

FROM FRIDAY'S DAILY, JUNE 8, 1888.

St. George Temple.

This Temple will close for renovation on Friday, June 29th, and will reopen for ordinance work on Tuesday September 4th, 1888.

JOHN D. T. MCALLISTER St. George, Utah, June 4, 1888.

Correction.

Through a misunderstanding, in the record of proceedings in the First District Court, our report stated that Charles Johns, James Mitchell, Charles Angstrom and Henry W. Manning, sentenced for unlawful cohabitation, made a promise to obey the law in future. The latter part of the statement is a mistake, as the parties named were not asked in regard to their intention. Whatever leniency the court extended was on account of their age, condition, or other mitigating circumstances, and not because of any expression binding themselves as to their future conduct.

Visiting Relatives.

Mrs. William Dinwoodey, of St. Louis, Mo., who is sister to Brothers John and James Needham and sister-in-law to Brother Henry Dinwoodey, of this city, is here on a visit among her relatives, having arrived on the "flyer" early on Wednesday morning, having crossed the plains between the Missouri river and this city by team in early days, the latter time about thirty years ago, she is now in a position to note the contrast between traveling in that age and the present. Then the journey from St. Louis to this city occupied nearly six months; in the present instance it was made in about fifty-three hours. The change he notices in this city since she was formerly here is scarcely less remarkable. It is safe to say that the city's growth has far exceeded her early expectations. The lady was accompanied on the journey by Mrs. Jessie Mills, of St. Louis, who has also come here on a visit.

Ogden Has a Meteor.

Yesterday morning at two o'clock, a brilliant meteor fell. A sudden light burst forth and lighted the surroundings as if several electric lights had hot into existence. A reporter who was passing on the corner of Fourth and Spring streets looked up thinking the electric light was burning. Stepping into the center of the street the meteor was plainly visible. It lighted the heavens so that the darkness was dispelled as far as upper Fourth Street, several blocks away. The meteor came from the southwest traveling northeast. When on a line with Fourth Street the light divided and as it did so a dark spot like a huge ball appeared in one of the lights. Shortly thereafter the light disappeared. Following its disappearance a few moments, a sound, as if from a cannon shot or an explosion, ruffled the stillness of the night with the echoes from the mountains in the neighborhood of Ogden Cañon.—Ogden Standard, June 8.

The Child All Right.

A few days ago we gave an account of the manner in which the child of Mr. J. N. Cookerly, for some months a resident of this city, had been taken away by his partner, a Mr. Wm. Marlow, who was ostensibly bound for Spokane Falls, Washington Territory, but from whom no word had been heard since his departure, May 15. A telegram has been received from Mr. Marlow, dated Spokane Falls, stating that he is there with the child, and that the latter is all right. This looks as though an explanation might be offered which it could be made to appear that Mr. Marlow had substantially carried out the understanding had between him and the father of the child, nearly or about three weeks elapsed before Mr. Cookerly heard from his little boy, but it is not difficult to believe that the delay might be explained. The News published the acts of the child's disappearance, and as the narrative reflected upon Mr. Marlow, we deem it no more than fair to him to make this further statement.

Syracuse.

Supt. John Sharp and other officials of the Utah Central and Union Pacific paid a visit to Syracuse yesterday, and decided to open this bathing resort to the public about June 15. Several changes have been made in the arrangement of the place, one of which is the removal of the only objection that existed last year to the position of the bath houses. Then it was necessary for bathers to pass close to the spectators in order to get to the water, but this has been changed, and bathers now enter the water direct from the bath rooms, going down to a floating pier and into the lake. Close to the lake a large grove of trees has been planted, all of which are living and thrive well. In a few years they will make a magnificent grove on the very edge of the lake. The barns and other buildings on the west of the upper grove have been removed, and from where there is an abundance of shade there is also a full view of the lake. For the transportation of excursionists to and from the lake, a large street car has been substituted for the trams. This car will make regular trips from the grove to the lake every fifteen minutes. Schools, societies and other organizations have an opportunity with Syracuse that does not exist with any other bathing resort. They may have the place kept select by making arrangements with the railway, and no other party than that agreed with will be permitted there.

