MAGNATES IN SESSION.

Pacific Northwest League Managers Meet at Tacoma.

Tacoma, Wash., April 2.-It was 10 o'clock tonight before the meeting of the Pacific Northwest league was formally called to order at the Protel Tacoma. The called to order at the 17 ctel Tacoma. The delay was occasioned by the fact that L. R. Garctt of the Los Angeles club did not arrive until this evening owing to washouts en route. A short session of an hour was held, devoted to ordinary routine business, after which adjourn-ment was taken until 9 o'clock tomorrow merning to permit the league to attend a banquet tendered it by he Tacoma club.

Besides representatives of Reach Besides representatives of Reach, Spaiding and the Victor people and the Facine Coast Steamship company, the following are here: President W. H. Lucas, John B. Coleman, San Francisco club; L. R. Garrett, Los Angeles, Dr. Emmett Drake and Manager Jack Grim, Portland; President C. A. Dean and Man-ager D. E. Dugdale, Seattle; W. V. Gar-rett, Spokane; J. M. Reynolis, Butte; W. E. Persel, Helena; J. L. Carman, Dave W. Evans and Manager McKibben of Tacoma. Tacoma.

W. Evens and analoge acchemice of Tacoma. At tomorrow's meeting a schedule will be adopted for the coming season, as well as a ball and the name of the league will likely be changed. Speaking of the injunction secured by Fisher of Sacra-mento against Martin Glondon, the mag-nates state that they regard it as a bluft on the part of the outlaw league to hold in court, it will certainly work both ways, as many players under contract to Na-tional association clubs are playing in the outlaw ranks. Reports present the magnates ited to show that a large number of players in the outlaw league have signed contracts to play with the Pacific Northwest league when the lat-ter league's season opens.

ter league's season opens. The name of the league will probably be changed to the "Pacific National league."

Injunction Issued.

Sacramento, Cal., April 2 -- Judge Shields of the superior court today granted a writ of infunction against Martin Gien-don, a baseball pitcher, which will pre-vent him playing in the national game in Catitornia. Ginnion was engaged by Mike Fisher, manager of the Sacramento base-Fisher, manager of the Sacramento base-bail team, to play in his club during the season beginning March 25, and to end on the 25th of next November. A contract was signed and Glendon was to have re-oeived $200 per month. It is set forth that Glendon did not ap-pear at the opening game of the season and it is claimed he has cast his lot with the Facific Northwest Baseball league, a rival to the Facific Coast Baseball league, of which Fisher is a member.

BAKER WORKING HARD.

Attell is on His Way Here From San Francisco.

George Baker, the clever featherweight George Baker, the clever featherweight bover who is matched to meet Caesar arrent in this city on the night of the lith has settled down to hard work pre-paring for the contest, and if he keeps his present lick up will use a superb con-dition when he meets Attell. Baker worked out several fast rounds over at the club yesterday afternoon and to say that he surprised those who watched him is stating it mildly. His performance was pany is now handled by Mr. George W. Thatcher of Logan, whose money has kept it going of late, and whose firm hand is responsible for the better disci-pline evident on every side. The Deseret Dramatic Syndicate is rarely, if ever, quoted. Mr. Bean, the author, however, had been making things live-ly the last few days for Mr. Thatcher, the management of the theater, and the manager of the opera house in Ogden, being forced to take strong steps, as he himself puts it, to secure his justly due royalty on the play, which had not been paid him as he says, since the company began its coast tour. He was given assurances by Mr. Thatcher and the theater management, which satisfied him as far as the present run of the play ex-tends, which is up to tomorrow night inclusive. Thereafter, he says the prop-erty will revert to himself exclusively. He proposes to put the manuscript in his pocket and run over to London, where he says he has sufficient encouragement to induce the belief that he can find a producer in the world's great metropolis. What the syndicate or Mr. Thatcher will have to say to this program is not as yet announced. The latter is known to be the practical owner of all the scenery and costumes and whether he will consent to have them thrown on his hands without a play in which to exploit them, remains to be another legal complication Still loomed up in the representative of Miss Violet Craig, an actress, who has a claim of between $300 or $400 against either the syndicate, the company someone else, it is not very clear which The attachment was levied on the box office, but Mr. Pyper stated that the Theater had made advances to the "Corlanton" company which formed a first lien on the receipts, so what Miss Craig will receive is problematical. She appeared last night in the part of the stammering maid. It is understood that there is no question about her present salary, but that her claim is one for back services.

On his part, Mr. Bean was not frefrom legal worries.' Deputy Sheriff Cummock hovered suspiciously near the box office with attachment papers in the suit of the Star Printing company versus O. U. Bean, for a debt contracted for printing. Mr. Cummock was greatly interested to know whether Mr. Bear had any interest in the night's receipts. and if so he proposed to take possessiof them for his clients. Later he learned that Mr. Thatcher had settled with Bean for all performances, so that his clients must have recourse on Mr. Bean's expected royally out of the oming presentations.

THE PRESENTATION.

As for the play of "Corianton" It must be said that its road experience has greatly benefited it. It goes with more shap, precision, and earnestness than ever, and the thunderbolt climax to act 1, was much better done than on the original presentation. Mr. Ethier while still inclined to occasional stagi ness, plays the main character effect. jvely, and Mr. Swenson is in many parts of the role, the best Shibion we have yet had. Miss Boyer as Zoan and Miss Due as Rella, were both excellent, while the chorus, led by the ringing voices of Miss Levy and Miss Wilson, was specially good. Without doubt "Corianton" will play to the capacity of the house before the week is over. At the Grand "Finnigan's Ball" is in its closing nights, but the business shows no signs of dropping. Monday and Tuesday at the Theater. "Our New Minister" holds the boards. Wednesday night the imperious Nance O'Nell comes back to us. The Grand's Monday night attraction will be the play of "Resurrection." The sale is now going on.
