

Aristocratic Salt Lake Dogs With Long Pedigrees.

Our animals in Salt Lake, and there are many of them, will all sing over the various kennel shows at the state fair next month, which is apparently destined to be one of the principal features of the fair. Judging from the interest shown in the last horse show, and the amount of work being done by those in charge, the coming exhibition of canines will be a most successful one from every standpoint. And it will be a three point show, as practically every dog and there will undoubtedly be more than 100 dogs entered.

There will be the dogs, 100 dogs, medium-sized dogs, black and white, brown and tan, dogs, etc. Then there will be hunting dogs, sporting dogs, and the dogs and all pure, and pampered by their masters.

There are some dogs in Salt Lake that receive much better care and attention than do most children. It may not be a bad thing to say that it is the truth nevertheless. Some of the animals have the intelligence to appreciate kind treatment and show it in every manner peculiar to dogs.

If you will look closely at the above collection of photographs of dogs you will see some valuable ones.

In the center you will observe a handsome Scotch Collie, a dog valued most highly by his owner. His name is "Baron" and for intelligence and beauty he is second to none in this city. He is owned by Bert Seabolt but will probably not be entered in the dog show for the reason that "Baron" is now enjoying a little vacation with his master and will not be back before the entries close.

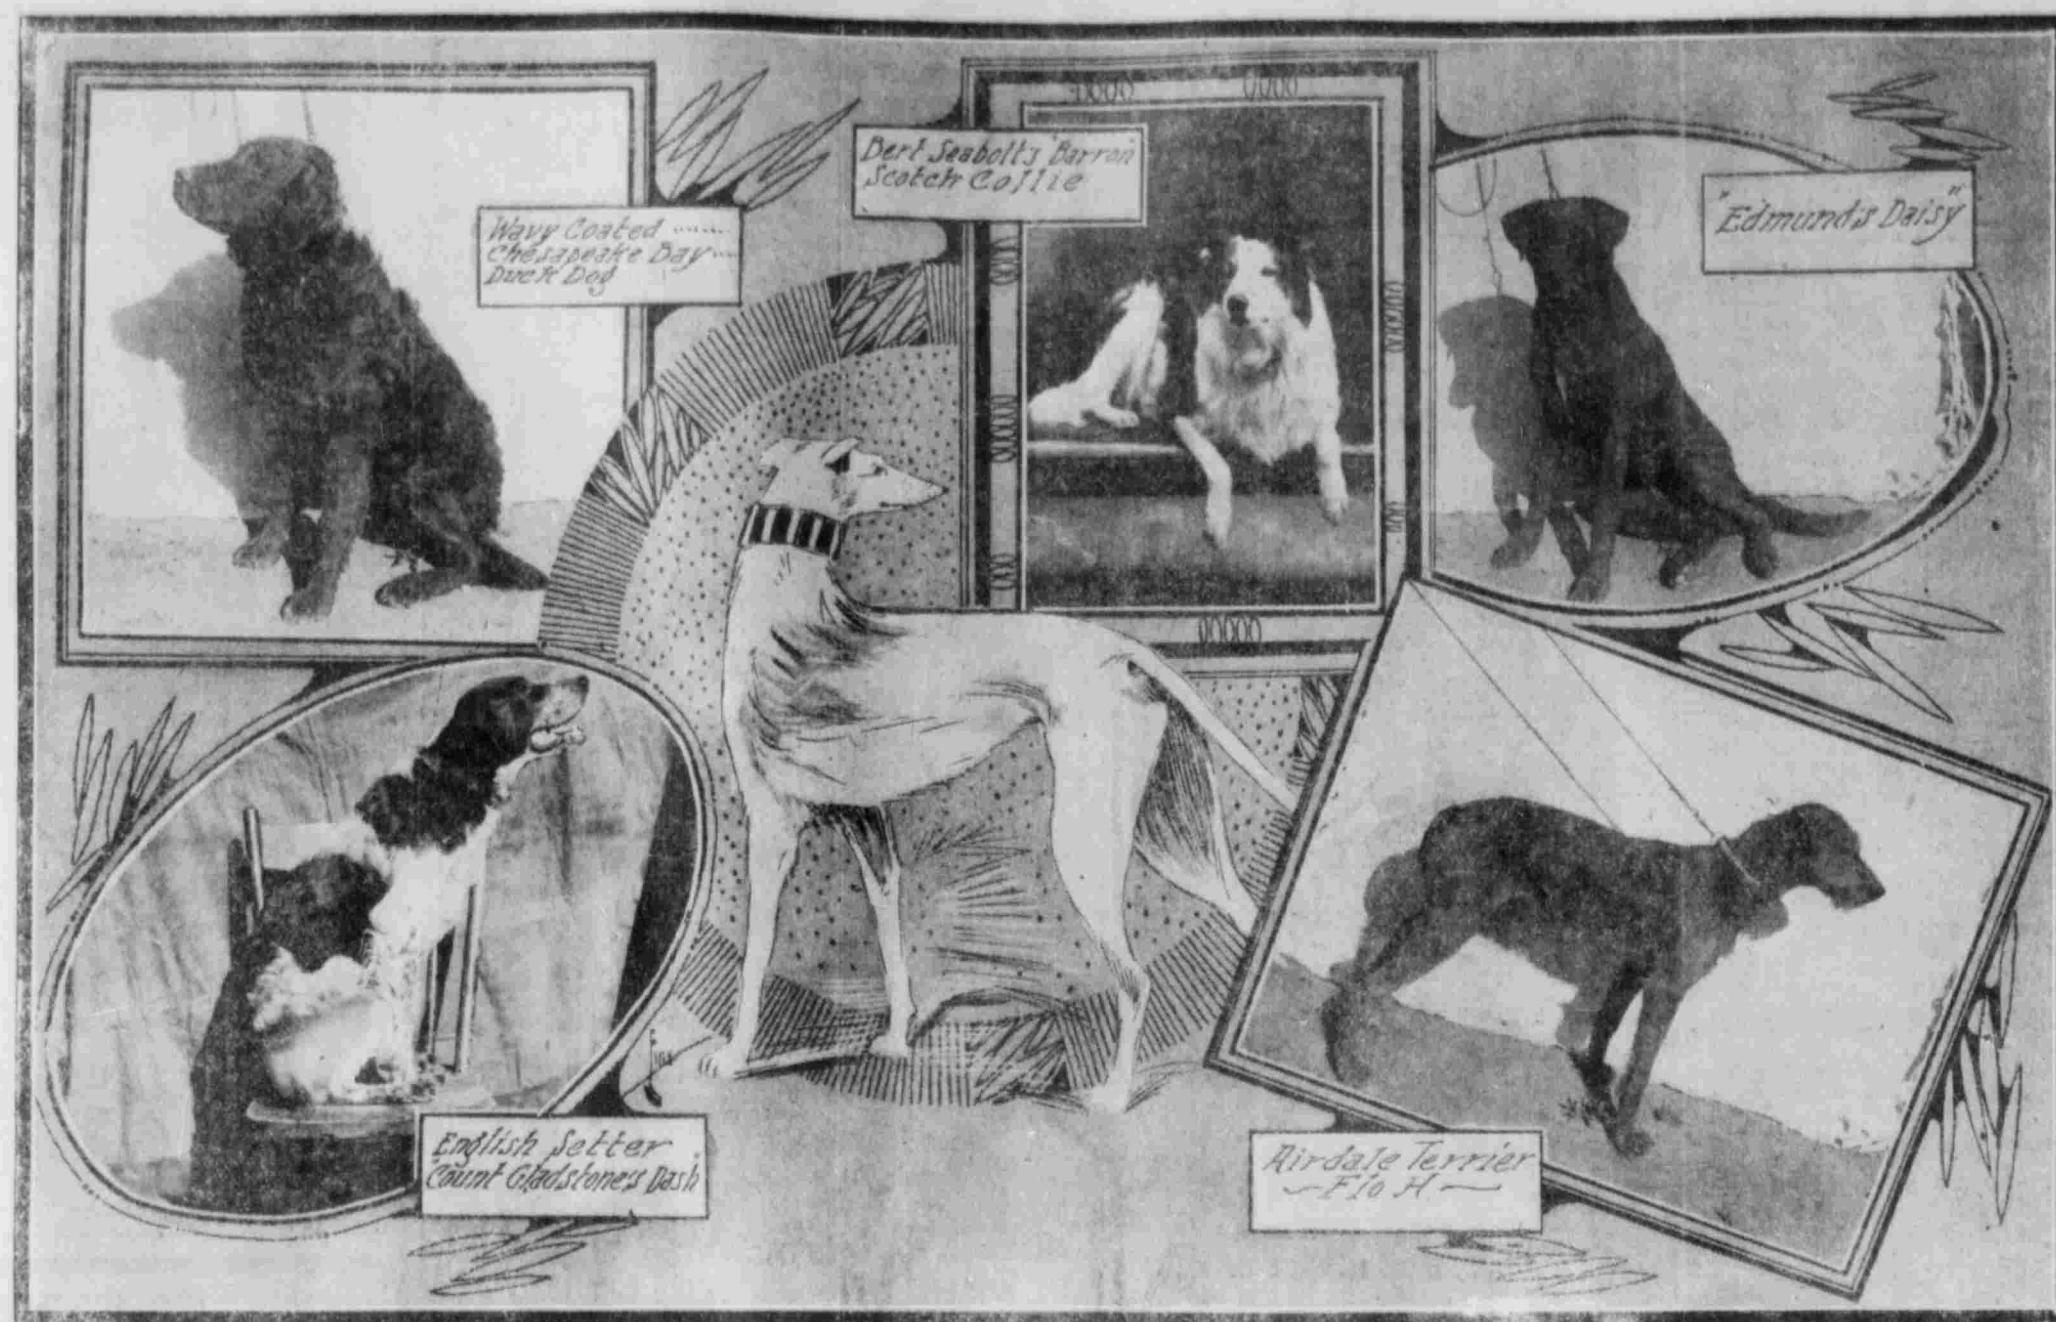

Many local judges of dogs of the Scotch Collie type, state that the Seabolt dog is undoubtedly the most handsome of his breed in Salt Lake today. He has won several prizes at eastern shows but does not enter for such exhibitions preferring to accompany his master, bringing in the papers, run errands and pose in all his canine glory to the admiration of strangers.

The other dogs are sporting dogs, owned by the wife of Secretary Haning, who is also superintendent of the coming show. They are valued highly and will be entered in their respective classes.

The bench show means much to local dog fanciers, but it is hoped that the owners will bear no ill will in entering their dogs as the entry list will close positively on Tuesday next. Secretary Haning says that a number of people have been holding off because of lack of information with reference to the rules governing the exhibition. Mr. Haning:

"It is no use entering their dogs because they are not eligible to registration in the American Kennel club stud book, not being aware of the stud book committee's ruling, which makes a dog eligible to registration after having won two first prizes in either limit or open class at any bench show held under the auspices of the American Kennel club."

This exhibit is under the auspices of the American Kennel club but there are to be additional rules to govern the same. One thing which is necessary, is to prepare a catalogue for filing with the Pacific Advisory committee so that a record may be kept. This will be done. The catalogue will be given gratis to owners of dogs entered. It will give all the information concerning the howl that is necessary, showing the number of the stall, owners name, name of the breeder, the sire and dam. If the owner desires to sell the price of the dog may be mentioned.

It is suggested that some particular dog won every prize the price could not be increased.

A list of breeds recognized by the American Kennel club must be published in every premium list, excepting those of specialty clubs confined to their own breed.

The following list comprises all breeds of dogs for which separate classes may be provided:

Airedale Terriers.
Basset Hounds (smooth).