When the resort opens, a train will leave Salt Lake early in the afternoon, daily, returning in the evening. The fare is 50 cents for the round trip of about 70 miles.

Yesterday, when the visitors were at Syracuse, they were greeted with a storm of wind, hail and rain, which raged with considerable fury for a time.

Flower Mission Day.

The following has been handed in for publication:

The ladies of the W. C. T. U. desire to express thanks for the assistance so liberally given both in flowers and labor.

Never before have so many flowers been received nor have such large and handsome bouquets been made. Each bouquet had attached a card tied with a neat bow of white ribbon, the badge of the Society. The ribbon was given by the merchants.

The following programme was carried out at the penitentiary.

Song, "God is Love," penitentiary choir.

Scripture lesson and prayer.

Distribution of flowers and literature.

Song, "Flowers of Life."

Reading of poem "Ye did it unto me."

Address, Miss Burnett.

Speech by Librarian.

Miss Burnett was very much surprised to find the librarian's speech was accompanied by the presentation of several beautiful presents, all the work of the prisoners, as follows: Two beautiful etchings with very handsome gilt frames; a lovely flower stand, beautifully carved and gilded; on the top were the letters "C. S. B." Also a large zephyr toy with monogram in the centre and two smaller ones.

Miss Burnett tried to express thanks but said she could not do it; that the work had been to her a work of love with no thought of reward. If the services had been helpful, if the books and papers should be read and some life made better or happier she was more than paid.

The day was greatly enjoyed by all. Other delegations of women visited all the hospitals and jails, giving tracts and papers, and speaking helpful words.

This work of love can but do good, and it is well for our citizens each year to increase its usefulness and efficiency by increased assistance.

FROM SATURDAY'S DAILY, JUNE 9, 1888.

Arraigned.

Andrew Anderson, of Union, Salt Lake County, was arraigned in the Third District Court today, on a charge of unlawful cohabitation. He entered a plea of not guilty.

The "Galaxy."

Numbers 3 and 4, for May and June, of Tullidge's magazine The Western Galaxy, are out, bound together. The table of contents is long and embraces considerable ability. Splendid steel portraits of the late President Brigham Young, and Hon. Lorin Farr are given. The history of Ogden is finely illustrated with numerous engravings of buildings and scenes in Ogden and vicinity.

James Turner Arrested.

Yesterday afternoon the deputies went to South Jordan, Salt Lake County, and searched several houses for alleged offenders under the Edmunds law. They succeeded in getting James Turner on an indictment, found in August, 1886, charging him with unlawful cohabitation. He gave bonds to appear for trial. His arraignment is set for Saturday next, at 10 a.m.

Committed Suicide.

At Benson, Cache County, last night, George W. Lewis, of Logan, committed suicide by cutting his throat with a razor. He succeeded in severing the jugular vein. The deed was committed in a shed belonging to Robert Kewley. Lewis had carried the razor about for a couple of hours, and his action was evidently premeditated, though the causes which led up to it are as yet shrouded in mystery. The deceased was about thirty years of age and was well respected. He was engaged in the furniture business in Logan.

Cruel Murder.

The Wind River Mountaineer, published at Lander, Wyo., has the following:

Wm. Byers, one of the largest planters in Union County, had a difficulty a few days ago with a negro tenant named Ben Cunningham. The negro went off swearing vengeance against the whole Byers family. Last evening he met Gunnings Byers, a youth of 16, with whom he had no trouble, and without warning split the boy's head open with an axe, killing him almost instantly. Cunningham fled and is being hotly pursued.

The Templars.

It is expected that on Monday evening next a delegation of Templars from Wyoming, to the number of from 25 to 30, will reach this city. They will be met by the fraternity here, and on Tuesday a convention of the Grand Templars' Lodge for the jurisdiction of Utah and Wyoming will meet in Temple of Honor Hall.

