A distinct loss to musical circles of this city and state was occasioned by the death yesterday morning at the home of his son, Arthur E., in Ogden, of Prof. Orson Pratt, one of the foremost musicians of this community. The deceased had been in poor health for several months and went to Ogden some weeks ago on a visit, in the hope that the change would be of some benefit. But it was not so as he gradually grew worse until death relieved him at the time indicated. The cause of death was general debility.

Onto, July II, 1837, being, therefore, in his sixty-seventh year. His early training in music he received in England, whither he journeyed with his parents when a mere boy. His instructors were among the very best in Europe, and when he returned home he engaged in his profession and soon became recognized as one of the leading men in his line in this region. From him some of our present musicians received their first lessons in plano and harmony. Prof. Pratt was also a student of art and literature and did much to raise the prevailing standard in these lines. By those with whom he was associated he will be sorely missed, as well as by all who recognized his rare talents.

The new craze has captured the school children. Each afternoon large groups of boys and girls can be seen in almost any section of the city braiding shoestrings. On some street corners, enterprising boys have opened schools of instruction, where the art of shoestring fob making is taught. The rates of tuition vary slightly, but the average cost of a complete course is two cents, and one result of the craze was a shrinkage in the size of some of the Sunday school collections. Many young women have also caught the spirit of the craze and are busy braiding shoestring belts, about a dozen strings beling required to make one belt.

The sheestring watch fob craze is said to have organized last summer at a convention at Ashury Park.—New York Times.

AS OLD AS THEPYRAMIDS

That blood poison existed among the ancients has been proven beyond question. It has been traced back thousands of years, and is as old as the Pyramids. This blighting curse has been handed down from nation to nation and from individual to individual till it has spread to all parts of the world. Contagious blood poison, as it is called in modern times, begins with a small sore or ulcer through which the virus enters the blood. This is followed by inflammation and swelling of the glands of the groins, a red eruption breaks out on the body, sores appear in the mouth and the throat becomes ulcerated, and on the body, sores appear in the mountain the throat becomes incerated, and as the disease takes a deeper hold and the blood becomes more thoroughly as the disease takes a deeper out, the skin is spotted with copper-colored splotches, the bones and muscles ache, and it seems to the victim of this monster scourge there is not a sound spot in the whole body,

The horror of this awful disease can never be told. The one who con tracts it suffers in body and mind, and if the poison is not eradicated transmits the taint to his children. and Contagious Blood Poison thus becomes responsible for many of the ills of childhood-Skin Eruptions, Catarrhal Troubles, Sore Eyes, Scalp Disease, White Swelling, Scrofula and others just as bad. S. S., the great vegetable blood purifier and tonic, has long been recognized as a radical and safe cure for Contagious Blood Poison. It counteracts the deadly virus and cleanses and purifies the diseased blood, and under its tonic effects the general health im-

Dear Sirs:

As a result of a serious blood disorder my blood became poisoned and I suffered severely with Rheumatism and other symptoms not necessary to mention. A friend of mine told me that he had been cured of my trouble by S. S. S., and upon his recommendation I began its use. After nsing itfor some time my blood was thoroughly cleansed of all poison and made pure and strong again.

I wish also to speak of its tonic properties. While purging my blood of impurities, it built up my general health, improved my appetite, gave me increased strength, and I felt better in every way.

I am a great believer in S. S. S., and with pleasure commend it to all in need of a blood medicine.
