

Paris is increasing in sadness. There have been 160,000 departures in ten days. The chaplains are ordered to cease mass in the prisons. The Commune has searched the insurance offices for Eugenie's deposits.

A special dispatch to the World says the Paris government has completed arrangements for moving against Paris. The troops will move simultaneously with the Germans along the line, by Montmartre and Bercy. Learning this, the Commune have resolved to march on Versailles to-night, with thirty thousand national guards, via Montrouge, where the infantry line is stationed. Overcoming or fraternizing with these, they will proceed to Versailles and disperse the Assembly.

The flag of the Commune is that of the "Universal Republic." Ten commissioners are appointed executive on military, subsistence, financial, justice, public security, work, trade, service and foreign affairs. The Commune has determined to dispatch representatives to the different States of Europe, especially Prussia, when her future attitude is known.

The Commune summoned Col. Schlotheim to surrender Valerien, but he refused.

The Rappel has a letter from Lemier, complaining of the treatment he has received from the Commune.

The city continues deserted. It is stated that letters for journals outside Paris are stopped.

LONDON, 1.—The Times special says Thiers paid $500,000,000 francs to the Germans on Friday evening. He was then allowed to receive reinforcements. The Queen Dowager of Sweden is ill.

The Telegraph's special dispatch says the 13th of the line, from Versailles, reconnoitering on the bridge of Sevres, deserted bodily and entered Paris, and enthusiastically fraternized with the guards. The fugitives from Paris are increasing.

In the great boat race between Cambridge and Oxford, Cambridge was the winner.

In the boat race, the Oxfords chose the Middlesex side. Both made a splendid start, but Cambridge took a slight lead at the start, and maintained it throughout. The race was well contested. Cambridge took their opponents' water at Barnes Bridge, but beyond the Oxfords spurted slightly and decreased the distance.

One thousand released French soldiers have arrived at Gluckstadt, the capital of Holstein, from Germany. A similar number is expected this evening. Transports are in waiting to take them to France. Bismarck has written to Strasbourg that Germany will compensate the inhabitants of Alsace and Lorraine at the same rate as were accorded the inhabitants of those provinces when they were annexed, under similar circumstances, to France.

VERSAILLES, 1.—The Journal has charged General Clinchauf, with the organization of troops. General Charette holds Nantes. A movement is on foot in Paris to disarm and disband all battalions of the nationals which do not recognize the authority of the Commune. The Cri du Peuple demands that this proposition be speedily carried into effect in the Second arrondissement. The Social New Evening Journal proposes the abolition of the inheritance of property, and the Cri du Peuple approves. Thiers telegraphs to the prefects of departments, that Lyons, St Etienne, Le Creuzot, Toulouse and Perpignan are quiet. Zenites, with 900 men, defeated the insurgents, at Norbonne, and captured their leaders. Marseilles has recognized the regular government. The Commune in Paris is divided, agitated and powerless and the Assembly is sitting tranquilly, at Versailles, surrounded by the best army France ever had.

PARIS, noon.—The Debats reports a collision at the bridge of Sevre with Ducrot's men and some insurgent battalions. The commune were on the alert last night, fearing an attack; there were ten thousand men in the Bois Du Boulogne, a large number are bivouacked in the Camps Elysees. The gates of Mallat, Anteuil and Point Du Jour are closed. The Mot d'Ordre says the sittings of the Commune will soon be public. The same paper states that several battalions provided with camping material, marched out yesterday in the direction of Passy. The Official Journal declares the object of the revolution is to guarantee the perpetuity of the republic, by laying a foundation broad, deep and immovable. Paris, in renouncing its independence, will still be the head of France.

LONDON, 2.—The following has just been received from Versailles: Several thousand national guards, occupying Puteau Canlevoe and the bridge of Neuilly, have been routed by troops, who carried the barricades and the defender fled into the city. The moral effect of this affair is excellent. The Paris committee intend to issue assignats, to meet their immediate necessities. The party of order still hold possession of the bank of France. The bank, however, to save itself from being plundered, has advanced three millions of francs to the insurgents. The organization and equipment of marching battalions, in Paris, is actively going on. The army of Versailles has occupied St. Cloud and the line of the Seine.

HOME NEWS.