On Tuesday evening a public meeting will be held in the Opera House, at which a fine programme of addresses and musical and literary exercises, which appears in another column, will be rendered. There will be no charge for admission. During the visit of the Wyoming temperance people, they will be entertained by other festivities.

At Parley's Park.

Mr. Wm. Hunt got wounded up on a shaft at the Ontario mill last Thursday afternoon. His clothes were torn to shreds and he was pretty badly bruised and shaken up. Billy says that this is a quick way to undress, but that he would rather take his clothes off himself.

Three of Mr. John Anderson's children—two boys and a girl—were seriously poisoned the fore part of the week through eating canned salmon. The oldest boy's life was despaired of for some hours, but Dr. Mantor finally brought him around. Canned salmon is at a discount up in that neighborhood at this writing.

C. A. Short met with quite a painful accident at the Marsac mill. He was working on the cooling-floor and stepped, or fell, so that his foot went into the hot pulp and before he could get out it ran in his shoe top burning him fearfully. He had the wounded member attended to at once and at the present writing it is doing well.—Park City Call.

Ogden Items.

The residents of Ogden last evening seemed to be mostly on the streets, some hundreds of them being attracted by the free concert given by a quartette of medicine venders on Fourth Street, while a crowd of about the same number assembled on Fifth Street to listen to the harmonious strains of the brass band.

Fruit seems to be plentiful in the Ogden market. Strawberries are selling at $1.25 per case. Fruit raisers in this region, however, complain of the yield in berries being far less than usual and of an almost total failure in some other lines, especially peaches and apricots.

The Union depot remains statu quo. All the building which has taken place in connection with it during the past few years being in the imagination of the hopeful citizens.

As in Salt Lake, some of those who have been struggling for some time past to work up a real estate boom, have been forced to close up for want of buyers. L.

Arrested in Morgan.

On Wednesday Deputies Eggleston, Whetstone and Steele, having first "rigged up" in good style, proceeded to Morgan Co. On Thursday they arrested P. J. Rasmussen, of Milton, and William Roundy, of the same place. These two gentlemen were brought to Ogden yesterday and came before Commissioner Cross, who bound them over in the sum of $1,500 each to appear before the grand jury at the next term of court. Joshua Williams and Joseph Giles went security for them as named.

Mr. Roundy worked at a saw mill far up in the mountains, and one of the deputies was chosen to arrest him. The rain descended in torrents and the deputy received a first-class drenching before he arrived at the mill.

Mr. Rasmussen is a cripple and is unable to get around. He told a reporter that he was not even able to dress himself. Their alleged plural wives were also placed under bonds as witnesses in the sum of $200 each.—Ogden Standard, June 9.

Third District Court.

Proceedings before Judge Zane today:

Forkel E. Forkelson, Edward J. Gardner, Benjamin B. Brown, Michael Cantlan and Benjamin T. Barber, Jr., were admitted to citizenship.

United States vs. Andrew Anderson; unlawful cohabitation; defendant arraigned and pleaded not guilty.

Salt Lake City vs. Ann Elmer; decree filed and entered.

Arthur Brown vs. Crescent Mining Company; motion of defendant to have findings and conclusions of law made and filed upon equitable defense, etc., refused.

J. D. Keller, Ching Chong, R. Jeffreys and James Turner were ordered to appear on Saturday next for arraignment.

Edward Brain vs. Sarah Rands Leigh et al.; application to court for distribution of proceeds of sale heard.

Sarah A. Thompson vs. Frederick H. Thompson; decree of divorce granted plaintiff.

Wm. H. Seegmiller vs. J. W. Snell; judgment for plaintiff.

In Sevier County.

A twelve-year-old son of Tariton Lewis was trying to get onto a horse yesterday, when he fell and broke his left arm just above the wrist. Dr. Oglevie was summoned, who set the broken limb and left the little fellow as comfortable as could be expected.

John H. Jones, who lives at the mouth of Cottonwood Creek, has allowed the city, for the last two or three years to run a water ditch across his land for the use of the inhabitants of the city, unmolested. He has lately turned the water off and forbid the city running a ditch through his land any longer. He was arrested for stealing the water, tried before Justice Christensen, found guilty, and sentenced to imprisonment in the county jail for forty days. He says he is going to put the city through for false imprisonment when he is released.

