FLOATING FRAGMENTS.

Laramie has had three inches of snow this week.

Police meeting to night, in the Soda Hall, at 6.30 o'clock.

Park City, like her sister towns, is enjoying a building boom.

President A. C. Smoot, of Provo, has a little three-year-old son dangerously ill.

David Malville, for stealing a ride on the C. & N. Central Railway, was fined $5.

It has been the most delightful fall experienced for some time. Cool, but very pleasant.

See notice of strayed or stolen in another column. A liberal reward is offered for the return of the animal.

Water pipes in Park City are being dug up and planted deeper to prevent freezing, in anticipation of a hard winter.

James Smith was arrested last evening for stealing clothes from Boutch & Sons, Tailors. His case was to come up this afternoon.

The case of assault and battery pending in the Police Court to-day. Three of drunkenness (one a woman) were fined, one $5 and the others $10 respectively.

The new brick building lately erected on First South Street, by Messrs. Clawson, Roberts, Ellinger, et al. assumes a noble and imposing appearance.

The street supervisor has the thanks of the people for his clearing of the city, for the thorough cleaning out he is giving the ditches in that vicinity.

Yoni Klippner, the Hebrew Feast of Atonement, which lasts for twenty-four hours, during which it is the custom of all faithful Jews to strictly fast, ends at sunset this evening.

The business of the First National Bank of Provo, for the six months ending September 29th, has been successful and satisfactory to an extent unprecedented in the experience of the institution.

This morning, Officer T. F. Thomas, while getting on or getting off the street car in the 21st Ward, lost a gold watch, which he is looking for. A citizen improved double action revolver. Leave it at the City Hall and be rewarded.

Drs. Benedict and Pike performed an operation this afternoon on the person of C. Stephens, a resident of Ogden. A tumor in the right shoulder, necessitated the amputation of that arm and a portion of the shoulder and collar bone.

The Enquirer records two accidents, one to a three-year old child of Joseph Wignall, who had the middle finger of his right hand so badly crushed by an axe in the hands of his little brother, as to require amputation, and the other to a young man named Gary Stevens, who, while attending a dance at Spanish Fort, accidentally fell and fractured his collar bone.

JOS. F. SMITH, F. D. RICHARDS.

Going South.—Brother Andrew Jacobson, editor and publisher of the Morgantown, will start next Monday on a canvassing trip through Utah, Sanpete, Sevier, Millard and Juab Counties in the interests of his paper. Success!

Getting it down to a Science.—The Salt Lake Fire Department, under the energetic management of Chief Engineer Ostinger, is fast getting into a state of efficiency hitherto unequalled in its history. A representative of this paper, having occasion to visit the Hall this morning, because eye witness to an experiment in this relation which speaks for itself. The public are already aware that since the action of the City Council in the matter of a paid fire department, arrangements have been going on looking to the future equipment of the force and a more thorough system of discipline among its members. The main object, after the fire alarm has been given, is to get the hose cart to the hydrant nearest the scene of the fire. For this purpose a horse has been trained and is kept right in the Hall within a few feet of the shaft of the hose cart, while stationary men are on duty night and day, ready for immediate action at the tap of the bell. This morning the experiment of putting the horse between the shafts, harnessing him, opening the doors, men getting into the cart ready for starting out of the Hall, was tried; and the whole of it was accomplished in the almost incredibly brief space of three and three-quarter seconds from the moment of giving the command. This is getting matters down to a fine point, and we do not think the time is not far distant when the Salt Lake Firemen will compare favorably in efficiency and general discipline with those of any other part of the United States.

MORE OF THE SOUTHERN COUNTRY.

FOUR ROUTES TO PRINCIPAL POINTS IN ARIZONA.

Elder David P. Kimball, of St. David, Coconino County, Arizona, gives the following information for the benefit of those who travel southward to that region, either to the Salt River or the San Pedro Valley.

From Ogden, travelers should take rail by the Central Pacific to Lathrop Junction, California, change there to the Southern Pacific line and go on to Maricopa Station, where they may take stage for Mesa City, 28 miles distant. If St. David be the destination, passengers should go on to Benson, about 120 miles beyond Maricopa, and connect there with the Sonora branch of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway, by which they may reach Canisteo Switch, within one mile of St. David. Through tickets can be purchased at the C. P. office, Ogden, on reasonable terms.

Another route to the points above named is as follows: By rail from Ogden or Salt Lake City, via the Denver & Rio Grande Railway, to La Junta, Colorado, and there change cars to the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway as far as Deming, New Mexico. From this point the Southern Pacific Railway conveys passengers to Benson, where connections can be made as already described. Anyone wishing to go to Pima, Graham County, or other settlements on the Gila, should get off at Bowie or Wilcox stations, before reaching Benson. Tickets over the Denver & Rio Grande may be obtained of W. C. Spruce, President of the office, Salt Lake City.

