A COMMON COLD.

We claim that if catching cold could be avoided some of the most dangerous and fatal diseases would never be heard of. A cold often forms a culture bed for a number of serious diseases, such as pneumonia, pleurisy, diphtheria and scarlet fever. Four of the most dangerous and fatal diseases, are of this class. The culture bed is formed to the cold air, the development of the cold air to these diseases that would not otherwise find lodgment. There is little danger however, in any of these diseases but the contractor who gets the cold cough medicine like Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is used. It cures all the culture beds that favor the development of these diseases.

That is why this remedy has proved so universally successful in preventing pneumonia. It not only cures your cold but it cures the risk of contracting these dangerous diseases from all druggists.

DESERET EVENING NEWS FRIDAY FEBRUARY 19 1909

mothers and the churches and the schools. Give me back my boy!

What have you got? One hundred and forty-five thousand packing companies.

Companies will say march them out. Let me count them. And they come out.

You are 10,000 short. Where are they?

"One hundred and ten thousand men are drunkards every year—12 per hour,

366 per day. One man will throw his hands to his head and his life will go out like a burnt match. Another injury. "Mother! Mother!" and stagger off. Still another will leap in front of a train, another will jump from a bridge, another will stab himself in the snow and in the spring the buzzard will find it.

"On goes the damnable trail of injury and iniquity."

CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY THE MOST POPULAR BECAUSE IT IS THE BEST.

"I have sold Chamberlain's Cough remedy for the past eight years and find it to be one of the best selling medicines in the market. But here there is nothing there is nothing better in the line of cough syrups," says Paul Allen, Plain Dealer, La. This remedy is so common among young children, but is pleasant and safe for them to take. It contains no opium or other narcotics and may be given to a baby with confidence to an adult. For sale by all druggists.

"What's that, pap?"

"That's beefsteak and sirloin roast;

the kind that rich folk that ride in automobiles have. The stuff that we have is feeling saloon-keepers on.

You have never had any, and now we are going to hit your little stomach with it. This is the time when your pa has got more sense. He is on the water wagon. Bill helped him get out of it.

Collapses, contless, with sleeves rolled up to elbows, and with perspiration pouring down his face as he waved the red flag with one hand and the Stars and Stripes with the other while he excitedly strode up and down the stage. Evansville Billy Sun after dinner his audience almost to the frenzy point at the Shrine auditorium Saturday afternoon, says the Los Angeles Times.

Nearly a score of years spent in driving the water wagon has made a big difference in Bill Sunday. He used to very gently lead the mng that pulled the vehicle.

Now he runs it by motor power and is a chauffeur that does not fear to turn the throttle to full speed and let the machine toss and vibrate and make the earth go.

Young Alfred Nelson who lived with him.

Nelson had attended a dance in Sandy, and upon returning found Sonnen lying unconscious on the floor, with his head and face badly beaten. A club was lying near by and things in the house were turned upside down, showing that the crime had been done by burglars, who evidently thought that Sonnen, who was somewhat of a recluse, was possessed of considerable money.

The sheriff's office worked all day yesterday on the case but obtained no clue. Sonrensen was unmarried, and is survived by three sisters, namely, Mrs. Anna Hansen of Levan, Utah; a Mrs. Anderson of Copenhagen, Denmark, and Mrs. Mary Christensen of No. 7 McDonald's court, this city. He formerly lived in the Second ward, and conducted a dairy on Fourth East between Eighth and Ninth South. The body is at the undertaking establishment of Joseph William Taylor awaiting funeral arrangements.

THE TRADE ARGUMENT.

"But you say that if we do not have some in the towns we will lose the trade of the farmers. You'll be stinkin' like hell if you don't have it."

There is great difference between personal liberty and civil liberty.

Personal liberty is not for the broken-hearted wife, or innocent children, or the sober, industrious citizen who has to pay the taxes. Personal liberty is for the fellow who has 10 cents and can walk up to a bar and slam it down for booze. Personal liberty murdered Abraham Lincoln. Civil liberty shot J. Wilkes Booth.

THE SUM OF VILLAINIES.

The saloon is an outlaw. There is no law of God or man that the saloon respects or cares the snap of your finger for. The saloon is the sum of all villainies. It is worse than war or pestilence. It is the crime of crimes. It is the parent of crimes and the mother of sins. It is the appalling source of misery and crime in the land. It takes a great part of the taxes to pay for the harm done.

To license such an incendiary field of hell is the dirtiest low down damnable business in the world. There is nothing to compare with it.

"The city of Rochester, N. Y., has 600 saloons.

Last year there was in that city four times as much drunkenness and crime as in the whole state of Maine. More of the workingmen own their homes in Maine than in any other state in the Union.

You hear a great cry up and down the land about personal liberty. Has liberty fallen so low that you have to go into the hell hole of a saloon to bear its name and stand in it?

It is the great difference between personal liberty and civil liberty.

Personal liberty is not for the broken-hearted wife, or innocent children, or the sober, industrious citizen who has to pay the taxes. Personal liberty is for the fellow who has 10 cents and can walk up to a bar and slam it down for booze. Personal liberty murdered Abraham Lincoln. Civil liberty shot J. Wilkes Booth.
