The Relief Society Women's Mercantile Association is opening a store for the sale of home manufactures in the building lately occupied by the Woman's Centennial Territorial Fair, known as the Old Constellation Building, opposite C. M. L. store.

We are now ready to receive home-made useful and ornamental articles of all kinds, which we will sell on commission.

Many of our citizens have felt the need of a place devoted exclusively to Utah productions, and now that we are, in accordance with the wishes of President Young, uniting our humble efforts in this direction, we confidently trust that we shall not only have the support of all branches of the Relief Society throughout the valleys of the mountains, but also of our brethren and all others who feel an interest in the future welfare and prosperity of Utah.

Commencing as we do without capital, we wish it distinctly understood that at present we can only sell on commission.

"Zuy Blas"—This celebrated drama, which is a favorite with such actors as Edwin Booth, E. L. Davenport, and others of like prominence, will, we understand, be produced at the Theatre on Saturday evening next, at the benefit of Mr. M. Foster. The gentleman is a careful and studious member of the local company, and, as this is the first production of the drama here, he will be likely to have a good house.

Theatre—The German Military Band gave another of its superior concerts at the Theatre last evening, with a change of programme. The audience was not so large as on Monday evening, but appeared to be equally appreciative and satisfied. The solos were on the clarinet, the cornet, and the oboe, all cleverly performed, the audience being, however, most captivated with the cornet instrumentation, which was rapturously applauded.

These able and skillful musicians play so admirably on each other that their exercises constitute an exceedingly profitable study to our local musicians and music-tasters, showing an attained perfection in precision and modulation that is charming and inspiring to a very high degree.

On Thursday (to-morrow) evening the German Military Band and the Band of the 14th United States Infantry, combined, will give a grand benefit concert in aid of the Custer fund for the assistance of the widows and orphans of the soldiers who perished in the truly tragic Custer slaughter. For such a benevolent purpose there is no doubt a large number of the public will be forward to attend, and those who do will have the great pleasure of listening to such a concourse of sweet and spirit-stirring, melodious and harmonious sounds as they very seldom have the opportunity to hear.

The 14th Infantry band, under the leadership of Prof. La Mar, deserves the credit of being ever forward in acts of courtesy and generosity, and the combination of these American and European bands in a grand concert for philanthropic purposes may be expected to prove a great attraction and meet with a lively response from a sympathetic and liberal public.

On Saturday evening, it is announced, that useful and reliable member of the local dramatic corps, Mr. M. Foster, will take a benefit in a favorite drama, which will then be put on the Salt Lake boards for the first time.

"Cinderella" is published as the great Christmas attraction.

Young vs. Young.

There appears to be no visible ending to the interminable windings of the alimony pendente lite proceedings in the suit of Young vs. Young in divorce. After the carriages and other sequestered property of the defendant had been sold by the commissioner without bonds, appointed by the Court, the same Court ordered the sequestration of the rents and profits of certain property of the defendant, to satisfy the balance unpaid and alleged to be due under the order. Here is the order of seizure—

Ann Eliza Young, District Court 3rd Judicial District of Utah Territory.

The foregoing report having been submitted to me, it is ordered that the rents and profits as above seized be and the same are sequestered to the use of the plaintiff for the payment of the money yet due and unpaid of which the above and foregoing is a true copy, I hereby notify you not to pay over to anyone except myself, any rents now due or to become due to the said defendant, Brigham Young, until further notice.

A. K. SMITH,
Commissioner.

SALT LAKE CITY,
Nov. 9, 1876.

On December 1st the agent of President B. Young and the commissioner without bonds, Mr. Smith, both called upon Mr. Corey, and each formally demanded the rent of the premises. Mr. Corey, of course, could not see that there was any joke in paying double rent, and, being in a dilemma, being liable to be sued by the bona fide proprietor of the premises if he failed to pay up, and to be imprisoned for contempt if he did not obey the mandate of the Court, so he evaded the matter, and, for the time being, obeyed neither. His failure to comply induced the following showing and application—

In the District Court of the Third Judicial District of the Territory of Utah, Salt Lake County.
Ann Eliza Young, Plaintiff,
vs.
Brigham Young, Defendant.
Territory of Utah, Salt Lake County, ss.

A. K. Smith, being first duly sworn, deposes and says, that he is the Receiver appointed by the Court in the above entitled action.

The Singer Sewing Machine Manufacturing Company is a corporation, carrying on business at Salt Lake City, county aforesaid, and having an office on Main Street in said city. That the said company rents from the said defendant its aforesaid office at a monthly rent of one hundred and twenty-five dollars, payable every month in advance; and that there is now due, owing and unpaid, from the said company to said defendant, on account of rent for the above described premises, one hundred and twenty-five dollars.

That on or about the tenth day of November, A.D. 1876, affiant served a true copy of the order, made in the above case on the 9th day of November, 1876, upon the said Company, by leaving the same at the aforesaid office with a clerk of said Company, and also a notice in writing that the rent then due or to become due on and for said premises should be paid to affiant and none other. That at the date aforesaid one J. W. Corey then was and ever since has been, and is now, the managing agent and chief officer of said company, collects all dues for it, and pays all debts and liabilities by it, and has, as affiant is informed and believes, ample means belonging to said company to pay said sum of one hundred and twenty-five dollars. That said Corey has full knowledge of said order and notice, and that the aforesaid office of said company was left at the office of said company as above stated. That affiant did, on this day, 1st December, 1876, call upon and demand from the said Corey payment of the rent then due, to wit, the sum of one hundred and twenty-five dollars, rent of said premises. That said Corey refused and still refuses to pay said sum to this affiant. That said Corey did deny having in his hands ample means to pay the rent then due as aforesaid, but declined to pay affiant.

