FORTY-SEVENTH CONGRESS.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, 26.— Leave was granted on the suggestion of Edmunds, to the Judiciary committee to sit during recess, if that should ever occur, to investagate the subject of bankruptcy.

A motion for executive session was lost, 24 to 24.

Jones, of Florida, answered portions of Frye's speech.

A motion for a recess and kindred motions were voted down. At the conclusion of the roll call on these votes, it was discovered that the motion had prevailed. Thereupon Rollins started on a hunt for delinquent republican Senators, only to discover them in the nick of time to defeat the motion by a tie vote. He himself was the Senator who had not voted. The vote upon the next motion, to go into executive session, to the surprise of both sides was announced—yeas 21, nays 20. This was explained by Lamar who paired with Sherman, but had unwittingly voted. He obtained leave to withdraw his vote and the motion was then lost.

Adjourned.

WASHINGTON NOTES.

WASHINGTON, 26.—At the request of President Garfield, Attorney General McVeagh has given an opinion upon the application of Paymaster Thos. T. Caswell, for such correction of the navy register as will place him above Paymaster John H. Stevenson. The Attorney General says: So far as the application rested on the proposition that the name of Edward Bellow should have entered into computation with Paymaster Stevenson who was advanced 15 numbers, it cannot now be successfully urged. L. A. Frailey was, prior to 1879, appointed successor to Bellows by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, as Bellows has not since been appointed paymaster. The recent decision of the Supreme Court in the case of Blake vs. the United States, is decisive. He is not in the service. The Attorney General says, as to the promotion of Stevenson: "The advancement being an accomplished fact and within the terms of section 1506, in my opinion it is not in your (President Garfield's) power to inquire what was the act of heroism, or where and when it was committed which induced your predecessor and the Senate in 1879 to advance Paymaster Stevenson 15 numbers. I am of the opinion that their action in that matter is conclusive upon the executive department, and that therefore it is not subject to your examination or revision. Under this decision Paymaster Stevenson will be entitled to the disputed advancement to the grade of pay inspector.

The Senate judiciary committee, to-day, referred most of the pending judicial nominations to sub-committees.

The sub-judiciary committee on bankruptcy, Ingalls, McMillan and Garland, will soon address letters to gentlemen familiar with the subject, with a view to ascertaining whether it is the opinion of the business interests of the country that another national bankruptcy law should be enacted. Also to write practical suggestions as to the best method of remedying the acknowledged defects in the former laws, relative to the delay in the distribution of estate, the consumption of assets in extravagant fees and costs. The sub-committee expect to report some measure to the full committee early in December.

The President nominated Roswell Wheeler Indian Agent for the Indians at Pima and Maricopa, Arizona.

At a meeting of the Senate judiciary committee this morning, several members spoke in favor of the confirmation of Matthews, but no vote was taken. At the next meeting the committee will probably vote against him, but his friends claim that he can be confirmed over an adverse report, and this it seems to be a fact, as nearly all the democrats will vote for him.

Conkling and the stalwarts oppose a caucus, but 14 senators have signed the call, and it will be held in a few days. The President urges action on the nominations, and his friends are forcing that policy. A republican senator told a western press reporter to-day that the caucus could not be postponed much longer. It is said that Platt will not stick to Conkling, fighting earnestly and getting all the votes possible.

Chicago, 26.—Journal's Washington: Both Senator Conkling and Senator Platt are very much amused at the published statement that coolness exists between them. There is no truth in the story, and their relations are as cordial now as they have been.

Senator Jones placed his democratic friends in an unenviable position to-day, by making a loud speech in the Senate, in which he undertook to defend and justify human starving in this country. His speech was unwise, and during its delivery some northern democratic senators moved restlessly in their seats, and showed plainly that they disapproved the sentiments or the utterance of such sentiments at this time.

The death of Representative O'Connor, of South Carolina, leaves two seats on the democratic side of the House vacant.

President Garfield has appointed John K. Boles, of Hudson, Mich., and William McMichael, Philadelphia, members of the board of Indian commissioners.

Chairman Anthony has been requested to call a meeting of the republican caucus for to-morrow, or Thursday. The object of the signers of the call is to secure the holding of some executive sessions to dispose of a portion of the accumulated business. A call for a republican caucus was issued this afternoon to meet at 10 o'clock to-morrow. Conkling finally favored the caucus because he feels stronger now than heretofore. Conkling believes he can beat Garfield now, as numerous southern senators join with him in opposing Robertson. One of Conkling's best friends said to-night that he would hold a meeting of the commerce committee and report Robertson at once, because he believed he can beat him. Eight democratic senators are pledged to vote with Conkling.