Basset Hounds (rough).
Beagles.
Bedlington Terriers.
Black and Tan-Terriers (Munsterer).
Bloodhounds.
Boston Terriers.
Bulldogs.
Cairn Terriers.
Chesapeake Bay Dogs.
Chihuahuas.
Chow Chows.
Collies.
Dachshunds.
Dalmatians.
Dandie Dinmont Terriers.
English Toy Spaniels (orange and white).
English Toy Spaniels (red).
English Toy Spaniels (black and tan).
English Toy Spaniels (tricolor).
Foxhounds (American).
Foxhounds (English).
Fox Terriers (smooth).
Fox Terriers (rough).
Field Spaniels.
Cocker Spaniels.
Sussex Spaniels.
Irish Setters (smooth).
St. Bernards (smooth).
Toy Poodles.
French Bulldogs.
Greyhounds.
Great Danes.
Griffons.
Harris.
Irish Terriers.
Italian Greyhounds.
Japanese Spaniels.
Maltese Terriers.
Mastiffs.
Newfoundlands.

Foxhounds (American).
Foxhounds (English).
Fox Terriers (smooth).
Fox Terriers (rough).
Field Spaniels.
Cocker Spaniels.
Sussex Spaniels.
Irish Setters (smooth).
St. Bernards (smooth).
Toy Poodles.
French Bulldogs.
Greyhounds.
Great Danes.
Griffons.
Harris.
Irish Terriers.
Italian Greyhounds.
Japanese Spaniels.
Maltese Terriers.
Mastiffs.
Newfoundlands.
Old English Sheepdogs.
Otter Hounds.
Pekinese Spaniels.
Pointers.
Pomeranians.
Poodles (corded).
Poodles (curly).
Poodles (wavy).
Retrievers (curly-coated).
Retrievers (wavy-coated).
Schipperkes.
Scottish Terriers.
Rosemores Terriers.
English Setters.
Irish Setters.
Gordon Setters.
Scottish Terriers.
Welsh Terriers.
White English Terriers.
White English Terriers (toy).
Whippets.
Wolfhounds (Russian).

Yorkshire Terriers.

FOREIGN DOGS.

Griffon Bruxellois.
Esquimaux (husky).
Esquimaux (Malimut).
Boxers.
Owtian or Russian Sheep Dog.
Maltese Hairless.
German or Belgium Sheep Dog.
Pinchers.
Chinese Crested.
Labrador.
Samoyeds.
Papillons.

Rule XIV—Special prizes can be classified and judged under the following division of breeds:

SPORTING DIVISION.

Bloodhounds.

As stated before while the American Kennel club rules will obtain, there are additional rules. Dogs will be received from 8 to 10 a.m. on Oct. 1. The hours of the show will take care to protect the animals, but will not be held responsible for them.

Besides cash prizes and many special prizes, the premium list is as follows:

Puppies, dogs and bitches, novice dogs, limit dogs, graduate dogs, open dogs, first blue ribbon, second, red ribbon; third yellow ribbon.

Winners' dogs and bitches, red, white and blue ribbon.

Reserve winners' dogs and bitches, green ribbon.

Novice bitches, limit bitches, graduate bitches, open bitches, first, blue ribbon; second, red ribbon; third, yellow ribbon.

The fact that there will be a cash prize of $5 each, offered in each class, lends interest to the show and is an important feature. If there is a full representation of the breeds listed, it means there will be about $360 in cash prizes.

That the coming show will rank in the three point championship class there is little doubt. The show will be conducted by the advisory committee, and the following table of classes are rated in the following manner:

Four hundred dogs or over, five points;
300 dogs and under 400, four points;
200 dogs and under 300, three points;
100 dogs and under 200, two points;
under 100 dogs, one point.

conveniences. Many who would not be inclined to cross the legs in public often surrender to the temporary comfort of the position in the seclusion of their own rooms. It is wrong and injurious because it defies nature, whose laws are more imperative than those of society.

Chicago, the Footpad's Paradise.

NA series of articles appearing in the London Daily Mail under the caption of "America Revisited," recently, Bart Kennedy, an English journalist, devotes considerable space to the city of Chicago, which he designates as "The Footpad's Paradise." Here is the manner in which he sums up the situation:

If you are a footpad you cannot do better than emigrate to Chicago. Here—if I may be allowed the use of a slang phrase—you will be "on velvet." The golden apples will lie to your hand.

