

SAD DROWNING OF LITTLE GIRL

While at Play She Falls Into Wilson Canal.

MARSHALL'S HEAVY BAIL.

Baseball Man in Custody of Weber Officers—Colored Man Arrested—The Burglar—Hoy Arraigned.

(Special to the "News.")
Ogden, June 29.—A sad case of drowning occurred last evening in Wilson ward, the victim being Hannah L. the 13-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Holmes, and the place of the accident the Wilson canal. The child was at the home of John Holmes, and while playing in the yard with another child, by some means managed to get out of the gate, when she fell into the canal. Five minutes after the child got out of the yard the father missed it and immediately started a search for it. He went to the canal, but it was some time before the body was discovered, as it had floated down stream about 100 yards and lodged against a headgate ere it was found. It was a bright little girl and the parents are prostrated with grief over their loss. Funeral services were held this afternoon from the family residence.

MARSHALL HELD IN $1,000.
George W. Marshall, the Salt Lake baseball player, who yesterday assaulted Ogden's famous backstop with a baseball club, was arrested on a complaint sworn to by William Binford. The complaint charges assault with a deadly weapon. Marshall was arraigned before Judge Patton this morning and placed under $1,000 bail to appear for trial on Friday at 2 p. m. It is understood that he will be defended by Lindsey Rogers of Salt Lake City. Marshall stated this morning that he attacked Hansen because the latter called him a— of a—, and the catcher got just what he deserved. A number of friends of Marshall are determined that such affairs will not go unpunished in this city.

COLORED MAN ARRESTED.
This morning Detective Pender arrested a colored man who, it is believed, stole a two and a half carat diamond from the residence of Judge Patton a few days ago while he was working at house cleaning for the family. The diamond was one of a number of stones in a valuable pin and had been extracted with a pocketknife. The police believe the man will confess to the theft.

The Montana Loan office owned by I. Siegel of lower Twenty-fifth street, was entered by burglars last night and 16 gold rings with sets, 12 gem stones, one gold locket, three Ivers-Johnson revolvers and a considerable quantity of clothing, blankets and quilts carried off. The police are working on the case, but have no clue.

BOYS ARRAIGNED.
Fred Rogers, Frank Johnson, L. Johnson, Ned Hastings and George Williams, the boys accused of robbing the commissary car of Mr. McCord last Thursday, were arraigned before Judge Howell this morning. Their hearing was set for Tuesday at 2 p. m., and they were meanwhile placed under $250 bail each, which they could not furnish.

Sheriff Emery and his deputies have found Mrs. John Hansen, the missing witness for the state in the case of the state vs. Martin Olson, charged with adultery, and she appeared in Judge Morse's court yesterday in response to an attachment issued for her by Judge Johnson on last Tuesday. The Olson case was continued until tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock and the contempt proceedings against Mrs. Hansen will be taken up at that time.
Mrs. Hansen was subpoenaed to appear in court last Tuesday, but it is stated that she was informed by some one interested in the case that if she appeared against Olson she would also be tried and sentenced to the state prison for two years. She accordingly left town on Monday night and could not be found for several days and was only located on Saturday and returned to town.

TRIP THROUGH THE BIG HORN

Salt Lake Preacher Talks of the Possibilities of That Section.

WORK AMONG THE INDIANS.

Object of Journey Was to Establish Baptist Missions Among the Crow Tribe of Red Men.