Burchard, director of the mint, has returned from the south, where he has been several weeks, spending most of the time at New Orleans and St. Louis. He reports the mint in good shape at New Orleans, and the coinage at the rate of 600,000 silver dollars a month. This is assigned as their share of the $20,000,000 bullion according to their facilities. The Philadelphia mint is exclusively at work on gold, at the rate of $30,000,000 a month. There is some query as to where this money goes. Every month now 500,000 of $5 and $10 pieces are being coined, and there is more than enough to keep the mint going a year as it has been kept up some months. This coin is paid out to bullion owners, who bring their gold for coin, and then disappear. Very little finds its way to the banks, and the increase in the treasury stock is not raised. Burchard is inclined to the opinion that it is absorbed by the working classes, who hoard small sums of hard cash rather than place it in savings banks, as they would only secure possession of the perishable paper. Five dollar or ten dollar gold pieces put away once a month by a large proportion of the laboring laborers would readily account for its disappearance, provided this is true. There is nothing to show, however, whether this is mere conjecture or fact. It is evident that if coin is leaving the country so long as the balance of trade is in favor of the United States and bullion is coming this way from abroad.

Whitelaw Reid Married.

NEW YORK, 26.—Miss Elizabeth Mills, daughter of D. O. Mills, formerly of San Francisco, was married last evening, at the residence of her father, to Whitelaw Reid. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Morgan, of the St. Thomas Protestant Episcopal Church. The bride was given away by her father. The bridesmaids were Miss Thompson and Miss Reid. They were dressed in white silk. There was no best man. The ushers were Ogden Mills, brother of the bride, Clarence King, Augustus C. Gurnee and Charles H. Hurd. The parlors were profusely decorated with flowers, and there was music and supper by Delmonico. About 250 persons were present, among whom were Secretary Blaine, Governor Cornell, ex-Secretary McCulloch and Miss McCulloch, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Howells, Congressman Levi P. Morton, and Anson G. McCook, Chas. Dudley Warner, Cornelius J. Vanderbilt and many other prominent persons. Later in the evening the newly married couple started for Ohio, to visit Reid's invalid mother. Early in May they will return to New York and sail for Europe.

A Big Fire.

Smith's box factory, Oakland Avenue and Cox Street, Green Point, was damaged by fire this afternoon. It is reported that several of the lumber employees were burned or injured.

The box factory of E. C. Smith, at Green Point, burned this afternoon. Many workmen became panic-stricken and jumped from the windows or crowded each other in the doorways in their eagerness to get out. The result was that George Billings, aged 42; Peter Shaff, 57, and Samuel Dixon, 45, were killed. Adjoining the factory was a sawdust storehouse, about which a large crowd gathered, the walls protecting them from the heat. While they were watching the fire, without warning, an explosion threw the walls on the crowd, and the flames swept over them a dozen feet. There were showers of blazing sawdust spreading some distance, which set fire to the clothing of women and children, who fled shrieking from the place. The firemen, police and others rushed to aid the unfortunates who had been injured or buried beneath the falling wall, most of whom were boys. The names were as follows: Wm. Freeman, aged 14, fatally burned; Frank McMillen, 18, fatally burned; Geo. McDowell, 11, badly burned; John O'Connell, 12, badly burned. A number of men were knocked down and either injured or burned, but with the aid of friends managed to make their way home. Geo. Bloomfield, 23, was caught beneath the wall and burned to death. The loss by fire is estimated at $75,000; insurance, $50,000. A great many others were more or less injured, some fatally.

A Madrid Celebration.

A cablegram says the festivities attending the Calderon Centenary in Madrid will extend over five days. All classes and societies participate. The royal family, court, army, navy and civil authorities will take part in two historical pageants. Banquets, bull fights, popular entertainments, masquerades and performances of the principal plays by Calderon and the literary ceremonies are included in the programme. The literary societies of foreign countries are invited to contribute essays or verse compositions. Minister Lowell has been chosen as as one of the judges on English contributions. Arrangements have been made by the railway companies to convey 100,000 strangers to Madrid.

Bradlaugh's Oath.

In the House of Commons, Bradlaugh advanced to the Speaker's table to be sworn, when Northcote objected and the Speaker requested Bradlaugh to withdraw. Northcote then moved that, having regard to the resolution of the House and reports of the two select committees, Bradlaugh be not permitted to take the oath. Labouchere said the object of Northcote's motion was to stir up the smouldering embers of religious bigotry. John Bright defended Bradlaugh's right to take the oath, on the ground of Bradlaugh's statement that the oath would be binding on his conscience.

The Funeral.

