STORM WRECKS MANY VESSELS

Coasts of Nova Scotia. New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island Strewn With Wreckage.

CREWS HAVE HARD TIMES.

Boats and Steamers Driven Ashore-Wires Blown Down and Communication Cut Off.

Halifax, Nov. 5 .- Dispatches today have been pouring into this city bringing news of vessels wrecked or in distress, of wires prostrated and of damage done by gale and sea along the coasts of Nova Scotla, Cape Breton, New Brunswick and Prince Edward island. Four vessels were driven ashore; another, having everything movable on deck washed away, -was forced to put back to the port from which she had sailed, and the steamer Turret Bell, which went aground on the north side of Prince Edward island last week, was driven farther inshore and will probably be a total wreck.

The storm was most violent in Northumberland strait. Two schooners and ome bark were swept aground in this strait and a third schooner was wrecked near the eastern entrance.

The Norwegian bark Adona tried to weather the gale off Rexton, N. B., but weather the gale off Rexton, N. B., but dragged her anchors and grounded on North reef. She sprang a leak and, according to the latest information received here, the 12 men constituting her crew were still on board and in imminent danger of being swept overimminent danger of being swept over-board or dying from exposure. The tremendous seas made it impossible for any vessels to go to her assistance. Near the same place the schooner Alexander, lumber laden, went ashore. Alexander, lumber laden, went ashore.

The Windsor, N. S., schooner Omega, after being partly dismantled by the storm brought up on the rocks at Foxpoint, on the northern coast of Nova Scotia. Her crew of four men was rescued, almost overcome by exhaustion and exposure, soon after the vessel grounded.

A Newfoundland schooner, the indentity of which has not yet been learned, was wrecked last night at Campbell's rove, at the eastern end of Prince Edward Island. The crew succeeded in getting ashore safely.

Numerous fishing boats on the north side of Prince Edward island were broken up during the gale last night.

On land, telegraph and telephone poles and wires throughout the maritime provinces were blown down, and time provinces were blown down, and it was not until today that communication could be restored.

SAILORS DROWNED.

Richibucto, N. B., Nov. 5.—Five members of the Norwegian bark Adona, which struck on a reef off Richibucto bar during a heavy northeast gale last Thursday night, were drowned today while attempting to make a landing on the heach. Three of the bodies were washed ashore. The Adona had taken on a cargo of lumber in this harbor and had anchored off the bar to await a favorable wind to take her bor and had anchored off the bar to await a favorable wind to take her into the gulf of St. Lawrence on her way to Preston, England, her destination. In the storm of Thursday night the bark dragged her anchors and stranded on a long sand bar at the mouth of the harbor.

The crew of the bark attempted several times to reach shore. Several of eral times to reach shore. Several of the boats were dashed to pieces against the side of the vessel and not until today was a boat able to leave the stranded bark. Late in the afternoon a small boat was put over the side of the bark with five members of the crew at the oars. The boat had not the bark with five members of the crew at the oars. The boat had not inade half the distance to the shore when a great wave capsized it, and before assistance could be sent to the saliors all five perished.

Seven men, including Capt. Jensen, remain on the vessel. The Adona was built at Arendal, Norway, in 1883, and halfs from that port. She registered $10.000.

BOY'S HEAD

Mr. A. C. Barnett, proprietor of a general store in Avard, Oklahoma, tells in the following grateful letter how Cuticurs cured him and his son of terrible eczemas:

of terrible eczemas:

"My little boy had eczema. His head was one solid sore, all over his scalp; his heir all came out, and he suffered very much. I had a physician treat him, but at the end of three months he was no better. I remembered that the Cuticura Remedies had cured me, and after giving him two bottles of Cuticura Resolvent, according to directions, and using Cuticura Soap and Ointment on him daily, his eczema left him, his hair grew again, and neither he nor myself, have had any eczema since.

