

JUDGE ARMSTRONG HAS A BUSY DAY

Joe Porter, Second-Degree Burglar, Gets Two Years in Penitentiary.

COURT ROOM IS CROWDED.

Relatives Thank Judge for His Leniency in Passing Sentence in Decidedly Unsnappy Case.

Several cases were passed upon by Judge Armstrong this morning in addition to passing sentence upon Samuel G. Spencer, Joe Porter, charged with second degree burglary, who had entered a plea of not guilty on May 21, changed his plea to guilty this morning and was sentenced to two years in the state penitentiary. Porter entered the room of Fred Andrews at 53 Addison street on April 22, and will spend two years repenting the act.

Frank C. Kelley, entered a plea of guilty to burglary in the second degree, committed on Feb. 10, 1908, when he entered the building at 146 west Second South street. His case came up before Judge Armstrong June 4, and he took until June 6 to plead. The case was then continued until June 11, when Kelley pleaded guilty to the charge and was sentenced to three years at hard labor in the state penitentiary.

John Kresolinski and Mathias Galanakis, charged with tampering with a switch on the Oregon Short Line railroad, were arraigned and entered pleas of not guilty. June 24, was set for trial of the cases.

The case of Thomas Vance, charged with murder in the first degree, for killing his wife, Mary Vance, was on motion of the attorney for the defense, continued for the term.

Hal Cregier, charged with second degree burglary, was arraigned and entered a plea of not guilty. His case was set for trial on June 29.

GETS SIX MONTHS.

Samuel G. Spencer, found guilty by a jury of having improper relations with 15-year-old Ivy Wallace, was sentenced to serve a term of six months' imprisonment in the state penitentiary for the offense by Judge Armstrong this morning. When the court convened at 10 o'clock the room was crowded with spectators, many of them relatives and the immediate family of the convicted man, anxious to learn the fate of their father and relative. After the sentence was pronounced, several of the members of Mr. Spencer's family went up to Judge Armstrong and thanked him for his leniency, tears streaming from their eyes as they shook his hand.

Upon the calling of the case, Dist. Atty. Leachbourne addressed the judge, asking that the full term of two and a half years, the maximum penalty for the offense, be imposed. He briefly reviewed the trial and said in his opinion the circumstances of the case demanded the imposition of the full penalty.

Judge Thurman and Atty. Wedgwood of the defense argued on the motion made for an abatement of judgment, and also for a new trial, both of which motions were overruled by Judge Armstrong.

SPENCER MAKES TALK.

When the judge asked the defendant if he had anything to say before judgment was passed upon him, Mr. Spencer arose and talked for probably 30 minutes, reviewing the testimony given by each witness in the case, and pointing out that which according to his opinion was false, and that which was true. He called upon God, and angels to witness that he was innocent of the crime charged against him, and said he had never taken undue liberties with the Wallace girl, nor did he wish to be judged by the public, and concluded with a repeated declaration of his innocence.

SENTENCE PASSED.

Judge Armstrong then said that the maximum sentence provided by the statute for offenses like the one before the court, two and a half years, was too light to punish the crime, and in view of the fact that the prisoner at bar had been before the courts several times on the charge, that his property resources had been sapped in defending the action; that he had a large family depending upon him for support and the insufficiency of the penalty provided by law in any event, he thought the ends of justice would be subserved by the infliction of a lighter sentence, and thereupon sentenced Spencer to a term of six months in the penitentiary.

After a consultation it was decided by the defense that no appeal should be taken. Deputy Sheriff Joseph Sharp was present to take the prisoner out to the penitentiary to begin his sentence this afternoon, and after a tearful adieu, the family of Mr. Spencer parted from him and the court adjourned.

SUIT ON NOTE.

The case of J. L. Robson against G. B. Blakeley was placed on trial in Judge Lewis' division of the Third

The suit is on a promissory note alleged to have been given at Omaha, in December, 1898, by Blakeley and Robson is suing to recover the sum of $1,875 alleged to be due on the same. Blakeley says that the consideration of the note was based on certain collections in Utah to be made by Robson, which, he claims, were never made.

Jennings, who died June 2, has filed a petition in the Third district court asking that Willard Young and Sidney K. Hooper be appointed administrators of the estate of deceased, leaving her own right in the matter. HUSBAND CHARGES CRUELTY.

Frank Hicks enters the district court this morning, charged with cruelty to his wife, Ida Hicks, and that he be given the custody of their two children for six months of each year until they may attain their majority. He also asks the court to designate such amount of money as it may think necessary for the proper education and care of the children. Hicks' wife made his life unbearable, has called him ill-sounding names and is generally quarrelsome. They were married in Richfield, Oct. 14, 1905.

WILSON MUST BE GOOD.

