

CLASSIC GREEKS BOUND FOR HOME

Tawny Descendants of Historic Ancestors Read Signs of Times and Depart.

RAILROAD OFFICES ARE BUSY.

Schools of Hellas Have Saved Their Money and Are Independent—
Didn't Want Cashiers' Checks.

Pete Themistocles Rhammatene and all his friends are going home in other words there is now on an exodus of the tawny descendants of Eschylus, Alcibiades and other equally historic gentlemen. These various descendants had descended so far that for a consideration they condescended to swing picks on the lines of the street car system or act as propelling equipment for wheelbarrows on the Western Pacific grade, but now they are leaving the pick and wheelbarrow and buying tickets for Athens and other flourishing centers in Greece. Pete, etc., and his friends have been saving their $2 a day, more or less, for months—aye, years past—and now with the fifty-lb. stuff in hidden belts are being the old folks at home. Dozens upon dozens of the swarthy skinned sons of Greece are lined up before ticket counters every day. It is estimated a score of Greeks are leaving Salt Lake for their native country daily.

The reason? The present financial stringency is held responsible. The Greeks, while they are seldom seen sitting in private offices of big brown stone buildings labeled "BANKS," follow national conditions closely. They see railroads and big corporations retrenching and curtailing, and without waiting to be discharged, are resigning and intend spending the next few months and their hard earned dollars in a country, which in having no finances, has no crises.

In short, thousands of Greeks are leaving for Greece, intending to remain until conditions have become normal again in great and glorious America.

OFFICES FUMIGATE.

Railroads are laying off men—or have been—owing to the present stringency and approaching winter. So it's good bye, Pete. Pete has not been buying automobiles, so his plans of money to buy railroad and steamship tickets. As a result railroad offices fumigate every evening to keep from resembling a garlic cellar. A dozen Greeks, headed by one who can make a run and jump at having out English, swarm into a railroad office, and the dialogue runs something like this:

Greek Spokesman—"Good day. We want railroad tickets. To Athens. Dozen."

Railroad Clerk—"What time?"

G. S.—"We bin workin' de street car line."

R. C.—"No, I mean how do you want to go?"

G. S.—"Right quick."

R. C.—"How shall I route you?"

All the Greeks Together—"Huh?"

R. C.—"Oh, lord—this is awful for thirty-five a month."

The necessary transactions are finally closed and another dozen come in. Repeat dialogue three times every hour.

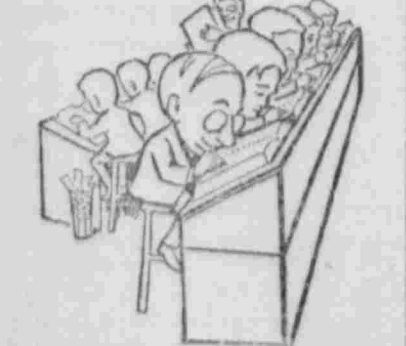

WANT THE REAL "MON."

While on the subject of Greeks, a funny thing happened in the Utah Light & Railway office yesterday. A number of ex-pick wielders who had collected quite a fine assortment of pay checks, appeared at the cashier's window and asked "for dea mon." Dea mon was forthcoming all right, but in the form of cashier's checks. Silence fell over the small mob in front of the barred window as the man behind started peeling off slips of papers. The spokesman of the Greeks finally asked for "real dingle-dingle mon." When the cashier made it plain none of the dingle-dingle was on hand, there were several first-class representations of how Demosthenes must have talked to the sea waves, while conquering an impediment in his speech. Not until Manager Wells came to the front and told the boys all about it would they accept the slips of paper offered in exchange for their time slips.

MANIAC ATTEMPTS ESCAPE.

While being taken to the state mental hospital at Provo yesterday, Stanish Mesich, who on Wednesday was adjudged to be insane, tried to jump through a car window while the train was in rapid motion. He had asked permission to open the window, and had it not been for the fact that Officers Steele, Sperry and Smith were close at hand, he would have jumped to his death. The attempt at escape or self-destruction was made near Murray.

Doctors leaving the county jail, Mesich fiercely attacked a trusty named Laquerque, who was assisting to handcuff him. Laquerque's face was badly scratched in the melee. Mesich, Peter Boyd and William Jackman were safely landed in the mental hospital later in the day.