On learning that a woman named Alice Siddell, from Monroe, was in jail, our reporter, accompanied by Sheriff Clark, went to ascertain the cause of her incarceration, and learned from her that she was a married woman, and had five children, and her husband also had children by a former wife. She said her children were in the habit of going to the house of her mother-in-law. Last Sunday she went there and was not allowed to take them. This so enraged her that she threw rocks through the windows and threatened the inmates. This was the cause of her arrest. She was tried on Monday before Justice Warnock of Monroe, who committed her to the county jail for twenty days. She was brought over to Richfield by S. J. Golding and placed in jail, where she will remain the specified time. She appeared a little reticent at first, but became more communicative over the affair after a short time.—Richfield Advocate, June 6.

Priesthood Meeting.

The Priesthood of the Salt Lake Stake of Zion met in the Assembly Hall today, President Angus M. Cannon presiding.

After the regular opening exercises the roll was called showing that all the wards of the Stake were properly represented excepting the Tenth Ward of the city and the Brighton Ward.

The speakers were: Elder Joseph Horne, Bishops Alex. McRae and Frederick Kesler, Elders N. V. Jones, Casper and D. L. Davis and President A. M. Cannon. The latter said that when persons claiming membership in the church removed from one ward to another they should take their Bishop's recommendations along with them if they only remain for one month. This would insure the fellowship of the Saints where they were living, and, in addition to this, they would receive visits of the ward Teachers and enjoy the other blessings that they were entitled to.

The Bishops being the fathers of the people, they should see that worthy people who may intend leaving the ward, if only for a short season, are properly recommended so that confusion may be avoided and the Church be in a healthy condition. He also exhorted the brethren to magnify their callings before the Lord in every particular, so that a good spirit may be felt in the hearts and homes of all the Latter-day Saints.

The meeting adjourned to the first Saturday in July, at 11 a.m.

Shot Herself.

Mamie Brock is the name of a woman about twenty-five years of age, who is said to be the wife of George Brock, now in Montana. A few months ago she was arrested by the police on a charge of being an inmate of a house of ill-fame, and left $50 for her appearance for trial, but failing to come, the amount was forfeited. Lately she has been residing at a house about three-quarters of a block south of the Theatre, with her sister, Mrs. P. D. Sprague, formerly known as Laura Cornell.

About half-past ten last night Mrs. Brock asked her sister for a pistol she had loaned her, but Mrs. Sprague declined to give it to her. What passed between them is unknown, but from subsequent events it must have been something of an unpleasant nature, for Mrs. Brock went out to the gate, whither she was followed by Mrs. Sprague, who handed her sister the pistol.

A moment later there was a pistol shot, and Mrs. Brock fell to the ground exclaiming, "My God, I'm shot." Dr. Burroughs was summoned, and staunching the flow of blood from an ugly wound below the left breast. The injured woman was taken into the house, and cared for. She asked for her sister, and when the latter came in exclaimed, "I've done it Laura, but I regret it." "What made you do it?" was Mrs. Sprague's inquiry, which brought the reply, "Because I was mad." Neither of the parties would give any further information as to the cause of the attempted suicide.

Dr. Pinkerton was called, and after an examination of the wound stated that no vital part had been touched, and the woman would recover.

Monroe News.

This town, lying in the southeast corner of Sevier County, is so much out of the way that it is seldom heard from. It contains a thriving population and is putting on a more thrifty appearance than formerly; still there is room for great improvement.

The mountains to the east of the town present quite a picturesque appearance, rising abruptly and showing a great variety of colors—red, white, purple and brown.

In the eastern part of town, and under the mountain are some warm mineral springs. The water appears to hold in solution iron, soda, magnesia, lime, and a small amount of sulphur. The bathing in this water is very exhilarating. Through the energy of Bishop Thomas Cooper a tank has been erected—the first part of the week is set apart for the ladies and the latter part for the gentlemen—to enjoy the luxury of a bath, which seems to be fully appreciated by all.

