E. Simmons (Dem.) For state supreme judge. Frank T. Moore (Rep.) received 24,217 majority over Thomas O'Day (Dem.). Interest in the election centers over Moore's plu-rality. Judge Moore and Judge O'Day are both popular men with the rank and file of their raspective parties, and it is claimed that each man polled his full strength, the result being a fair basis for approximating the Republican majority in this state. Both the laws initiated by petition of the people carried. The direct primary law, which was practically unopposed, won by a majority of 39,551. HIDING THE FACTS.

St. Petersburg, June 26 .- Up to to-night the Japanese report of the loss of three Russian ships at Port Arthur has not been published here, though the authorities have allowed to be printed a statement that the squadron had made a sortle, and also the news of the loss of the Japanese torpedoboat destroy-ers. Some of the papers have even commented with satisfaction on the prospect of the fight in the open sea where the merits of the two fleets would where the merits of the two fleets would be fairly tested. An official explanation of the sup-pression of the Japanese report is that the admiralty is unwilling to unneces-sarily alarm the public by the circula-tion of such statements entirely on the authority of the enemy, and in the ab-sence of definite advices from the com-mander at Port Arthur. It is also sug-gested as possible that there has been a fight, and that the Japanese have minimized their own losses and magni-fied those of the Russians with a view of effecting the new loan which it is understood Japan is negotiating. On the other hand, according to a

There is much speculation tonight as to whether the Vladivostok squadron might not have gone out and perhaps be on the eve of joining the Port Arther fleet. A telegram from Viadivo-stok, dated June 25, which has been re-ceived here, does not mention the squadron, but it is easily conceivable that such mention might be suppressed or strategic reasons.

A general tension is evident in the city tonight. There are many rumors afloat, and every one is realizing that most important news may be expected at any moment.