MONT FERRY MAY PRODUCE REPORT

Councilman Introduces Resolution in Anticipation of Happy Event.

WOULD ABOLISH THE SALOON.

Theater Managers Protest Against Renewal of Resort Near Proposed Place of Amusement.

The city council met in special session last evening, to consider regular work of that body scheduled for last Monday night, but which had to be deferred in order that the returns of the late election might be canvassed.

The principal matters to come before the council Thursday night were petitions and resolutions. The Western Amusement company, which is building a theater near the corner of First South and State street, asked that the liquor licenses of Batley & Co., Kennedy & Prader and Samuel Fievelo be not renewed, for the reason that they are within the proscribed 50 feet of a theater.

A. B. Irvine and other persons residing on A street filed a protest against the paying of that street as at present contemplated.

HOPE SPRINGS ETERNAL.

In view of proposed changes in the matter of keeping the books and accounts of the city, whenever the long looked for report of the special auditors shall have been given to the public, Councilman Ferry introduced two resolutions anticipating that event. One was to the effect that strict inventories be taken of each of the city offices, covering furniture and supplies. The other resolution was in the nature of a prohibition in the matter of ordering books, etc., until it should be known just what the new system will call for.

WILL PROTECT CITIZENS.

Upon recommendation of City Engineer Kelsey, the city will ask the county to join with it in the protection of people living in northwest Salt Lake from floods occasioned by reason of dams in the river. Part of the district likely to be inundated is outside the city limits.

City Recorder Moreton submitted a report to the council, and he announced the appointment of Herbert Carrigan as a stenographer in the criminal division of the city court to take the place made vacant by the retirement of Harry D. Chase.

The expenses of the late election amounted to $2,197.35, as submitted by the finance committee.

STATE COMMITTEE HAS BEEN NAMED

National Society for Promotion
Of Education. Will Hold Convention in Chicago.

TO STUDY TRADE TRAINING.

Judge Rolapp of Ogden and President
Widows of Agricultural College
Men Who Represent Utah.

The National Society for the Promotion of Industrial Education, which will hold a big convention on industrial education in Chicago, Dec. 5-7, has announced the appointment of 31 state committees, composed of representative men, who will forward the interests of industrial education in their respective states. The formation of state committees is the first attempt of the National society to carry on a campaign through the medium of active state organizations.

The aim of the state committees will be to make a study of the conditions of trade training in the various states, to arouse public interest in the subject, and to work for the legislative action in support of industrial schools, where such action seems desirable.

BROAD DISCUSSION.

Through this campaign the National society hopes to bring about a broad discussion of the whole matter, and to influence the establishment of local and state schools that will materially assist in the thorough training of skilled workmen for the industries.

The society hopes, through these agencies, to bring out the defects of the public school system, and under which hundreds of thousands of children annually leave school for undesirable employment before they have reached an age where they can enter a trade. In the opinion of directors of the National society, these conditions are such as to constitute a serious menace to American industrial supremacy, which it is imperative to remove.

The Utah state committee is as follows: H. H. Rolapp, treasurer Amalgamated Sugar company, of Ogden, and Dr. John A. Widows, president Agricultural college, of Logan.

SCHOOL TEACHERS

Also Have Things to Learn.

"For many years I have used coffee and refused to be convinced of its bad effect upon the human system," writes a veteran school teacher.

"Ten years ago I was obliged to give up my much loved work in the public schools after years of continuous labor. I had developed a well defined case of chronic coffee poisoning."

"The troubles were constipation, flatulence of the heart, a thumping in the top of my head and various parts of my body, twitching of my limbs, shaking of my head and, at times after exertion, a general 'ignis' feeling with a tinge of desire for very strong coffee. I was a nervous wreck for years."

"A short time ago friends came to visit us and they brought a package of Postum and urged me to try it. I was prejudiced because some years ago I had drunk a cup of weak, tasteless stuff called Postum which I did not like at all."

"This time, however, my friend made the Postum according to directions on the package, and it won me. Suddenly I found myself improving in a most decided fashion."

"The odor of boiling coffee no longer torments me. I am so greatly benefited by Postum that if I continue to improve as I am now, I'll begin to think I have found the Fountain of Perpetual Youth. This is no fancy letter but a sober fact which I am glad to make known."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read the book, "The Road to Wellville," in place, "There's a Reason."