Wherefore affiant prays that the Court will make such further order in this case as may be necessary and proper to carry out the aforesaid order of this Court.

A. K. SMITH,
Subscribed and sworn to before me this 1st of December, 1876.

C. S. HILL, Clerk.

The foregoing affidavit and motion of the commissioner without bonds, resulted in the granting and issuance of the following order—

In the District Court of the Third Judicial District of the Territory of Utah, County of Salt Lake.

Ann Eliza Young, Plaintiff,
vs.
Brigham Young, Defendant.

On reading and filing the affidavit of A. K. Smith, receiver, duly appointed in this action, and his praying therefor that one J. W. Corey had, on the first day of December, 1876, one hundred and twenty-five ($125.00) dollars then due and unpaid by him to said defendant as rent for certain premises occupied by the Singer Sewing Machine Manufacturing Company, of which said Corey was and is managing agent and principal officer, and it further appearing that said Corey had full notice of the order made herein on the ninth day of November, 1876, and that a notice had been on the 10th day of said month duly served upon him by said A. K. Smith, and requiring him to pay over to said receiver all moneys then due or to become due to said defendant in his hands; and it further appearing that said Corey has refused and still refuses to pay said sum of money to said A. K. Smith;

Now, therefore, on motion of said A. K. Smith it is ordered that the said J. W. Corey be and appear before this court at the hour of ten (10) o'clock a.m. 2nd day of December, 1876, to show cause, if any he has, why he should not be punished as for contempt of court in refusing to pay over to said A. K. Smith the sum of one hundred and twenty-five dollars in his hands as aforesaid, and that a copy of this order be served on said Corey.

Date Dec. 1, 1876.

M. SCHAEFFER, Judge.

Third District Court,
Utah Territory.

Attest:
C. S. HILL, Clerk.

Territory of Utah,
County of Salt Lake.

I, C. S. Hill, Clerk of the Third Judicial District Court of Utah Territory, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a full, true and correct copy of the original order made in the above entitled action filed in my office, Dec. 1st, 1876.

Witness my hand and the seal of said court, this 1st day of Dec., A.D. 1876.

C. S. HILL, Clerk.

As a matter of course, Mr. Corey appeared as directed, by the order to show cause, and thereupon made the following answer—

In the District Court for the Third Judicial District of the Territory of Utah.

Ann Eliza Young, Plaintiff,
vs.
Brigham Young, Defendant.

Territory of Utah,
County of Salt Lake.

Jasper W. Corey, being duly sworn on his oath, says, I am the managing agent for the Singer Sewing Machine Company in this Territory. That said company is a tenant of defendant, renting from him an office on Main Street, Salt Lake City, at a monthly rent of $125 per month, payable in advance, but with the privilege, by agreement between said company and defendant, of deferring the payment of said rent until the 10th day of each current month. That affiant is also the financial manager of said company, and pays said company's debts in his hands as aforesaid, and is now pressing that when said A. K. Smith, commissioner of this court, on the 1st day of December, 1876, demanded of defendant the sum of $125 for rent due defendant for said month of December, affiant, in performance of his duties to said company, found it necessary, in conducting and managing the business and finances of said company, to avail himself of the privilege of deferring said payment until the 10th day of said month.

That affiant deemed it necessary to consult and did consult counsel as to whether a payment of said rent to said commissioner would be a protection to said company from any claim by defendant. That affiant did so consult Messrs. Hamstead and Gamble, attorneys of this court, but they declined to answer definitely until they had an opportunity to examine the records and orders of this court in this case. And they advised affiant that the right to retain the said rent from defendant would give affiant the right to retain the same from said commissioner.

That affiant answered said commissioner that he had no money to pay said rent.

That affiant disclaims any intention to treat this court, or any of its orders, with contempt, but has acted solely with a view to the best interest and best management of the business and finances of his employer, and to protect his said employer from loss.

Subscribed and sworn to before me, this 2nd day of December, 1876.

C. S. HILL, Clerk.

The Court decided that the answer was sufficient, that Mr. Corey was not in contempt and would not be, providing he paid the amount in question on or before the 10th inst. Mr. Corey is now in a position to choose between two horns of the dilemma, having to obey the order of the Court, or be sent to jail, or bear whatever punishment the Court may see fit to inflict for contempt. On the other hand are the consequences that may result from his non-payment of rent to the owner of the property.

That Fatal Explosion—The remains of Archibald T. Gardner, son of Bishop Gardner of West Jordan, were brought to the city today and interred at the Cemetery. They were followed to the grave by twenty-two carriages and wagons filled with the relatives and friends of the deceased, who, when suddenly bereft of life on the 4th inst., was aged 18 years, 5 months, and seven days, and was a well-disposed, promising young man. The sympathy felt for his parents in their sudden bereavement is universal.

The mill where the boiler exploded is situated about two miles above Tannersville, Little Cottonwood, and young Gardner and Heber Clark, the latter of Pleasant Grove, being engaged in hauling lumber from the mill to the railroad tramway, had just arrived and were engaged in warming their hands and feet, at the fire, when the boiler exploded. Young Gardner was blown through the roof of the mill and through the branches of a pine tree, alighting at a distance of about 500 feet to the northward, his body being, as may well be imagined, terribly mangled. The other youth, Heber Clark, had his left leg broken in two places, below the knee, the right knee joint dislocated and the bone broken below it. The engineer, Morgan James, of Salt Lake City, was wounded, and the sawyer, William Haws, of Pond Town, was slightly hurt, and several others who were in the vicinity were stunned.

Mr. Robert H. Smith, of West Jordan, informs us that a report that the two young men, Gardner and Clark, were tampering or "playing" with the safety valve when the explosion took place is entirely incorrect, they being in no way connected with the cause of the accident.