Large numbers of people are arriving at Hughenden to attend the funeral of Lord Beaconsfield, including the Prince of Wales, Duke of Connaught, Prince Leopold, with a large wreath from the Queen, and others of the royal family. The Marquis of Hartington has gone. It is believed Gladstone will not attend. The country is in mourning attire. The Princess of Wales sent a wreath. The showery weather kept many at home.

The burial service being completed, all the principal mourners entered the vault and placed wreaths on the coffin, and before the vault closed, it was literally crammed with flowers.

THE FLOODS.

QUINCY, Ills., 26.—Specials to the Whig from Fall Creek, Rockport and other points along Soy levee, state that the river to-day is stationary; no rise since midnight. The water is now two inches higher than during the great flood last year. The crevasse in the levee is constantly widening, and all efforts to stop the break have been futile. Water is steadily spreading over the wide area protected by the embankment, but it is impossible to estimate the damages. A strip of highly cultivated land from three to eight miles wide, and nearly 50 miles long, is already under water or certain to share the general destruction. To-day the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy track is under water between Fall Creek and Hannibal, and one of the trestle bridges has been carried away. The track just below Quincy is also badly washed by high water. The Missouri River, just below this city, is now over 10 miles, all the bottom lands on both sides being flooded. This is a very fertile section and all sown in wheat. It will probably now be sown in corn.

St. Paul, 26.—The Mississippi River has risen two feet since morning, and spread over the flats on the west side of the river to the foot of the bluffs. Some houses on low grounds are surrounded by water, and in a few cases it has flowed into the lower floors of dwellings.

The Mississippi River has risen all day and stands, at 7 o'clock, at sixteen feet three inches—three feet higher than at 10 o'clock this morning, and one foot higher than the great June floods last year. Water spreads from bluff to bluff, except the ground filled by railroad on the east side, and elevated roads and slightly raised ground on which West St. Paul is built.

Shortly after noon on Tuesday a boom of logs in the Mississippi River, above St. Paul, Minn., containing 1,500,000 feet, broke and floated down, filling a space in the river a half mile long. Residents of the flats along the river are moving rapidly.

STRIKERS.

FALL RIVER, 26.—Chace Mill started this morning. All the old spinners returned to work, except the ringleader Marland.

St. Louis, 26.—The president of two lines of street cars, having made a proposal of compromise with the striking conductors and drivers, being at the rate of 12½c. for drivers, and 15c. for conductors per hour. Three or four of the strikers accepted, and cars were started down Olive and Market Streets, manned by extra men. Only a few cars had gone when a great crowd on Chestnut and Twelfth streets, stopped four cars, detailed them, compelled them to go over the rough pavement and forced the drivers to stable them. They spattered with mud another car, smashed its windows, sent the team back to the stable and refused to let the railroad men touch it. A dozen policemen present were powerless, although they arrested a number of the leading spirits of the mob. A similar scene occurred on Market, between Fourth and Fifth. Arrests were also unavailing to restore order. The men on the cars were assailed with vile and abusive language, and the mob denounced the railroad companies and the working employes. Captain Fox, with a squadron of mounted police, kept the tracks clear enough for cars to pass; but could not prevent vile language and active mud slinging. His horse got a knife thrust and he drew a pistol, but did not use it on the ruffian. Order prevailed at 2 p.m., the streets cleared.

A Bad Half Breed.

ST. LOUIS, 26.—Yesterday afternoon, Michael Reverr, a farmer, Valentine Walker, a half-breed Indian, and James William, a school teacher, an old gentleman over 60 years, were in a saloon of Jacob Bluin, at Bridgetown, 20 miles from the city. Walker and Reverr got into a dispute, and Mr. Williams interposed in behalf of Reverr, whereupon the Indian savagely dragged him out of the saloon, flung him on the ground, pounded his head with a large rock, and crushed the skull in a frightful manner, killing him almost instantly. Reverr, who at first was somewhat dazed at the suddeness and ferocity of Walker's attack, recovered himself and attempted to stop the bloody work of the savage, when the latter turned upon and felled him to the ground with a fence rail, inflicting a wound upon his head which will probably result fatally. Walker immediately fled. He is supposed to be concealed in this city.

Boston Wool.

BOSTON, 26.—The demand is steady and the market unchanged, with a firm feeling. Desirable grades of fine Ohio and Pennsylvania fleeces have been selling at 40 @ 41 for X, 41 @ 42 for XX; medium and No. 1 Ohio, 43 @ 45; Wisconsin and Michigan, X 37 @ 39, medium 40 @ 43. For combing and delaine fleeces the prices range—42 @ 45 for fine delaine, 45 @ 47 for fine and medium combing. There were moderate sales of unwashed; and unmercantile fleeces remain the same, and have been selling at a wide range of prices, good medium grades going at 28 @ 32, and fine 25 @ 28. California wool has been selling at 15 @ 30.