The Saints of Monroe now have quite a comfortable meeting house; the pulpit is quite neat, being made from the native red cedar, and polished in its natural color.

The people are doing a good work in planting more trees.

The grain prospects are not as good this year as usual, owing to the dry weather and cold nights.

In Monroe are several mounds where pieces of ancient pottery can be picked up, and occasionally fair specimens of prehistoric handwork can be obtained. I have in my possession a fine specimen obtained by Brother S. Simonson; it is a small jug with a handle on it and was found placed in the chest of a skeleton. The jug was filled with small bones which appear like joints of the fingers and toes. RAMBLER.

In Bear Lake.

A few families are about starting for the British possessions in quest of new homes.

A severe hailstorm swept over Montpelier last Saturday, doing considerable damage.

A. E. Herrick is re-organizing our brass band and is working hard so that the band will be in good working order for the celebration of July 4th.

Our graveyard is fenced and the trees that were planted this spring are doing well. The citizens of Montpelier deserve credit for the good work they have done.

The Primary Association of Montpelier met with the same association of Dingle Dell on Friday last to celebrate the anniversary of the birthday of the late President Brigham Young.

On Sunday last the house of Engineer Steven Staly caught fire. Considerable damage was done by burning nearly all of the clothes belonging to the family. The cause of the fire is a mystery.

The committee who have charge of the celebration of the Fourth of July are bound to make the matter a success, and it is the intention to have a rousing county celebration and a day long to be remembered in this valley.

Politics is all the theme of conversation at present. The coming campaign promises to be a lively one, and the test oath will be no obstacle to any citizen voting unless he is a polygamist. The democratic central committee met at the court house at Paris last week to look after the democracy of this county.

A petition is being circulated in Rich County to have a daily mail established between Evanston and Garden City. We trust our friends in Rich County will be successful in their efforts. A daily mail through the prosperous and thriving settlements in Rich County is an absolute necessity.

There is some prospect of a mail route being established from Montpelier to Salt River. Delegate Carey, of Wyoming, is laboring to this end, and we trust his efforts will be successful. A petition is now in circulation in Star Valley which, when signed, will be forwarded to Washington and Delegate Carey will do all in his power to have the route established.

On Saturday last a picnic party went up Montpelier cañon and had a good time. Strawberries, ice cream, roast and boiled chickens, oranges, candies and nuts were in abundance, and everybody partook freely of the same. Conductor Wm. Vantasell and Charles Hagan worked hard for the success of the party, and it was pronounced the best picnic that was ever had in Bear Lake Valley.

Constable W. T. Johns left on Saturday for Billings, Montana, and the Yellowstone country, to look after some horses that were stolen from this valley two years ago. The horses are in charge of the stock commissioners of Montana, and were taken from Teton Jackson and party.—Southern Idaho Independent, June 8.

Provo Lines.

Real estate agents report a few small sales, but the trade is quiet.

The last term of the district school closes today with an examination, of which all concerned may justly be proud.

Last Wednesday, the early morning passenger train ran into a horse belonging to the lumber company, breaking the animal's leg.

Our legal fraternity are exercised not a little over the pending suit concerning the validity of the acts of the last Legislature.

For an assault and battery on the person of Frank Baker, N. L. Cansey, of Mill Fork, Spanish Fork Cañon, will have a hearing before Justice W. H. Brown tomorrow.

The wrangle still goes on between the City Council and the Enquirer. The council delays action on the resolution closing its doors on the Enquirer's sharpened Faber, and will probably find it good policy to so continue.

Mrs. Vanbeining and son, of Ohio, have been spending a few weeks visiting relatives in this city. A trip up Provo Cañon will be remembered by them as one of their most interesting experiences. They resume their journey westward today.

Provo did not show a very enthusiastic appreciation of phrenology upon the announcement of a free lecture last Monday evening by Professor Cederstrom. A very slim attendance met the professor, but an entertaining exhibition was given, notwithstanding.