As to his own case, Mr. Barnett says:

As to his own case, Mr. Barnett says: "I suffered with eczema, a burning, itching, breaking out on my face for more than a year. I took treatment from physicians for several months, which did no good. I was then advised to try Cuticura. I took six bottles of Cuticura Resolvent, and used Cuticura Soap and Ointment freely every day. I began to improve soon after starting to use them, and when I had taken the six bottles of the Resolvent my face had become Cheyenne, Nov. 5.—The opera house was crowded to the doors to listen to an address by Secy. Taft. He devoted most of his time to a discussion of the trusts, their menacing attitude to the country, the legislation to control them and the strenuous fight of the president to prosecute every illegal combination. Mr. Taft said this fight would be continued vigorously by the administration all along the line. In succession he reviewed the rate bill, the pure food law and the Philippines. The latter country, he said, was entitled to better treatment than it had received from Congress in the matter of a sugar schedule. In closing, he eulogized President Roosevelt as the great international peacemaker, in culogized President Roosevelt as the great international peacemaker, in spite of the fact that he had so often been referred to as a war president. The speech was listened to with great attention and frequent applause. While in Cheyenne, the secretary visited Fort Russell and was received with a salute of 19 guns. U. S. Sapreme Court Affirms Decision Of Georgia Supreme Court.

Washington, Nov. 5.—The supreme court of the United States today affirmed the decision of the Georgia supreme court in the case of John G. Rawlings, under conviction in that state on the charge of murder, the effect of the decision being to compel the execution of Rawlings unless his lawyers succeed in finding other means of securing a stay of proceedings.

Rawlings, who is a white man and a preacher, was charged with employing negroes to murder a family of neighbors. The children were decoyed out of the house and shot, but the other members of the family saved their lives by remaining within the shelter of their home.

STENSLAND AND HERING GIVEN SENTENCES.

Chicago, Nov. 5.—Paul O. Stensland, the former president of the Milwaukee Avenue State bank, who was arrested in Tangier, and Henry W Hering, the cashler of the same institution, were today sentenced by Judge Pinckney in the criminal court to indeterminate terms in the penitentiary for embezzlement and forgery. The sentences may run anywhere from one to 10 years. The new sentence given Stensland today will not lengthen his term of imprisonment, as the new sentence is concurrent with the old.

Stensland had been brought from the penitentiary at Joliet to give evidence against Hering, who, it was un-derstood, would make a fight for his derstood, would make a light for his freedom, but Hering changed his mind and decided to throw himself upon the mercy of the court. Stensland, however, took the stand and told of how the bank was wrecked. Both men will be taken to Joliet tomorrow morning.

C. F. WARREN,

HE LAXATIVE OF KNOWN QUALITY

There are two classes of remedies: those of known quality and which are permanently beneficial in effect, acting gently, in harmony with nature, when nature needs assistance; and another class, composed of preparations of unknown, uncertain and inferior character, acting temporarily, but injuriously, as a result of forcing the natural functions unnecessarily. One of the most exceptional of the remedies of known quality and excellence is the ever pleasant Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., which represents the active principles of plants, known to act most beneficially, in a pleasant syrup, in which the wholesome Californian blue figs are used to contribute their rich, yet delicate, fruity flavor. It is the remedy of all remedies to sweeten and refresh and cleanse the system gently and naturally, and to assist one in overcoming constipation and the many ills resulting therefrom. Its active principles and quality are known to physicians generally, and the remedy has therefore met with their approval, as well as with the favor of many millions of well informed persons who know of their own personal knowledge and from actual experience that it is a most excellent laxative remedy. We do not claim that it will cure all manner of ills, but recommend it for what it really represents, a laxative remedy of known quality and excellence, containing nothing of an objectionable or injurious character. There are two classes of purchasers: those who are informed as to the quality of what they buy and the reasons for the excellence of articles of exceptional merit, and who do not lack courage to go elsewhere when a dealer offers an imitation of any well known article; but, unfortunately, there are some people who do not know, and who allow themselves to be imposed upon. They cannot expect its beneficial effects it they do not get the genuine remedy. To the credit of the druggists of the United States best said that nearly all of them value their reputation for professional integrity and the good will of their customers too highly to offer
