Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Rozelle, of Omaha, the Baptist evangelists, have begun a series of meetings at the First Baptist church, which will probably last two weeks. Mrs. Rozelle is said to be a singer of considerable ability. The two will hold two meetings every day, in the morning and evening.

It is possible that Contractor Roney will not have the new University build-ings completed by September 1st, ac-cording to contract, but the work is being pushed with all possible dispatch, and if nothing more occurs to arrest the work, the buildings may be finished by that time, and ready for occupancy.

The Salt Lake Business College, which has had quarters on Second South and West Temple streets, has removed to the Templeton building, formerly occu-pied by the Latter-day Saints' College. The move was made between Friday afternoon and this morning, when the school opened with seventy students in school opened with seventy students in attendance.

Deputy Sheriff Heaston of Bingham arrived in Salt Lake this morning with two prisoners, Patrick J. Hogan and Andrew Larsen, both of whom have been convicted of disturbing the peace and who were sentenced to serve twenty-five and ten days' respectively in the county jail. They were brought here to serve their sentences and are now guests of Jaller Thomas.

Mrs. Meriam Felthousen, wife of J. D. Felthousen, formerly of Missoula, Montana, but now of Salt Lake, died at St. Mark's hospital this morping, under circumstances of a peculiarly dis-tressing character. Mr. and Mrs. Felt-housen had only been residents of this city for about three months. The de-ceased became seriously ill on Saturday and make seriously ill on Saturday and was removed to the hospital, where furing the day she underwent a surgical operation, the shock of which she was forty-five years of age.