The highway robbery industry flourishes at green bay trees in this swift and interesting town. If you doubt the soundness of this statement, all you have to do is to get the Chicago papers and you will be forever gratified.

I call to my humble self for putting you on to one of the very best of good things.

And if you, my dear footpad, would deign to take tip from a somewhat hardened desperado like myself, I would suggest that you take methodically a policeman's beat and give him fifty per cent of the proceeds of your beat.

And I would further suggest that you deal honorably with the guardian of Chicago's law and order. The policeman of Chicago very much appreciates honesty, and the one who allows the criminal industry on his beat, should you act dishonestly he will arrest you, and you will be sent to gaol.

He will make a shining example of you. You will be put away so that the citizens of Chicago will know how diligent and effective their police are in the suppressing of highway robbery. Be therefore honest, my dear footpad.

HIGH-SOULLED ROBBERS.

The police of Chicago are high-souled, gay, robust Bohemians who possess a sense of humor that is at once subtle and hard. They are men for whom I have the profoundest admiration and respect. For they have solved that knottiest of knotty problems. To steal without getting into gaol, and also to be personally consequence and dignity in the community. And they are a fine, handsome body of men. They bear themselves with a brave air. And I am certainly not one of those sour scoundrels who speak of them as surmudges and skin-eaten robbers.

The sun-grape critic is ever ready to make a shining example of you. You will be put away so that the citizens of Chicago will know how diligent and effective their police are in the suppressing of highway robbery.

But Gutzoe, with a persistence worthy of a better cause, even went so far as to offer a policeman in plain clothes a dollar if he would take a message to his friends. But the policeman turned away from him in natural indignation. And Gutzoe was again sent back.

But Gutzoe, with a persistence worthy of a better cause, even went so far as to offer a policeman in plain clothes a dollar if he would take a message to his friends. But the policeman turned away from him in natural indignation. And Gutzoe was again sent back.

They bear themselves with even more masonry than do German clerks. The German officer was sent out as if he owned the earth. But the Chicago police man cuts along his best as if he had no mortgage on the whole planetary stem.

And the awe-struck traveler from slow-death Europe feels that America must be, indeed, the wonder of course. The Americans seem to produce such fine specimens of human beings. And if he is a person versed in the ways of modern philosophers he will at once recognize in the Chicago policeman Nietzsche's overman.

And the awe-struck traveler from slow-death Europe feels that America must be, indeed, the wonder of course.

The Americans seem to produce such fine specimens of human beings.

And if he is a person versed in the ways of modern philosophers he will at once recognize in the Chicago policeman Nietzsche's overman.

WORD OF CAUTION.

Here it is perhaps as well to drop a word of caution to the traveler from poor old dead-and-alive England, where the production of such grand human beings is an absolute impossibility. Be very civil, indeed, when you address one of these Chicago policemen. Don't for a moment forget yourself and address him as you would a policeman in London—that slow, foolish old plan that is at least three hundred years behind the times. Remember that you are the bright, swift, brilliant, right-up-to-the-last-second Chicago. Remember that you are about to address a Chicago policeman. Prepare! Take off your hat! Salute! On—well, salute at the same time as you take off your hat.

Should he not answer you or push you out of his way take my advice and move quickly on. Greatness may not always be disturbed. Don't stop to argue with him. He might get aroused, and besides his polished, aristocratic looks, he carries a revolver with bullets that would stop you dead.

Another thing you must avoid. If you have any complaint to make about anything, don't go to the police station. Walk till you get home and write to the Times. For if you go to the police station it is more than likely that you will meet the fable that met the German gardener, Grubbe. I fear that this unsophisticated German could not have enjoyed the delights of life in Chi-ago, or he never would have done what he did. He went to the station and made a complaint to Desk-Sergeant Carey, and Desk-Sergeant Carey said, "I'll see to it, but you will have to wait for ten minutes." And quite right, too. Why should Desk-Sergeant Carey, who is a veritable king among over-men, be bothered by this Grubbe?

