Subject of Lecture Delivered This Afternoon by Prof. Young.

At the University of Utah this afternoor Prof. L. E. Young of the history department delivered the first locture in the new series of popular lectures to be given at intervals in the museum building assem-bly room. The course has been designed for the benefit of the nuble, and it is ex-pected will prove nopular. Prof. Young spoke on the subject of "Faust." dealing with the great Gor-manic legend, and the treatment of it by John Speiss, Christopher Marlowe, and finally by Goethe, to whose work most of the lecture was devoted. Prof. Young held that to comprehend "Faust." one must appreciate the state of superstition in Europe at the time the legend grew into prominence. It dealt with a man who attempted to investigate series of popular jectures to be given at

Burglar Puts up Strong Defense But Is Held to ... igher Court.

John Connor, alias George Burke, the man arrested by Officer Taylor several days ago on the charge of burglarizing a box car owned by the O. S. L. Railway company, and stealing therefrom several pairs of shoes which were ship-ped to the Davis Shoe company, was efore Judge Diehl this morning on the charge of burglary. He pleaded not guilty and was given a preliminary hearing. Connor conducted his defense in a nanner that would put to shame some Sait Lake lawyers had they been present to listen to his cross-examination of the witnesses. Connor was captured while selling the hees at 50 and 75 cents per pair. The ourt held that there was sufficient ourt cause to believe the defendant guilty, and he was held to answer to the district court.

MARRIED LAST NIGHT.

Miss Florence Johnson, one of the nurses at the Keogh-Wright hospital, was last night married to H. A. Lab hardt, a well known machinist of this city, Rev. D. A. Brown of the First Baptist church performing the ere-mony. Mr. and Mrs. Labhardt afterwards left on a honeymoon trip and will return about Feb. 1, to make their and home at 150 north East Temple street. The bride is a charming young woman, with a host of friends, while the groom is also very popular, particularly ombined. The Bishop declares that only in a crual way did he refer to Wolfe's non payment of tithing, sim-workes non payment of titing, sim-oly asking him if he did not believe in the principle. Wolfe replied that he did, and way sorry that he was not on the list  $B_{1,2}$  cas, he was perfectly confident there had been no misuse of the tithing fund in any way. He said he knew of his own knowledge that the tithe paying principle was a great and good one and did much for humanity. WHY HE LEFT COLLEGE.

Discussing Wolie's leaving the col-lege, Bishop Catdon said: "Wolfe re-signed, and h's resignation was giadly accepted. The cruth of the matter is, pldinly and repetfully speaking, the habits of the professor were such of late that the faculty was pleased to have him step out. For years there had been runces about him drinking a good deal, latterly, knowledge has taken the place of rumor. During the whole of the holiday period he was intoxicated and the reason that he did not appear before his Sunday school class on last Sabbath was that he was so drunk as to be unable to do so. So his resigna-tiin obviated the necessity of the facul-ty removing him summarily from the teaching corps of the college. It is also a well known fact that Prof. Wolfe had become an inveterate smoker, being in fact known as a cigarette flend. With regard to associate vices, he openly confessed before witnesses in Logan recently, that he had heen drinking much, and that he had played cards and gambled a great deal.

STORY IS PURE FICTION.

When Apostle John Henry Smith was een today with reference to the state-nent that Wolfe attributed to him, that the manifesto was only a trick devised to beat the devil at his own game, the former said, "You may say for me most conversation with the man at any time or place; nor did I speak to him upon the subject. The story is pure fiction so far as I am concerned."

SEES DR. PADEN.

Wolfe left Logan rather hurriedly yesterday afternoon, declaring that he yesterday afternoon, declaring that he had been summoned as a witness to Washington to testify in the Smoot case. However, he came to Salt Lake, where he has been in conference with Dr. Paden, and other ministers of this city today. When a "News" man called at his hotel to find him, it was stated that he was dining with Hev. Dr. Stevenson, president of Westminster college. It is understood that Wolfe will leave for Washington tomorrow.

Colored Pastor Did Not Sign the Petition for Chambers.

This afternoon the Rev. Mr. J. C. Bell pastor of Trinity A. M. E. church, called at the office of the Deseret News and denied that he had signed the petition for Chambers, the colored policeman, for 2 Chambers, the colored policeman, for a position on the force. He declared that he did not even know him and that he had never seen him. If his name ap-pears on the petition, he says, it has been placed there by some one who did not have the authority to do so, and that he proposes to make an investigation for himself. The sentiment of the colored people, he says, is to have Mr. Howell, former policeman, in that position.

Party of Great Northern Officials Come To Salt Lake on Unexpected Mission.

Railroad circles are all agog today over the arrival of private car A-1 of the Great Northern Railway, on board of which is Fourth Vice President Ben Campbell and a party of traffic officials of that company. Mr. Campbell asserted this morning that there was no significance to be attached to the visit whatever. The party was on its way to the coast for a trip to the sun and surf bathed resorts of California. As this is an old "gag" on the part of prominent railway officials who are incubating divers schemes, this statement is met with a wink among the knowing ones. Upon arriving the party promptly adjourned to Oregon Short Line headquarters and called on Vice President and General Manager W. H. Baneroft-or to be more specific, they endeavored so to do but were informed that Mr. Baneroft was last heard from in Los Angeles. Then they got busy and hunt-ed up train schedules with the object in view of visiting Los Angeles. Next they undertook to call on the general freight agent, but he, too, was out of

From last advices the party will pull out for Los Angeles over the Salt Lake

Route this evening. In this connection, it will be recalled, that Mr. Bancroft stated to the "News" prior to his departure that he was going to Mexico City and for the first tim his railroad career he proposed to take a vacation and burn all bridges behind him-he was going to get away from railroad affairs and temporarily relin-