With the understanding that he is to keep away from his niece, Mrs. E. L. McMurrin of 22 east Sixth South street, and also refrain from molesting E. Willoughby, J. L. Wilson got off with a light fine of only $10 for battery upon Willoughby in Judge Diehl's court yesterday afternoon. Wilson was arrested June 5 for battery upon Willoughby, who is an old man. The affair occurred at the home of Mrs. McMurrin. Wilson engaged in an altercation with the woman and was ordered from the place by Willoughby who happened to be present. The two women live near the Highland Boy smelter and some time ago engaged in a quarrel. Mrs. Smith, who is a large woman, seized the aged Mrs. Johnson and ducked her in the ditch. The excitement and cold brought about an alarming condition for Mrs. Johnson and she found it necessary to call in a physician.

During the trial of the case yesterday Mrs. Smith acted as her own lawyer and considered the proceedings quite funny until the court imposed a fine of $10 and then she changed her mind.

Tom Pecos was assessed $10 for carrying a pair of brass knuckles and an additional $5 for carrying a knife. Teseo York was fined $10 for carrying a concealed weapon and another $10 for disturbing the peace.

D. S. MURRAY WILL MOVE HIGHER UP

General Manager of Rocky Mountain Bell Telephone Company Leaves Soon.

TO GO TO SAN FRANCISCO.

Will be Placed in Executive Position With Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co.—Started as Collector.

General Manager D. S. Murray of the Rocky Mountain Bell Telephone company will resign his position here in a short time to accept a more important post in the Bell service. He will go to San Francisco to assume an executive place with the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company.

The change has not been given out officially, and Mr. Murray declines to discuss it, but the fact that he is to make the change is admitted to be true. E. C. Bradley, vice president and general manager of the Pacific company, is now in the east and no announcement will probably be made until he returns to San Francisco. It is known, however, that Mr. Murray will have a high executive position with the Pacific company, whose territory includes California, Washington, Oregon, Arizona and Nevada. It has the largest territory of any of the Bell companies.

Mr. Murray has been general manager of the local Bell company for about 10 years. Prior to his coming to that office he was general superintendent of the company and before that was superintendent of the Montana division. He went to work for the company as a collector, when he was scarcely more than a boy, and has been with it continuously since 1884. In which time he has become one of the best known figures in the business field of the intermountain country. This promotion, evidently, is one of the results of the recent visit of a distinguished party of telephone executives, headed by Theodore Vail. Other announcements of importance in the telephone world are expected at the Bell offices almost daily.

WHISKY NEARLY KILLED HIM.

At midnight he was found on First North between Seventh and eighth streets, in an unconscious condition and nearly dead. He was taken to the emergency hospital and for several hours hovered between life and death.

Sergeant Roberts found the man and lost no time in summoning Dr. C. S. Paine, police surgeon. The latter worked over Jones for some time before he was out of his power. The man, when recovered and was placed in the drunkhouse where he will remain until brought into court.

TROUSSEAU FROM LONDON.

A bridal trousseau, invoiced at 40 guineas, was received in the Salt Lake custom house this morning, from London, for a coming Salt Lake bride. As the duty is about 60 per cent ad valorem, the cost of the package will amount to about $225. Collector Greene, who smiled a mysterious smile when asked who the trousseau was for, and declined to be more explicit than to say that the bride-elect was a favorite society girl.

WEATHER TALK.

A rough of low barometric pressure, extending over the plateau and Rocky Mountain slopes, causing showers over portions of Nevada, Idaho, Montana, Nebraska, Oklahoma, South Dakota, and the British Northwest Territory. Another disturbance is central along the Atlantic coast, producing precipitation east of the Mississippi valley to the Atlantic seaboard, with the possibility of rain over the Ohio valley and North Carolina. Over the north Pacific states and the lake region the barometric pressure is high. The north Pacific high pressure will cause continued fair weather with moderate temperatures in this locality tonight and Friday.

Thieves entered the offices of the Hatch Brick company last night and all that was stolen, as far as discovered, were five blank checks. These were numbered 5,190 to 5,194, and the company believes that the thieves will try to fill them out and cash them.

The requisition papers for the return of J. A. Telefer to this city for trial were issued by the governor this morning and placed in the hands of Detective Ed. Janney, who will leave for Omaha to bring the man to Salt Lake for trial. Telefer is charged with having defrauded several Salt Lake merchants of money on bogus checks, among them one for $50 on B. B. Heywood and another for $1,000 on a Cache valley concern.

Mrs. Shepard in Idaho—Mrs. E. E. Shepard, state president of the W. C. T. U., left for Idaho yesterday morning, in the interest of local option. She will speak for one month, covering a large part of the state, and before turning, will make a trip through Yellowstone park.

No other gift so fully expresses the sentiment of the June wedding as a box of McDonald's 400 Chocolates.

Wedding over, the bride starts in right by making cocoa—McDonald's, of course.