After the temerarious and sacrificial Gutzoe had cooled his heels for the space of twenty-four hours he was brought before the desk of Justice Mayer, charged with disorderly conduct. Justice Mayer was naturally shocked by the conduct of this Gutzoe, and he remanded him, fixing his ball at forty pounds. He wanted to get counsel, but his request was refused. Why should such a scoundrel be allowed counsel? The police and Justice Mayer talked over his crime in low tones, and he was put back.

But Gutzoe, with a persistence worthy of a better cause, even went so far as to offer a policeman in plain clothes a dollar if he would take a message to his friends. But the policeman turned away from him in natural indignation. And Gutzoe was again sent back.

They bear themselves with even more masonry than do German clerks. The German officer was sent out as if he owned the earth. But the Chicago police man cuts along his best as if he had no mortgage on the whole planetary stem.

And the awe-struck traveler from slow-death Europe feels that America must be, indeed, the wonder of course.

The Americans seem to produce such fine specimens of human beings.

And if he is a person versed in the ways of modern philosophers he will at once recognize in the Chicago policeman Nietzsche's overman.

And the awe-struck traveler from slow-death Europe feels that America must be, indeed, the wonder of course.

The Americans seem to produce such fine specimens of human beings.

And if he is a person versed in the ways of modern philosophers he will at once recognize in the Chicago policeman Nietzsche's overman.

And the awe-struck traveler from slow-death Europe feels that America must be, indeed, the wonder of course.

The Americans seem to produce such fine specimens of human beings.

And if he is a person versed in the ways of modern philosophers he will at once recognize in the Chicago policeman Nietzsche's overman.

And the awe-struck traveler from slow-death Europe feels that America must be, indeed, the wonder of course.

The Americans seem to produce such fine specimens of human beings.

And if he is a person versed in the ways of modern philosophers he will at once recognize in the Chicago policeman Nietzsche's overman.

And the awe-struck traveler from slow-death Europe feels that America must be, indeed, the wonder of course.

The Americans seem to produce such fine specimens of human beings.

And if he is a person versed in the ways of modern philosophers he will at once recognize in the Chicago policeman Nietzsche's overman.

And the awe-struck traveler from slow-death Europe feels that America must be, indeed, the wonder of course.

The Americans seem to produce such fine specimens of human beings.

And if he is a person versed in the ways of modern philosophers he will at once recognize in the Chicago policeman Nietzsche's overman.

And the awe-struck traveler from slow-death Europe feels that America must be, indeed, the wonder of course.

The Americans seem to produce such fine specimens of human beings.

And if he is a person versed in the ways of modern philosophers he will at once recognize in the Chicago policeman Nietzsche's overman.

And the awe-struck traveler from slow-death Europe feels that America must be, indeed, the wonder of course.

The Americans seem to produce such fine specimens of human beings.

And if he is a person versed in the ways of modern philosophers he will at once recognize in the Chicago policeman Nietzsche's overman.

And the awe-struck traveler from slow-death Europe feels that America must be, indeed, the wonder of course.

The Americans seem to produce such fine specimens of human beings.

And if he is a person versed in the ways of modern philosophers he will at once recognize in the Chicago policeman Nietzsche's overman.

And the awe-struck traveler from slow-death Europe feels that America must be, indeed, the wonder of course.

The Americans seem to produce such fine specimens of human beings.

And if he is a person versed in the ways of modern philosophers he will at once recognize in the Chicago policeman Nietzsche's overman.

And the awe-struck traveler from slow-death Europe feels that America must be, indeed, the wonder of course.

The Americans seem to produce such fine specimens of human beings.

And if he is a person versed in the ways of modern philosophers he will at once recognize in the Chicago policeman Nietzsche's overman.

And the awe-struck traveler from slow-death Europe feels that America must be, indeed, the wonder of course.

The Americans seem to produce such fine specimens of human beings.

And if he is a person versed in the ways of modern philosophers he will at once recognize in the Chicago policeman Nietzsche's overman.

And the awe-struck traveler from slow-death Europe feels that America must be, indeed, the wonder of course.

The Americans seem to produce such fine specimens of human beings.

And if he is a person versed in the ways of modern philosophers he will at once recognize in the Chicago policeman Nietzsche's overman.

And the awe-struck traveler from slow-death Europe