"BEAVER, March 30.—Major Jas. Gorlinski, U. S. Deputy Surveyor, arrived yesterday, from his camp at Fremont's Pass. He has entered and completed his surveys in Parowan, and is preparing to cross over the Iron mountains to Sevier, on sixth standard parallel, of which he has already surveyed a portion, and finds the route practicable. He intends to reach, with his line, the point due south of Salt Lake City, at the principal meridian, and lay out the basis for the future surveys of the whole upper Sevier and Kanab country. He contemplates finishing the present contract by bringing his surveys north to Bullion City silver mines.

Farmers are busy putting in small grain. The weather has been very cold for several days. There is a strong north wind blowing.

LOGAN, March 30.

This is the finest day of this season. Sickness is prevailing among children, mostly from cold. There has been no discovery of grasshopper eggs so far.

FILMORE, 30.

Three miners from White Pine, together with a few citizens, are working about four miles south clearing rocks from a place named Hell Hole. It has every appearance of an old shaft and is thought to have formerly been worked by Mexicans. Rocks taken from the side of the shaft will assay from one to three hundred dollars gold, per ton; the shaft is now 80 feet down.

RETURNED.—Bishop Leonard E. Harrington, of American Fork, returned to the city last evening after an absence of several weeks on business in the East and visiting his relatives. He left this city on the 6th of last January, and has had a most delightful trip, and, we should judge, has been greatly blessed, in disabusing the public mind of many incorrect ideas respecting the Latter-day Saints. He has visited his friends in New York; Jackson, Michigan and De Witt, Iowa. We find the following notice of his visit to De Witt in the Observer published in that town:

MORONI, 1.

At half-past seven o'clock, a.m., to-day, Rinaldo, son of R. M. and Lavinia Rogers, accidentally shot himself while handling a revolver. He was shot through the brain, and expired in about thirty minutes after the accident. He was thirteen years of age.

St. GEORGE, 1st.

Yesterday, two men, representing themselves to be agents for a large mining company, came to town. They are prospecting for precious ores and, from specimens examined, consider their prospects good.

Our farmers are exceedingly busy, putting in their crops.

The weather is delightful.

PROVO, April 3rd.

On Friday evening, some two or three young men being intoxicated, on Main St., and becoming noisy, the police interfered, when one of them, Peter Boyer, concluding the amount of civilization he had so far enjoyed was all-powerful, endeavored to show fight, which resulted in his being rudely handled and lodged in the guard house. He makes his appearance before the Alderman this morning.

On Saturday morning, Emma, wife of Henry White, departed this life. Funeral services were held at the residence of her father, Henry Saunders, yesterday. President Smoot offered appropriate remarks.

At half past five, yesterday, the ceremony was performed of drumming out of the service of the U. S. camp, at Fort Rawlins, two soldiers, who had been found guilty of desertion and other offenses. One was Terry, of Co. K, and the other Gillon, of Co. B. They were bareheaded, Gillon's head having been close shaved; he has also been branded. They were preceded by two soldiers, with bayonets fixed and arms reversed, and followed by soldiers with arms at charge bayonet; then came the band, playing. After parading around the camp they were turned into the street and their discharges handed to them by an officer. It is rumored that Major Osborne, commanding at Camp Rawlins, has been released from said command and will leave, with his company, on Wednesday, for Camp Douglas. Another company is expected to-morrow, with the new commandant of the Post, to fill the vacancy. The Major has behaved himself in a very gentlemanly manner while he has been in our midst, and we trust his services will be as highly appreciated elsewhere, as here. The weather is very dry.

AMERICAN FORK, 3rd.

Good health prevails. The land is rather dry for the grain sown.

Several gentlemen prospecting for mines in American Fork, are reported doing very favorably. Reliable parties report from Camp Floyd mining district, a number of very large veins of milling ore. One, called "Silver Cloud," resembles, in size and appearance, the celebrated Comstock lode. The "Mormon Chief" has been raked over about a mile in length, and appears very large. One vein, of 400 feet, was sold for $6,000. Several others are being prospected with very good indications. Our people, generally, realize that attending to their farms, stock and mechanical pursuits, is the surest way to get rich.

BRIGHAM CITY.

Thomas Yates, of this place, had his leg broken last evening. He was playing at ball and, in running, stepped "slantwise" on a rock. Dr. Ormsby was immediately in attendance.

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

FROM SATURDAY'S DAILY.