Those wishing to go overland with their own teams and drive their loose stock, may go by way of the Sevier settlements to Kanab, thence to Lee's Ferry on the Colorado river to Sunset, Arizona. From this point they would cross the Mogollon (pronounced Mokepoo) Mountains to the Gila Valley, and from there through Spring Valley to St. David, on the San Pedro. Mormon settlements, good feed and water at reasonable distances all the way.

The fourth route is by way of St. George, to Pearce's Ferry, on the Colorado, thence to Hackberry, thence to Williamson's Valley, thence to Pinal or Mesa City, and thence to Tucson on the San Pedro. Parties going by this route should take grain for their teams.

In the Gila Valley there are four organized settlements with good opportunities for making comfortable homes. Orchards and vineyards can be grown in half the time required in colder climates. Sulphur Springs Valley, in south-eastern Arizona, is considered the best in that Territory for grazing and agricultural purposes. Water rises near to the surface in the centre of the valley, for many miles, but in dryer places good crops have been raised without irrigation. Mr. Hooker, the Arizona cattle king, in the northern part of the valley near Fort Grant, has produced on his ranch a good quality of corn in this manner for the past two years. Brother Wm. Fife, 40 miles further south, on the west slope of the Chiricahua Mountains, has raised barley, vegetables and garden sauce sufficient for family use, during the same period, without irrigation. Brother George Lake, 23 miles south of that, on White River, put in some Indian corn on the 5th of last July, and on the 27th of August, while at Brother Kimball's, in St. David, told the latter that the corn, which had had no water since it was planted, was higher than his head (over six feet), and was silking out. In the Chiricahua Mountains good timber, such as pine, cedar, juniper, black and white oak, sycamore, walnut, elder and hackberry, abounds. Men from the Western States and California are fast locating in the country. Three steam sawmills were in operation during the past season, and two of them are still running. On the foothills west of St. David, near the Whistler Mountains, Mr. Kenner has produced corn for two seasons on the dry farming principle, and President C. Layton has demonstrated the fact that alfalfa can be raised anywhere on the San Pedro without irrigation.

Coming Amusements.—Mr. J. B. Langreble, the "Man in a Maze," supported by an eastern dramatic company, will open an engagement of two succeeding nights and a matinee at the Salt Lake Theatre tomorrow evening.

The Leonard Grover Comedy Company, which appears at the Theatre for three nights and a matinee next week, will produce "Our Boarding House," "Lepet, the Tom Boy" and "My Son-in-Law," on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights respectively.

On Friday and Saturday of next week, the 19th and 20th inst., Frederico Macabace, the celebrated solo character delineator and ventriloquist, will appear at the Salt Lake Theatre in his original monologue entertainment entitled "Begone Dull Care," a vocal, ventriloquist, musical and acrobatic melange, in which he will display his powers of changing voice, figure and face, with rapid changes of costume and new and original songs, music and appointments. Mr. John G. Lockwood, advance agent, is now in the city.

Passed Away.—Mother Martha Lewis, of the 15th Ward, wife of William Lewis, departed this life Monday morning at 10 o'clock, at the ripe old age of 78 years. The funeral was held in the Fifteenth Ward meeting house yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The deceased embraced the Gospel in 1849, at Baseline, Monmouthshire, South Wales, and emigrated from there in 1871. Besides her aged partner and two sons, she leaves a large circle of friends to mourn her absence. She suffered considerable pain during the last few days of her life, but bore up to the end with characteristic fortitude, and has gone to a better world to receive the reward of a consistent life of continued faithfulness in life.

Smallpox and Diphtheria.—A communication from Motoni, Benne County, signed by Messrs. G. W. Bradley, Christen Jensen and Peter Lauritzen, board of health for that place, gives a statement of the facts regarding the smallpox reported as prevalent in that vicinity. About three weeks ago the smallpox was discovered there. Having been pronounced to be such by a doctor and other experienced nurses, the two houses containing it were immediately quarantined. The malady had been of a mild form, and as there were no new cases on hand, it was expected that in a few days the quarantine would be raised.

There had been several cases of diphtheria in the same settlement. Brother Niels Olsen having lost three children during the past few weeks, while others of his family were afflicted with the same malady. This disease was also abating.

"Signs Following."—Elder Chas. Weatherstone wrote from Sunderland, England, on Sept. 5th, to the Millennial Star:

There has been a case or two of miraculous healing in this Conference which may be worthy of mention, and of publication if you think fit. Sister Margaret Anderson, wife of Wm. Anderson, 44 Leonard St., Fortrick Lane, North Stockton, has been an invalid and confined to her bed for 18 months with rheumatism and was unable to walk at all.
