THEATER-Either because theater goers were off electioneering, or because "The Man of the Hour" has tarried too long upon the road, or perhaps from both causes, the attendance at the theater last night, when the popular play made its third visit, was very disappointing to the management. Tonight, with the added attraction of election bulleting read from the stage, it is confidently hoped that the business may bound back to somewhat near the superb ligures of hast year. "The Man of the Hour" is so timely, it teaches so admirable a lesson, and it so well holds up to scorn and indig-nation the methods of graft, with which our own city is informed, that it is a pity our city administration from top to bottom, could not be induced to char-ter the house for an evening and sit through thousalitary lesson that a view of the play affords. The corrupt boxses who try to make the mayor a numet in of the play affords. The corrupt bosses who try to make the mayor a pupet in their hands, and who (on the stage at least) make a failure of their under-taking, the ward heeler types, the fraudulent contract system, and every-thing that makes eity administrations here and elsewhere in America a steach here and elsowhere in America a stend in the nostrils of decent people-all are portrayed with a fidelity and vigor and with touches of humer and portrayals of character, which are in all ways admirable The honors again fell to Mr. Han

That may be expected, but when the people will be able to buy in the part of Phelan, but candld truth ompets the statement that most of the cast fall far below those who have been seen in provious presentations. Mr. Maitland made a manly young mayor, though there is still room for when the people will be able to buy rism apples for the same money they used to pay for wormy ones and the Suits of Uish takes its proper resultion in the fruit market of the world quali to the surrounding states and is able and willing to compete with them, then common will phance and we will have imayor, though there is still room for him to grow. BUNGALOW-When it comes to trained animals acts, the Bungalow this week has one that is well worth men, toning. It is "Barnes's Elephants." the act seut to the show house to take the pince of Leon Morris & Co. The act has made a decided hit and is one or the best of its kind that has ever been here. The troupe of elephants con-sists of three fairly good sized animals, who open with cake walks, limping, dancing and standing on their heads. The second half of the entertainment is a harber shop scene, and the finals is ascene in a laundry. One thing that is very plan is that the trainer has complete control over the animals and they follow his command to the sec-ond. NATIONAL STOVES AND RANGES

Strong Arm Man Is Neatly Captured By His Intended Victim.

When a strong-arm man tried to strong-arm J. R. Nelson, a merchant of Mill Creek, at South Temple and Third West streets, Monday night, Nelson gave him a half-Nelson and strong-armed him. Then he hald him until the patrol wagon arrived, When until the patrol wagon arrived. When searched at the police station, the strong-arm man did not have in his possession a pocketbook containing $16 in cash and a check for $26, which Nelson claimed he had lost. Unable to account for the missing money and pocketbook in any other way, the police concluded that while Nelson's pockets. The strong-arm man denied that he had taken the money or the pocketbook. He gave the name of John Morgan. The police stat-ed that a charge of robbery would be placed against him.

MODERN CLOTHES are all that the name suggests. ORPHEUM-"Circumstantial Evi-dence," the big card at the Orpheum this week, presents some fairly effec-tive, comedy with its diversified touches of human nature. It is an ex-pose of a jury room after the jury has been out 12 hours on a murder case. John J. Williams, who played here back in the days of the Wonder-land, is the chief fun-maker. A quar-ter furnishes some alleged music and a little diversion is found in a quarrel-some poker game by the true and While is in the game progreas honest jurors. While the game is in progress George E. Thompson is arguing that the other 11 men who stand out for conviction are the most stubborn men-in the world. Finally, a telegram comes to him, teiling of his wife's death. With pure imagination, he re-iates a case of circumstantial evidence showing how easy it is to mistake natural actions for guilty deeds. In the end the il men are won over, and the real murderer is found to be a member of the jury. Ed Wynn ran away with a good deal of the laughter with his "Rah, Rah, Rah".-Who pays my bill?" Pa and Ma. Al Lee makas a good "feeder" for the act. Wynn is a good college take-off and it isn't what he does that is so funny but the way he does it. Bose Crouch, and George Weish do soma lively comedy, a bit of singing, and some acrobitic dancing of the knockout variety, which certainly taxes their endurance. "The Millitary Maid, Eva Mudge." gave a clever exhibition of rapid character changes. With it she mixes some sprightly dancing, and a biend-ing of catchy songs. This makes up one of the most wholesome acts on the bill. Charles Montreil does a bit of one of the most wholesome acts on the bill. Charles Montrell does a bit of juggling. He has an assistant, a black face boy who is as awkward as Mont-rell is clever, the former spending most of his time breaking up the dishes. Montrell does a variety of work which pleased the audience. Lew Wells opens the bill with a funny stant some of which is entirely foolish. He seems to have an endless resource of humor. Besides, he gives some good musto on the sexaphone to round out his turn. Fraulein Katchen Loisett has some trained birds, a clever mimic dog, and entertains with some good songs. This closes the bill and it is worth seeing. COLONIAL-At the Colonial hast closes the bill and it is worth seeing. COLONIALS-At the Colonial hast night "The Sumay Side of Broadway" was given to a large and representative andiance, which sat through the fun-roils and lively music of the comedy with evident enjoyment. It is a skit written chiefly to provoke langhter, without regard to plot or probability, and langhter was the goal achieved at least last night, to may author's satis-faction. It is hard to single out any special one as the chief fun-maker: all the cast are that, and the two Irish-men and the Histrews spread great guests of it throughout the play. The volces of the principals are herdly up to the average, but the male chorus work is goed. The girls are pretist, their costments throughout that her

LECTURES ON GENEALOGY.

The lectures on genealogy are being well attended. Wednesday evening at the L. D. S. university Prof. Christenson gave the second of this series, "Gencalogy Among the Jews." A class was organized at the B. T. college at Logan organized at the B. Y. college at Logan last Saturday evening, Mrs. Susa Young Gates giving the first lecture, treating of the "Science of Genealogy," outlining the scope of the 12 lessons, etc. Sunday morning, at the Stake Relief society con-ference at Provo Mrs. Elizabeth C. Mc-Cune spoke on "The Helation of Gen-calogy to Bellef Society Work," and Elder Joseph S. Peery mave an address on "Genealogy for Temple Work," These meetings were all well attended and much interest was aroused.

TO AILING WOMEN

A Little Sound Advice Will Help Many Sufferers in Utah.

No woman can be healthy and well if the kidneys are sick. Poisons that pass off in the urine when the kidneys are well are retained in the body when the kidneys are sick. Kidneys and bladder get inflamed and swollen, crowding the delicate female organs nearby and sometimes displacing them. This is the true cause of many bearing-down pains, lameness, backache, sideache, sic. Uric poisoning also causes headaches, dizzy spella languar, nervousness and rheumatic pain.

When suffering so, try Donn's Kidney PBis, the remady that cures sick kidneys. You will get better as the kinneys get better, and health will return when the kidneys are well, Let a fellow-aufferer tell you about Doan's Kidney Pills.

Mrs. Ella Roese, Payson, Utah says: "Since Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to my notice. I have little ironble from m' kidneys. At one time I was greatly annoyed by somp-toms of kidney complaint and I suf-fered intensely from backache. Doan's kidney Pills. however, brought prompt reitef and out of grattinde, I strongly recommend them."