SEXTON'S REPORT FOR MARCH.—Males 18, females 16. Of these adults 12, children 22. Died of the following causes as reported: Lung disease 19; brain fever 2; old age 2; child-bed 2; died at birth 2; liver complaint 1; heart disease 1; measles 1; convulsions 1; cancer 1; marasmus 1, killed accidentally 1. Total interments, 34. Jos. E. TAYLOR, Sexton.

FREAKS OF NATURE.—Bro. Paul A. Schettler showed us, yesterday, some remarkable specimens of eggs, which his fowls, of which he has so fine a collection and variety, laid within the last few days. There was a very large goose egg, which resembled the egg of an ostrich more than that of a goose. It was laid on the 28th of March. Its circumference, lengthwise, was 11 inches, by 7½. It weighs upwards of 7½ ounces. There were also three eggs, one laid by a light Brahma fowl, the second by a Java and the third by a Howdan, weighing 3½ ounces each, and measuring 7½ by 5½ inches. These eggs, we should judge to have double yokes. Besides these large eggs there were three eggs about the size of pigeons' eggs, weighing ½ of an ounce, laid by a large white spanish hen, and of similar size, but heavier, laid by two Light Brahma hens.

SPRINGVILLE.—Our Springville correspondent, C. D. Evans, writing from that place, March 29th, says:

"During the last six months, our little store in Springville has cleared thirty-seven per cent. on stock invested, after having sold merchandise at fair and reasonable rates. In view of these results, the stockholders of the Institution, at a meeting recently held, expressed themselves as being unable longer to endure the humiliation of renting a store, and doing business off the Main Street, it was therefore resolved that we 'come to the front' and show ourselves. It was voted that we build a brick store on Main Street, unanimous; not even a single exception. It was further voted that the premises owned by G. D. Wood & Co., adjacent to the public square, be purchased, being the most suitable site for such a structure. A committee was appointed to let contracts for the building, and the work will be prosecuted with vigor at an early date. How will the enemies to co-operation interpret such results? How will they reconcile them with their predictions of its early dissolution? Co-operation is a 'living fact' and needs no eulogy from my humble pen. It contains the elements of perpetuity and success, and will, no doubt, extend itself until it shall embrace, not only mercantile business, but manufacturing, farming, stock-raising, and every other branch of industry."

FUNERAL CEREMONIES.—At one o'clock yesterday afternoon a large number of our citizens assembled at the house of Mr. George C. Riser, 16th Ward, to attend to the funeral obsequies of his wife. It is seldom that we have seen more deep sympathy exhibited than on this occasion. The death of Sister Riser was so sudden and unexpected that none of her friends were prepared for the occurrence. The house was filled, and a large number were provided with seats on the front verandah and in the front yard. The assemblage was addressed by Elders Joseph F. Smith, George Q. Cannon and Bishop E. Kesler. The remarks of the latter especially, as to the exemplary and faithful life of the deceased, were calculated to console the family and to hold her up as an example for her children to imitate. The following letter gives a brief sketch of the incidents of Sister Riser's life:

SALT LAKE CITY, March 31, 1871.

Editor Deseret News.—Dear Sir. In connection with what I published in your valuable paper yesterday, concerning the death of my beloved wife Christiana Kull Riser, you will oblige me by publishing the following items of her history.

Deceased was the daughter of Frederick Jacob and Christiana Rummoser Kull. She was born Dec. 3, 1822, at Banbach, Wurtemburg, Germany. In 1832, when nine years of age, she emigrated with her parents, two brothers and two sisters, to America; and was married to me Jan. 10, 1841, at Marion, Marion Co., Ohio. On Sept. 6th, 1842, we migrated to Nauvoo, Illinois, where we were both baptized Dec. 12, of the same year. At the time of the expulsion of the Saints from Nauvoo, 1846, she journeyed with me to Council Bluffs, and in the spring of 1847 we started with an ox team in the first company of families across the plains to Salt Lake Valley, where she resided until her decease. She was the mother of nine children—six sons and three daughters. Three sons and three daughters are still living with me to mourn her loss. She was an honest, upright woman, and a kind and affectionate wife and mother, and very charitable to the poor and afflicted. She lived and died a faithful Saint, with a full assurance of a reunion with her family and friends in the morning of the first resurrection. From your brother in the gospel of peace, GEO. C. RISER.

She arrived in this valley in the fall of 1849. She was married February 1st, 1854 and has left three children to mourn her loss.