Rev. Bruce Kinney gave an interesting description Sunday evening, in the East Side Baptist church, of his trip through the Big Horn country in Wyoming, in company with Rev. Dr. Chivers, field secretary of the Baptist Home Mission society. Dr. Chivers was to have been in Salt Lake Sunday, but was delayed, and will not be here for two weeks. Mr. Kinney described the Big Horn reservation, as a veritable paradise in climate and vegetation, and called attention to the fact that a great canal system is being developed up there that will do wonders for the country. The object of this trip was to establish Baptist missions among the Crow Indians and through northern central Wyoming. He said there was a strip of country 221 miles long by 156 broad where there had been no evangelic agency established, and where the presence of such would do an immense amount of good. Mr. Kinney and Dr. Chivers held a medicine talk with the Crows, and the latter agreed that they wanted a Baptist school there and while they might not get all they wanted, they would be glad for what they could get.
Mr. Kinney explained why the Indians did better under the denominational schools than under those carried on by the government. It has been the policy of the latter to hold the young Indians away from their kith and kin for a term of years, and then let them return home. The result was that the young graduates found themselves face to face with the traditions and customs of centuries, and it was a case of which should give way first, the parents and their traditions, or the government school trained Indians. It generally ended in the young Indians returning to the blankets and G strings of their ancestors. On the other hand, with the denominational schools, the Indian children were held merely as day scholars, and as they returned home every evening, the teachings of each day would be made apparent to the parents, and an unconscious but effective influence exerted that in time told. This was the means of not only holding the young people in the confines of civilization but of gradually drawing the older Indians away from the more or less barbarous and uncivilized customs under which they had lived, and made them more amenable to the teaching of enlightened instruction.

TILL AFTER THE FOURTH.

County Commissioners Delay Final Action in Calder's Park Case.

At the meeting of the board of county commissioners yesterday afternoon it was decided to postpone definite action on the matter of the revocation of the Calder's Park liquor license until next Monday. It was thought advisable to wait until after the Fourth to finally decide the matter so that it could be ascertained how capable Mr. Bergerman and his assistants are to handle the large crowd on that date and make an orderly resort. If the conduct at the resort is good on that day it is not likely that the license will be revoked.

HORTICULTURAL INSPECTOR.

The following resolution introduced by Commissioner Standish, providing for the appointment of a county horticultural inspector and assistants, was adopted by the board:

"Whereas, the agricultural interests of the county are suffering from the depredations of gophers and other wild animals and birds, noxious weeds and insects injurious to fruits, vegetables and crops; and,
"Whereas, in order to enforce the provisions of subdivision 12, section 31, Revised Statutes, as amended by the Legislature, the employment of a horticultural inspector and assistants is necessary at least a portion of each year;
"Therefore, be it resolved, that it is the sense of this board that such inspector and assistants be employed, the salary of said inspector not to exceed $75 per month, and of assistants not to exceed $2 per day; all work to be done under the direction and to the satisfaction of the board of county commissioners."

EXTRA HELP.

County Auditor Fisher sent in the appointments of the following parties to do the extra work of extending and footling the tax rolls: W. A. Hughes, Charles Brink, R. C. Raybould, J. J. Acorn, F. J. Benson, F. D. Lamb, E. Ben Brown, A. R. Jacobs, Neil Forsberg, S. I. Clawson and Douglas Ferguson. The appointments were confirmed, at a salary of $3 per day each.

SHOCKING CONDUCT.

Case of the Man Heath to be Fully Investigated.

P. H. Heath was tried in Judge Diehl's court yesterday afternoon on the charge of vagrancy. Heath is the fellow who brought a young girl down here from Ogden and placed her in a house of prostitution. The woman who conducted the place testified that Heath brought the girl to her place and asked permission to leave her there. The police learned of the girl's presence in the house and sent her home. Heath denied everything against him and made a strenuous effort to keep out of jail.

Two other men are implicated in the case. Joe Faisetto and Ed Osborn. Summons were issued for them and also for the girl.
I propose to investigate this thing to the bottom," said Judge Diehl. "I am going to find out who is implicated with you in placing this girl in a house of prostitution and I want to say that if I am on the bench the guilty persons are going to be punished. You will be found guilty."

The case was continued until Wednesday.

The lawyer for the defendant was trying to cross-examine a Swede who had been subpoenaed by the other side as a witness in an accident case.
